THE NEW PLAIN MAJOR METHODS COLLECTION

SINCE the ringing of new Surprise methods became popular among expert ringers the Plain and Treble Bob methods have been somewhat neglected. Most ringers, and especially those younger ones who were unable to obtain a copy of the earlier work, will, therefore, welcome the second edition of the Collection of Plain Major Methods. The book contains in its 60 pages a wealth of useful information, including compositions suitable for nearly 400 methods.

Two hundred of these methods are ingeniously compressed into a table of formulæ, the work of the late A. G. Driver, which looks very complicated at first, but is accompanied by so clear and lucid an explanation that most ringers will find it easy to use the table after a few minutes' study. Another very useful feature of the book is the table of first performances, which is complete up to the beginning of the year.

Few will disagree with the decision to omit the Caters methods, although the reason given for doing this, that none of the methods given in the first edition except Double Norwich has been rung since 1926, recalls a peal of St. Clement's Caters a few years ago which the band said was a very musical, interesting and enjoyable method to ring. The selection of peal compositions for the Major methods, containing as it does at least one musical composition which is easy to call for every method in the book, should prove very valuable to would-be conductors who do not wish to embark on composition themselves.

Although it is easy to criticise other people's work, it does seem a pity that the list of first performances does not give separate details of the first handbell and tower-bell peals in the various methods and that the table on pages 34-39 does not include all the methods with the bells behind in their natural coursing order instead of only those not given elsewhere. Space, however, while paper remains so expensive, is an urgent consideration and the book in its present form is so very useful and such excellent value for three shillings that any criticism seems out of place.

The committee has done a most excellent job and it is to be hoped that they will be rewarded by a revival of interest in some of the less usual Plain Major methods which are interesting to ring and should not be beyond the capabilities of many local bands in different parts of the country.

THE RINGERS' OUTING

EVEN to the uninitiated it is obvious that some of the bus loads which disembark in the market square are the local Conservatives on their summer outing, others the regulars of the 'Pig and Whistle' on the spree, whilst a few present no difficulty and proclaim by their uniform that the passengers have come to challenge our protagonists on the bowling green. Such parties, and many which the amateur could not diagnose, do, one feels sure, present no difficulty to those connoisseurs, those almost professional judges of outings, who sit somnolently on the benches which surround our market places and city squares. But surely a ringers' outing must puzzle even these knowing ones—such a mixture of types—the young, the old, the decorous, the indecorous, those who visit the 'Brown Cow,' those who look in at the museum, those who concentrate on the ice-cream, and those who just sit in the bus studying little books—all bound together by some common bond in a gay camaraderie.

Surely it is this mixture of characters that gives a very special flavour to a ringers' outing. There are many other ingredients, perhaps not peculiar to a ringers' outing, but at least indispensable to it. The half-past six start, which finally becomes seven o'clock, because Bill, who was late last year, and the year before, so those of long memory aver, and about whom a firm line, it is said, must be taken next year, is late again. There is always one section which is never late, the young bloods, who have banked on the back seat and who are hoping that it runs the width of the bus and will hold five or, with a squeeze, six. This all day is the storm centre, the scene of practical jokes where new recruits to the belfry are put through their paces to discover whether they are good 'back-of-the-bus' types. The handbell enthusiasts are anxious that there should be side seats over the wheels so that they can ring facing each other, with greater ease. The elder statesmen and their wives occupy the seats towards the front and right at the fore is the secretary who, like an anxious navigator, consults with the driver in an attempt to recapture that lost half-hour.

Then there is the ringing on strange bells and the anxiety not to let the home tower down through too much clipping, or the failure to handle a long draught well. By tea time everyone has really captured the spirit of the day's outing and is ready for the evening ring at an isolated village, where some will also snatch a drink whilst others wait anxiously in a queue for fish and chips. Finally comes the long ride home, the sing-song, the good nights, as one by one the passengers are dropped off near their homes. The ringers' outing is over for another year. M M C

The World Freedom Bell

Gillett & Johnston can rightly claim to be the only firm fully equipped to take care of the complete installation in the Church Tower. As founders of bells and makers of tower clocks and of all electrical and mechanical bell operating mechanism, we accept undivided responsibility for the satisfactory completion of each project. Some of the most famous and largest installations in the world have been carried out entirely within our organisation. We specialise, too, in the preservation and restoration of old clocks and rings of antiquarian interest.

BELLS IN ENGLISH LIFE

By ERNEST MORRIS

THE ancient method of summoning the local parliaments of the land, whether ward meetings, guild meetings, municipal or Vestry Councils, was by the sound of a bell; and for the obvious reason that the parish church alone usually possessed bells large and loud enough to be heard at any distance, one of them was generally used. A bell was ordered by Edward the Confessor to be sounded in cases of danger to convene the people. Even Bucer, who strongly objected to much ringing, was willing to allow, as a common and necessary thing, the ringing of a bell to call the people 'to come to public meeting for the affairs of the Commonwealth' (Cosin's Works, v. p. 417). In some instances a handbell was used for the purpose; sometimes a 'common bell' hanging in the bell chamber of the town churches; or sometimes a bell suspended over the Guild Hall.

A handbell appears to have been used at Spalding, Lincs, Leicester, Lynn, Norwich and other places, where the 'common bellman,' a Corporation official, went through the town to not only the corporation magistrates, but the guild brethren together ('Antiquary,' i. p. 252). Ruffhead, in his preface to 'The Statutes at Large,' speaking of the Fole-Mote Comitatus or Shire-Mote, and the Fole-Mote Civitatis Vel Burgi, or Burg-Mote, says, 'Besides these annual meetings, if any sudden contingency happened, it was the duty of the Aldermen of cities and boroughs to ring the bell called in English Mot-bell, in order to bring together the people to the Burg-Mote, etc. (see Blount's 'Law Dictionary,' v., Mot-bell). The bells in the clochard of old St. Paul's were used to summon the people to folk-motes in the churchyard. A large bell hanging in the chamber of St. Nicholas' Church and known as the 'Common bell' was so used at an early date at Newcastle-on-Tyne. Nottingham had its 'common bell' in 1315; and at St. Chad's, Stafford, was 'a grette bell which is accustomed to call parishioners together to all things pertaining to the towne of Stafford.' At Worcester the 'grette belle of the parisshe of Seint Androwe' was used to summon the 24 and the 48 to the 'Counselle house of the seid cite.' The Inventory of Church Goods belonging to the parish of Moulton, Northants, in 1552, shows that even small villages had, occasionally, their common-bell. It says:—

'Itm. One other great bell hangyng in one frame by it selfe bought by Thomas Colls and Thomas Lucke and by ye consent of ye hooll pyshe for these causes folowyn (yt is to say) to be ye clock bell and to have it ronge when any casualtyes shall chaunce. And for ye gatheryng together ye Inhabitants of ye sayd towne for ye courte and other theyr necessaryes. And not gyven to ye sayd churche.'

The people of Thetford, Norfolk, claimed in the same year a bell then hanging in their steeple for the same uses. The seventh bell at St. Mary's, Stamford, is the 'Common Bell' of that municipality. Many entries referring to it are found in the town records; it was used to call the townspeople together, and until recently it was tolled to summon the members of the Corporation to attend the chief magistrate to church. Until 1840, when the 'sport' was discontinued, the Common-bell was tolled at 'a quarter before eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the 13th of November in each year' to give warning that the Annual Bull Running, which had from time immemorial taken place at Stamford that day, was about to begin. The thoroughfares were then cleared of children and infirm people. At 11 o'clock a bull was turned into a street and then the sport began, the great object being to 'bridge the bull,' i.e., by main force to tumble him over the bridge which spans the Welland into the river beneath. When the bell was recast in 1626, care was taken to insure its ownership being lodged in the town and not the parish. It is inscribed:

+ IESVS SPEDE VS
STANFORDIENSIBVS INSERVIENS IPSA
CONTOROR
TOBIE MORRIS CAST ME 1626
(Royal arms)

This bell is now tolled for a quarter of an hour at Quarter Sessions to summons the jury and others. The inscription, referring to its ancient use, appears to mean: 'I am myself worn out (or bruised) while serving for the men of Stamford.'

