THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

STEDMAN'S TERCENTENARY.

This year is the tercentenary of the 'father' of change ringing. As far as the most authoritative research has been able to carry us, Fabian Stedman was born in the year 1631, and his name has always been associated with Cambridge, where he carried on the business of a printer. It is established that he was a ringer at St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, and it was there, in all probability, that change ringing, as we know it to-day, had its birth, or, at any rate, saw its first development. In the history of change ringing Stedman's name stands first; he was the author of the first treatise on the art and was its first 'missionary'; three hundred years ago this year he was born, and the Exercise ought to celebrate the event in some appropriate manner.

St. Benedict's should be the 'mother church' of ringers the world over; instead, the bells—five of which are still the same as in Stedman's days—remain silent and neglected, and, until the Ely Diocesan Association specially visited the tower a fortnight ago, had not been touched since 1924. How long it is since they were regularly rung for the church services it is impossible for us to say. The present conditions in the tower are detrimental to any attempt being made in this direction, but what a glorious opportunity now occurs to do something to put these bells in order and get them regularly rung again! Would it be possible for the Exercise to undertake this task to mark the tercentenary of Stedman and then hold a great ringers' rally in Cambridge, with a thanksgiving service at St. Benedict's when the bells are re-opened? Such a scheme for celebrating this three-hundredth anniversary ought not to be beyond the powers of the ringers of this country, and the occasion should not be allowed to pass by. With the goodwill of the church authorities and the whole-hearted support of the associations and the leaders of the Exercise it could, we are convinced, be brought to a successful issue.

Many schemes have been carried through by ringers in the past to commemorate some one of their number whose memory they have delighted to honour, but never, we think, has such an opportunity occurred for a really national effort to commemorate a national figure—and Stedman stands out as a national figure if ever there was one associated with our art. There may be some who will say that Stedman's memory is already perpetuated in the method which bears his name. That is true, but St. Benedict's ought to be a shrine for ringers. As the first real home of change ringing the maintenance of its bells and bell-fry deserves to be a matter for the special care and consideration of the Exercise, now that it is effectually established in every corner of the land. The tower itself is said to be the oldest in East Anglia and is the only one existent of pre-Conquest date, being of Saxon origin. It goes back, therefore, almost to the days of the first introduction of bells into this country; just as the bells themselves were among the first to be used for change ringing. Never was there, therefore, such a blend of circumstances as that offered to ringers in the present year, and we hope that not only may a commemoration of the tercentenary be carried out, but that the opportunity may be seized to mark the event in a fitting way.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.*OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held on Saturday, January 3rd, at St. Martin's Hotel, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., Presiding Ringing Master, being in the chair.

The first business was the election of officers, and, on the proposition of the chairman, the president and vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc.

The Secretary proposed the re-election of Mr. Alderman Pritchett as Presiding Ringing Master, and in doing so congratulated him on behalf of the Guild on having reached his 76th birthday, full of vigour and continuing his many activities with undiminished enthusiasm. This was seconded by Mr. A. Walker and carried unanimously.

Mr. Pritchett, in acknowledging his election, thanked the members for their continued good wishes, and stated that he was happy to preside over them and do all he could in the interests of the Guild. He had a most capable deputy in Mr. Albert Walker, and would like to take that opportunity of thanking him for his many services.

Mr. Walker was re-elected Deputy Ringing Master on the proposition of Mr. F. W. Perrens, seconded by Mr. G. F. Swann, and supported by Mr. J. W. Pemberton, Mr. Swann remarking that he thought more of the older members of the Guild should turn up at the Tuesday night practices and support Mr. Walker in instructing the younger members.—Mr. Walker thanked the members for his election. He added that several young twelve-bell ringers were progressing nicely, and he had every confidence in the future.

Messrs. Tom Russam and A. Paddon Smith were re-elected trustees, and Messrs. Jonathan Preston and Ernest T. Allaway auditors.

In proposing Mr. G. F. Swann be re-elected librarians, Mr. Walker stated that this office entailed quite a lot of work in getting out statistics regarding peals rung by the Guild.—The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Rishworth and carried unanimously.

The hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. T. H. Reeves, was also re-elected.

The balance sheet was presented by the treasurer and duly adopted on the proposition of Mr. A. P. Smith, seconded by Mr. A. Walker.

The Henry Johnson Dinner was fixed for Saturday, February 28th, at the Imperial Hotel as usual, and on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. J. H. Shepherd, it was unanimously agreed that the Rector of Birmingham, Canon T. Guy Rogers, be asked to preside. The other arrangements in connection with the dinner were left in the hands of the officers.

It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at King's Norton on Saturday, March 28th, if possible.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Something new in dishes for ringers' dinners was suggested at Guildford on Saturday. A well-known ringing clergyman had been sitting all the evening in close proximity to a gas fire, and when he rose to propose a toast he informed the company that they would soon be able to have a cut of 'roast parson.'

The Guildford Cathedral band intended to ring the 'extent' of Guildford Surprise Major for their customary 'old year' peal, but a few minutes before starting they learned that there was in existence a composition with three more leads.

The Metropolitan Police Guild have rung a peal of Bob Major at St. George's, Southwark, the band consisting of two inspectors, two sergeants and four constables.

At Handsworth, Sheffield, where the first peal of Major by a ladies' band was rung, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major has now been scored by members of the Ladies' Guild.

Members of the Devon Guild should note that to-morrow's meeting at Payhembury has been cancelled.

The annual meeting of the Romney Marsh and District Guild is to be held at Appledore to-morrow, January 17th, and not on the 24th as announced in the notices last week.

The first peal of Grandsire Cinques, conducted by Benjamin Annable, was rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, on January 19th, 1725.

The 'London Youths'—a long defunct society—rang a peal of 6,200 Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch on January 19th, 1767.

Performances by the Cambridge Youths at Great St. Mary's recalls the fact that they are one of the oldest ringing societies. On January 21st, 1788, they rang a peal of 6,600 Bob Maximus at Great St. Mary's.

A correspondent writes: 'Don't you think it is a good job Grandsire Triples does not run to more than 5,040? If it did, the result would be that more eight-bell record lengths would go west.'

A peal by a local band at Ewerby, Lincs, included no fewer than six 'firsts' as well as one 'first away from the tenor.' Change ringing is encouraged at this tower by a generous yearly gift from the beneficence of the late Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham, who was himself a ringer and donor of the new bells. The Dowager Countess still shows interest in the progress by many acts of kindness.

CAMBRIDGE YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reference to the note in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World' that the Society of Cambridge Youths had not rung a peal on the bells of St. Mary-the-Great for 78 years, a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung there on Thursday, August 28th, 1924, which I conducted, the band at that time being all members of the Society of Cambridge Youths.

WHERE STEDMAN RANG. ST. BENEDICT'S, CAMBRIDGE.

There is a special interest to ringers in the tower and bells of St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, for it was here that Fabian Stedman rang and developed in Doubles the method for ever associated with his name. It was Stedman who first really visualised the possibilities of half-pull change ringing as it is practised to-day, and although he was probably not the originator of the system, which came by the process of evolution, it was he who really gave it the first great push that sent it on its ever-expanding course.

ST. BENEDICT'S, CAMBRIDGE.

In the 'Tintinnalogia,' published in 1668, the first book on the art of ringing, Stedman says:—

'Within these fifty or sixty years changes were not known or thought possible to be rung. Then were invented the Sixes, being the very ground of a six-score; then the "twenty" and "twenty-four," and several other changes.'

There we have a statement of the very beginnings of our art, which Stedman did so much to develop. This year is the tercentenary of Stedman's birth, and a suggestion is made in our leading article for its fitting celebration.

As to the tower and bells of St. Benedict's Church, they are extremely interesting in themselves, apart from Stedman's association with them. The tower is claimed to be the oldest building in the country, and, indeed, in all East Anglia, being the only one now standing of pre-Conquest date. The building is Saxon, and contains fine examples of the 'long and short work' of that period.

