THE 184 TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

A GREAT SOCIETY.

To-morrow members of the Ancient Society of College Youths from all over the country will assemble in London to celebrate the 293rd anniversary of the foundation of the society. This gathering, by far the largest event of its kind in the ringing calendar, seems to grow in popular favour every year, and were it open to ladies, as are the social gatherings in other parts of the country, would expand with a bound. It is, however, not only difficulties of accommodation which limit the party. A conservative policy of the society itself—which, for one brief period, admitted ladies to membership and then recanted—now restricts the dinner to gentlemen almost, but not absolutely.

The conservatism of the College Youths is one of its traditions, but that is not to say that the members have not kept abreast of all that is best in the advancement of ringing. The College Youths have a history of nearly three hundred years and those who are responsible for its management endeavour to live up to that history. To some people this tranquil progress which has been pursued through the centuries, which has been almost undeviating since the days when Charles I, was on the throne, may seem out of date and antiquated, but there are some respects in which it is to be encouraged. Since change ringing began the College Youths have been at the very centre and core of the Exercise; indeed, the society has been from the first one of the pillars round which the Exercise has woven itself, and ramified throughout the country. It is only in the last fifty or sixty years that the territorial societies have come into existence; before that it was the College Youths and a very few societies of a like nature that kept alight the torch of change ringing and enabled the expansion of the last half century to be made. For its part in maintaining the art in the past, the Exercise owes it a debt and ringers look up to it as the doyen of all ringing societies.

There is still, however, about its proceedings—which necessarily centre chiefly in the Metropolis—a spirit of aloofness and exclusiveness which is not unnoticed by those outside. This spirit may be inbred through the traditions which are behind the society, but in these days of the wider brotherhood among ringers, it seems, though we cannot for a moment think it is really intended, a little austere. London may be somewhat crowded with ringing societies; in places they may be treading on each other's toes, but there certainly is scope in London for a greater intermingling of organisations. A policy of isolation is entirely out of keeping with the spirit of the age—in ringing as in other things. The goodwill which finds expression in the presence of so many non-members at the College Youths' dinner is proof of this, and the cause of ringing in the metropolis would receive a great impetus if all the societies interested endeavoured to work in less watertight compartments.

PRESENTATION TO MR. J. E. WHEELDON.

THIRTY YEARS AS LEADER OF THE NORTON-IN-THE-MOORS BELFRY.

BELFRY.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Monday, October 27th, in the Church Room, at Norton-in-the-Moors, Staffs, on the occasion of a presentation to Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, leader of the belfry. At the kind invitation of the Rector (Rev. J. G. Hamlet) and Mrs. Hamlet the following were present at tea: Messrs. J. E. Wheeldon, W. C. Lawrence, J. Walley, F. Triner, W. Corfield, H. Wibberley, S. Ryles, C. Williams, J. Walker and G. W. Walker. Apologies were received from Mr. G. Lawrence, Mr. J. Mountford (ringers), and from Mr. W. Jack, people's warden.

In proposing the toast, Mr. G. W. Walker referred to the capabilities of Mr. Wheeldon as a change ringer, and also to the admirable way in which ho had controlled the belfry at Norton for the past 30 years. Mr. Walker expressed the wish, on behalf of those present, that he might be able to carry out his duties for many years to come.

At the conclusion of the tea, upwards of fifty people assembled to witness the presentation to Mr. Wheeldon, which was in the form of a cheque. In presenting the gift, the Rector referred to the work that had been done in connection with the church during 1929-1930. It would stand as a record. He wanted specially to record the work done in connection with the bells, which had been recast and rehung during 1930, and also to record the thirty years' loyal and faithful service of Mr. Wheeldon, who had worked assiduously during these years, and particularly in helping to raise funds for the bells scheme. In asking Mr. Wheeldon to accept the cheque, the Rector expressed the wish that Mr. and Mrs. Wheeldon would be favoured with good health and a happy life.

In thanking the Rector, churchwardens, and parishioners for their generous gift, Mr. Wheeldon said that during his years of leadership at Norton he had always been happy. He had always endeavoured to instil into the ringers their responsibility as churchmen. Concluding, he spoke of the ready help that had always been forthcoming from his fellow-ringers, and said he had many happy reflections from their companionship, and hoped that he might still be allowed to continue the contention.

