MENACE OF SYNTHETIC BELLS AND BELL RECORDINGS

MORE and more we hear of installations of synthetic bells and bell recordings, and a few months ago one such scheme in the writer's district was rapidly over-subscribed, proving the parishioners' love of bell sounds. Properly guided they would, no doubt, make the effort necessary to possess bells of their own to be rung by an active group of members of their own church, instead of putting up with an inferior sham deceiving only themselves.

Unfortunately, ringing organisations seldom know of these schemes until they are too far advanced, hence we should persuade Diocesan Advisory Committees to invite a representative of the appropriate Ringing Association to attend any meeting considering the granting of a faculty to install synthetic bell apparatus.

Setting ethical and religious considerations on one side, if the process goes on at the present rate and one or two firms start competing in production, and in gullible sales talk to parochial church councils and clergymen uneducated in church bells and ringing, only churches with magnificent rings of bells, well rung, will be tolerated in the not too distant future. Others will have been forced 'out of business,' so to speak.

Where does the blame lie for this growing tendency affecting ancient as well as modern churches? Quite obviously a great deal of blame rests on ringers themselves in not ensuring that all bells are properly rung for services and for making insufficient effort to fill the gaps in our ranks.

There is need for more 'missionary' work in aiding undermanned towers and struggling bands. If all Sunday service bands are in a 'healthy' state, so will all the various ringing activities of the Exercise be healthy. Somehow we must make membership of a band and regular attendance for service ringing and practice attractive and enjoyable, and be loyal to each other and our service.

A great deal of blame must also attach to the Church authorities who, at their recent Assembly, failed to put to the vote Mr. I. Bulmer-Thomas' worthy resolution 'deprecating the use of synthetic bell sounds.'

Mr. Thomas' resolution is an encouraging sign. It is less encouraging that Mrs. W. L. Miller (Southwark) opposed his motion by speaking favourably of St. Bride's synthetic bell apparatus and unfavourably of prolonged ringing in her own parish. Here is evidence of the harm that may be done to our cause by prolonged ringing where there is genuine cause for complaint. Even so, the clergy are partly to blame in such cases as they have control over the bells.

The Ven. A. S. Bean's suggestion that the need for a faculty provided a check on such schemes is not borne out by events and is just one of those devices which give conferences the excuse to do precisely nothing. Fortunately, some Diocesan Chancellors, like the one at Newcastle, have the foresight to reject schemes for 'canned bells,' thus preventing the 'thin end of the wedge' which will undermine a worthy form of praise and worship.

All priests in training should be tutored in matters concerning bells and their great part in English church life.

The Central Council could help in this by arranging for competent lecturers (themselves ringers) to visit all ecclesiastical training colleges and give a brief series of talks and demonstrations at regular intervals so that, in time, no priest would be ignorant on these matters. Detailed arrangements could be delegated to the various Associations, but a committee of the Central Council would need to outline a syllabus, contact the colleges and perhaps, with the help of bell founders, provide visual aids, etc., which could be loaned out to the Association lecturers in turn and as required. Much will be gained if we can obtain the almost unanimous co-operation of the clergy and church authorities.

There is need for the ringers to associate themselves more closely and actively within the Church and for clergy and church officials to take more interest in their ringers so that each can depend on the other's sympathy and loyalty.

How else can we combat this menace? It might be worth while investigating the question of copyright of recordings made. There is a body known as 'The Mechanical Copyright Protection Society' which prevents the unauthorised reproduction, mechanically, of any performance of music, speech, etc.

Possibly, control over bell recordings could be exercised through the Central Council becoming subscribers to some such body. Ringers should control the disposal of any recordings made and prevent their use except by express permission in particular instances.

Tape recorders, unlike gramophone records, provide good reproduction and, being very portable, can make recordings without the performers' knowledge and so are a danger to ringing.

There is also the legal aspect as regards creating a public nuisance. Have bell recordings the same privilege in the eyes of the law as real bells? If so, the 'plugging' of York Minster and St. Margaret's bells far and wide may eventually prove a danger to this privilege.

The events in N.E. England reported recently in 'The Ringing World' emphasise the need for individual ringers, associations and the Central Council energetically to do all in their power to restrict and limit the spread of this menace.

Those wishing to take the cheap and easy course of installing 'canned bells' will find ready excuses for doing so. It might be worth while drawing the attention of the Vicar of Earsdon to Bolsover (Derbyshire) and Warsop (N. Notts), churches both on land severely subject to subsidence, but both with recently restored rings (the latter by the addition of two tenors to make six). At both these towers (and no doubt many others) the high principles of the vicar and the enthusiasm of the ringers combine to overcome difficulties.

The proper ringing of church bells is a form of praise, a preparation for and an act of worship. We should always bear this in mind when ringing and use this fact as our main argument against 'canned bells,' which degrade bell sounds into a cheap advertisement, and which ultimately can do nothing but harm to the Church itself.

The greatest danger is apathy, and 'Eternal Vigilance and Action' should be our watchword. N. C.

sale on Thursday, December 24th. Notices for insertion in that issue must reach 'The Ringing World' office by Monday, December 21st at the latest. If necessary, phone Guild-ford 5028.

The Crewe ringers — and
'The Ringing World' — wish to thank one of the band for
'the spirit' of his hospitality, 22s. 6d. to 'Gratefully Acknowledged' in lieu of filling the 11-quart jug. 'It will do "The Ringing World" more good, and I am sure the ringers won't mind.' They would like to congratulate Malcolm Owen (15 years) on the way he rang the treble in his first peal — without a look from anyone. Thanks also to the Vicar, the Rev.
Francis Gentry, for his thoughtful consideration in coming down to congratulate his ringers — and see they were all right for Sunday, he said.

It is with deep regret that we learn of the grave illness of Mrs. Walter Wolstencroft at her home at Stoke Poges, Bucks.