Early records show that in 1273 a composition was made between the Rector and the University for the use of the church bell, and for this the University paid 6s. 8d. annually until 1683.

In 1491 the bell was repaired, at the expense of the University.

Thomas Hobson, the famous carrier and originator of 'Hobson's choice,' was buried in the chancel in the year 1632. It is recorded that in 1667 a bell was tolled as the body of Matthew Wren, Bishop of Ely (grandfather or father of Sir Christopher Wren) passed through the parish.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. SWINDON BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Christ Church, Swindon, on Saturday, January 10th. The bells were raised about 3 p.m. Service was held in church at 4.30, conducted by the Rev. Spence, curate of Christ Church, and the Rev. N. S. Willis, Vicar of Purton, who presided at the organ and gave a short address, in the absence of the Rev. J. Gilbert, Vicar of Swindon, who was on the sick list.

Tea was taken at Elma House, Hunt Street, and was followed by the business meeting, Mr. E. Bishop being in the chair.

Mr. W. B. Kynaston was elected a representative on the management committee, in succession to Mr. E. Bishop, who wished to resign. Mr. C. J. Gardiner was appointed chairman for the ensuing year. There being no rush for the post of hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. S. Hopper accepted the office for another year, and asked for the support of the members, especially in tea arrangements at meetings in country places.

Messrs. S. Palmer, G. Lancaster and N. Allnott were elected as Branch Committee.

Highworth was chosen for the quarterly meeting in March, South Marston for a monthly meeting in February, the meetings to be on the third Saturdays in the months if possible. Due notice will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

A vote of thanks was proposed to the clergy who took part in the service and gave the address. This concluded the business, and a return to the tower was made for further ringing.

The following towers were represented: Brinkworth, Faringdon, Fairford, Purton, Minchinhampton, Shrivenham, Wootton Bassett, and the two local towers.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES IN THE BEDFORD DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Bedford District of the Bedfordshire Association was held on Saturday, January 3rd, at the Parish Church of All Saints, Kempston, and was attended by 33 members, although the afternoon was anything but pleasant. The bells were available for the afternoon and evening, and were raised in peal about 3 p.m., some good ringing being done in methods from London Surprise to Grandsire Doubles. Mr. H. Stapleton, of Turvey, was in charge of the ringing, and saw that all ringers present were 'fixed up' for the methods wanted.

A short service was held at which the Vicar, the Rev. T. H. W. Barker, gave an interesting and inspiring address that was greatly appreciated. Miss E. Steel (vice-president) was at the organ, and accompanied the hymns.

An excellent tea was served in the schoolroom, after which followed the business meeting, the Vicar being in the chair.

The Secretary (Mr. P. C. Bonnett) presented a report of the past year. The report stated that meetings had been held at thirteen towers—Thurleigh, Cardington, Kempston, Sharnbrook, Milton Ernest, Keysoe and Riseley, Stagsden, Bromham, Biddenham, Turvey, Willington and Elstow, and the majority had been well attended. Eight new members had been elected, and nine peals had been rung, including the first peal for the association of Stedman Doubles at St. Peter's, Bedford. It was here that Mr. W. Stapleton has just rung his 50th peal on the bells, and the members congratulated him. During the year the bells of St. Paul's Church, Bedford, had been rehung and overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and were now in excellent going order. Funds were being raised for the restoration of the bells at Stagsden, and it was hoped that before long they, also, would be in a good state of repair. The deaths of three members had occurred during the past year, including the president, Canon W. W. C. Baker, and the association missed them all tremendously.

The balance sheet was next dealt with, and this showed that expenses were £1 14s. 11½d., receipts £5 9s., leaving a balance in hand of £3 14s. 0½d., which was considered very satisfactory.

The election of officers resulted in the following: District Committee, Messrs. E. Freeman, H. Stapleton, P. Inskip, L. Williams and W. Addington, Messrs. P. Inskip and L. Williams to attend general committee meeting; Mr. P. C. Bonnett was re-elected district secretary, and was thanked for his past services.