Mr. W. Lawrence and Mr. A. Walley expressed their pleasure at being present, and supported what had been said by the Rector.

The rest of the evening was spent in a happy mood, when songs and short stories were contributed by the friends present. Mr. S. Moreton and Miss Sillitoe supplied the music for dancing. At the close of the evening the Rector thanked all those who had helped to pushe the evening as green. make the evening a success.

BELLS RESTORED AT DEDDINGTON.

AN ENGLISH OAK FRAME.

On Saturday afternoon the Bishop of Oxford dedicated the newly rehung ring of bells at Deddington, Oxfordshire, in the presence of a large congregation. The bells were raised previous to the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, and took the form of a shortened evensong. The lesson was read by the Rov. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Muster of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, immediately after which the Bishop, clergy and churchwardens proceeded to the tower, where, at the request of the churchwardens, the Bishop offered the customary dedicatory prayers. In his excellent sermon the Bishop referred especially to the uses and customs connected with bells, and said he hoped that the sound of the bells ringing out Sunday by Sunday would turn the thoughts of those living nearby to God and the church and their duties as Christians.

After the service several touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob Minor were rung by members of the Diocesau Guild from Banbury, Appleton, Caversham, Reading, Adderbury, Bodicote, Launton, and the local band.

The work of rehanging has been most satisfactorily carried out by Mr. Richard White, of Appleton, who has put in a massive frame of beautiful English oak, on a foundation of four very massive oak beams, under which are two rolled steel girders encased in concreto.

The canons have been retained on the bells, which have been hung to headstocks made from some of the finest seasoned elm in the country, and fitted with self-aligning ball bearings of the latest pattern. The whole is a very fine piece of master craftsmanship, and the fine timber—very rare in these days—of which the frame is composed is well worth inspection. The bells go beautifully, and it is hoped that in the near future two trebles will be added to complete the category. Previous has been raided in the frame for these additions. hoped that in the near future two trebles will be added to complete the octave. Provision has been made in the frame for these additional bells. The present six are a 'maiden' peal cast by Thomas Mears in 1791, and all bear the same inscription, viz.: 'Thos. Mears, late Lester, Pack and Chapman, of London, feeit 1791.' They are in the key of E, and the tenor is 17 cwt. 10 lb. There is also a small sanctus bell inscribed 'Anthony Basely, Richard Large, C.W., 1649.' The tower was rebuilt about 1683. It is a very massive structure, worthy of a ring of eight, as is, indeed, the grand old church. The town stands on a slight hill, and the tower is a landmark for miles. Its predecessor fell down in 1635, and in 1643 Charles I. demanded the bells, which, as he explained, were of no use to the church as the tower had recently fallen, and so they were carted into Oxford and made into guns.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

One of the ringers in the peal at Buckfast asks who rang the treble to the peal? Apparently he did not see him during the ringing, and, we suppose, following his usual custom, was out of the tower almost before the bells stopped. However, he will find the name in the report of the peal in another column.

The secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association writes that the tenor at Congresbury is 35 cwt., not 38 cwt. as reported in a peal report last week; also that the first peal of Grandsire, Teples on the bells was rung on November 29th, 1924.

MILTON BELLS AUGMENTED. RECOGNITION OF Mr. F. M. MITCHELL'S WORK

The bells at Milton Church, Gravesend, have been augmented to eight, to mark the twenty-first anniversary of Mr. F. M. Mitchell (hon. secretary of the Kent County Association) as leader at the tower. The old peal of six have been completely restored and rehung, and the treble and the tenor retuned. The back five were cast in 1656 by John Hodson. The new trebles are inscribed:—

No. 2.— Mears and Stainbank, Founders, London, 1930. In memory of Alan Gates Sandford, killed at Loos, 1915. F. M. Mitchell, 21 years leader. (Presented by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sand-

THE TOWER OF MILTON CHURCH.

The dedication ceremony took place on Thursday evening, October 25rd, the 30th anniversary of the induction of the Rector the Rev. G. W. Mennic, M.A.). The service, which took the form of shortened evensong, was attended by the Mayor (Councillor G. L. Simmonds, J.P.), the town clork (Mr. H. H. Brown, B.A.) and members of the Corporation in civic state. There was a crowded congregation.