Newcastle had its Common Bell for over three centuries. It 'was casten' according to the Carr MSS. in 1593-4, but it is not unlikely that it was the old bell recast that year. In 1594 the churchwardens of St. Nicholas', in whose belfry the bell hung, received five shillings for 'knelling on Guild day'—that refers to the ancient custom of tolling on the day of the election of Mayor from 9 o'clock in the morning, with little intermission, until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the election took place. The long tolling appears to have been a summons to the various guilds to assemble at their different halls, but the popular impression was that it was the retiring Mayor's passing bell! Instead of the Common Bell, a large bell known as the Major, given to the town under the will of Major George Anderson (proved in 1831), now sounds from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning, the summons for Christmas, Easter and Michaelmas Guilds of the Freeman. The Common Bell of Newcastle was also called the Great or Thief and Reiver Bell. 'The last name was applied to it,' writes Mr. Ventress, in consequence of its taking the place of (or accompanying) the Curfew or eight o'clock bell on the occasion of each of the fairs of the town—at which, by a custom widely dispersed, none but the greatest malefactors were liable to arrest. It was also rung on Shrove Tuesdays at 11.45 a.m. as the Pancake Bell. The bell 'casten' in 1593-4 weighed about 17 cwt. and was recast in 1615 when it weighed 33 cwt., and again in 1622 when it was found about the same weight, and yet again in 1754 when it was sent to White-chapel foundry in September of that year. The new bell, which weighed 36 cwt., arrived from London on December 20th, 1754, and first rung on January 1st, 1755. It was still called the 'Common Bell' and was inscribed:—

CUTHBERT SMITHESON ESQR. MAYOR.
WILLIAM ROWELL, ESQR. SHERIFF 1754.
THOS. LESTER & THOS. PACK FECIT.

However, in 1892 the whole ring was restored and recast by J. Taylor and Co., and the above bell (the tenor) is now 37 cwt. 2 qr. 17 lb. and inscribed, 'This peal of ten bells is the joint gift of the Corporation of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and John Hall, Esq., J.P., of the same city,' and bears the names of officials and clergy. Later (1914) two additional bells were installed and later still a semitone added. At Oakham, Rutland, the 7th bell is called 'the meeting bell' and is rung to call town meetings. In the Market Tower of Lewes hangs a bell now called from its inscription, 'Old Gabriel,' which is thus referred to in the town book under the date 1555: 'The Common bell was cast this year.' Although the erection of clock towers to town halls and the hanging therein of a bell or bells is now quite an ordinary occurrence, it is believed that ancient Mote-bells remaining in their original position over guild halls in England are very rare. An interesting example is preserved at Lincoln, where it hangs in a wooden frame, protected from the weather, on the top of the roof of the Guild Hall. It is 20½ inches in diameter, has a rope and wheel and has an inscription which not only tells its use but also gives the date thus:—

'CVM QVIS CAMPANAM RESERET
SACCVM BONUS AVDIT ET CVRIAM
PLANAM FORE CVM SCITOTE RE-
PLAVDIT TEMPORE VVILLI BEELE
MAIORIS LINCOLNIE CIVITATIS.'

This inscription shows that the bell was cast in the Mayoralty of William Beale (1371), was rung at the opening and again at the closing of the Court. Freely translated it runs:—

'When first a good man hears this bell,
Let him with speed his bag untie;
When next it rings, he'll know full well,
The hall is cleared, and homeward hie.'

The Court being a Law Court, the reference is to the bag in which those interested in the case about to be tried carried their papers, in the same way as is still common with lawyers. This curious bell is now only rung to give warning of a meeting of the Council. At Kidderminster a singular custom used to prevail. 'On the election of a bailiff the inhabitants assemble in the principal streets and throw cabbage-stalks at each other. The town-house bell gives the signal for the affray. This is called the lawless hour' ('Gent,' May, 1791). There is a town hall bell at Colchester dating from about 1400.

In many parishes notice of vestry meetings were given by ringing one or more of the church bells. At Rothwell, Northants, two bells are chimed; at Epworth, Lincs, two and sometimes three are chimed; at Louth the third bell is tolled thirty strokes—thrice, a quarter of an hour before meeting time. At St. Martin's, Leicester—now the Cathedral—all the bells are rung in peal on Easter Tuesday for this purpose. The custom, however, like many other usages, is dying out, and probably the new system of parochial councils, by rendering all vestry meetings, except that of Easter, unnecessary, will lead still further to its decline. At Doncaster the sixth bell was used of old to summon a meeting of the Corporation, the fifth the Highway Board, and the treble for the Vestry.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

This issue contains the first of a series of about 36 articles designed to help beginners and those who find difficulties in mastering elementary ringing and conducting. We ask conductors to bring this series to the notice of young members in the towers. New subscribers enrolled to-day will start with a new half-year.
For subscription rates see above.

The peal of Grandsire Doubles at Harrietsham was a stepping-stone in the progress of the local band. Mr. Alexander Waddington, their instructor, had the satisfaction of seeing five of the band score their first peal. Among them was Mr. James R. Crump, aged 66. Harrietsham ringers, through our columns, desire to thank Mr. Waddington for his patience and the time he has devoted to their instruction.

Mr. Trevor A. Cross, who rang the second in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Upchurch, Kent, on June 21st, had not previously made a bob in the method.

The band which rang the peal at Rugley, Staffordshire, on June 21st, would like to express their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Joyner for their hospitality after the peal.

The peal at Milland on Trinity Sunday marks the closing of a very pleasant association between ringers in West Sussex and Mr. G. R. H.
Smith, who has been a student at Chichester Theological College. His help and inspiration have been much appreciated by the many ringers with whom he has come in contact. Mr. Smith was ordained deacon to serve in the Parish of St. Stephen, Gloucester.

We are asked to state that the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major reported on page 371 was rung at Gilmorton and not Claybrooke. The correction reminds us of the well-known College Youth who arrived home in the early hours.
'Where have you been?' was the question that greeted him from the anxious spouse. 'Peal ringing,' was the reply. 'I said 'where?' 'I don't know,' he somewhat embarrassingly replied. 'I was met at the railway station, motored five miles, rang a peal of Stedman Triples and then motored back to the railway station.' A fortnight later with the publication of the peal he was able to satisfy his own curiosity and provide his wife with the answer.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Very favourable comment was passed at the annual meeting of the St.
David's Diocesan Guild at some members wearing blazers with the Guild badge attached. The secretary expressed the hope that the fashion would extend to all members attending Guild meetings.

Mr. J. F. Milner informs us that the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Southwell Minster was rung by an eminent band on December 26th, 1950, and not as published in our peal column last week.

Further Cornish rings in the hands of Messrs.
J. Taylor and Co. for varying schemes of re-casting and rehanging are the sixes at North Petherwyn, Padstow and St. Endellion and the eight at Stokeclimsland.

Congratulations to Mr. Philip M. J. Gray
on calling the first peal on the bells of St.
Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, since 1934. The last peal was scored by the Australian tourists.
There was a local peal on the bells in 1925.

Mr. W. H. Pickett is the president of the Scottish Association of Change Ringers and he presided at the annual meeting of the Association reported in our last issue. Professor Street retired from the presidency the previous year.

Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett informs us that the last peal of Major on Crediton bells was rung on August 12th, 1939. The method was Bob Major and it was conducted by the late Mr. C. R. Lilley. The tenor was turned in by Mr. A. Patrick Cannon.