The next meeting will be held at Blestoe, if the bells are available, with Sharnbrook as an alternative.

The election of two new members, who were proposed before peals, was also confirmed, viz., Messrs. R. West and J. J. Partridge, of Bozeat, Northants.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for the service and his address, also to the ladies who had arranged the tea, and to all who had assisted to make the meeting a success.

The bells were made good use of afterwards, a variety of methods being rung until 8.30 p.m., when they were lowered in peal. Members were present from Bedford (St. Peter's and St. Paul's), Bromham, Biddenham, Cardington, Clapham, Clifton, Turvey, Keysoe, Wilden, Wellingborough, Southill, Stagsden and the local company.

Except for the fourth bell, which was recast in 1825, the bells in the tower are those upon which Stedman and his band practised. The inscriptions on them were given in our last issue.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION.

'COMPOSE' AS YOU RING.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

When you are comparing two compositions the easiest mistake you can make is to judge from apparent similarity or dissimilarity. It by no means follows that two peals are variations of each other because they look alike; or that two peals are distinct and separate because they do not look alike.

Two good examples of the first occur to me, both of which have been debated in years gone by.

The first is by Annable; the second by D. Prentice, of Ipswich. Up to a point these two compositions are identical—the course-ends, the bobs, the actual changes are the same. And yet the whole peals are quite distinct and independent.

64352 1 1	64352 — —

Four times repeated. Four times repeated.

The first, by Henry Hubbard, appears in his 'Campanologia,' A.D. 1876; the second was, I believe, rung at Ipswich, the first in the method.

In these two the course-ends throughout are the same, and the incidence of the bobs much the same, but the general conditions of the two methods are so unlike that we cannot call these variations.

In its simplest and most general form, composition consists of joining together a number of separate courses by bobs and singles, usually arranged in 'Q sets.' In Double Norwich or Bob Major or any of the Plain Major methods there are one hundred and twenty course-ends. From each of these a course of 112 rows can be written out, and as, in a course, 1,7,8 never fall twice into the same relative positions, these one hundred and twenty courses will contain 13,440 true rows. If you start with the plain course and call three 'Homes' you will join together three complete courses into one round block. Anywhere in this block you can call three 'Middles,' and that will add two more courses. So you can go on adding courses till you have got the total number available or as many as you want. Bobs and Singles are links in a chain which binds separate courses into one whole.

But it is obvious that if a set of bobs will link up a number of courses, it will also link up the same number of any sort of round blocks, provided that you have the necessary positions to call the bobs. And if you have conditions similar to those of a course, the result will be true. For instance, here are three round blocks:—

23456 W. B. M.	23456 W. M.	23456 W. M.
35264 1	43652 —	42635 —
23456 —	63254 —	64523 —
	56234 —	56342 —
	35264 —	35264 —

In these 1-6-7-8 never fall into the same relative positions, so we can take any touch with the sixth never moved, and in place of the courses put one of these blocks, and get a true composition. We cannot call a bob 'Wrong' in the third block, but if we call a 'Home' in the fourth course the result is the same. If we take any block which has twenty-four courses with the sixth at home, and use the second or third block, we get the full extent of the method with 7-8 together. If we use the first we have a peal with the sixth its extent each way. And if we care to work out the different combinations and variations of these we shall get several peals which have passed as the original work of different composers.

We could also use the same block to link up a mixture of courses and different sorts of blocks, providing we pay regard to the truth of the result. There is a further useful way of linking up round blocks. In Double Norwich (and in Bob Major and the rest) there are a number of touches to be had by bobs only of different lengths without moving the sixth. Actually their number is small, but by beginning at different course-ends, by reversal, and by reduction, we can get for practical purposes quite a good number. There will be the same number out-of-course touches, and the same with the Fourth a sixth's-place bell, and the Fifth a sixth's place bell. Now, provided each has a position where a bob may be called on 4-5-6, you can take six of these blocks (one from every group), and by four bobs and two singles make them into one block. According to the lengths of the different blocks, so will the length of your peal be. The result will look like an irregular one-part, but all the conductor has to do is to call six easy touches, all of which probably are familiar to him. There are a quite a large number of peals to be had like this, and any conductor who knows this plan need never be at a loss for a peal if he is called on at a minute's notice.