Bristol University Society have their home tower at St. Michael's. The peal the Society rang there on December 2nd was the first on the bells since October 22nd, 1922, when a peal of Plain Bob was rung. The peal was by an all-resident band and enabled two members to ring their first peal, two others their first of Minor and one, the tenor ringer, to get 15 blisters!

Mrs. Jean Casley, of Dar-es-Salaam, Tanganyika, writes of a visit to one of the nearest towers, St. Paul's, Durban (a matter of 1,800 miles away), in October. She states: 'We received a very warm welcome from Mr. Mc-Garr and his band there. It was a great delight to be in a belfry again after a year's absence, and we joined in ringing call changes for evensong. Even at 6.30 p.m. it was still very hot work! We were told that owing to the ever-shifting population, efforts to retain a change ringing band were unsuccessful, but it was good to hear that with call changes they are able to maintain regular Sunday service ringing. We understand this also applies to the other Durban tower, St. Mary's, Greyville.'

BELFRY

GOSSIP

The Christmas morning service this year will be broadcast from Chilvers Coton Church, Nuneaton, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. R. P. Rigby (president of the Coventry Diocesan Guild), with Canon Moore Darling as the preacher. The resident band of ringers hope to ring a short touch of Grand-sire Caters prior to the service at 9.30.

The ringer of the fourth in the peal at Ewell on November 14th was Gordon P. T. Peters, and not as printed.

We are now enrolling new postal subscribers for 1954. Send order and remittance to Mr.
J. E. Jeater, Greystones, Cusgarne, Truro, Cornwall.

The Church of St. Andrew, Hampton, where a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung on December 5th, was the 50th tower in Worcestershire in which Mr. Reginald Woodyatt has rung a peal.

A correspondent from the Midlands writes
after reading a report in the issue of November 28th of 'The Ringing World': 'A band of Grandsire Triples ringers were attacking, rather furiously at times, for upwards of three hours before the order came for evacuation.
Readers will no doubt feel assured to know that this Norman stronghold, and the bells, withstood the assault and are apparently no worse for the invasion.'

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. Holm and Beryl on ringing their first peal together, and particularly Mr. and Mrs. Holm on their first peal. With very little outside help, but with great enthusiasm and perseverance, the family have now achieved their great ambition to ring a peal together and to ring the bells for Sunday services at Wychbold, Worcestershire.

Mr. Bert Gogle, one of the regular Sunday service ringers at Norwich, has rung his 200th peal.

CROWDED OUT AT WESTMINSTER!

Middlesex and Cumberlands Fraternise

This does not concern your M.P. being unable to do his duty in the House, but relates to one of the most successful ringing meetings held in London recently. The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths and the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild joined forces on December 5th and met at St. Martin-in-the-Field's, the famous church at Trafalgar Square, known to millions by its broadcast services and beloved vicars, among whom, perhaps 'Dick' Sheppard is remembered most. St. Martin's and the 'Cumberlands' have been associated in ringers' minds since the beginning of time, or thereabouts.

The popularity of the two Societies was demonstrated by a gathering of ringers of all ages, from London and the provinces, numbering nearly a hundred. The commodious ringing room was crammed to capacity, and the temporary Master for the afternoon, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, had to clear space for the ropes each time the bells rang. Every endeavour to meet all tastes was made, and rounds on twelve to Cambridge Maximus was rung in styles—good, bad and indifferent!

Tea time arrived with unpleasant news for many. The limited accommodation in the Crypt necessitated the application of 'no names no tea', and the failure to render this little act of courtesy to the organisers of the meeting was brought home to the defaulters in no uncertain way. (Perhaps we secretaries ought to be hard-hearted and catch 'em out more often!) After tea, taken under the chairmanship of Mr. C. J. Matthews, Mr. G. H. Cross expressed the pleasure of the Cumberland Youths at being able to welcome the Middlesex Association to St. Martin's. The Middlesex Association Master, Mr. T. Price, suitably responded and thanked the Society for the arrangements made, and also thanked Mr. W. H. Hewett, who was later to invite the visitors to ring at St. Margaret's. (Bill Hewett and St. Margaret's have been together now for 40 years.)

Shortly before seven, the precincts of the Palace of Westminster resounded to the bells of St. Margaret's. Numerous methods were rung on the whole in very fair style having regard to the mixed bands taking part. Two tries for London Royal came to naught and were finally brought to grief by one of the culprits setting his bells, and giving as fine a display of befriemanship as one could expect to see! But we couldn't let you get away with it, Frank.

And so ended a very pleasant meeting with many old friendships renewed and new ones made. Some had their aspirations on twelve bells realised, but some did not. To the latter we say, 'Why not come back sometime?'

Our thanks to the incumbents of both churches, the steeplekeepers and the helpers of St. Martin's canteen, and to Mrs. C. J. Matthews, the secretary of the Society, for making the necessary arrangements. G.

THAXTED'S VICAR AND BELL OPPONENTS

In his parish magazine, the Vicar of Thaxted (the Rev. Jack Putt-rill) condemns those people who complain of bell ringing.

Commenting on the revival of bell ringing in Essex generally, the Vicar says, 'Bellringing is one of our special national arts and we should cherish it as English people.'

To those who complain of the bells he offers the solution — 'In the Sahara desert there are no bells and so there is plenty of room for those who prefer quietness.'

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD Wirral Branch

The seventh annual social was held this year at St. Hilary's Parish Hall, Wallasey, on November 28th from 7 p.m. to midnight and, as on previous occasions, there was a full house—over 200 ringers, relatives and friends attending. Ringers were present from Birkenhead, Bebington, Bidstone, Bromborough, Eastham, Moreton, Neston, Oxtan, Port Sunlight, Upton, Wallasey (St. Hilary's and St. Nicholas') and West Kirby.