A handbell peal of Major was rung at Bath Abbey on Friday, June 13th, as a farewell to Mr. Jack R. Worrall, who is leaving the area shortly. A thunderstorm and organ recital provided a background to the peal, during which the band were treated to three verses of a hymn tune by the Abbey carillon.

EARLIER START AT FUTURE MEETINGS — APPRECIATION OF MR. & MRS. G. W. FLETCHER'S SERVICES — MAYOR AND CORPORATION'S HOSPITALITY

TIME OF MEETINGS

The Secretary reported that the Standing Committee had considered the matter of the time of meetings, and recommended that in future the Council meet at 10 a.m. instead of 11 a.m.

VOTES OF THANKS

The President, from the chair, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Bishop of Lincoln, the Dean and Chapter for all they had done for the Council, and particularly to the Dean for conducting them round the Cathedral the previous day and celebrating Holy Communion that morning. They would also like to thank the members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and particularly the Master, Mr. J. W. Freeman, and the secretary, Mr. Bray. He would also like to thank all incumbents where they had access to bells and to the tower keepers for getting those bells ready. Finally, he would like to thank the Mayor and Corporation of Lincoln for their hospitality.

RETIREMENT OF MR. G. W. FLETCHER

The President: This is the end of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher's combined service as hon. secretary and treasurer, and we cannot possibly let them go without expressing our very sincere thanks to them for all they have done for us over these rather more than 20 years. They have brought the status of the Council and its business to a very high standard, very much different from what it was in the very old days. I feel it is impossible sufficiently to express in words what we owe to them. I should like to say more, but we are very pressed for time. I hope that the arrangements which have been started to express our gratitude in a more tangible form will be accomplished.

Mr. A. A. Hughes, in seconding, said he had worked with Mr. Fletcher for many years, and it was only by working with him that one realised all the work he had put in. He knew in business he was a very busy man, and rarely got through his ordinary work before 9 p.m.

The resolution was carried with acclamation.

Mr. Fletcher, in reply, said it was somewhat difficult to realise that it was probably the last time he would occupy that place. He thanked the President and the Council for their co-operation over a very long period, and he hoped they would extend to his successor the same support as they had given him. He was sure the secretaryship would be in safe hands, but it would not be in safe hands unless the members of the Council played their part. If they had any new ideas he was sure he would consider them. He hoped to be present at Council meetings for many years to come.

Mr. R. S. Anderson proposed a vote of thanks to the President for presiding.

CORPORATION'S GENEROSITY

The Council meeting was followed by a tea, given by the Mayor and Corporation, held in the Co-operative Hall, and attended by 214 members and their wives.

The Mayor of Lincoln (Cdr. J. W. Giles) presided, supported by the Lord Bishop, the Dean and the Archdeacon of Lindsey.

The Mayor, in his welcome, said he understood that it was 30 years since the Council last visited Lincoln. He knew they were a national body, and as such were expected to hold their meetings at different centres. He should imagine that the Diocese of Lincoln was where the art of change ringing was practised as widely as anywhere, as they in Lincolnshire thought very highly of their churches and their bells.

Although he knew nothing about change ringing, many years ago his father was a bell-ringer at St. Botolph's in Lincoln. He had in his possession a letter written by the Town Clerk of Lincoln in 1887 which read: 'I herewith send you a cheque for £4 10s. in discharge of your account for bell ringing for Queen Victoria's Jubilee.' He trusted they had had a profitable meeting.

Mr. E. H. Lewis, in reply, said: I am sure all the guests to-night wish to thank the Mayor and Corporation for their very generous hospitality. Ringers, as you know, ring for State occasions as well as ecclesiastical occasions, and we always like to know we are in touch with Mayors and Corporations as well as the ecclesiastical authorities. We passed formally in the Chapter House a vote of thanks to the Bishop and the Dean for what they had done for us, and I would like to express our thanks personally to the Bishop for coming to welcome us. We would like to thank the Dean for a most interesting trip around the Cathedral and for his explanation of that wonderful building, for allowing us to ring the Cathedral bells, and for taking the celebration this morning, which was well attended. We also want to thank the Lincoln Diocesan Guild for all they have done. When I last visited Lincoln for your Jubilee I tried to think of my connection with Lincolnshire. The only one I could think of was that my dining room chairs were made from the wood taken from a Grantham bell frame. Since I have been here I have thought of a much better connection, because, having been born in Nottingham, I was born in the Diocese of Lincoln, as that was before the Diocese of Southwell was created. Mr. Mayor, I thank you for your hospitality and the Lincoln Diocesan Guild for making this week-end so enjoyable.

The Dean, who is president of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, disclaimed any hard work in connection with the visit, and said the hard work had been done by Mr. J. Bray and Mr. J. A. Freeman.

A social evening was afterwards held at the Saracen's Head.

FOR BEGINNERS—AND A WORD TO THE OLDER HANDS

1—Giving the 'Youngsters' a Start

[Note: This is the first of a series of articles which will, we believe, be of assistance to young ringers, providing they are prepared to take note of what is said. The substance of these articles appeared in 'The Ringing World' during 1937-38.]

Firstly, a word to instructors: What about giving those youngsters who as yet know nothing about change ringing a little more encouragement and help? They, or others like them, have got to take your place one day, so they ought to be helped along. Besides, the quicker they move forward the sooner you will get their assistance in things which you would like to do, but cannot for want of others to help you. If you find teaching difficult, encourage these youngsters to follow up the articles in this column. The learners can, we think, help themselves a great deal from what appears, and, with your assistance, the stumbling-blocks to change ringing ought to be overcome fairly easily.

With a complete novice, we always think it is essential that he should first understand something of what change ringing is, before he is made to do something in the tower which he doesn't really grasp. We have heard ringers say to the veriest tyro, 'Now, come on, see if you can hunt the treble.'

Except that he knows he has got to do something different from striking over the same bell all the time—which is probably all he has done up to this stage—he has only the foggiest notion of what is required of him. So the instructor stands behind him and every pull tells him to follow this, that, or the other bell, or to lead, and at the end the beginner is often more bewildered than when he started.

A little preliminary explanation with pencil and paper, or by some other means of illustration, is well worth while. It is not a bad idea to start with a few playing cards. The 'object' of changes can be explained with three; the 'movement' of the bells in changes can quite well be illustrated with the ace, two, three, four and five. The ace, as the treble, can indicate how the bells hunt up and down, and with careful manipulation the work of the other bells can be made plain.

It will give your beginner an interesting exercise to manipulate the cards accurately enough to produce rounds at the end of a given number of changes. Make it plain to him that two pairs of cards must be changed each time, and that each pair that is changed must be two adjoining cards. Start him first of all changing the two front and the two back pairs alternately and let him see how the 'bells' come round after ten changes.

Next show him that he can extend this ten to thirty, if after number one has appeared twice at the beginning of the line, he changes the front and the back pairs instead of the two front pairs. Don't forget to remind him he must do this immediately he starts, for number one has already been in the appropriate position.

An exercise like this on the table will go a long way towards showing the beginner what he has to do in the tower, and it is helpful if, when he can manipulate the cards successfully, he will copy down in a column on paper the rows as he produces them.

The manipulation of the cards will show him the 'movement' of the bells in changes, the record on paper will enable him to examine the detailed effect of that movement. A process that will give the beginner something that he can see and understand from the first will give him an interest in applying it in the belfry and enable him all the quicker to grasp what he is required to do when he is at the rope end.

EXETER CATHEDRAL BELLS

Golden Jubilee of Restoration and Re-dedication

A REPRESENTATIVE and goodly number attended the special evensong at Exeter Cathedral on June 14th in connection with the golden jubilee of the restoration and re-dedication of the Cathedral bells. Among the robed clergy was the Bishop of Crediton, vice-president of the Devon Guild, who read the lesson.