In Bob Major I use a somewhat similar plan. Personally, I always have had a liking for Bob Major. I think that, next to Spiced Surprise, I get more enjoyment out of ringing that method than any other, and I am always quite ready for a peal of it. What I do is this. First I take a block of twenty-four courses with the sixth at home. There are, I think, three of such blocks; but by variation and reversal they become a fair number for practical purposes. And there are others if you use short courses. Then I have a number of blocks with the sixth in Fifth's place. I start my first block. At a point I switch into one of the others; finish that; go back to the first block; then again into one of the others; finish that; back to the first block, and so to the end of the peal. I have two ways of switching from block to block:—

35264 1	43652 —
23456 —	63254 —
	56234 —

It does not matter a bit which I use, what course I put it in, or what particular blocks I use with the Sixth in Fifth's place provided that one of them is 'In Course' and one 'Out of Course.' Usually when I call a peal of Bob Major we have met short for something else, and I have worked this dodge quite a number of times, perhaps twenty, perhaps more. And so far as I am aware I always use a different variation. I have heard people talk about composing peals as you ring them. If you use some sort of plan as this it is quite easy. But you might get let down if you take it too cheap. Once I made a mistake and rang a course longer than I intended. It might have been a course too short.

TAUNTON RINGER'S FATALITY.

A distressing accident occurred at noon on Saturday, January 3rd, as a result of which Mr. George Frederick A. Reeves, of Toneside, Priory Avenue, Taunton, died in the Taunton and Somerset Hospital at 1.30 a.m. on Sunday. The unfortunate man, who was married and was aged 25 years, was working at F. G. Halliday, Ltd.'s, shops planning the edge of a round table. As it revolved on a lathe it parted and struck deceased on the forehead. He fell to the ground unconscious, and later passed away.

The deceased was a valued member of St. Mary's Guild, and also a member of the Taunton Ambulance Brigade. He leaves a widow and infant child.

The funeral took place at Taunton on Thursday last week, the service at St. Mary's Church being conducted by the Rev. A. F. Judd, Vicar of St. George's, Wilton, assisted by the Rev. P. Cowley, curate of St. Mary's. The interment followed at St. Mary's cemetery. The bells were rung muffled by St. Mary's Guild, three courses of Grand-sire Cinques (528 changes) being brought round by F. Chedgoy 1, W. Millard 2, S. A. Wyatt 3, A. Wyatt 4, E. Lloyd 5, J. Burge (conductor) 6, W. H. Tarr 7, W. Lloyd 8, J. A. Grant 9, F. Sudd 10, E. Wyatt 11, P. Merson 12.

NORFOLK RINGER'S DEATH.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Jim Ashby, of Terrington St. Clement, Norfolk, who passed away on Tuesday, January 6th, at the age of 53 years. Deceased was a member of the local band for many years. For some time he had not enjoyed the best of health, but he attended the choir and ringers' supper on New Year's Eve, and assisted in ringing the old year out and new year in.

He was interred at the Parish Church on Saturday afternoon, January 10th. In the evening, 720 Bob Minor were rung with bells muffled as a last token of respect and esteem, with 6-8 covering, by the following: J. Josh 1, A. Hodgson 2, G. Howling 3, G. Burton 4, E. Easter 5, J. Moore 6, J. W. T. Wright (conductor) 7, W. Howling 8.

CUMBERLAND BAND'S FIRST LONDON SURPRISE.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A SUCCESSFUL INNOVATION.

The experiment of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, in holding a dinner and social, proved a great success, and a party of over ninety spent a very enjoyable evening at the Prince of Wales Hotel, Guildford, on Saturday. Visitors were accorded the privilege during the afternoon of ringing on the Cathedral bells, which were half-muffled on account of the funeral of the Princess Royal, and also at S. Nicolas' Church.

