JASPER AND WILLIAM SNOWDON

JASPER SNOWDON, second son of the Vicar of Ilkley, was born over a hundred years ago, rang his first peal in 1871, and rang his first peal as conductor (Minor in seven methods) in 1872. He was largely responsible for the establishment of the Yorkshire Association in 1875 and was unanimously made its first president, a position which he held until his untimely death at the age of 41 in 1885.

At the tenth annual meeting of the Association in 1885, held at Sheffield and attended by over 300 members, Jasper was presented with a travelling bag and an illuminated address as a tangible acknowledgment of his great services to the Association and showing the tremendous esteem in which he was held. Members left the meeting looking forward in joyful anticipation of their next gathering under their beloved president, due to be held at Rotherham in January, 1886. But this was not to be, for six weeks after the Sheffield gathering Jasper was taken ill with Russian influenza and, despite the best medical skill, died on Monday, November 16th, 1885.

Jasper had a fine physique, unbounded energy, and a genial and generous nature. His contribution to the cause of ringing need not be detailed here. His literary talent is well known and his valuable textbooks, revised or re-written, continue to be a valuable aid to ringers today.

Jasper's tragic death was a severe blow to the Exercise, but the Yorkshire Association were fortunate in having his brother, William, to succeed him and finish off the work he began. William, aided by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, completed textbooks prepared by Jasper and, with the help of his wife, continued their publication.

William Snowdon served the Yorkshire Association as president for 25 years, and was noted for his regular and punctual attendance for Sunday service ringing. He was a perfect gentleman and always held that 'ringing' makes all men equal.

In this spirit the Yorkshire Association will, on October 26th, 1957, at Rotherham, gather together for the 25th time to honour the memory of these former stalwarts and other worthy past officers of the Association. In recalling the past, those attending will be reminded of the services rendered by present officers and feel inspired to devote themselves to the even greater tasks which lie ahead, in order that the Exercise may maintain its position in these difficult times.

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

A GAME OF CHANCE

THIS is a humble story compiled by a humble ringer, but it is meant to show how items, however small, and arising out of chance, can be made very enjoyable, especially when you get kind and generous co-operation from the clergy—in this particular case a Devon country parson.

On a recent Saturday morning the writer received a visit from a colleague who, with four others, were on their way to a Branch meeting in another part of the county. A query was raised as to whether a tower could be procured on the return journey in the evening, and after selecting a country 5-bell tower as a possibility, and a suitable time, things were left at that.

It was nearly an hour after the suggested time that the 'wanderers' returned, and some doubt was expressed as to whether it was too late to do anything, but it was decided to carry on with the plan, and on the writer being taken aboard, the tower in question was reached in ten minutes. The vicar was first interviewed, and he advised us to see the local captain, in fairness to his ringers, although it was quite in order with him. The skipper, unfortunately, was not at home; on our return to the tower the vicar had arrived in person to give us access to the belfry.

Here we had a perfect rise, and a first-rate six-score of Grandsire Doubles was rung with the bells well up. The vicar afterwards remarked that this was the best half-pull ringing he had heard on his bells, but he did not think that half-pull ringing sounded very well on five bells only. Another six-score was rung with the bells a little lower, which pleased the vicar rather more, and then we had an equally perfect fall in peal.

All this was done in the space of 25 minutes, and we expressed our great appreciation to the vicar for allowing us to ring despite the lateness of the hour. It was certainly most enjoyable, one of the visitors remarking that he had never rung in a 5-bell tower before.

We then dispersed to our respective homes, the writer having a lovely three-mile walk home in perfect moonlight, through country by-roads, not forgetting to walk through a private drive, across two fields belonging to a farm, and finally down a rather rugged lane—this on the whole being a perfect end to a week's leave. RAILWAY GUILD'S HAPPY MEETING AT SWINDON

The autumn meeting of the Railwaymen's Guild at Swindon on September 28th was a very pleasant and profitable one, thanks largely to Mr. Bernard Kynaston and his Western Region.