The Dean (the Very Rev. A. R. Wallace) in an excellent address based on Psalm 29, 'O, worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness,' said: 'When we have a church, we like to beautify it to the glory of God by having the best masons, artists, etc., and when we have the building ready, we have to summon the people to come, and so we have bells and ringers. It is possible to imagine other ways of announcing that the services are about to begin. We might have someone to fire a cannon at the west end five minutes before the service. We might have a man with a megaphone as they do at country fairs. We might have a siren which would sound far and wide. But there is, we all think, something so beautifully appropriate in the sound of our church bells ringing out over the city roofs and over the hills and dales of the countryside sounding to the faithful the summons to come and do their duty of worship.'

'During the year we celebrate various festivals and to-day it is ringing and the 50th anniversary of the beautiful bells of this, our mother church, and so the church calendar goes round marking the seasons and collecting the contributions to the great work and worship in fellowship and co-operation, and that is why to-day, on behalf of the Chapter and the whole Cathedral stall, I offer you ringers a very warm welcome to this, our mother church. We thank you for your services and remind you that there are two amounts of contributions you can make.'

FELLOW CHRISTIANS

'One is purely a business, a cash transaction for services rendered, and the other is in addition, on a Christian basis, to come to summon the congregation on this and other high occasions and festivals, as fellow Christians, not forgetting, I hope, as ringers are apt to forget that they are fellow Christians first and ringers second. Some fail to respond to the summons of worship which they themselves send out from their church belfries, and are depriving their fellow members of the church of something which is of very great value. The clergy and congregation downstairs in the church are poorer for their absence and it is not only we the clergy, who rejoice when they come down from the belfry to join us, but there is, we may be sure, gladness in the heart of God.'

At the tea and meeting following the service the hon. secretary introduced the main object for the gathering—the golden jubilee of the restoration of the bells, which are the pride and joy of the Diocese, and the whole ringing fraternity, and of which the late Rev. H. T. Ellacombe said were 'unsurpassed in the kingdom for weight of metal and sweetness of tone.' The former honour has now eluded us but we feel sure that the noble bells of Exeter are second to none for their sweetness and mellowness.

THE GREATEST FEAT

Mr. Oldham, of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., thanked the meeting for the kind invitation to say a few words. He spoke of the bell-hanging feat accomplished in those days, 50 years ago, and suggested it certainly surpassed anything that was being done to-day.

To have spanned 32 feet of tower space with the nine steel girders which supported the cage was a masterpiece in itself. It is the frame that makes the bells go well, and with all modesty we claim that this was the greatest feat of all in hanging the bells of Exeter Cathedral.

It is common knowledge that the tenor, Grandison, is 72½ cwt—the old bell was 62 cwt. Mr. J. W. Taylor came to inspect the bells in 1885 but it was not until 1902 that the work was completed. On the old ring it took 16 men to ring a course of Caters and they were much distressed even after this short touch. After restoration the great William Pye rang Grandison for four hours single-handed. Such was the perfection in bell-hanging.

SUCCESSFUL PRESS APPEALS

Mr. A. W. Searle, the last surviving member of the bells restoration committee and G.O.M. of the Devon Guild—self-styled 'ripe old octogenarian'—gave some reminiscences of those days of 1902 and after. Mr. Searle said: 'At the time I was a journalist and my editor spoke to me about the commencement of a subscribers' list, and with the support of the Press the appeal was soon successful.'

'It was also through the support of the Press that the bells were augmented to twelve in 1923. I personally appealed, on behalf of the Church of England, in the light of Buckfast Abbey having twelve and the Cathedral only ten bells. It was not long before a citizen, Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Exeter, gave the trebles as a personal thankoffering.' Mr. Searle also referred to the first peal on the bells and later the peal of Grandire Cinques by resident members of the Guild. Until this year (1952) Mr. Searle was the only man who conducted a peal of Triples on the bells; anyway the only peal ever by Exeter men!

Mr. C. G. Glass, a former Ringing Master of the Cathedral band, spoke a few words and recalled the late Mr. J. W. Taylor's comments on the 11th (Stafford) when it was suggested to him that this was the finest bell in the country—'Maybe the finest old bell.'

Apologies for absence were received from the president of the Devon Guild, Preb. E. V. Cox, and from Mr. William Shepherd, a native of Exeter, who was president at the dedication service in 1902.

The Cathedral bells were kept going with some very good ringing until 8 p.m. During this period a grand touch of Caters was brought round by some members of the Society of Roving Ringers and 'under 30's.' Permission was also taken advantage of at Heavitree and St. David's, Exeter.

All concerned were more than pleased with the arrangements and all contributed to what was indeed a truly memorable day. F. W.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

Jubilee Meeting To Be Held At Wrexham

The 49th annual general meeting of the North Wales Association was held at St. David's, Bangor, on June 8th. Towers represented were Portmadoc, Llandudno, Rhyl, Buckley, Wrexham and Gresford, and members were welcomed by the president (the Rev. E. G. Wright), who is also the Vicar of St. David's. After an hour's ringing on this fine ring of eight, a short service was held and conducted by the Vicar who said it was very appropriate for the meeting to be in Bangor at the same time as celebrations were being held to commemorate the 1,400th anniversary of the founding by St. Deiniol of the first church in the diocese.

After an excellent tea provided by the local ladies, who were thanked by Mr. G. H. Randles, the business meeting was held, at which the president took the chair, supported by the secretary and treasurer (Mr. W. Cathrall).

The statement of accounts, which was adopted, showed a balance of £18 4s. 4d., an increase of £3 over last year.

In the election of officers Mr. L. S. Griffiths was elected instructor for the Bangor and Rhyl districts, with Mr. John Roberts (Llandudno) and Miss Wallace (Rhyl) as secretaries.

It was decided to hold the next half-yearly meeting at Bodelwyddan on September 6th and Wrexham was chosen for the annual meeting next year, on which day the Association will also celebrate its Jubilee. In place of the quarterly meetings, which were cancelled owing to the long distance members would have to travel to attend, it was thought that district meetings would suffice.

A committee was elected to make the necessary arrangements for the Jubilee celebrations comprising:—Messrs. D. Millward, A. Lea, F. R. Evans, G. H. Randles, Miss N. Bibby and the secretary.

Mr. A. J. Hughes, of Bangor, tendered his resignation, owing to ill health, as the Central Council representative and district instructor. This was accepted with very much regret, and the secretary was requested to send him their best wishes for a speedy return to better health. Mr. W. Cathrall was elected to attend as representative the next Central Council meeting.

New members elected were Miss G. Davies (Llandudno), Miss D. Window and Messrs. G. Davies, D. Window and M. Chadwick (Bangor).

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman, proposed by Mr. D. Millward and seconded by Mr. F. R. Evans, to which the chairman suitably responded.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION AT BRIDLINGTON

The annual meeting of the Eastern District was held at Bridlington on June 7th at the special invitation of the Rector (Canon Lamb) to celebrate the golden jubilee of the dedication of the fine ring of eight bells (tenor 26½ cwt.) which took place on June 7th, 1902.

A special service was conducted by the Rector, assisted by the Rev. G. Steer, Vicar of Hutton Cranswick, a good friend of the ringers. A large congregation of parishioners and ringers was present, the address being given by the Archdeacon of Leeds, the Venerable C. C. Ellison, M.A., president of the Yorkshire Association. A course of Grandire Triples was rung on handbells during the service by L. Rodmell 1-2, P. Speck 3-4, H. S. Morley 5-6, H. Walker 7-8.

Tea was served in Priory Institute, after which the Rector gave an interesting account of the history of Bridlington Priory Church and the bells, and welcomed the Archdeacon and the ringers to Bridlington.