The dinner was presided over by the Provost of the Cathedral (Rev. Canon E. C. Kirwan), who was supported by Mr. W. Harrison (vice-president of the Guild), Mr. W. C. Ryde, K.C., Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (hon. treasurer), Canon G. F. Coleridge (late president of the Central Council), Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guild), Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Rev. J. M. La F. McNally (Haslemere), Mr. N. Vincent (Guildford), and Mr. S. Marshall (Puttenham). Other visitors included Mr. A. A. Hughes (Ancient Society of College Youths, London), Mr. C. H. Kippin (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), and Mr. R. H. Dove (Croydon). Members of the Guild were present from the Cathedral and S. Nicolas', Guildford, Aldershot, Bagshot, Cranleigh, Farnham, Farnham, Godalming, Haslemere, Leatherhead, Dorking, Ottershaw, Thames Ditton, West Clandon, Witley, Woking, etc. After an excellent repast, served by Messrs. Boyce and Son, the loyal toast was honoured.

Mr. W. C. Ryde proposed 'The Church,' but first took the opportunity to express indebtedness for what members of the Guild had done in connection with the scheme for providing a new peal of bells at his own church at Grayshott, where the Master of the Guild had given them expert and valued advice, while the ringers at Haslemere and Woking had come forward with help. Dealing with the toast, he referred to the Archbishop of Canterbury's utterance at the Kent Association's jubilee, in which he publicly recognised church bell-ringers as servants of the Church, and spoke of the interest which the Bishop of Guildford took in the Diocesan Guild. He also referred to the indebtedness of the members to the Provost and the parochial clergy for their interest and assistance in forwarding the Guild's objects.—The toast was responded to by the Provost, who said that at the Cathedral he looked upon the ringers as his fellow-workers in the church, and he felt that that was the attitude adopted in this diocese to the ringers at other churches. As long as they had bodies of loyal workers in the church like the ringers they could look forward with confidence to the future.

OVER 46,000 RINGERS IN ENGLAND.

Canon Coleridge proposed the toast of 'The Guildford Diocesan Guild.' He said that, having been present at the inaugural meeting and tea at Guildford when the Guild was started, he was proud to be there on the occasion of the first dinner, because there were two things in the activities of a ringer which were doing an enormous lot of good. One was the friendship he made in the belfry, and the other was the cementing of those friendships at a joyous and convivial gathering like that. He congratulated the Guild on the progress it had made, and said they were fortunate in having a strong combination of officers to carry it through. Continuing, Canon Coleridge said the latest available figures given in the Church Year Book, compiled from the annual parochial statistical returns, showed that there were in the Guildford diocese, in the year 1929, 619 ringers. He did not know whether they all belonged to the Guild; if not, why not? Of this number, 152 were paid ringers, and 467 were voluntary workers doing it for the love of the thing and the glory of God. Guildford was a small diocese compared with his own, the Oxford diocese, where they had 2,987 ringers. There were some dioceses where they had even more in proportion to the size. If they went to Devon or Cornwall, they might find small parishes of, perhaps, 600 inhabitants where there were 70 ringers. At one parish he knew of there were six different bands of ringers, and they were always ringing—three times a week at least, and as much on Sundays as they could manage. They were not all change ringers, but they were intensely keen, and they did not find the same keenness in this part of the country. The total number of ringers in the whole of England in 1929 amounted to 46,270, which was an increase of 187 over the previous year. It was not a large increase, perhaps, but it showed that ringing was still alive, and he had no doubt it would continue to grow and increase as time went on. The Guildford Diocesan Guild was doing its part nobly in carrying on that great work for the Church, and he wished it all prosperity and great success, both in their Sunday service ringing and in their peal-ringing efforts. In the past he had been indebted to the ringers both at the Cathedral and S. Nicolas' for opportunities to ring peals, but he was not able to take part in peals so often now. As they got older they did not feel the same boyish enthusiasm, and, while the spirit might be willing, the flesh was weak. With all his heart he wished the Guild success in the future, and he hoped that God would bless their work (applause).