The founders of the new bells were represented by Mr. A. A. Hughes (proprietor) and Mr. A. R. Macdonald (manager)

During the singing of the processional hymn, the Dean of Rochester (Dr. R. T. Talbot, D.D.), the Rector, and other clergy, and the churchwardons (Messrs. E. E. Knowles and C. Devereaux) proceeded

The Dean offered prayer, and then taking the ropes of the new bells from Mr. Knowles and Mr. Mitchell (deputising for Mr. Churchwarden Sandford) said: 'In the Faith of Our Lord Jesus Christ we do solemnly set apart and separate the Bells now hung in this Tower from all profane and unhallowed uses, and dedicate them to the Glory of God and to the benefit of His Holy Church.'

The bells were then rung by the following members of the local band: F. A. Mitchell I, Mrs. F. M. Mitchell 2, J. Burles 3, H. Argent 4, F. M. Mitchell 5, F. Seabright 6, C. M. Mitchell 7, G. R. Ambrose 8, also Messrs. G. Huggins and S. Parker.

After prayers and the hymn, 'Ring forth, hely bells,' the Dean addressed the congregation. It was not an ordinary occasion, he said. It marked the occasion when a brother of his and of theirs had for 21 years been doing the same thing in the same place. Mr. Mitchell had been honoured in his lifetime—it was so simple to honour people when they were dead—but he had been honoured by his compers and conferens, who had put up the bells in his memory. Mr. Mitchell had been honoured in his lifetime—it was so simple to honour people when they were dead—but he had been honoured by his compeers and conferees, who had put up the bells in his memory. Mr. Mitchell had not only been leader of the ringers at Milton for 21 years, but he was also well known in the ringing world throughout the whole of Kent. It had also been made the occasion of celebrating the ministry for 30 years not anywhere but at that church, of their Rector. It was so easy to go about from place to place and to start with a flash of fire first here and then there. But it took a man of proven qualities to survive the test of being microscopically examined by day and by night, in fact at all times, for 30 years. He personally could not stand that: he had never stayed in one place for 30 years. There in God's House Mr. Mennie had been present with three generations. He was now seeing the third, and in that was his consolation and his hope. Mr. Mitchell, in writing to him, had mentioned that he had thought he was interested in hells. He did not think he was more interested in them than anybody else till he went to live in Wiltshire. There, by accident, he found that ringers thought they were a very injured and neglected people. They thought they were quite as necessary to the going of the church as anybody else, but no one thought of them. If there was one person he liked it was the neglected and forgotten person. Others could swim by themselves, but these poor, sad, neglected people made a strong appeal to him. So at every church he visited, before the service, he always went up, and sometimes stumbled up, the narrow stairs to the tower. He saw men doing what appeared to be such an unpromising thing—just standing up and holding a rope with n tasselled end. Then, at a moment's notice, those men let loose sounds that stirred you to the very utmost depths.

That was how he came to care about the ringers. 'You also care for them, I know, very nutch,' he added. Some neede said any fool

That was how he came to care about the ringers. 'You also care for them, I know, very much,' he added. Some people said any fool could ring. Could he? No! It was a science and an art which had to be much followed unless one was only willing to produce vain, jangling sounds.

The final hyum was, 'Lifted safe within the tower, now our hells are set on high.'

After service there was a reception at the Milton Church Schools. The Mayor and members of the Corporation were preceded to the schoolroom by the churchwardens and the mace, born by the sergeant school coron by the enurchwardens and the mace, born by the sorgenut (Mr. J. Parkinson). Among those present were the Mayoress (Miss Ada Simmonds), the Deputy Mayor (Councillor R. McGregar, J.P.), the Rector of Swanscombe (the Rev. E. F. Campbell Ward), the Vicar of Northfieet (the Rev. C. G. T. Colson), and churchwardens and churchmen and women from other churches in the district.

Regret was expressed that Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sandford were unable to attend able to attend.

The Rector said they were delighted to once again welcome the Mayor and Corporation. Their presence showed their backing and their sympathy. In a reference to Mr. F. M. Mitchell, he said that he had been a fine man in the tower at Milton. Everything had he had been a fine man in the tower at Milton. Everything had gone harmoniously and without a hitch since he had been leader at the tower. He publicly thanked the donors of the bells and other subscribers to the work of restoration.