The two lovely rings of bells at St. Mark's (8) and Christ Church (10) left nothing to be desired: a splendid tea was provided; even the clerk of the weather was especially kind in providing a perfect autumn day.

Ringers came from York, Sheffield, Swansea and South Wales, Bath and Devon, Bedford, Crewe, London, Wadhurst, etc., and were cordially welcomed by the Master of the Guild (Mr. Harold Walker) and later by the curate of Christ Church (Rev. D. A. Biggar), deputising for Canon Thomas (vicar). There was also a welcome from Mr. C. T. Roberts, principal assistant to the chief mechanical engineer.

The Master of the Guild was pleased to see at tea the Ringing Masters of the Gloucester and Bristol and the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, and cordially welcomed them.

The four regional representatives—North Eastern, Western, Southern and Midland—gave reports. All said little progress had been made with the Railway Staff Association, but that there was to be a further meeting of that Association in the near future, when they were hoping that something tangible would be done. Eight new members (seven from Western Region) were elected and two confirmed.

The usual, but never to be taken for granted, omnibus vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Rodney B. Meadows, to all who in any way had contributed to a very happy meeting.

BEDFORDSHIRE RINGERS IN PEAK DISTRICT

The Peak District was the area chosen by the St. James' Guild, Silsoe, for their annual outing on August 24th, and a glorious sunrise was no doubt the reason for all being assembled in the coach promptly at 6 a.m. Thurnby, Leics, was the first stopping place, at 9 a.m., and here we received a cordial welcome and rang the usual selection of methods on a recently rehung ring of six (tenor 12 cwt.).

It was a long journey to Matlock, but all too short in view of the marvellous scenery: Kent and Stedman were achieved here, and all agreed with the Rev. F. E. Robinson, who pronounced these bells to be a very tuneful ring. A substantial lunch awaited us opposite the church at the Kings Arms: then on through more of this renowned countryside to Wormhill, which we had some difficulty in locating—this tower-collector's gem was well worth the trouble. We all enjoyed our brief acquaintance with this, the lightest ring in any church (tenor 14-cwt.).

Difficulty was once again encountered by the map-readers, hence we were too late to ring at Hathersage; but our disappointment was soon forgotten as we sat down to a grand tea in the Village Hall. The coach now turned towards home, and we reached Foxton according to schedule: here the bells are a good six (tenor 13 cwt.), and ringing was concluded with a well-struck course of Cambridge. A social hour at the Black Horse was spent in the traditional manner.

Silsoe was reached soon after midnight. Once again we thank Peter Lawton for making the arrangements, and all the ringers and clergy who made us so welcome in their towers.

OBITUARY

MR. F. FARRANT

By the death of Mr. F. Farrant, captain of the Martock ringers, the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association has lost its oldest active ringer. He was within three weeks of his 85th birthday, and he had planned to celebrate that occasion by attempting a quarter peal, but it was not to be.

Until three weeks before his death Mr. Farrant was active in ringing matters. He had been a member of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association for 57 years, and was for 32 years secretary of the Ilchester Deanery Branch, retiring from that office three years ago. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths for over 50 years. During his life he strove very hard to promote better ringing and good fellowship. He will be missed greatly by his friends, not only for his ringing but as a man of loyal principles.

To his widow, who is 84 years of age, and his son, who is also a ringer, the sympathy of all friends is extended.

The funeral service at All Saints Church, Martock, on September 27th, was attended by many ringers. The Vicar (Rev. J. M. Cartwright) officiated, assisted by the Rev. L. E. Walsh (chairman of the Ilchester Deanery Branch). The Branch Ringing Master (Mr. W. E. Turner) and the secretary (Mr. T. E. Setter) acted as pall-bearers with the two senior ringers of Martock—Mr. F. Strickland and Mr. A. W. Dyer. After the service deceased's favourite touch of 97 Grandsire Triples was rung half-muffled by visiting ringers and the two senior members of the Martock tower. W. G. Friends of Mr. W. Ridgman, of Cambridge, are probably having doubts as to his physical ability, having returned from his Devon holiday with severely blistered hands after turning in the '8 cwt.' tenor at Woborough to Little Bob. This was an error and should have read 16 cwt. Sorry, Bill. — M.