The Master, who responded, said the Guild had been wonderfully well supported by the clergy of the diocese: all the officers had worked together in unity and had done their best. Major Hesse referred to the achievements of the Cathedral band, and congratulated Mr. Pulling upon all that he had been able to do since recovering from his serious accident. He thought that on the whole Sunday ringing throughout the Guild had improved, but he would remind the members that wherever there were eight bells, eight bells should be rung for the services, and where there were ten, ten should be rung (hear, hear). It was a duty that every ringer owed to the church to turn up for the service ringing. He congratulated the band who on Boxing Day rang a peal at Chiddingfold. There were five first peals, and they were all local ringers. This success had been due to the efforts of Mr. 'Jimmy' Bartlett (hear, hear).

THE BISHOP'S APPRECIATION.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith) proposed 'The president, vice-president and hon. members,' and read a letter from the president in which the Lord Bishop expressed regret at being unable to attend because his important Sunday work necessitated his taking Saturday evening quite quietly. He extended to the members his cordial greetings and best wishes, and added: 'I hope that they will not only have a good and pleasant reunion, but that the work of the ringers of the diocese may go on with ever increasing vigour, and that the services done to God and the cause of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ in the belfries of the diocese will increase, not diminish, as the years go by. I value this work very much, and I am glad to find, wherever I go, that this branch of Church work, at all events, is receiving a considerable number of recruits among the younger men and women.' Mr. Goldsmith referred to the interest which the Bishop had always shown in the Guild, thanked the hon. members for their support, and spoke of the extremely valued services rendered to them by Mr. Harrison as vice-president and chairman of the executive committee. Although not a ringer, Mr. Harrison had the greatest interest in and sympathy with their objects, and he served them further as a sort of liaison officer between the Guild and the ecclesiastical authorities.

Replying to the toast, Mr. Harrison said they were extremely lucky to have as president a Bishop who took so much interest in their work. He recalled the occasion when a small deputation met the Bishop, soon after his arrival in the diocese, to discuss various matters with him in connection with the formation of the Guild. They were received with the utmost courtesy and cordiality, and ever since that time the Bishop had taken a keen interest in the Guild and had accorded it full recognition as part and parcel of the Church organisation in the diocese. Continuing, Mr. Harrison said they were continually receiving as a Guild pats on the back, and he was not sure they might not be in danger of getting too self-satisfied. He thought there were still places where missionary work was necessary, and he hoped this might be undertaken. Mr. Harrison added that he thought the vice-president of the Guild should be a ringer, but when he had mentioned it he had been told that the members wanted him to remain in office. As that was their desire, he was quite willing to remain as long as he could be of real use to the Guild (applause).

Mr. George Grover submitted 'Kindred Guilds and Associations,' and welcomed the visitors. He said he was convinced that the social side was a great help to the scientific side of ringing, for it helped to keep the members of bands together, and gave them something to meet for beside the actual ringing. In the villages particularly, there was an absence of social activity, and if they could, in connection with ringing, offer young men something of interest on the social side, he believed they would be better able to keep them while they were learning the art of ringing.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, who first responded, said the suggestion thrown out by the proposer of the toast had certain points about it which might be considered by associations, especially in regard to young ringers. He congratulated those responsible for that inaugural dinner, and added that between his own Guild and the new Guild there were strong links which went back to the days when the area covered by the Guildford diocese was a branch of the old Winchester Guild. A spirit of great fraternity existed between them, and he hoped it would long continue (applause).

Mr. A. A. Hughes also replied, remarking that he could foresee that dinner was going to be the beginning of many happy gatherings in the future of the Guild. He brought greetings from the Ancient Society of College Youths, and said it was to the interest of these older societies to do all they could to welcome the inauguration of the younger Guilds. Many of the Guildford Diocesan Guild were members of the old London Society, but all would find a welcome if at any time they were able to join the College Youths at any of their practices.

Admiral Walker proposed 'The health of the chairman,' who, he said, they regarded with affection, and looked upon as a splendid friend of ringers and of the Guild.—The Provost replied, and appreciation having been expressed to those who had worked to make the evening a success, the proceedings terminated with the National Anthem.