The Archdeacon, in reply, thanked the Rector for his remarks and for his kindly inviting the Association and himself to Bridlington to celebrate the occasion of the golden jubilee of the bells.

The business meeting was presided over by Mr. A. E. Sellers, and Miss Susan Harrop of Hutton Cranswick was elected a member.

Mr. S. Steel, Ringing Master, and Messrs. A. B. Cook, R. B. Smith and J. J. Taylor, committee, were re-elected for a further period of three years. Howden was selected as the next place of meeting with Patrington as an alternative.

The usual votes of thanks were passed with acclamation, and Mr. Parker, of Bridlington, in reply, gave all present a very hearty welcome and expressed the hope that they would come again soon.

Over 60 ringers and friends were present, representing 18 towers.

The bells were kept ringing till nine o'clock, everyone having a most enjoyable time on a lovely day.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE FIRST PEAL OF STEDMAN

Dear Sir,—In his history of 'Stedman,' Jasper Snowdon said that 'the earliest known peal of Stedman' was that composed by Thomas Edwards in 1792 and rung by the College Youths in 1803 at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington.

Trollope, with more enthusiasm, in the more recent edition refers to this as 'the first peal composed which we know to be true.' This enthusiasm is, however, completely misplaced as the peal on even a cursory examination is seen to be riddled with falseness and must now have its distinction altered to 'the peal whose falseness remained undetected for the longest time.'

—Yours sincerely,

G. W. SLACK.

Waltham Abbey, Essex.

RINGING AT BECKENHAM

Dear Sir,—As late towerkeeper and secretary of the band at this tower, I feel that some explanation of my recent withdrawal from the tower is necessary to the many friends who have visited Beckenham.

Some months ago the Rector took exception to visitors who came along on Thursday for practice but could not attend the Sunday service ringing, the latter difficulty being caused by indifferent attendance by the local ringers and consequently only chiming was possible. Despite my overtures to get the position cleared up, the Rector maintained his attitude and I therefore considered it desirable to sever my service for the church after 27 years.

I am, therefore, surprised to see the announcement that visitors are now welcome. It is also a matter of interest that the new towerkeeper or leader, although previously a member of the band, found it necessary to withdraw from the band on his removal to Forest Hill.

The World is full of surprises, even for an Association officer.—Yours truly,

W. J. RAWLINGS.

Beckenham. Kent.

MR. W. KEEBLE'S PEAL BOOK

Dear Sir,—Regarding Mr. A. H. Pulling's letter in 'The Ringing World' of June 13th. Mr. Keeble's peal book was handed to the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths by Mr. W. H. Fussell at a meeting at Shoreditch in May, 1944. At the time Mr. Pulling expressed regret that the peal book did not include Mr. Keeble's compositions.—Yours sincerely, KITTY MATTHEWS.

Hon. Sec., The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.

ARTIFICIAL MUSIC-MAKERS

Dear Sir,—Last Sunday I visited one of Devon's notable towers, whose lovely bells will shortly be competing with two artificial music-makers for the ears of the townspeople. At the morning service the Archbishop's Pastoral Letter was read, dealing with the need for a higher entry into the Ministry.

Some clergy seem ready enough, though one appreciates their difficulties, to replace absent ringers by a machine. I hope ringers, in turn, will never suggest that in the church below, where there is also a certain amount of repetition, records could also do duty for the missing parson.

If the acceptance of sham were thus logically extended, we might find ourselves trying to deceive the Almighty Himself with records made in King's College Chapel and played twice a Sunday in England's every empty church.—Yours.

GRAHAM WATT.

Bristol.

THINGS THAT MATTER

Sir,—What a contrast between the splendid leading article by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow and the report of the proceedings of the Central Council meeting's debate on Method Extension in a recent 'Ringing World.' In the entire report on pages 393 and 394 there is not one single mention of Sunday service ringing.

What does it matter which methods are rung or what their titles are so long as striking as near perfect as possible is obtained when church bells are rung for services? Who can deny that Plain Bob or a good 'rise' well-struck call changes followed by a good 'fall' in peal, are more pleasant sounds to the man-in-the-street than a conglomeration of sound produced by a supposed extension of some complicated method.

It would be difficult to a non-ringer chancing to read the Council report to see how method extension affects the ringing of bells which the average citizen loves to hear.

The meeting of the Council could much more profitably be spent in discussing at greater length means of obtaining and retaining recruits, publicity, ringers' relations with the clergy, means of safeguarding the future of the 'Ringing World,' to mention only a few subjects, instead of the few individuals bickering about a matter which concerns but a few of the great fraternity of Church bellringers.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR HIBBERT.

Chapel-en-le-Frith.

TO JACK WORRALL

Dear Sir,—The handbell peal on Sunday, June 15th, by members of the St. Ambrose Guild, Bristol, was rung as a farewell to one of the Guild's honorary members in the person of Jack Worrall, who is leaving Bristol after completing his studies at Bristol University.

The handbell team will miss both the genial company and the expert help which Jack has been pleased to extend to them, enabling two peals of Royal to be scored.

F. J. S., R. G. H., E. S., J. P.

ABC OF CONDUCTING

Dear Sir,—In the literature of ringing there seems to be lacking a thesis on the art of conducting and composition that the would-be conductor can understand. There is 'Ropesight,' of course, which gives easily assimilable information up to Plain Bob Major, and at the other end of the scale there is 'Variation and Transposition,' which contains, I feel sure, a great deal of sound logic, but which is considerably above my head and, I venture to say, above the heads of the vast majority of Sunday service conductors.

I suggest that perhaps one of the hierarchy, whose names are familiar to all readers of your peal columns, might be invited to contribute a series of articles either in your columns or for publication by the Central Council, setting forth the ABC of conducting, composition and proof in such a manner as to be intelligible to the rank and file.—Yours faithfully,

Liverpool.

CRANBORNE PEAL

Dear Sir,—I cannot let the Rev. W. F. Bond's letter go unchallenged. It is a distortion of the fact to appease a few local ringers, and there is no question of piracy, as he claims. He said nothing about finishing at 4 p.m., otherwise we should not have started as we could not ring a quarter peal in the time. Not one of our party knew a single ringer at Cranborne and did not even know if they had a local band and nobody told the Vicar that they had seen the captain who gave permission which he accuses us of.

We were met at the church by a ringer with the keys of the tower, and after the children's service was over, we all had a chat with the Vicar about the peal attempt and he raised no objection whatever; in fact he was rather pleased.

The local ringer then took us to the tower and said as we were ringing for at least three hours and would not finish much before evening, the local team would not bother to turn up.

We rang a good peal and finished at 6.25 p.m. and were met outside by a hostile party of ringers.

I apologised for any inconvenience we may have caused but they said they did not mind the peal being rung if they had known beforehand, but objected to it being arranged over their heads, and the Vicar is entirely to blame for this, not us.

There are two sides to everything and Mr. West would do much better if he listened to both versions before jumping to conclusions. He could have contacted one of our party before it came up at the Bridport meeting and heard their version.

F. W. BURNETT.

WINCHESTER GUILD MOTION

Dear Sir,—We are once again witnessing one of those unfortunate happenings that set the Exercise back in its relations with Church and Man. For many years there has existed a little discord in the area of this Guild and the Salisbury Guild on the Hants-Dorset borders. Strenuous efforts by Messrs. Davis, Mitchell and Pullinger of this Guild patched things up a few years ago by effecting an alteration to this Guild's rules and harmony had been reached; now the fat is in the fire again in the same area.

