GILLETT & JOHNSTON

CROYDON, Surrey.
BELLS, CLOCKS, CARILLONS.

St. Peter's Collegiate Church,
Wolverhampton.

Tenor (33 cwt.) of the New Ring of 12.

WULFRUN CHAMBERS, WOLVERHAMPTON,
MESSRS. GILLETT and JOHNSTON, CROYDON, 4th March, 1919.
Gentlemen,

The re-casting of the peal of ten bells with the addition of two new ones in the tower of St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, recently carried out by you has proved most successful, and gives general satisfaction.

I am authorised by the Rector and Wardens to say how pleased they are with the result. In the opinion of those well qualified to judge, we have now, undoubtedly, one of the best peals in the Kingdom.

Yours faithfully, F. T. BUCK,
Architect, Diocesan Surveyor.

WAR MEMORIALS.

Among the first to project a war memorial for fallen members, the Kent County Association has now decided upon its scheme and issued its appeal for funds. The proposals include the addition of two trebles to Canterbury Cathedral, to make the ring at the mother church of the Diocese into a peal of twelve; the erection of a memorial tablet in the nave, and also in the principal church in each of the five other districts of the Association; and the provision of a suitable card for each tower for the purpose of recording the names of the members of the belfry who have served in the war. The whole scheme is one which, without doubt, will commend itself to the members of the Association, and, although it will involve a considerable cost, there ought to be little difficulty in regard to funds, for the form of the memorial is worthy of the cause. It is particularly interesting to note that the principal feature of the scheme is the provision of two more bells for the Cathedral. Up to the present Kent has no church with twelve bells, its only peal of this number being in the Waterloo Tower at Quex Park.

Very few, if any, of the other Associations have yet decided upon the form in which they will commemorate the heroic men who went from their belfries and made the great sacrifice; but there are numerous annual meetings to be held at Easter and in the succeeding weeks, so that, doubtless, we shall hear much more of this matter in the immediate future. Each Association will follow its own inclinations as to the form of memorial to be adopted, and not all of them will be able to undertake something as ambitious as the Kent Association; but, wherever a scheme is put on foot, it should be one which is really worthy. The men who have died put no limit to the sacrifice they made, and their colleagues who remain will surely not hesitate in regard to the amount of their giving. There will be no differences of opinion as to the desirability of perpetuating the memory of those who will not return from the field of honour, but there may not be the same unanimity as to the method. Nothing can be more suitable, for instance, than the provision of bells; but bells are expensive, and the extent to which this kind of memorial can be adopted is limited, and it may in some cases lead to a division of opinion as to where the memorial should be placed. But in Kent the tower where the bells should hang was beyond question, and wherever there is a cathedral waiting for an improved or increased peal there should be no doubt as to the right situation for any such memorial. We hope we may see other Associations adopting schemes similar to that of Kent, which has in many ways in the past proved itself a progressive organisation.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.SMALL ATTENDANCE, BUT GOOD RINGING AT ANSTON.

The quarterly meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Anston on Saturday week. This is generally a favourite meeting place, the picturesque situation of the village within easy walk of two railway stations, the excellent 'go' of the bells, and the hearty welcome always extended by the local company all combine to draw a goodly number of ringers to Anston. Perhaps, the cold windy day, with a slight sprinkling of snow, deterred men, especially wheelmen, on this occasion; anyhow the attendance was below the average. What, however, was lacking in quantity was amply made up for in the quality of the performances. At quarterly meetings, when the ropes are handled by mixed hands, including generally some of the younger members (whom the old hands are always willing to encourage), breakdowns are not infrequent. At this meeting no such mishap occurred, and some of the most beautiful striking was executed. Four 720s were completed in succession without a hitch, in addition to other smaller touches.