The 'community singing' which was indulged in was a great feature of the musical programme, this being led by Mr. T. Stroud, organist at Farnham Church, who is a member of the Guild, and who acted as accompanist. The party much enjoyed the songs of Madame Welbrock Smith (Guildford) and Miss Kathleen Corbett (Bagshot), and were delighted with the artistically rendered handbell solos contributed by Mrs. Hughes (London), who was loudly escorted on each occasion. The change ringing element was in evidence in a well-struck touch of Stedman Triples rung on handbells by Messrs. R. Philpott, A. H. Pulling, C. H. Kippin and W. Melville.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. F. A. MILNE

At the annual general meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild it was agreed that a memorial to the late Mr. F. A. Milne, president and treasurer of the association, should be erected in the Parish Church at Barnet.

The sub-committee set up to carry out the scheme have obtained plans and estimates for a mural tablet, and are now awaiting the granting of a faculty before proceeding further.

In his early days, Mr. Milne was hon. secretary of the Cambridge University Guild; later on he helped to form the Middlesex Association, being for some time hon. secretary of this society prior to the formation of the present county association.

His work on the Central Council is well known: he was a member of the 'Legal Liability Committee,' whose valuable report was submitted at the 1929 meeting of the Council only a few months before his death.

It is felt that, besides members of the Middlesex County Association, many members of the Exercise in general would wish to subscribe to this memorial, and any ringers desiring to do so should send their donations to either of the undersigned, who will gratefully acknowledge same:—

*W. Pickworth, 2, Balaam's Lane, Southgate, N.14.

*J. A. Trollope, 52, Laminas Park Road, Ealing, W.5.

*C. T. Coles, 21, Vincent Road, Highams Park, E.4.

W. H. Hollier, 21, Duke Road, Chiswick, W.4.

* Members of the Memorial Sub-Committee.

RUTLAND SURPRISE.

Mr. H. W. Wilde points out that the statement that any peal of London Surprise will be true for Rutland is not correct. The majority of peals of London are on the 'In and 5th's' plan, and if 'In and 5th's' is used for Rutland there are four false course-ends to contend with. If it is used in every course, three are cut out, but there is still one to deal with, so that many peals of London on this plan would be false for Rutland. With regard to bobs 'Before' breaking up the symmetry of the courses, it does cut out one lead in Rutland, but 'In and Fifth's' cuts out three leads of the plain course, and parts the tenor for two leads.

DINNER AND PRESENTATION AT STANMORE.

The annual dinner of the Stanmore (Middlesex) ringers took place on Saturday week, when some 31 members and guests attended. The Rector (Rev. W. A. Hewitt) presided, with Mr. E. Heading in the vice-chair. After an excellent meal had been partaken of, the loyal toast was honoured. This was followed by a musical programme and several toasts.

Mr. G. A. Hughes (Master) proposed the toast of 'The Rector and churchwardens.'—The Rev. W. A. Hewitt, in reply, apologised for the unavoidable absence of the churchwardens, and took the opportunity afforded him of thanking the ringers for their services to the church. He also, on behalf of the Stanmore band, presented to Mr. F. Edwards a very fine barometer in acknowledgment of the services so kindly rendered.—Mr. Edwards, in returning thanks for the gift, urged the ringers to greater efforts at their practices, which showed signs of falling off. Practice was very necessary in ringing, and he hoped for improvement in this respect.

Mr. F. Hill (hon. secretary) proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' coupling with it the names of Mr. C. T. Coles (hon. secretary, Middlesex Association) and Mr. G. R. Goodship (Harrow Weald).

The former first replied, and took occasion to thank Mr. Edwards for his services to the Stanmore band.—Mr. Goodship gave some sound advice when he urged ringers to attend association meetings, where, he said, they could practise any method they desired.

The musical programme, which was provided by Miss Atkinson and Master B. Holliday (songs), Mr. Wood (violinist) and Mr. Springott (piano) was much enjoyed and altogether a very pleasant evening was spent.