A mixed programme of games, dances and novelty items had been arranged and was thoroughly enjoyed in the gaily-decorated hall. A further touch of gaiety was added by the novel carnival hats worn by many of those present, more particularly as their makers had not been restrained in choice of materials or ideas in their attempt to carry off a prize in the novel hat competition. There were watering cans, vases of flowers, bell towers and steeples in the variety presented, whilst the first prize was awarded to the wearer of a creation depicting a bonfire complete with Guy Fawkes.

The first break of the evening came for refreshments, and those whose flesh was willing but whose breath was short were glad of the respite to recover their composure.

Advantage was taken of the interval to make a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Webster and Miss Marjorie Webster, of Wallasey, in appreciation of their services rendered as Social Committee members during the past six years. Their enthusiasm and willingness to co-operate and work hard has in no small measure contributed to the success of functions organised.

During the second part of the programme the tempo of the enjoyment tended to increase and midnight came all too quickly. Buses were awaiting (or should have been!) to transport the revellers homewards. The Deesiders got away promptly in their double-decker, and finally the other bus for Birkenhead and district arrived and conveyed the remaining, by this time apprehensive, revellers homewards, it is hoped in time for Sunday morning ringing.

Norwich Association Against Easter Monday Meeting

A meeting of the Standing Committee was held on December 5th in St. Clement's Parish Hall, Colegate, Norwich, preceded and followed by ringing at St. George's, Colegate. The president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, was in the chair, and 15 members were present from all four Branches.

The main item on the agenda was whether to change the date of the annual general meeting from Easter Monday to a Saturday. It was agreed that this would be likely to produce a much larger attendance. It was agreed that it would be practicable with a timetable as follows: Ringing at Mancroft from 3.15 to 4, in all other Norwich towers from 1.30 to 4, ringing in the morning by arrangement with the general secretary, service at Mancroft at 4, tea at 4.45, business meeting at 5.30, ringing in all Norwich towers from 7 to 9 p.m. It was felt that this would work well if only members would be co-operative enough to keep to the timetable, not hang about, and thus help to secure a fully active and pleasant day for everyone.

On the question whether this change is desirable it was noted that all the Branch meetings except that of West Norfolk were unanimous in preferring the change, whilst West Norfolk was definitely against it. The Standing Committee felt that in view of this expression of opinion it was right to change to a Saturday, and with the kind approval of the North Norfolk Branch secretary, the North Norfolk meeting arranged for January 9th in Norwich (when, by happy coincidence, Her Majesty the Queen Mother hopes to visit the

PEAL RAISES £47 FOR BELL RESTORATION

There is an interesting story behind the peal published in this issue which was rung at the Church of St. Andrew, Cambridge. Mr. W. J. Ridgman writes:—

'The reason for ringing this peal may be of some interest to readers who, like us, need to raise money for church purposes from sources outside the usual congregation.

'The Fellowship of St. Andrew's, Cambridge, is a small one of some hundred or so, and yet we have embarked on a restoration programme which includes recasting and re-hanging the bells, and requires a total of some £7,000. This we hope to complete in seven years.

'Among our many ways of raising money the interesting one from a ringer's point of view is to display our church flag on a table at the entrance to the church and invite passers-by to cover it with pennies. This we do twice a year, ringing the bells for as long as possible while the flag is displayed, in the hope and belief that people shopping nearby hear the bells and come round to the church to see if a wedding is in progress. In spite of their disappointment at finding an offertory plate instead of a blushing bride, they usually contribute quite cheerfully.

'We find a highly significant positive correlation, between the money received and the length of time that the bells are rung during the day. (For the benefit of our Manchester friends I might add that  $r = +0.9909$  with 5 d.f. after making due allowance for changes in spending power of the populace.) This year the peal reported, plus twenty minutes of Superlative, which would not settle down, plus one and a quarter hours of Stedman Triples, which ended in the same way as many other attempts at Stedman Triples, brought in £47 16s. 8d.

'If there are any organisers of peals who would like to attempt some long lengths on very "rough-going" and odd-struck bells, their requests for making use of these occasions would be considered most sympathetically.'

Maddermarket Theatre, Norwich), will be followed immediately by a general meeting to adopt formally the new rules as approved at the last annual general meeting, including Rule 8, 'that an annual meeting be held in Norwich on a Saturday to be determined by the Standing Committee.' If this is agreed to the Standing Committee will determine Saturday, May 8th, 1954, as the first annual general meeting under the new plan. The next meeting of the Standing Committee was fixed for April 10th, 1954, in St. Clement's Hall.

A final unofficial item was more high pressure and highly successful salesmanship of Christmas cards—absolutely thrown away at 6d. each, with envelope, all profits to St. Andrew's Bell Fund. Now book May 8th, when Norwich is at its best, with long evenings, rippling Broad, green trees, trilling canaries, and make this a bumper meeting! G. T.

A PROMISING START

An encouraging letter has been received from Mr. John Smith, of Lillingstone Lovell Buckinghamshire. Here there was recently installed a ring of five with hopes of a sixth bell in the near future. A year ago not one of the 12 young ringers at this church could ring and now most can plain hunt and do simple changes (one, in fact, has rung a quarter peal). This progress is in no small measure due to Mr. W. Yates and Mr. G. Holland, of Buckingham, who come out regularly to teach the band. 'They are a real inspiration to us all. They are always there and always ready to help in any way,' writes Mr. Smith.

OBITUARY

MR. A. C. MELHUISH

Mr. A. C. Melhuish, who died on November 6th at Victoria, British Columbia, had been an active ringer up to 1951 and would have continued to ring after this had it not been on account of doctor's orders preventing him from going up the 72 steps to the ringing chamber. Mr. Melhuish was a ringer for 64 years.