The Mayor, replying to the welcome, amused the company with reference to hells, cracked and otherwise, and said that, heard in the distance, nothing sounded sweeter than a peal of church bells. Refreshments were served by the ladies, and the evening passed pleasantly with dancing and harmony.

During the evening between 60 and 80 ringers attended from all parts of Kent, and enjoyed a ring on the bells.

Afterwards touches in the various methods up to London Surprise was indulged in by the thirty odd rungers present, everyholy agreeing that the meeting was most successful.

THE FIRST PEAL AT BUCKFAST. THE ABBEY AND ITS BELLS.

One of the most interesting peal ringing achievements of this year was the first peal on the twelve bells at Buckfast Abbey, Devon, on Samuday week, the particulars of which appear elsewhere in this

Although Buckfast Abbey, which stands on the banks of the River Dart, has been re-established only about fifty years, its foundation is lost in antiquity. It dates back at least to the latter half of the 9th century and, with the exception of a period in the reign of William Rufus, when its lands were distributed among the King's favourites, Rafus, when its lands were distributed among the King's lavouries, it flourished up to the time of the Dissolution. Its resurrection dates from 1882, when monks, dispersed by the French Government from the Abbey of La Pierre-que-vire, were offered the chance to purchase what remained of the Abbey. Their decision to acquire the property was a venture of great fath, but Cardinals, Bishops and distinguished laymen of the Roman Catholic Church showed their sympathy in unjusticable laymen. First the allege's tower was restored and a temmistakable terms. First the abbot's tower was restored and a temporary church erected. The foundations of the ancient Abbey were excavated, and a young architect, Mr. Frederick A. Walters, was entrusted with the care of supervising everything and preparing the plans. After a lapse of nearly half a century, he still has a guiding hand on the work of restoration which, beginning very slowly, has gone on ever since, brothers of the Order having been trained as craftsmen and having executed the work.

Buckfast was made a separate community, distinct from that of Buckfast was made a separate community, distinct from that of Pierre-que-vire, in 1889, and three years later, from a priory, it was raised to the dignity of an independent Abbey. The first abbot of the new line was chosen in 1902, a young monk of the Abbey, Dom Boniface Natter, who lost his life in a shipwreck off the Spanish coast, while on his way to fulfil a mission in South America. His companion on that tragic voyage, Dom Ansear Vonier, was rescued, and was destined to succeed him as abbot. Abbot Natter had longed to undertake the rebuilding of the Abbey Church at Buckfast. Abbot Ansear, immediately on his election, struck a bold line, and informed the world that he wanted to rebuild the church in memory of his predecessor. He had one capable mason for the work, but no money, but contributions began to come in, and the first stone was noney, but contributions began to come in, and the first stone was laid in January, 1907. Everyone must admire the spirit of faith that initiated the enterprise, and the perseverance that has carried it on until final achievement lies in the near future.

The Abbey Church is approaching completion. It follows the

The Abbey Church is approaching completion. It follows the foundations of the 12th century odifice, is cruciform in plan, and reproduces the transitional style of the Norman and Early English period. The length from west to east is 230ft, and the width across the mave and aisles 62ft. It is built of Bath stone, and the vaulting is of local red sandstone. Against the piers in the mave there are four altars, and in the choir of two bays there are temporary stalls for the monks, and the organ. When the church is completed there will be seventy carved oak stalls for the monks, and they will occupy three bays. Beyond the choir is a central space from which the brunsepts open, and above rises an open lantern, with a stone gallery running round at a height of 51ft. from the floor. Over this again is the belfry in which are 14 bells, the gallery being at present the 'ringing chamber.' The three casternmost bays comprise the sanetuary, but the high altar is not yet complete. In the north transept is the Lady Chapel, in the south transept the Holy Cross Chapel, and in the eastern ambulatory, behind the high altar, are six chapels. The tower itself is not yet finished. Another storey will eventually be added, to which the bells will be raised, and a ringing chamber will then be formed.

THE BELLS.

The hells themselves came before any tower was ready to receive them. They were the gift, in 1910, of Sir Robert Harvey, and for a time were fixed in the old abbot's tower. In the dark days of the war it was Sir Robert more than anyone else who enabled the monks to earry on their building operations, and he offered to pay for the belify in which the bells are now hanging.