Tuxford, Notts, bells are now ringable again.

After two years of uninterrupted Sunday service ringing the bells of Rye will be silent for five or six weeks while they are being rehung.

The peal at Oxford on September 19th was the 50th together for Mr. D. H. Niblett and Mr. F. A. Barrett.

A peal veteran is Mr. G. Wood, of Queenborough, Kent. He rang in a quarter peal for his 86th birthday on September 19th at Queenborough.

After the peal at Hernhill, Kent, rung to commemorate the Patronal Festival, the Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Davies kindly entertained the band to a splendid tea, which was much appreciated.

The fund for recasting the cracked fifth bell at Publow now amounts to £120. Another £180 is required, and if any ringers can help will they send donations to Mr. R. Treasure, Pensford, Bristol.

The first peal for a new Association—the South Derbyshire and North Leicestershire Association, the formation of which was announced in our last issue—was rung at Alfreton, Derbyshire, on September 18th.

The ringers in the peal of Stedman Doubles at High Littleton would like to thank Mr. W. J. Gait, the tower captain, for the privilege of ringing the first peal on the bells since restoration. By ringing the fifth to this peal Mr. Norman Coombs has now rung Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Addressed to the Women's Editor of 'The Ringing World' is a pair of Suregrip (sylkette-lined) rubber gloves. We do not know whether their purpose is for youth hostel tourists or for peal ringing by those whose hands blister.

Mr. Duncan McNeil and Mr. Richard Hobbs are the first West Retford ringers to ring a peal in their home tower since 1916.

Ringing friends of Mr. Cyril Pooley, who arranged the peal at Northrepps on September 28th, much regret that he was unable to take part owing to indisposition.

Mr. P. A. Cannon informs us that he hopes to ring an even better peal at Chipping Campden on October 26th than Mr. Geoffrey Hemming's.

Mr. Kenneth Page stood in at short notice for the peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Blunsdon, Wilts, and rang his first peal attempt very well.

Miss Marie R. Cross informs us that the peal at Radley (page 621) was for the 53rd wedding anniversary of her parents (Mr. and Mrs. A. Cross) and not the 43rd. May the diamond wedding anniversary be similarly observed.

At Aldershot on September 28th the first peal of Wellington Surprise Major was rung. 'The peal is called Wellington,' writes Mr. Alan R. Pink (the conductor), 'not after the towns in Somerset or Shropshire or the village in Herefordshire, but because Aldershot is the home of the British Army and the Duke of Wellington is one of England's most famous generals. His name is perpetuated in the town in many ways and places. We have now added one more place—the parish church tower where, I understand, the peal will shortly be recorded on a tablet.'

VETERANS COME TO LONDON

More About the Youngsters of To-day

THERE was another splendid response to Mr. A. W. Coles' third veterans' reunion, held in London on Saturday, September 28th. Proceedings started with ringing at St. Lawrence Jewry, and there were many favourable comments on these new bells. The restored church was also much admired. Later came ringing at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, and after photographs, tea was served in the Fan Makers' Hall.

This year there were 45 veterans present, with an average age of 72, and seven 'apprentices' (those under 60).

When the company were seated, the Rev. H. H. Treacher (rector of Bishopsgate) extended a welcome to the company. 'I hope things are going well in your personal lives as well as bellringers.'

At the conclusion of the meal, Mr. A. W. Coles said this was entirely a non-society gathering, but there were certain things they had to do, and the first was to remember those who had passed on. There were six, and with one exception they were all over 80. They were all composers or conductors.

The company stood as the following were remembered: W. W. Wolstencroft, F. Hayes, I. Emery, G. H. Daynes, W. T. Elson and S. Wade.