Before going to Canada, in 1905, he took part in 13 peals and was a member of the Bath and Wells Association; also a member of three companies in Bath, and rang at St. Andrew's, Christ Church, Twerton Parish Church and Bath Abbey. He had been a regular ringer at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, since the bells were dedicated in July, 1936, up to his retirement in 1951. He took an active part in the training of young ringers and keeping up the interest of others and improving the art of change ringing. His charming personality and keen sense of humour endeared him to all those who came into contact with him.

Since taking part in the dedication ringing in July, 1936, of the ring of eight bells in Christ Church Cathedral in Victoria, he had rung on two Empire Broadcasts and taken part in many quarter peals.

Mr. Melhuish had been connected with the Cathedral Diocese in Victoria for 40 years, being in the choir, a vergier and bellringer. On one occasion whilst Mr. Melhuish was vergier, he was late in coming down from the belfry, and after hurrying into his robes to precede the Dean, he found to his surprise when he placed his verge staff in the chancel, he had been carrying the altar candle snuffer in his hand instead of the verge staff. Nobody appreciated the humour of his mistake more than himself.

As a tribute to his memory the Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled on Sunday, November 8th, and again for the funeral service on Monday, November 9th. The pallbearers were all ringers who, after the interment, rang a touch of Grandsire on handbells at the graveside. The ringers taking part were: Dr. Longridge, Margaret Izard, J. V. Donaldson, D. Boniface, A. Izard, C. Millard, E. W. Izzard, T. Turner.

MR. JOHN HAYES

With regret we record the passing of Mr. John Hayes, of Chester, on November 24th, at the age of 59 years. He was a well-known ringer of Chester Cathedral and St. Mary's-without-the-Walls, at which church he commenced ringing under Mr. Harry Dew, 42 years ago.

Of fine character and a very quiet nature, Mr. Hayes will be greatly missed. A first-class ringer and an excellent striker, he took part in 154 peals in a great variety of methods which included first peals of London and Bristol Surprise by the local ringers, also the record peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, 17,280 changes, at Over, Cheshire, on July 21st, 1923.

The funeral service was held at St. Mary's-without-the-Walls, the bells being rung muffled as the cortege entered and left the church, by all the members of the band.

MR. A. ROBERTS

The death of Mr. Alfred Roberts, of St. Paul's Church, Stalybridge, at the age of 73 years, breaks another link in the chain of ringers who have served their church and parish for a very long number of years, in this case well over 50 years.

By his death the Chester Diocesan Guild has lost one of its best members; he was a very regular attender at all meetings of the Guild and never absent from duty at the church except in the case of illness. His passing is much regretted.

MR. G. W. PLAYLE

In the passing of George Playle at the age of 84, the Essex Association have lost a life honorary member, and Dagenham Parish Church a veteran ringer and friend. His death was not unexpected as he had been intermittently ill for some time.

One would hesitate to call him an active peal ringer but he was one of those people whose unfailing regularity and determination formed the very backbone of the ringing fraternity. His peals number only three or four, for he was keener to ring shorter lengths and, in fact, his record 720's is incredibly long.

George began ringing, so far as we can ascertain, at Laindon as far back as 1898, going to Dagenham in 1904. Not long after, he was elected steeplekeeper, a position he retained until his rheumatism made the precarious climb to the bells a little too much for him. He was not finished then, though, for he could still manage the stairs to the ringing room and continued to do so for many years. In 1949 he had his first major illness after which, much against his will, he gave up active ringing. He was often to be seen about the church before services, and when not there everyone knew he would be at home listening critically.

He was buried in the churchyard on Friday, November 27th, and although no representative of the ringers was able to be present at the funeral, all our thoughts were with him and his widow.

The following Sunday, November 29th, as a token of respect, 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled by the following band: A. C. Chaplin 1, Mrs. R. L. Armstrong 2, J. R. Fleetwood 3, L. S. Woods 4, N. J. Fleetwood 5, D. Salisbury 6, J. Armstrong (conductor) 7, C. E. Wright 8. J. A.

The Mastership of Bath and Wells Diocesan Association

There was a good attendance of members and visitors at the annual meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch, held at Wrington on December 5th. Following the service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Bernard Leigh), a substantial tea was provided by the ladies.

All retiring officers were re-elected, and it was resolved to support the nomination of the Rev. Michael Hurst-Bannister, Vicar of Pilton, to the office of Master of the Association, as Preb. A. J. Hook would be resigning on Easter Monday.

A member raised the matter of holding the quarterly meetings at 8-bell towers, the 6-bell rings being kept for evening practices; this he thought was a discrimination against the smaller bands, who sometimes felt left out of it, as many could not ring the methods on eight bells. In support of this contention, he drew attention to the fact that only one six-bell church was represented at the annual meeting that day.

The Chairman said there was no discrimination, and the branch had, in fact, held quarterlies at Nailsea, Kingston Seymour and Clapton, all of which had but six bells. Six-bell bands were the backbone of the Association, but it was only by attending eight-bell ringing that the Minor and Doubles ringers could advance. It was up to anyone to propose any tower as the venue of a meeting, but in generally selecting the eight-bell rings they had been guided by the catering difficulties at the smaller centres.

After discussion, it was agreed that the branch would meet anywhere in its area, provided satisfactory local arrangements could be made for tea.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

West Dorset Branch

The annual meeting was held at Beaminster on December 5th. Members attended from the following towers.—Beaminster, Bridport, Ever-shot, Netherbury, Lodgers, Lyme Regis, Powerstock and Whitechurch Canonorum. There were visitors from Stalbridge, Sherborne, Templecombe and Yetminster.

The bells of the Parish Church were ringing just after 3 p.m. to most methods which included Cambridge, Superlative and Bristol Surprise Major. Meanwhile some members paid visits to Netherbury and Stoke Abbott to ring the bells of these two towers.