In the sixteenth century when the Abbey was dismantled, there were five bells, which, it is recorded, were bought by the men of Buckfastleigh for the sum of thirty-three pounds fifteen shillings for the Parish Church. The present bells are a ring of twelve, with two semi-tones. The tenor is about 28 cwt., and the translation of their Latin inscriptions is as follows:— THE BELLS.

given to the Abbot and Convent of Buckfast as a free gift by the most munificent man, Robert Harvey, of the Order of Knighthood, from Dundridge, Totnes, in Devon, whose way God has prospered, as a means of perpetuating the momory of his well-beloved wife, the religious and noble lady, Alida Mary Harvey, born in the state of Peru, on the 23rd December, 1858, piously fallen asleep in Christ at Dundridge on 12th July, 1901. That she may live with the angels we pray. And they shall come from the East and the West, and the North and the South, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God (Luke xiii, 29). A DIFFICULT PLACE TO RING IN

The peal rung on Saturday week had been long contemplated. A member of the band, whilst on a visit to Devenshire early in the year, called on the Father Abbot and obtained his promise that a peal might be attempted after the holiday season. Preparations were made to take a band for Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and a provisional date was fixed. Good fortune favoured the band chosen, all being able to make the journey, whilst the date was quite suitable to the Abbey authorities.

Most of the ringers travelled to Exeter on the day prior to the peal Most of the ringers travelled to Exeter on the day prior to the peal and completed the journey next morning. Twelve o'clock was meeting time, shortly after which hour lunch was served in the Abbey guest house. By one o'clock the band was in the lofty belfry. The narrow gallery, from which ringing is done, is about 4ft. wide, with a waist-high protecting wall. The space in the middle is about 20ft. square, with a drop of 51ft, to the floor below.

It was quickly realised that to attempt a peal of Surprise Maximus would be exceedingly risky, owing to acoustic difficulties and a had rope-sight. The four trebles, in a straight line, are almost hidden from one another by projecting pillars, and the ringer of the third has to stand with his back to the two smaller bells. Stedman Cinques was, therefore, decided upon, the bobs being called by Mr. W. Pye from the tenor. These could just be heard on the opposite gallery, but visitors in the Abbey below heard a 'big noise,' most of the sound travelling down the space between the galleries.

An excellent peal was completed in 3 hrs. and 50 mins. and amongst those first to congratulate the ringers were several of the monks themselves.

The Father Procurator very kindly treated the ringers to selections on the splendid Abbey organ, after which tea was taken and a departure made. The visitors felt that a good impression of change ringing was left behind, and hope that it will not be long before another band may be fortunate enough to ring a peal on these very fine bells.

Those of the party travelling by road arrived back in Exeter in time to join the Cathedral ringers at their practice, and two courses of Stedman Cinques were rung. Next morning a special treat was in store for them. By the kindness of the Dean and Chapter the party were given an opportunity to ring a course of Cambridge Surprise Maximus. Two being required on the tenor just to see if two could work together), a thirteenth ringer was required, and Mrs. E. S. Powell very ably 'made up the number.' She is to be congratulated on the way she performed her part.

The course was rung prior to the soldiers' service by Mrs. E. S. Powell 1, A. Walker 2, R. Pyc 3, F. W. Perrens 4, C. T. Goles 6, A. E. Roeves 6, S. T. Holt 7, F. E. Pervin 8, J. Bennett 9, J. T. Dyke 10, E. P. Duffield 11, W. Pyc and A. W. Coles 12. Time, 27 mins. This was the first course of Cambridge Maximus rung in the county. first touches of Spliced Surprise Major; an interlude in the afternoon at Heavitree, when an opportunity occurred to ring on a magnificent eight, one of the best ever heard; and a visit to Clyst St. George in the evening as the guests of the Rev. E. S. and Mrs. Powell. The first course of London Surprise Minor, and a course of Cambridge, besides some touches in easier methods, were rung for evensong. A peal at Thorverton on Monday ended the programme for the last of the party to leave Devonshire, which they did very reluctantly. Thanks are heartly given to everybody who contributed in any way towards this pleasant and successful week-end.

THE PEAL AT PORTSMOUTH CATHEDRAL.