Apologies were received, said the chairman, from Dr. E. L. Taylor, Messrs. A. Walker, E. C. Shepherd, F. Cullam, A. E. Audsley, A. Mason, G. W. Price, H. Langdon, A. Peck, E. Morris, L. Attwater, H. Tomlinson, W. Bowden, W. Welling, W. Henley, W. E. Judd, T. Fowler, A. Cutler, J. T. Dyke, W. Bottrill, L. Fidler, G. Gilbert, S. F. Palmer, Long, G. Marriner, W. Hibbert, H. Baalam, P. Spice, J. Bennett, E. Barnett, F. W. Perrins and E. H. Adams.

Mr. J. F. Smallwood moved an omnibus vote of thanks to those who had made it possible. He mentioned first and foremost Mr. Coles, and they all appreciated how much he had done on their behalf. He thanked the Rev. H. H. Treacher for the use of the hall and the bells of Bishopsgate, and the Rev. J. F. D. Trimmingham for the use of the bells and facilities provided at St. Lawrence Jewry.

He thanked Mrs. E. E. Davis for her impeccable catering arrangements, and her helpers, Mesdames G. Goodfellow, P. Dyer, J. Hooke, R. Coles, E. Sanders, E. Deal, R. Shuker and Miss Huddle. Also Miss Moore for pastries and assistance. For transport they were grateful to Messrs. G. A. Spencer, F. W. Goodfellow and J. W. Euston.

'On the last occasion when I had the temerity to say a few words, I was severely taken to task in "The Ringing World" when I said that the youth of our day was better than the youth of today. I withdraw nothing. I said on that occasion that I thought the youngsters of today had a long way to go—that was a fair generalisation.'

'NOT THE SAME FUN'

'I think you will agree that the young ringers of today are not getting the same amount of fun out of their exploits as we did at their age. If they do they don't show it. It may be that bells are easy to get, whereas in our day they were hard to get. We had to walk, cycle or train to the towers, and if we got 12 peals in a year it was a good one.'

'I think one of the biggest problems we have to face is the problem of recruitment. In the north country they are very short indeed, and at Hull they have only three and at Beverley it is very much the same. Who is to blame? As old-timers, let us be honest and say, "Yes, we have not looked after the youngsters as we ought to have done." And the Exercise is paying the price. Those of us who can should get down to do something about this problem of teaching youngsters. It is important and everyone must help. I do not think the youngsters are appreciative of the ringing they get; if it had not been for you, gentlemen, there would be no ringing.'

Mr. Smallwood had a special word of greeting for Mr. Simkins, now 92, and hoped he would be with them to celebrate his hundred years; to Mr. Bill Langdon, who had passed the four-score, and Mr. Jack Thomas, who looked the same as he did 40 years ago. He hoped Mr. Coles now he was retired would look up his old friends and invite them to come along another year.

Mrs. Davis was called upon for a speech and said she thought it was time they invited a few veteran lady ringers—and there were some veteran ladies. It had given her helpers and herself great pleasure to prepare the tea.

Handbell ringing followed.

THE COMPANY

On the top table with Mr. A. W. Coles (69) were Messrs. F. V. Sinkins (92, St. Leonard's, Streatham), H. Staham (85, St. Nicholas', Brighton), R. Sanders (83, St. Margaret's, Westminster).

AN OLD COMPETITION REVIVED AT NEWBURY

THE old brigade in the Newbury area will remember the Aird cup contests started by Mr. Malcolm Aird, of Woolton Hill, in 1922, with an annual competition for a cup followed by a supper. With his death in 1933 the contests came to an end, and later Highclere, the last winners, handed the cup to his widow, who retained it until her death two years ago.

The cup was then handed to the Rev. S. A. Culverwell. At his suggestion a meeting of ringers from Highclere, Woolton Hill and East Woodhay was held, under his chairmanship, at East Woodhay, and it was decided not only to revive the competition but the clergy of the three parishes generously agreed to provide a supper.