The Guild service was conducted by the Master of the Guild, Canon C. C. Cox, who also gave the address. He did this at short notice as the Vicar of Beaminster, the Rev. J. S. Arthur, M.C., was called away to another engagement.

Tea was served in a nearby hall. This was of a very high standard and most ably administered by members of the Mothers' Union of Beaminster.

After signing the minutes of the last annual meeting, apologies were read from Canon Havelock-Davidson, Mr. Mills, both of Whitechurch, and Mr. Hayball, of Hawkchurch. All the officers were re-elected with thanks for their work during the past year. It was decided to hold quarterly meetings at Lyme Regis, South Perrott, Powerstock and Litton Cheney if their restoration is completed. It was decided to try and hold by-meetings at Burton Bradstock. Lodgers and Bradpole and Thornecombe. Guild annual reports came up for discussion and the meeting agreed that as time was passing, reports for 1951, 1952 and 1953 be merged into one publication. The Branch secretary was asked to write and inform the general secretary of the meeting's decision.

The Rev. J. S. Arthur was elected a ringing member. The meeting then closed and members returned to the towers for further ringing.

Subject to permission from the respective incumbents, it was resolved to hold the next quarterly meeting and service at Clevedon Parish Church, with the half-yearly corporate Communion at Portishead.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MEMBERSHIP OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

Dear Sir,—I would like to make the following observations on Mr. J. R. Worrall's article on the Central Council of Church Bellringers.

The function of Parliament is to legislate, whilst the function of the Central Council is much broader, and though it only meets once a year, the work of its various committees and members continues throughout the year. Most of the work resulting from legislation in Parliament is not carried out by elected representatives (Members of Parliament) but by paid officials (civil servants, etc.). It is well known that the use of analogies is often a misleading form of argument, and in this case the analogy between Parliament and the Central Council is unsuitable.

Mr. Worrall asks, 'What qualifications are required for an Association or Society to elect its own representative to the Central Council?' Readers may be assured that the Central Council looks into such qualifications very thoroughly before granting membership to any Association or Society which applies for affiliation to the Central Council. Whilst every application is dealt with on its merits, the applicant must furnish information regarding its activities, constitution, membership, sphere of operation, etc.

Representation on the Central Council of an Association or Society engaged in the work of recruiting and training ringers, and holding regular meetings and practices, can do no harm but much good.

Indeed, some of these non-territorial Associations have much to offer the Exercise, do very valuable work and have provided useful and efficient Council members.

The fact that all delegates to the Central Council do not speak does not mean that they do not express an opinion, since the act of voting is itself an expression of opinion.

There is no especial merit in reducing and limiting the Council to a small number and it cannot be said that the Council is unwieldy. Nor is the Council, as Mr. Worrall suggests, over eager to elect honorary members, but guards that privilege very jealously.

Stencilled copies of reports are circulated to members well in advance, and they can discuss these or consult the members of their Association before the Council meeting. The reports may be amended before being adopted by the Council, and, having regard to the space needed and cost of printing, it would not be practical to publish them in 'The Ringing World' before the Central Council meeting. If they were published first and then amended, confusion might be caused in the minds of readers. Notices of motion are, of course, published in 'The Ringing World' well in advance.

The Whitsun meetings are, indeed, happy social gatherings, the value of which need not be enlarged upon, but the Council meeting itself is conducted in a most efficient and dignified manner. It is in itself a valuable education to any ringer responsible for the organisation of business meetings.

Mr. Worrall's article is a valuable contribution to the columns of 'The Ringing World,' since only by discussion does truth prevail, and searching criticism keeps authority on its toes.

I echo his advice to ringers to take a great interest in the Central Council, to elect worthy representatives and then to abide loyally by its decisions.—Yours faithfully,

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

Broom, Rotherham.

GRID BIAS

Dear Sir,—Campanology has many branches, and the scientific side in particular most certainly has its place. It is, therefore, only right and proper that articles and letters concerning new ideas and approaches, together with a scientific formula by which they may be depicted, should be printed in the ringing Press for the consideration of the Exercise at large, even though they may be beyond the limited intelligence of humbler exponents of the art such as myself.

Grid Analysis is a case in point. It has cropped up in one guise or another over the last two years or so (once, rather surprisingly, in an article intended for beginners!), and a few desultory letters were published showing that it had aroused some interest at any rate, thereby justifying its inclusion in 'The Ringing World.' Now, however, the subject matter seems to have degenerated into a wordy battle between two adversaries only, in a manner which reflects no great credit on either, and I respectfully suggest, sir, that the time has come to say, 'This correspondence must now cease.'

The protagonists can just as easily continue their erudite slanging of each other direct by post, thereby saving valuable space in the columns of 'The Ringing World,' which can be used for items of a greater interest to the general body of the Exercise.—Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR W. J. BUTLER.

London, N.W.3.

FALSE PEAL

Dear Sir,—The peal of 5,024 Kent Treble Bob Major by E. C. Gobey, rung on April 18th last at Bulwell, is false and should be deleted from the records by the Peals Analysis Committee. The falseness, due to the tenors being parted in three courses to obtain Whittington's and Queen's, has been discovered by Mr. John Segar, my colleague on our peal committee.—Yours sincerely,

C. GLENN, Peal Secretary,
Southwell Diocesan Guild.

720 IN 23 METHODS

Dear Sir,—Since forwarding the 720 in 22 methods published on page 792 of 'The Ringing World,' I have discovered that it is possible to include 23 methods in one 720, the figures of which are enclosed.

This extent contains all the methods in the previous one with the exception of Ockley and Capel, which are omitted. In addition, three irregular Surprise methods are added, viz., Appleby, Redcar and Hatfield. These are Cambridge Surprise lead ends with Fotheringay, Skipton and Chepstow for the middle two sections.