The peal of Superlative rung at Portsmouth Cathedral last Saistrday, besides being the first in the method on the bells, was rung at the earliest opportunity as a welcome to the new Provost (Canon T. H. Masters), an honorary member of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, and former Vicar of Petersfield. It was also Mr. A. C. Williams' 100th peal, and Mr. A. R. Fink's 50th peal, and was a farewell to the latter, who is leaving the district for Woking after doing some splendid spade work in the Petersfield area.

'BELLS FOR SUNDAY WORSHIP.'

To the Editor.

Sir,—I notice in 'The Ringing World' that a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Tickhill by a mixed band of church bell-ringers. Will someone culighten me on what 'honours' are gained in thus ringing a quarter-peal when the mixed band leave three of their churches short of ringers for Sunday services?—Yours truly, 'CHURCH SERVICE RINGER.'

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at the Parish Church of the ancient town of Kirkham on Saturday. The eight bells are a very harmonious ring, with tenor about 20 cwt., cast by Rudhalls, of Gloucester, and are in good going order. Seventeen members assembled in the ringing chamber by three o'clock, and the bells were kept merrily going to the tune of Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Little Bob. An encouraging feature was the appearance of three local ringers, who, although only stoney men, showed an interest in the ringing, the leader of them asking if it was possible before an instructor sent to give them instructions in change ringto have an instructor sent to give them instructions in change ring-

A special item in the afternoon's programme was provided by Mr. A. Hague, who brought a set of handbells, and a course of Grandsire Caters was brought round in good style by the Blackpool ringers.

ARMISTICE.

BY WILLIAM WILLSON, LEICESTER.

- A November day, and the clouds are grey o'er the clock in vonder tower,
- And heads are bare in the City square as the hands approach the hour
- The wheels that whir now cease to stir-a gun booms overhead-
- A sudden thrill and the world is still! . . . in THE SILENCE for the dead. * 46 并
- Our homage is made and the moments fade. If faces are
- stern and set, There's nought of shame or ought of blame, e'en though
- your eyes be wet.

 Two minutes' toll can sear the soul, constraining men to pray,
 Nor need we quail to lift the veil from our hidden hearts today.
- O, woman of grief, 'tis sure relief that your loved one under
- Came back to your side as you softly cried—came back from the light of God.
- He stood as you bowed in the waiting crowd, to dry the tear
- that falls;
 You will meet no more till the journey is o'er, and the last Reveille calls.
- And war-time men recall again how they 'ducked' at the
- sniper's 'pop'; How they furtively felt for the cartridge belt, the time to go over the top.
- How they stood in the trench in the mud and the stench-and how cheerily they strode, Dodging the shells from a hundred Hells, at Messines and the Menin Road.
- Then our thoughts turn where they sleep 'out there,' in the
- land where poppies grow, Where graves are white in the fading light as flakes of fall-
- ing snow.

 And we count the cost of the lives we lost, and their Calvary keep in mind
- year by year we here revere-the lads who were left behind.
- Is it nothing to you that they pulled us through; that still there are hearts that, ache?
- That theirs the fight through years of Night-yet We saw
- Morning break! Then never forget we owe the debt—a debt we can ne'er
- repay-Till wars shall cease and the bells of Peace, ring in the Eternal Day.

THE FIRST PEAL AT KINGTON MAGNA.

The first peal on the bells of Kington Magna, recorded in another column, was rung by request of the Rector, Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, on All Saints' Day to celebrate the patronal festival of the Parish Church. Mr. Edwards reports on it as follows: 'The striking was magnificent. The peal literally answered to the description sometimes found in old records, "rung without a single false blow being struck or a bell misplaced from beginning to end." At the conclusion, the bells were delightfully lowered in peal.'
The ringers were subsequently anteritained to support at the Rectory.

The ringers were subsequently entertained to supper at the Rectory. The bells are a very musical ring of five, with pre-Reformation tenor, second and third east by John Wallis, 1608, fourth dated 1648. The treble was cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1914.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the Sheffield and District Society, held at The monthly meeting of the Shemen and District society, head at Eckington on Saturday, November 1st, proved a great success. Although the weather was none too kind, about thirty members attended from Killamarsh, Norton, Bolsover, Sheffield Cathedral, Handsworth, North Wingfield, Raumoor, Creswell, Chesterfield and Rother-

Eckington is fortunate in possessing a fine peal of eight bells (tenor 16t cwt.), and these were set going early in a variety of methods, including Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise, Dunield, Oxford and the four standard methods, and the striking of the bells was excellent.