The pattern of the contests to be followed would be the same as in the olden days, and the competition would take place on the front six at Newbury Parish Church. The former judges, Mr. H. Curtis and Mr. E. Crocker, are both dead. To maintain tradition, Mr. E. Curtis, captain of Newbury, and Mr. H. Reed, also of that tower, consented to act as judges.

With some trepidation, the ringers from the three towers met at Newbury on September 28th, and Mr. Reed, with his usual wit, informed the company that all the bells had stays at the moment! The umpires then withdrew to the Church Room, numbers were drawn from a hat and Highclere led the ringing, amazing themselves and those listening, followed by Woolton Hill and East Woodhay.

After a first-class supper at the Hatchett Hotel, the umpires announced Woolton Hill as the winners by a narrow margin from Highclere and East Woodhay. The cup was presented to Mr. D. Maylin, captain of the winning team, by the Rev. E. W. Omerod, the chairman for the evening. Speeches then followed, Mr. Scott, of Woolton Hill, proposing a vote of thanks to the clergy for so kindly providing the supper and all who had worked hard for such an enjoyable evening.

It was generally agreed that the ringing had been of a very high standard and equal to that of pre-war days. This was very gratifying as the majority of the ringers were youngsters with no previous experience of Newbury bells.

It is hoped that this will now become an annual event. To all those districts of various associations who are considering the idea of a ringing contest, the writer can thoroughly recommend this one, as after the preliminary nerves, ringers definitely gave of their best, which is what every band strives for.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Mr. A. E. Sellers' 80th Birthday

The autumn meeting of the Eastern District was held at Sutton-on-Hull on September 29th, and was attended by over 30 ringers from the District. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. L. Reynolds) and an excellent tea was served in the Church Hall.

The vice-president (Mr. A. E. Sellers) was in the chair for the business meeting, when proceedings were opened by the secretary (Mr. H. S. Morley) moving hearty congratulations to Mr. A. E. Sellers on attaining his 80th birthday. This was seconded by the Ringing Master (Mr. S. H. Steel) and carried with applause. Mr. Sellers suitably replied.

Miss Barbara Jean Fisher, of Sutton-on-Hull, was elected a member. Goole was selected as the next meeting on December 21st. The usual votes of thanks were passed, and a collection for the Association's Bell Repair Fund realised £1. Good use was made of the ring of six during the afternoon and evening, ranging from rounds to Cambridge Surprise.

THOSE I REMEMBER

By ERNEST MORRIS

ONE of the 'old timers' I remember was Charles Clarke, of Bedford. He was a frequent visitor to Leicester before my time and rang several noteworthy peals here, calling some of them. He was often called the 'iron-lung' bob caller, because he yelled out loud enough to be heard at the east end of the church and would frighten many a youngster who did not know him. He was a great pioneer of six-bell ringing in Bedfordshire and district, having rung nearly 400 Minor peals in seven methods, conducting most of them.

In later years I met him at Brighton many times and rang in company with the late Keith Hart in some 30 or more peals. 'Charlie Clarke' had many mannerisms and when 'telling the tale' about ringing or arguing on kindred subjects he would wave his arms about, clap his fists and turn about to stress his point. Often when walking along Brighton promenade, talking, he would suddenly get in front of one and stop and gesticulate—much to the astonishment and amusement of passers-by. He was a grand ringer, especially on heavy or bad-going bells. He rang close on 800 peals in most standard and Surprise methods from six to twelve bells.

CHARLES HENRY HATTERSLEY

Another frequent visitor to Leicester—mostly on business trips but who joined in whatever practice night there might be—was the late Charles Henry Hattersley, of Sheffield. He was a typical 'fine old English gentleman,' with his top hat and frock coat and elegant manner. When in Leicester he invariably stayed at the George Hotel, where he would have a showroom filled with the most exclusive and brilliant display of silver ware—salvers, cups, ornaments, spoons, cutlery, etc. He often called for me and showed me these wonderful wares and then got me to fix up some practice ringing.