The first 720 was Kingston Treble Bob, rung muffled, as a mark of condolence with the relatives of the late Rev. Canon Gray, Rector of West Retford, who was vice-president of the Association for 32 years, and invariably presided over the annual gathering at East and West Retford, and also as a tribute of respect and sympathy to the relatives of Tom Laking and Horace Unwin, of Harthill, late members of the Association, who fell in the great war.

The other methods included 720s of London Scholars' Pleasure, Kent Treble Bob, and London Surprise, as well as 360 London Treble Bob, 240 Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge and Kitchener's Surprise; and every ringer who attended had the satisfaction of ringing a 720 in one of these methods.

At the business meeting, presided over by Mr. H. Stanton, the Secretary (Mr. H. Haigh) made allusion to the loss the Association had sustained by the death of the Rev. Canon Gray, and the members passed a vote of sympathy, by rising in silence for a few moments.

It was unanimously decided to make a grant to the Goldsmith testimonial.

The next meeting will be the annual gathering, and will take place at Retford. It will be arranged by the committee after the declaration of peace.

Votes of congratulation were passed, and ordered to be recorded on the minutes, to the Rev. Canon D'Arcy and the Rev. Canon Darby (vice-presidents) upon the high honour and dignity conferred upon them in their being made Canons of Southwell and Sheffield Cathedrals respectively.

Just before the conclusion of ringing the Vicar of Anston visited the belfry, and expressed the pleasure it gave him to welcome the ringers to Anston. He had been delighted to listen, at a distance, to the most beautiful ringing.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and Anston company concluded the proceedings. Ringers were present from Harthill, Kilbarnock, Treton, Worksop, Shireoaks and Anston.

A BELFRY MEMORIAL.

An interesting little ceremony took place in the belfry of St. Luke's Church, Silverdale, Staffs., on March 23rd, when Mrs. Buckwell, wife of the Vicar (the Rev. S. L. Buckwell) unveiled the framed portraits of the ringers belonging to the tower who had taken part in the great war.

The ceremony was opened by prayer, and after the unveiling, the Vicar pointed out that picture would always remind them of three things: first, the debt of gratitude which those who had returned safely would always owe to God for His care and protection; secondly, it would remind them that the call to duty was a thing not to be lightly regarded; and, thirdly, that one face in the group, viz., that of John Fernyough, who had fallen, would always remind them that they must be prepared to make the highest sacrifice in the fulfilment of their duty.

The singing of the hymn, 'All people that on earth do dwell,' and the Blessing, brought the simple yet touching ceremony to a close.

Afterwards, Mrs. Buckwell entertained the ringers and their wives to tea at the Vicarage.

Dear Sir.—Now that hostilities have ceased, and peace has once more descended upon us, I think that the time has come when we should consider and formulate some scheme for preserving, for the benefit of future generations of ringers, the names of those who have fought in the war, and helped to bring it to a successful conclusion.

Most of our belfries, which have members who have served, have their own roll of honour, but I should also like to see a complete list of ringers who have served, published either in the form of a pamphlet, or as a supplement to our ringing paper. Ringers have played a great part in this fight for freedom, and the 'roll of honour' would show the country how well that part was played.

The Central Council is the body which should take the matter up, and should this suggestion be carried out I am sure that the booklet would not be the least interesting of their list of publications.—Yours sincerely,
YOUNG RINGER.

RINGERS' SOCIAL AT MIDDLETON.

On Saturday evening, the ringers of the Middleton Parish Church held a very successful social gathering as a re-union and a welcome home to three fellow members who have now been demobilised, viz., Messrs. W. Berry, F. Berry, and J. Arrowsmith, junr. This pleasant function took place in the Free Library, and was presided over by the oldest ringer, Mr. J. Arrowsmith, senr., who said he thought they all ought to feel very proud and thankful that their three soldier members had safely come through the dangers and hardships they had been called upon to endure in the service of their country. He suggested that it would be a good idea to hold similar social gatherings annually, and this was afterwards agreed to by the members. He also suggested a trip during the summer months.—Dancing was afterwards indulged in, being interspersed by songs and recitations contributed by Mr. and Mrs. T. Ogden, Miss Halliwell, Mr. J. Arrowsmith, junr., and Mr. W. Hardman. Refreshments were served, and a cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the committee, their wives and the secretary (Mr. J. K. Driver) for their painstaking labours to make the effort such a huge success.—A vote of thanks was also passed to the chairman, the pianist (Mr. J. Butterworth) and the artistes for their kindly services.