At the business meeting held in the tower it was decided that the next meeting be held at Rawmarsh on Saturday, December 11th, instead of December 4th, in order to form a joint meeting with Yorkshire Association, the secretary having previously read a letter from the secretary of the Yorkshire Association requesting this change of

A proposition that the secretary write the Rector of Eckington, the Rev. W. R. Hewson, expressing the thanks of the meeting for his kind hospitality in granting the use of the hells, was put forward by Mr. J. Flint, seconded by Mr. G. Lewis and carried.

This concluded the business, and ringing was continued until 9 p.m., when the bells were rung down in peal, bringing to a close a happy and enjoyable day.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

RECORD WELLINGBOROUGH BRANCH MEETING.

By permission of the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Laws) a quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held at Irchester on Saturday week. A record attendance of members was present from a very wide area, some twenty-five towers being represented. The newly-augmented peal was in great demand during the afternoon and evening, and many methods were rung, from rounds and Grandsire Doubles for beginners, to Superlative, Cambridge and Bristol Surprise Major for the more experienced. Many expressions of satisfaction at the tone and 'go' of the bells were forthcoming.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, who also gave a most helpful and practical address, in the course of which he expressed his great joy at being in the position to welcome them to ring the bells. It was not only a joy to him, but to the whole village. Two years ago, when he became an honorary member of the Guild, he had the lucky privilege of addressing the members, and he then said that they hoped to put their bells, which had been silent for twenty-five years, in order. That wish had been gratified, and had exceeded their greatest expectations. He appealed to all of them to look upon their work of ringing the bells as much a part of the ministry as his was: in fact, they appealed to a much larger audience ministry as his was; in fact, they appealed to a much larger audience than he could hope to.

After the service, tea was partaken of in the Co-operative Hall, eighty-nine members and friends being present, the Vicar presiding. The business meeting followed, the Vicar being in the chair. Fine-don was suggested as the next place of meeting. The election of Messrs. George Williams, Charles W. Roberts, Wilfred Williams, James Bennett, Thomas T. Gofton, John W. Wood and Ernest W. Tipler, as non-resident life members, was confirmed. Messrs. J. Lillie, F. Brudenall, A. Stone, W. Dunkley, S. Lawrence B. Payne, C. Aldridge, S. Boddington and J. Smith, all of Irchester, were elected ringing members. elected ringing members.

elected ringing members.

The secretary, on behalf of those present, offered a very hearty welcome to them as members of the Guild. He also thanked those who had, and were, helping their Irchester friends, and said that those who knew anything about ringing knew what a difficult task they had before them. It was bad enough when they had one or two beginners, but when they got a dozen, the problem was multiplied considerably, and he hoped that any who could would continue that help. He also thanked the members for attending there that day in such splendid numbers. As some of them would remember, they had a record attendance at their meeting held at Higham Ferrers in January, but that record had been left behind that day. There were complaints about the falling-off in attendance at various meetings up and down the country, but he was thankful to say that was not the case in the Wellinghorough Brench.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his excellent address, to the organist, not forgetting the Apologies were received from the Rev. C. F. Westacott (president of the branch), Rev. B. E. Owen, R.D. (Vicar of Higham Ferrers), Rev. G. G. Thompson (Vicar of Wollaston) and Rev. J. H. Marlow (Vicar of Bozeat). Amongst those present were Mr. R. G. Black (general secretary), Mr. H. Baxter (secretary of the Kettering Branch), Mr. J. Nickerson (secretary of the Thrapston Branch), Mr. C. T. H. Bradley (secretary of the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild), Mrs. P. Humphrey (Folkingham, Lines), Mr. A. King (Luton), erc. OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS The annual meeting of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild took place at Clanfield on Saturday, October 25th. A service in the church, at which the preacher was the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Guild, was conducted by the Rev. H. M. Goodacre, and the secretary (Mr. W. Evetts, jun.) read the lesson. After the service the bells were rung, and ten was served at the Mason's Arms. The business meeting was then held, and in the absence of the Rev. F. R. Marriott, the Master took the chair. He referred to the loss by death of two of their members, the Rev. A. C. R. Freeborn (late branch chairman) and Mr. T. Buggins (foremen of Wootton tower).

man of Wootton tower). A statement of accounts was given, but as several towers had not sent in their subscriptions, it was impossible to give anything but a rough estimate of the financial position to date. Only 106 members out of a possible 150 had so far paid their subscriptions. Honorary members were still up to previous numbers.

members were still up to previous numbers.