I am suggesting to the conductor of this peal that he publishes it as a non-Association peal and not for the Winchester Guild as I for one (and I am not the only one) do not wish the Guild to be credited with it, in fact if it is, I shall, at the next Executive Committee meeting, put forward a resolution deprecating such action. I don't think we can refuse to take it as a Winchester Guild peal, but it carries too much with it to make it a desirable credit.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A. HILL.

Hon. Sec., Andover District, Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

COMMON COURTESY DEMANDS A LETTER

Dear Sir.—Recent correspondence regarding the peal at Cranborne and the peal at Hawley this week make very sorry reading and one is inevitably led to conclude that the general decline in good manners among the rising generation has reached the belfry.

Surely, when asking permission to ring, whether it be for a peal or short touches, common courtesy demands a letter (and in these days of dear postage, a stamped envelope for a reply) not simply a ring on the telephone.—Yours,

E. BARNETT.

OUTINGS IN BRIEF

ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S, WILMSLOW

The outing of St. Bartholomew's, Wilmslow, Cheshire, on May 31st, was into 'them that 'ills,' or, in other words, glorious Derbyshire.

Bakewell was reached shortly before 10 o'clock and an hour's ringing enjoyed to the full on this magnificent eight. Then on to Edensor, in Chatsworth Park, where the merry six were soon in use, the non-ringers being 'conducted' by the Vicar (round the church, of course) to see the fine works in Derbyshire marble which evidenced the interior.

After a very welcome lunch at Matlock, the octave in the loftily situated Church of St. Giles was visited and ringing enjoyed throughout the afternoon. The route taken was via Gellia, with its exceptionally beautiful scenery, to the final tower, Youlgreave. Before ringing, justice was done to an excellent salad tea, in which the tourists were joined by the branch chairman, who had made the journey independently by car. With reluctance the party bade farewell to a very pleasant district.

During a halt at Buxton, thanks were expressed to the 'shepherd' of the party, who in turn would like to thank all who helped, especially the district secretary of the Derbyshire Association.

BARROW-UPON-SOAR, LEICS

On June 7th the ringers of Holy Trinity Church held their first annual outing, when about 30 ringers and friends travelled by coach to North Wales. The first 'ringing stop' was made at Shrewsbury, where rounds were soon rung on the twelve bells of St. Chad's. Various methods were then attempted on eight and ten bells. The next stop was Llangollen, where the visitors toured the town before raising and ringing the recently rehung eight of St. Collen's Church.

Methods rung during the day were Bob Royal and Major, Grandsire Triples and Caters, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Little Bob and Stedman Triples.

On the long homeward journey handbells were rung in between items by 'the back-seat choir.'

HUNTS DISTRICT

A delightful day was spent in West Suffolk by members of the Hunts District on June 14th.

Ringing took place during the morning at Cavendish and Sudbury All Saints', followed by lunch at the Four Swans Hotel, Sudbury.

Everyone looked forward to the next tower, Lavenham, and the beautiful ring here and the majesty of the church left a deep impression on the party. Monks Eleigh, Stowmarket and the Norman tower at Bury St. Edmunds completed the ringing programme. Home was reached shortly after 10 p.m.

CIRENCESTER

On Whit Monday, Cirencester ringers with their wives and ringing friends had their annual outing by motor-coach to Swanage. Ringing took place at Melksham and Wincanton on the way down—two good rings of eight. On reaching Swanage the party split up to enjoy themselves in various ways. Tea was had at 5 o'clock and afterwards ringing took place on the fine ring at the Parish Church. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were rung during the day, not forgetting rounds for the learners.

Best thanks are due to Messrs. W. C. West, J. H. Chilcott, A. J. Clarke and J. T. Dyke for the arrangements they made, which enabled us to have a very enjoyable day. F. J. L.

CHEWTON MENDIP, SOMERSET

Chewton Mendip ringers and friends had their annual outing on May 24th. Touches of Grandsire Triples were rung at Salisbury, Southampton, Andover and Devizes. A stop was made at Winchester to inspect the beautiful Cathedral. The homeward journey was much enjoyed coming over Salisbury Plain. H. B.

PRESTON, SUFFOLK

Preston St. Mary's ringers with their wives and friends had their annual outing on June 14th. Touring Norfolk, the following towers were visited: Attleborough, Hethersett, St. George's, Norwich, Winterton and Somerleyton. The methods rung were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman, Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Bourne. At Norwich the party were met by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, who joined them at lunch. Tea was partaken of at Winterton, where the party were welcomed by the jovial Vicar of that place, who escorted some of the youngsters (and elders) to the tower summit to enjoy the very pretty surroundings.

The ringers wish to express their thanks to the incumbents for use of the bells, also the kind friends who met them.

FARNHAM, SURREY

A programme embracing ringing in eleven towers was planned by the ringers of St. Andrew's Church, Farnham, for their outing on June 14th. There was, however, one disappointment, West Wycombe, where a locked church greeted the visitors, although prior permission had been obtained for the ringing.

The first tower was Slough, where some of the ringers had their first experience of ten bells. Other towers visited were Farnham Royal, Beaconsfield, High Wycombe (with a welcome from Mr. Fred Hayes), Lane End, Watlington, Nettlebed, Henley-on-Thames, Ship-lake and St. Mary's, Reading (where the best ringing of the day was heard). Finally refreshments were taken at Eversley, and Farnham was reached at 9.40 p.m.

STONY STRATFORD

Stony Stratford ringers, joined by friends from Newport Pagnell and Cosgrove, had a very enjoyable outing to Lincolnshire on June 14th.

An hour was spent on the musical eight at Edenham, where the party was met by Mr. Arthur Holmes. Lunch at Lincoln had been arranged by Mr. J. A. Freeman, who met the visitors on arrival, and then came the great privilege of ringing on the Cathedral bells.

After tea at Grantham, where a welcome was extended by Mr. S. Proctor, touches of Stedman and Grandsire Caters were rung on the grand bells at the Parish Church. The party was accompanied by the Rev. C. L. G. Hutchings, Vicar of St. Giles', Stony Stratford, who was formerly a curate at Grantham.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR BELLRINGERS

Many teams of bellringers are insured under the special policies issued by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office Ltd., 11, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C.2. Particulars will be supplied on application. Those with old policies are recommended to consider increasing the scale of benefits provided.

The Ecclesiastical Insurance Office, Ltd., was founded in 1887 to conserve for the Church of England profits arising from Church Insurances. The Office undertakes all kinds of parochial insurance. 960

THE PROFESSOR'S STORY Of Rain, Youth Hostels and Elusive Stedman

Over Whitsun, for the third year running, a small party of ringers from Sussex spent a week-end youth hostelling and ringing in Surrey. There were ten of us representing Chichester, Cowfold, Buxted, Twineham, Aldington and S.S. Cos. and Dam., Keymer!

On the Saturday morning we all met at Warnham, our first tower. The next stop was at Capel, where we enjoyed ringing the light ring of six. Here we encountered the first of many heavy showers when, on leaving the church, we got soaked in riding a few hundred yards down the road for dinner. The next tower was Ockley, where the six bells have a tenor of 15 cwt.

We arrived at Ewhurst in drizzling rain and had a picnic tea before ringing at the church. We stayed at the local youth hostel for the evening and considerable interest was shown in our attempts at handbell ringing—which, incidentally, were carried round during the week-end wrapped in pyjamas and suchlike! Two people were duly instructed in the principles of change ringing. These two also came into the tower the following morning and chose to go and watch the bells ringing, just as we were ringing down! Everyone enjoyed his stay at the hostel except perhaps the two who had to clean out the chicken run in the morning!

We joined the local band at Cranleigh in ringing for morning service on Whit Sunday and we thank them for their tolerance. In the afternoon we snatched two towers that were not on the list, and they certainly would have been missed! These were Bramley and Womersley. We have our suspicions that someone on the way to Bramley mistook the cemetery for the church—we disown them! For evening service we rang at Albury. The evening was spent at Tillingbourne Youth Hostel, but the less said about that the better.