I find it difficult, if not impossible, to exceed this number as the total absence of bobs provides maximum opportunity for splicing.—Yours sincerely,

H. CHANT.

HERTFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION LIBRARY

Dear Sir,—In reply to your correspondent in Dec. 4th issue re Hertfordshire Association and library, if he reads again your leading article of 'The Ringing World' of October 30th the hon. general secretary states: 'These books were placed, etc. . . and became a library which has grown with the years.'

The number of generous donors who gave books for the library are too numerous to mention individually. Included are bound copies of 'Bell News' donated by John C. Mitchell. Each book has the donor's name on the front page and these are duly acknowledged as they are received.—Yours faithfully,

CHAS. F. SAYER, Hon. Librarian.

P.S.—A detailed report of the gifts of these books from J. C. Mitchell appears in the 1926-7 annual report of the Hertfordshire Association.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the letter of Mr. J. C. Mitchell in a recent 'Ringing World,' I would like to point out that the books now in the library were given in 1926. My husband accepted the living of St. Peter's, St. Albans, in 1937. I fail to see why there should be any suggestion that they should be in my hands. None of the books were ever housed in the Vicarage during the war.—Yours truly,

URSULA FERGUSSON.

St. Albans.

MINUTE BOB MAJOR

Dear Sir,—With reference to the recent correspondence on that very interesting method, 'Great Big Bob,' may I submit that 'Reverse Great Big Bob' is even more interesting and is certainly more musical. The method is very similar to Great Big Bob and it differs only in the fact that the treble hunts down from lead to 4ths place and a treble bob single is used instead of the ordinary Cambridge single. The method certainly calls for greater rope-sight ability because it is very difficult to notice where one passes the treble.

We in our tower are now practising another recently discovered method called Minute Bob Major. In this the treble never goes above or below 1sts place, and the bells in 2-3 dodge until the treble separates them. The bells in 4-5 lie still until a call is made when they make 5ths and 4ths places respectively and lie still again until a further call is made. The bells in 6-7-8 ring continuous Stedman Slow Sixes.—Yours truly, F. C. W. KNIGHT.

Folkestone.

GIFTS TO ST. NICHOLAS', LIVERPOOL, BELFRY

A very pleasing ceremony was enacted in the belfry of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, on Sunday, December 6th (St. Nicholas' Day), during a break in the ringing for evensong. In the presence of the Rector of Liverpool (the Rev. R. Nelson) and his senior curate (the Rev. J. Carter) and the whole of the St. Nicholas' company, except one unavoidable absentee, a formal handing-over took place of a handsome oak table and bureau for use in the belfry.

These were the gifts of Mr. T. Larkey, a highly esteemed member of the band, and in a delightful speech he recalled his association with St. Nicholas' ringers extending over a period of 30 years, and in particular the present very happy phase which dated from the time when the band was re-formed at the time of the consecration of the new church (and bells) in October, 1952.

He spoke of the immense pleasure he had derived from ringing at St. Nicholas' during these past 14 months and concluded by asking the Rector to accept the two pieces of furniture and take them into the safe custody of the church.

The Rector, in replying, thanked Mr. Larkey most warmly for his handsome gift and particularly remarked that the belfry now looked such a comfortable and cosy place that he seriously considered transferring his office there during the week. He would be able to work quietly and undisturbed and if he wanted to summon someone urgently he had only to ring one of the bells.

He also paid tribute to the assembled band, to the happy spirit which pervaded it and thanked the members for their loyal co-operation at all times since the church was opened.

The bureau has been placed in a corner of the ringing room while the table stands in the centre and, with its vase of flowers and visitors' book, the resulting effect is most pleasing.

P. W. C.

FARNWORTH'S APPEAL

Dear Sir,—May I, through your columns, appeal on behalf of my Parochial Church Council to your readers for support? The Church of St. John, Farnworth, near Bolton, Lancs. is shortly to have its bells recast and rehung, also there is to be a new mechanism for the clock. With certain alterations to the tower this work will involve about £2,000, which is a large amount for the parish to raise. The struggling young band have worked very hard and are giving the new treble bell. Donations, no matter how small, would be gratefully acknowledged and should be sent to the Rev. Llew. P. Burnett, The Vicarage, Farnworth, Lancs.—Yours faithfully,

JOSEPH THORNLEY.

Farnworth, Lancs.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The Shropshire Association held their last meeting of the year at Market Drayton on November 21st in conjunction with the Crewe Branch of the Chester Guild.

Contrary to the usual experience here, the attendance is best described as moderate, there being only 23 for tea. The incidence of cup-ties and the late date probably accounted for this, as the number was considerably augmented after tea, and the London, Superlative, etc., with which the inhabitants are familiar, were heard.

A pleasing diversion was caused when two call change ringers from Norton-in-Hales and Hinstock asked for their usual fare, Mr. T. Price, of the local band, appeared in the role of conductor, and produced Queens, etc., in fine style. We were unable to ascertain where he acquired this accomplishment, as Surprise Major has been rung on Sundays for many years, and Tom does no conducting.

A short and informal service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Basil Stratton), who had just returned from the official welcome to the new Bishop. Some Shrewsbury ringers who had been engaged in a peal for the same purpose beat him by a short head, some remaining to ring for evensong at St. Mary's. All present enjoyed the welcome and appreciated his presence at tea.

As usual, Mr. F. Price and the local ringers had arranged a substantial meal, the charge for which was almost nominal. Ringing continued until a late hour, the convivial spirit, which is always evident here, causing a rush for last trains and buses.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

Coronation Peal Board Dedicated at Wicken

A special meeting of the Towcester Branch was held at Wicken on November 28th, and during the service a Coronation peal board was dedicated. The board, which is of oak, was made by Mr. E. J. Shakeshaft and written by Mr. Jerham.

The board records a peal of Wicken Surprise Major rung on July 12th in 2 hours 47 minutes. The ringers were P. J. Staniforth (cond.), E. W. Rawson, K. Roe, W. J. Root, F. C. Case, G. E. Green, G. W. Holland and W. Yates.