The Master proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Clanfield for his hospitality, coupling with his name the ringers of Clanfield.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, the Rev. F. R. Marriott; hon, sceretary and treasurer, Mr. W. Evetts, jun.; representatives on the Guild Committee, Messrs. W. T. Bond, N. Spindlow and G. Clarke. The next meeting will be at Eynsham.

The Secretary asked that all foremen of towers should send him weights of the tenor bells in their various towers to help the Bristol United Ringing Guilds Committee to bring their 'Directory of Church Bellvingers', up to date.

The Master mentioned that a memorial tablet was to be creeted in Kidlington Church to the memory of the late Rev. A. C. R. Freeborn, and said he thought the branch might like to associate themselves with it.—It was decided to send a guinea.

The members then returned to the tower for ringing, and others went to Bampton, where there is a peal of eight bells.

DEVIZES BRANCH AT POTTERNE.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the beau-tiful Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Potterne, on Saturday, Novem-ber 1st (Feast of All Saints), and in spite of the wet weather a large number were present.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon Kewley, M.A. (Rural Dean), Mrs. Kewley being the organist. In a short address Canon Kewley spoke of the lessons to be learnt from the Festivul of All Saints, and said it would be much better if more brightness could be put into our religion. He referred to the part ringers took in putting brightness into the services.

putting brightness into the services.

Tea followed in the Church Room, to which 28 sat down, including Canon and Mrs. Kewley. Mr. C. D. Heginbothom presided at the business meeting, and extended a welcome to the visiting ringers, viz., Messrs. Present and Linter (Path), Woodroffe (Swindon), Box (Wootfon Bassett), and spoke of the improvement made in the ringing chamber at Potterne by the laying of the new floor. He hoped that it was the forerunner of other improvements, and that he would see the day when there would be a peal of eight in the fine tower. He also congratulated Mr. W. C. West, of Mcksham, on ringing his 50th peal, he having now also rung a peal on each of the bells at Mcksham Parish Church. Melksham Parish Church.

Mr. F. Green, the secretary, read a letter from Mr. W. J. Prescoti, thanking the branch for the donation sent towards the building fund of the new hospital at Bath.-Mr. Prescott also spoke a few words of thanks.

The question of the length of the meetings and the reducing of the annual subscriptions was discussed.

A vote of thanks was passed to Canon Kewley for the use of the bells and conducting the service, Mrs. Kewley for playing the organ, and Mrs. Wells for preparing the tea.—Canon Kewley replied.

Ringers, in addition to those mentioned, were present from Potterne, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Southbroom, Holt, Bratton, Trowbridge, Rowde, Melksham and Market Lavington, including the Vicar of Market Lavington, the Rev. J. A. Sturton, B.A. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain, Bob and Cambridge were rung in the afternoon and evening.

The following is a description of the bells given in 'The Church Bells of Wiltshire,' by Mr. H. B. Walters, F.S.A.:—

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION VISIT TO LLANBRADACH.

A quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan As-A quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesau Association, held at Llandradach on Saturday last, proved a most pleasant one. The bells, a light ring of eight by Taylor, were kept going until 4.30, when service was held in the Parish Church, the Vicar, the Rev. David J. Wills, officiating. It being All Saints' Day, the address had a direct bearing on the occasion, the preacher very aptly applying his remarks to the ringers and their duties. He specially mentioned that his own ringers were a loyal and faithful

Following the service, the ringers sat down to a sumptuous knife and fork tea which had been very generously provided in the magnificent suite of rooms belonging to the church. Although the muster was a very good one, it was perhaps a bit disappointing to those who did the catering that there were not even more present.

Following the tea, the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, who at the outset heartly welcomed the association to Llanbradach.

Instructors' reports were read, new members made, including ten of the local band, and restorations and augmentations reported on, and the usual votes of thanks passed.