NORTH STONEHAM RINGER'S DEATH.

The death took place at Southampton Hospital, on March 5th, of Mr. William Rowe, at the age of 65 years. Mr. Rowe had been a ringer at North Stoneham Parish Church since the bells were hung in 1893. He took great interest in change ringing, and was very regular in his attendance.

A large congregation attended the funeral service, which took place at North Stoneham, and was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. I. Symon, M.A.). The hymns, 'Peace, perfect peace,' and 'They whose course on earth is o'er,' were sung, the 'Dead March in Saul' being played as the mourners left the church. 'Now the labourer's task is o'er' was also sung at the graveside.

After the funeral the ringers rang the whole pull and stand 65 times (to correspond with the deceased ringer's age), with the bells half-muffled, followed by 336 Bob Major: E. Mundy 1, E. Dumper 2, G. Williams 3, W. G. Edwards 4, C. J. Fray 5, Pte. A. A. Jones, A.S.C. 6, A. Marks 7, W. T. Tucker (conductor) 8. On the following Wednesday an attempt for a half-muffled peal of Bob Major came to grief after two hours' ringing.

AWAKENING INTEREST IN CARMARTHEN.

A party of ringers of St. Catherine's Church, Gorseinon, South Wales, recently visited St. Peter's, Carmarthen, under their captain (Mr. W. Dobbins), to endeavour to re-arouse interest in the art of change ringing in the town. In the morning touches of Grandsire Doubles and Triples, and Stedman Doubles were rung, and in the afternoon a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was brought round by: H. Edwards 1, A. Sluman 2, H. Willis (conductor) 3, W. A. Dobbins 4, W. Dobbins 5, Rev. M. Davies 6, J. Coleman 7, W. Webb 8. The ringing was very well performed, and the townspeople were much delighted with the ringing. Although the bells had not been 'rung' for about ten years, their condition was found to be remarkably good. It is hoped that the ancient art will now be revived in Carmarthen so that when the lads return from foreign fields the bell of St. Peter's will welcome them.

OLD SHEFFIELD RINGER'S DEATH.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Wm. Midgley, of St. Maries' (R.C.) company, Sheffield who passed away on March 29th. Deceased was a member of St. Maries' belfry for about 40 years, and a life member of the Yorkshire Association. He took part in over 20 peals, and among his performances rang the tenor at the Cathedral to Stedman Caters and Cinques, conducted by the late Mr. C. H. Hattersley.

Of a very retiring disposition, the deceased unfortunately fell a victim to cancer, and succumbed after much suffering. The interment at the City Road Cemetery was attended by a goodly number of relatives and ringers. Representatives from the various towers rang a course of Grandsire Triples over the grave as a last tribute of respect.

DINGY BELFRIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having rung in a number of belfries in my time, I have often wondered why the belfries should be allowed to get so dingy and dull in appearance. I think they should be made more decorative and inviting. I have seen large cobwebs, and dust so thick on the seats, in some belfries, that one could hardly find a place to sit down. To me the belfry is as sacred as any other part of the church, and is entitled to its rights as well as its duties.

I think those that take office in the church fail in their duty in not seeing to this. I have always been given to understand that this is part of the duty of the parishioners' churchwardens, and one upon which they should be appealed to. I am not speaking of all belfries, there are exceptions.

Then there are the bells which are often sadly neglected, thus making ringing hard work.—Yours faithfully,
Reigate.