We were all up early in the morning—we had to be to stand any chance of getting a wash (oh yes, we were a very hygienic lot)—and left, after breakfast, for Dorking. After half an hour of ringing we left for Betchworth to sample the ring of eight there. In the afternoon we visited Leigh (where a touch of 20 changes was quite enough), Newdigate and Charlwood. After tea came our last tower—Rusper.

A vague system of electing Ringing Masters (and Mistresses) was employed for the first time this year, and that, together with attempts for Stedman Triples, was not particularly successful. At Dorking the Ringing Master called for Stedman, and about half-way through his rope slipped the wheel and that course was finished. At another tower there was a further mix-up and all the bells stood except one—the conductor found herself trying to ring Stedman with herself! Another of our Ringing Masters found that his attempt to get Stedman was to be thwarted. He shouted, 'Hang on for Stedman,' and the local ringer who had met us said, 'Yes, all right, thank you very much, I don't mind ringing a bit of Grandsire with you!'

Our thanks for the success of the tour are due to the incumbents of the towers visited and to the ringers who came and met us; lastly, but by no means least, to Miss Durrant (I call her by that name because I will not be able to do so for much longer), who arranged everything.

THE 'PROFESSOR'

CROYDON, SURREY.—At St. John-the-Baptist, on May 24th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: G. Lodge 1, Mrs. W. Oatway 2, Mrs. F. E. Collins 3, C. Parks 4, E. Razzell 5, J. E. Cooper 6, D. D. Cooper (cond.) 7, G. H. Humphries 8. Rung in honour of the wedding of Mr. D. Oyanne (chorister and secretary) and Miss J. Reeve (Sunday School worker) of this parish.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival

MEMBERS of the St. David's Guild held their seventh annual festival at St. David's Cathedral on June 14th. The bells were available at 2 p.m. and the Dean of St. David's (the Very Rev. C. Witton Davies) was there to greet the ringers as they arrived, and being a campanologist himself, assisted in raising the bells in peal ready for ringing. Although the Cathedral is situated in the most westerly point of the Diocese, members from all over the Diocese gradually congregated together at the bell tower, and there were 70 present.

The Archdeacon of St. David's (the Ven. C. Gwynne Lewis) also visited the bell tower and his presence was greatly appreciated by all members.

The service was held in the choir stalls of the Cathedral, at which the Dean officiated, assisted by the Archdeacon of Carmarthen (the Ven. J. R. Pugh) and by the Archdeacon of St. David's. Minor Canon V. Jones was the organist.

Members were afterwards entertained to a very nice tea which was very welcome after the long journeys undertaken by some of them, and which was given free of charge by the bellingers of St. David's Cathedral.

Before the business meeting started the secretary, Mr. C. H. Hawkins, extended a very hearty welcome to all the members, and the customary touch on the handbells which opens the proceedings was rung by Mr. A. Hoare, Mr. E. Morris, Mr. D. Brian Price and Mr. R. Scudamore.

The Dean presided and apologised for the absence of the president, the Lord Bishop of St. David's, who was attending the 14th centenary celebrations at Bangor.

In a hearty welcome to the members the Dean expressed the wish that the time would not be far distant when the Guild would come to St. David's again. The secretary then read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were adopted as a true and correct record, and the treasurer, Mr. E. P. Sage, of Burry Port, gave a very satisfactory statement of accounts for the year ending 1951. Mr. A. Hoare, of Swansea, who represented the Guild at the Central Council meeting at Lincoln, gave a very satisfactory report of the meeting.

The secretary in his report stated that the membership was 126 compared with 116 for 1950, but some of the members had not paid their subscriptions for 1951. The financial side of the Guild was good and they were paying their way, and the Bell Restoration Fund was accumulating.

There were one peal of Bob Minor, one peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, two peals of Grandsire Doubles and four quarter peals, and one handbell peal of Bob Minor, rung at Lampeter College.

Appealing for better attendance at quarterly and monthly meetings, Mr. Hawkins said: 'I realise that our churches that contain bells are very scattered in the Diocese and that travelling to these places incurs a lot of expense, but when we think of the expenses paid for other pleasures of life to-day, I think we ought to do a little more for our churches by keeping the bells ringing and for the furtherance of change-ringing by attending our quarterly and monthly meetings to practise the art. I believe that much more can be done by the captains of various towers if they would only take bellringing more seriously. I should like to see the ringers of Tenby, St. David's, Pembroke and Haverfordwest getting together at various dates to practise the art so that we might have a better standard of ringing in the Diocese.'

The election of officers for the next 12 months was as follows:—Ringing Master, Mr. Harry Jenkins (Tenby); secretary, Mr. C. H.

Hawkins (Llanely); treasurer, Mr. E. Sage (Burry Port); Ringing Master, Mr. R. Scudamore (Llandilo); auditor, Mr. B. Rees (Burry Port).

The place of competition for 1953 is at Llandovery and a collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised the sum of £1 12s. 6d. The secretary then stated that his Vicar (Canon Dr. Islwyn Davies) had invited the Guild to hold its next annual festival in 1953 at Llanely. He felt that they should share the burden with Carmarthen and it was unanimously agreed that the Festival for 1953 be held at Llanely.

A very pleasing feature of the meeting was to see some of the members wearing blazers with their badge attached, the secretary stating that he hoped every member would be able to have one and that they would be worn at all the meetings.

Before closing the meeting the secretary extended a hearty vote of thanks to the Dean for having the Guild at St. David's, for officiating at the service and presiding at the meeting. The secretary also thanked the ringers of St. David's for providing such a nice tea, Minor Canon V. Jones for playing the organ, and the ladies who waited at the tea.

The Dean responded to the vote of thanks and closed the meeting with a prayer. The ringers then returned to the bell tower to finish off a very successful meeting.

DEDICATIONS

LELANT, CORNWALL

The bells of Lelant Parish Church, Cornwall, among the sand dunes of the Hayle Estuary, rang out again on May 31st, after they had been re-dedicated by the Bishop of Truro.

They are a light ring of six bells cast by Taylor's in 1836. The same firm has now recast the treble and the fourth bell and has rehung all the bells with new fittings at a cost of £610, this amount having been met by public subscription during the past two years.

The large congregation at the dedication service included the Mayor and Mayoress of St. Ives, accompanied by the Town Clerk, the Mayor and Mayoress of Penzance and Mrs. Greville Howard, wife of the M.P. for the division.

The service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. T. Davies-Freme, included prayers, psalms and hymns stirringly appropriate to the occasion, and the augmented junior choir sang the carol 'Ding-dong, Merrily on High.'

The lesson was read by the Rural Dean (Canon C. H. J. Buckley) and a number of other robed clergy from West Cornwall took part in the service.

After the Bishop had dedicated the bells, a selected band of ringers from the Mid-Cornwall Branch, the Truro Branch and the Penzance Branch rang rounds for a few moments.

Immediately after the service the bells were made available to visiting ringers, and those who took advantage of this opportunity came from Kenwyn, Camborne, Ludgvan, Penzance, Gulval, Sennen, Paul, St. Mawgan, Madron, St. Gluvias, Redruth, Stithians and Mabe.

THURNBY, LEICS.

On June 16th a new treble bell was dedicated at St. Luke's Parish Church, Thurnby, by the Provost of Leicester Cathedral, the Very Rev. H. A. Jones, B.Sc. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. J. Cooper.

The bell is to commemorate the victory in the last war, and the eighth centenary of the church, in 1950. The work was carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. and is a perfect splice. The Loughborough Foundry was represented at the service by Mr. J. P. Fidler.