The many ringers present included Mr. H. J. Poole and Mr. J. S. Carter.

The service was conducted by the Rev. H. P. Hoskin and the peal board was dedicated by the Rev. R. H. Tadmam, R.D. The president of the Towcester Branch, the Rev. R. G. Richards, preached. The singing was led by a choir of 20 men, with Mr. Redvers Elkington, of Anstey, as choirmaster.

Ringling started at 2.30 and the day concluded with a social evening at the White Lion, where the Leicester handbell ringers contributed to a successful evening. Our correspondent adds, 'In fact, it was a day never to be forgotten by members of the Towcester Branch.'

SONNET

Inspired by a recent peal at St. Margaret's, Leicester.

The tower gently rocks. The hour hand crawls,
The pictures sway against the ancient walls.
To Cambridge Royal, the bells do subtly move,
Their voices muted by the floors above,
And as the minutes pass, the seconds race,
Full grimly stares our tenor-ringer's face.
At last, the final course! And like a song,
The bob declaims a chaste, exultant wrong.
The bells run round at Home. When all are stood.

We eye yon lofty sally, stained with blood.
The peal is done! the changes rung, we know.
Though none of us but one has that to show.
So some can take their rest, as well they might.
For steady stands the tower in the night. H. P.

FIGHT TO SAVE ST.

JOHN-THE-DIVINE'S, LEICESTER

The Church Commissioners announced on December 2nd that the scheme for the proposed demolition of the Church of St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, and Christ Church, Leicester, is now in the course of being drafted by them.

This is the first reference, states the 'Leicester Mercury,' by the Commissioners to this plan, which was put forward by the Leicester Diocesan Reorganisation Committee some months ago.

While the congregation at St. John's is united on the strongest possible opposition to the scheme, there has been no official protest from the Christ Church officials.

The diocesan authorities claim that both churches are redundant. Their project is to demolish each church and to sell the sites to provide funds for fresh Church enterprises on the new housing estates.

The plan will involve new parish frontiers. St. John's Parish would disappear and be divided between Holy Trinity and St. Martin's Parish. Christ Church would be swallowed up by St. Matthew's—already enlarged by a part of the extinct St. Luke's Parish.

The announcement states that when the draft has been settled and approved by the Bishop of Leicester—who will be enthroned at Leicester Cathedral on January 23rd—the Diocesan Reorganisation Committee and the Commissioners themselves, copies of it will be sent to the parties specified, together with a notice stating a period of not less than six weeks during which written objections may be transmitted to the Commissioners.

Mr. S. Harrison, of 73, Hopefield Road, Leicester, writes: 'Our Church Council secretary (St. John-the-Divine) has received similar information from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners. It will be seen now where the petitions and protests against the scheme will fit in, as the case is now before the Commissioners.'

Meanwhile the congregations are being maintained and improved. The Youth Organisation is in full swing. Our annual gift day showed an increase of £10 on last year's effort. This year's total was £160, so we are now financially sound once again. This evidence does not justify the term "redundant" being applied to St. John's.

'We are grateful to all ringers who have so kindly supported us by their petitions and protests. There are still a number of forms not yet returned. I should be grateful if these could be returned to me as soon as possible in order to prepare a formal protest to the Commissioners when instructed. We need all the help possible if a successful conclusion to this fight is to be effected.'

Mr. Walter Tomlinson's 100 Peals

We append, with our congratulations, the list of the first hundred peals of Mr. Walter Tomlinson, of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild:—

Minor (22).—Three methods 2, four methods 1, five methods 3, six methods 2, seven methods 10, eight methods 1. Cambridge Surprise 3.

HEDON RINGERS' CUP

AFTER the Beverley and District meeting at Hedon on November 14th the secretary made efforts to obtain a little knowledge about the history of the silver cup, in possession of the St. Augustine's band, from the East Riding Antiquarian Society. This cup has always been in the hands of the leader of the band and had never been on show to visiting historical or antiquarian societies and no record of it exists in any historical works or writings. The cup has been examined by silversmiths in Hull recently and by Mr. W. Foot Walker, secretary of the East Riding Antiquarian Society, an authority on old silver. Both regard it as an exceptionally fine piece of silver ware, and the knowledge of it an acquisition to East Riding records. The following notes were taken from Mr. Foot Walker's lecture to the Antiquarian Society on December 2nd, at which the secretary of the Beverley and District Ringing Society was a guest:—

'The ancient borough of Hedon in the East Riding of Yorkshire was the principal port on the River Humber in the 12th century.

'It received its first charter in the reign of Henry II., but had possessed its own mint in the reign of King Stephen.

'Of Hedon's four mediæval churches only the largest, St. Augustine's, survives. Dating from the early years of the 13th century, but with a magnificent Perpendicular bell tower completed in 1437, it is justly acclaimed the King of Holderness, whose undulating plains it has dominated for more than 500 years.

'The Hedon Corporation's collection of civic plate is one of the most valuable in the country and includes a silver mace made in the time of Henry V., as well as numerous cups, tankards and other table silver, the donations of successive Members of Parliament in the 17th and 18th centuries, when Hedon regularly returned two representatives to Westminster.

'By a curious contrast the silver plate in the possession of the church is of the simplest character. In spite of records of earlier gifts the oldest communion cup in use is no earlier than 1817 and is rightly described by the late T. M. Fallow and H. B. McCall in their work on "Yorkshire Church Plate," Yorkshire Archaeological Society, 1912, as of not much interest. Had these authors been able to examine the remarkable silver cup which has been in the possession of successive Masters of the Company of Ringers from 1687, they would most certainly have given a very different verdict.