Thurnby has now a good-going ring of six with tenor of 12½ cwt. which will bear comparison with any six in the Leicester Diocese.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

Disappointment at Non-Acceptance of Newcastle For C.C. Meeting

In its programme for 1951-52 the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association had planned to hold its half-yearly meeting at Gateshead on June 14th, but this did not fit in with the local arrangements and the meeting was switched to Chester-le-Street at short notice. The attendance of some 37 members and visitors at tea was disappointing for a general meeting held in a central and readily-accessible tower. Nevertheless, those present made good use of the bells and seemed to enjoy themselves.

A service was conducted by the senior curate (the Rev. N. W. A. Marley), in the absence of the Rector on holiday. A collection at this service raised 24s. for the War Memorial Fund. Tea was provided in the Church Institute and was followed by the business meeting.

Mr. W. N. Park presided in the absence of Canon Stephenson. He welcomed back Mr. G. A. Pickering after his long absence through illness but was sorry to have to report that Mr. J. T. Titt was in poor health. The secretary was asked to write to Mr. Titt expressing hopes for his speedy recovery. The usual votes of thanks were accorded for the use of the bells, the service, to the organist, and the ladies for providing the tea. Mr. Park said that the last of these had seemed to him a very important task and he felt that it should be undertaken by the member with the largest appetite. He had quickly compiled a short list and then after much deliberation, Mr. E. N. Harrison, of Fenham, was finally chosen. In spite of his youth he seemed to 'know the calling' and just lacked practice. This deficiency will no doubt be remedied at future District meetings!

The decision of the committee to proceed with the War Memorial on the lines of the modified design was explained. This new design was on view and an appeal was made to members to support the fund and raise the money necessary for completion of the scheme. The committee had also decided to modify the annual report for 1951-52 in order to reduce expenditure.

The secretary reported the discussion of the committee on the policy for the annual meeting. It was felt that an alternative to Durham City was required for the years when the annual meeting was not held in Newcastle and notice of motion would be submitted for the revision of Rule 10.

Mr. Park gave a report on the Central Council meeting at Lincoln. He had gone to Lincoln with full authority to repeat his invitation to the Central Council to visit Newcastle in 1953 and it was a great disappointment that this was heavily defeated on a vote in favour of Bournemouth. Mr. J. Anderson pointed out that it was 40 years since the Council had visited Newcastle and in Newcastle and its surroundings there were all the facilities that were required for such a meeting and plenty of excellent rings of bells. He hoped that the report of the meeting would emphasise the feeling of disappointment, and this was endorsed by the meeting.

The efforts of the ladies at the tea resulted in the handing over of 22s. to the War Memorial Fund.

BENTLEY COMMON, ESSEX.—On June 22nd. 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Daphne A. Lodge 1, F. R. Goddard (cond.) 2, D. G. Mayell 3, D. J. Crouchman 4, H. G. Goddard 6. A birthday compliment to Desmond G. Mayell.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN MARSHALL

One of the best-known ringers in Scotland, Mr. John Marshall, a past Master of the Scottish Association, died suddenly on June 20th.

He was a ringer at St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, for over 40 years and was for some years conductor of the Cathedral band. Mr. Marshall always took a great interest in the ringing at St. Cuthbert's Parish Church and became conductor at that tower about two years ago. Between the wars business took him to England for lengthy periods and on these visits south of the border he made many friends and rang many peals.

MR. EDWIN CURRY

Mr. Edwin Curry, who died at Bayswater, Auckland, New Zealand, a month after passing his 100th birthday, was a Somerset man who went to New Zealand in 1880 as a soldier and was afterwards a farmer. A keen bellringer, he was one of the first team to ring the bells at St. Matthew's Church, Auckland.

WEOBLEY, HEREFORDSHIRE

An enjoyable tour of Gloucestershire was spent by Weobley, Herefordshire, ringers and their wives and friends on Whit Monday.

Whitminster, whose bells had not been rung for some time, was first visited, and although they were in need of repair, this did not mar some good ringing.

After lunch at Bristol, the Lord Mayor's Chapel was visited and here the best bells of the day were met. The congratulations of a Bristol ringer on the 'sink' was a feather in the cap of all concerned. Ringing followed at St. Werburgh's which has a perfect 'go'. On the homeward journey an hour was spent at Hardwicke, bells which every ringer longed for.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON
SOCIETY

Whitsun Tour, 1952

THE Society this year spent Whitsun in the Bedford area and visited many of the towers it had originally planned to ring at on the summer tour two years ago. The party stayed in Bedford, just south of the river, and transported itself between towers by means of one car, four motor cycles and five pedal cycles. In spite of this diversity of mechanical aid, a considerable degree of coherence was maintained. Most people arrived in time to ring at Elstow on Friday evening. This church is particularly famous because John Bunyan once rang there, though there is much else of interest about it. The bells are in a tower separate from the austere dignified church which is nearly all that is left of the former Benedictine Abbey. Everyone was in time to ring on the six bells at Wootton afterwards.

All five towers on Saturday had eight bells. Newport Pagnell and Olney—where the church stands on the very banks of the Ouse and possesses a fine stone-pinnacled broach spire—were visited in the morning. After lunch at the Three Cranes, Turvey, the party rang at All Saints' Church, and then at Bromham. The evening was spent ringing at Kempston, and later in other pursuits on other premises further up the road.

On Sunday morning five brave people were up early to complete the band for a quarter peal at Kempston before the seven o'clock service. Later the party split for ringing at St. Peter's, Bedford, and Biddenham—most people managed to ring at both places. In the afternoon an enjoyable hour was spent on the very pleasant bells at Cardington. By then the weather had cleared and everyone repaired to the river. Evening service ringing was at St. Paul's, Bedford.

On Monday morning the party set off for Tempsford complete with all baggage. During the course of this journey one of the motor-cycles lost its gear lever but the owner managed to ride in third for the rest of the day—a triumph of modern engineering. Tempsford was followed by Blunham, where the five bells fully compensated for any deficiency of physical exercise from which those with motor transport might have been suffering. At Northill, the Rector showed us some of the interesting features of the church, including the painted glass, formerly in the east window, which is probably the finest example of its sort extant. Thomas Tompion, the 'father' of English clock-making, was born in this parish, and the museum over the porch of the church is well worth a visit. Ringing at Old Warden, where the church is filled with a collection of carving from various European countries, and at Southill, occupied the afternoon. An excellent tea at the White Horse, Southill, had a mellowing effect on everyone and this process was subsequently assisted still further by some good draught cider. After tea some of the cyclists set off for London by road leaving the motorised party and those who preferred to travel home by train to ring at Biggleswade.

Although the weather might have been warmer and drier, the rain was not continuous and no one got really wet apart from one intentional swimmer on Sunday afternoon. The Society thanks everyone whose co-operation made the tour so enjoyable, and especially Richard Stephens for his competent but unobtrusive organisation. D. N. L.

SURREY CHURCH'S ANNIVERSARY

The evening congregation of St. Mary's, Send, Surrey, enjoyed a real feast of ringing at the ringers' special service arranged for the fourth anniversary of the dedication of their bells on Sunday, June 22nd.

A number of visiting ringers from the Guildford, Chertsey and Leatherhead districts of the Diocese rang for two hours before the service and for a short period after. During the service handbells were rung by the ringers of Holy Trinity Cathedral Church, Guildford, after ringing for evensong in their own church.

The Vicar (the Rev. C. E. Sylvester) thanked the ringers and spoke of the real Christian service bellringers were doing in proclaiming the Gospel, by sending out the invitation to 'Come and worship,' through the medium of the bells.

The Vicar and Mrs. Sylvester afterwards entertained the company at the Vicarage, and prior to the service a number of ladies of the church provided tea and use of their cars.

These kindnesses were greatly appreciated and the event has certainly put greater enthusiasm into a struggling young band.