'The Hedon Ringers' Cup is a small silver vessel of the type known as a "tumbler," popular at the close of the 17th and commencement of the 18th centuries on account of the ease with which it could be carried in the pocket. The Hedon example is less than three inches in diameter and some two inches in depth; its base, as the name suggests, is convex, thereby exposing the hall-marks to exceptional wear.

'The principal feature of the cup is the engraved inscription about the rim; this has been deeply cut and is still perfectly clear. It reads: "This belongs to the Company of Ringers of St. Augustine Church in Hedon, 1687," followed by the representation of a bell. Long use has almost erased the three hall-marks, but fortunately two may be identified without question; they are alike and represent the three crowns per pale of the neighbouring town of Kingston-upon-Hull. The third mark, which the maker's, is too much worn to read, but may be claimed with comparative certainty as that of Thomas Hebden, who is known to have been working in Hull from 1681 to 1690. Thomas Hebden not only made another tumbler two years later, which is still preserved in the Hull Trinity House, but he also in the same year, 1689, executed the beautiful Peg Tankard, which was the gift of Matthew Appleyard, M.P., to the Hedon Corporation.

'All three pieces carry three hall-marks, of which two are the Hull arms and the third, where legible, the maker's initials, T. H., with a mullet, or five-pointed star, below.

'Although we have no direct record of the name of the donor of the Hedon Ringers' Cup in 1687, there is much evidence that allows us to assume that the name of the benefactor was Charles Duncomb, goldsmith of the City of London, and one of the Members of Parliament for Hedon throughout the reign of James II. from 1685 to 1688.

'In his account of Hedon, given by George Poulson in "Holderness," Vol. 2, pages 174-5, 1841, we read:—

"Charles Duncomb, of the City of London, Esq., was made a free burgess, and chosen member of parliament for this corporation, in the year 1685. He gave to this corporation one large silver flaggon. He gave 4 new bells, and £50 in money to defray the charges in casting the old bell into two to make six tunable bells for St. Augustine Church in Hedon."

'In view of the remarkably handsome benefactions of Charles Duncomb to the church bells of Hedon at the date inscribed on the silver cup, it is difficult to believe that any other person could have made this gift to the Hedon Company of ringers.'

JOINT MEETING AT BAGLAN

A joint meeting of the Southern Section of the Swansea and Brecon Guild with the Llandaff Branch of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association was held on Saturday, November 28th, at Baglan, Glam. This was the first occasion for these two branches to hold a joint meeting and was surprisingly successful, inasmuch that 72 ringers attended.

Fine weather, pleasant surroundings and plenty of ringers all contributed to its success. A very pleasing feature was the very high percentage of young ringers, all eager to have a pull on this quite useful ring of six.

At 4 o'clock the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. D. Llewellyn Jones, began, and in his address he told his listeners of the important part that bells and ringers were playing in the service of the Church.

Following the service ringers were invited to the Church Hall, where a most bountiful 'knife and fork' tea awaited them. For this a very hearty vote of thanks was given to the Vicar, Parochial Church Council and the ladies of the parish by Mr. Lewis, of Cadoxton, Neath.

During the business meeting, under the chairmanship of the Vicar, an invitation to hold one joint meeting a year was extended to the Llandaff Branch by the Southern Section of the Swansea and Brecon Guild. Having heard the views of one or two members on this, including that of our general secretary, Mr. Fred Hannington, the invitation was accepted by the Llandaff Branch.

The Master, Mr. D. J. Lewis, spoke on the old West Wales Association, which catered for ringers from Aberavon to Tenby. The present officers of the Southern Section of the Swansea and Brecon Guild—Mr. J. A. Hoare, hon. district secretary, and Mr. T. M. Roderick—were both re-elected. The next meeting of the Section will be held at Cadoxton, Neath.

Business meetings over, ringers soon found their way back to the tower, where the Ringing Master, Mr. D. J. Lewis, of Neath, saw to it that all classes of ringers were catered for. Chief among these were the youngsters. Later, with the bells of Aberavon made available to visitors, the overflow from Baglan made its way there to ring on this excellent ring of eight. Altogether a very pleasant afternoon and evening.

Maidstone District

'There's a good few up there,' was my pleasant heralding to Mereworth, where the Maidstone District held a meeting on November 21st. Through the portico of this very un-English church, up the open circular stairway to the ringing chamber, approached loft fashion, to a sea of faces, old and young and all ages betwixt. Greetings and handshakes, but enough the that, the bells are impatient. . . . Bob Minor, rounds, Kent, Grandsire, Double Court, rounds, Cambridge . . . busily they swing until service time. Yarns in the sermon. The rich young gallant, possessor of fast sports cars and all material blessings who had embraced the risks of under-the-sea naval service. Why? Simply that even he could not afford a submarine. Come to that, we ringers could not afford our own bells. But if we could, would it be the same?

The answer was forthcoming amidst the jolly company in the Torrington Arms, where Mine Hosts ensured we feasted well. Then the unexpected. First to know that we had been the personal guests of the Vicar (the Rev. H. B. Mayne) at tea, so he must have liked us. Second, strange activities, and the mysterious cargo on the bus was mysterious no longer—a portable screen and projector. A moment more and Frank Tomlin was entertaining us with his coloured slides of towers and churches near and far, challenging our detective instincts, reviving memories of summer coach tours, with a skip to Holland to see a tower being built round its bells.

Warmly we thanked the Vicar, and also Frank, who that very Monday was taking up a new appointment in Essex. Staplehurst and the District will miss him, yet we are glad to contribute to a healthy export trade.

So back to the belfry where additional faces took our numbers beyond the half-century mark. Busy bells again, Minor in all its variety, not omitting the special, London Scholars' Delight. An encouraging experience in every way, this last Maidstone District meeting of the year, not least to Harry Osborne, captain of the Mereworth tower, who is doing so much to build up his band, and succeeding.

Last meeting of the year did I say? I wonder.

E. S. J. H.