C. H. Hattersley had a long link with the past, and he rang a peal with Robert Daft, whose records go back to 1811. His grandfather was William Booth, a noted ringer and composer. He rang about 200 peals, mostly composing and conducting them himself, and he had also a wonderful collection of books and manuscripts on bells and ringing. The late Sam Thomas organised these after Hattersley's death in 1915 to form one of the finest libraries of its kind in Sheffield Cathedral. The idea is a very laudable one and might be copied elsewhere, as at Derby, Birmingham and other places. I hope to find one here, at St. Margaret's.

ARTHUR R. ALDHAM

One who took part in Willson's long peals of Kent T.B. and D.N.C.B. Major was Arthur R. Aldham—a big, hefty man and a most excellent ringer. He was a native of Ipswich and rang (at an early age) many peals there—including one of the few Oxford T.B. Maximus—before coming to Barwell, Leics. He took part in my first peal of Stedman Triples, which was also the first on Barwell bells, as well as several others—all most excellent ones. A. R. A.

would not stand for any bad striking! He joined the old M.C.A. in 1888 and rang 71 peals for that Association, and passed away in 1917. He had a son, Percival Aldham, who was also a keen ringer, who rang over 100 peals in the Hinckley District, but who was unfortunately killed in a hoist accident at his work in 1938, aged 32. I took part in many of his peals.

FAMOUS LINCOLN RINGERS

As is well known, Lincoln has been noted for its famous bells and ringers for centuries, even as it is today. At the close of the 19th century there was a very fine company of 'Surprise' ringers, but who—like many other bands—gradually dispersed to other fields. Such men included Craven, Lindoff, Fenton and the like, all making good wherever they settled. Arthur Craven, as already noted, moved about quite a lot, principally in the Sheffield and Chesterfield districts. When St. Patrick's Cathedral,

Dublin, bells were installed, William Willson was asked to go and teach a band there (with a permanent job thrown in!), but I believe Mrs. Willson was reluctant to leave her native Leicester, so he never accepted it.

However, Gabriel Lindoff did, and I need not here give any details of his great success in Ireland, laying the foundation of the present flourishing Irish Guild. As a ringer he was magnificent, but as a composer he had few equals in any and every method. Like John Carter's Broadsheet of Stedman, Lindoff evolved a system for London Surprise Major that produces thousands of compositions. He composed the 18,027 Stedman Caters rung at Loughborough on April 12th, 1909, ringing the ninth bell to it, with Wm. Pye conducting from the tenor. I personally never rang a full peal with him, but we had a valiant attempt at Ashton-under-Lyne, when he came over from Ireland specially to conduct Kent T.B. Maximus. All went well for over two hours, when his clapper (the tenor) broke, and so ended a glorious failure!

A QUART OF WATER

I mentioned above, Joseph B. Fenton, of Lincoln. He moved to Rugby and there became the leader of a very fine company which for many years was pre-eminent. His right arm was longer than his left, but didn't he know how to use them! He could—and did—ring any bell, big or little, with grace and precision. I had the pleasure of ringing several peals with him—one in particular I remember at Wigston Magna (Superlative) on account of the excellence of the striking.

I also had the pleasure of ringing in the last peal on Rugby bells (Cambridge) before they were silenced owing to their bad 'go' (now happily restored). On that occasion we finished after 10 p.m., and as there was no chance of getting any refreshment, I saw a sight I shall never forget—the 'Sergeant-Major' (F. H. D.) drank a quart of water practically at one go! Later I had the honour to conduct the first peal in the other tower at Rugby (5 bells) and so was the first man ever to ring two peals on two different sets of bells, in two different towers, in one church. This record still holds! Joseph B. Fenton, of Rugby, has a worthy son of a worthy father to carry on the tradition, and I have had the pleasure of taking part in many peals with Joseph A. (do you remember Croxton Kerrial, Joe?). and hope to meet again many more times!

WITH WASHBROOK

The name of Washbrook is so well known in ringing history it would be out of place to mention it here, yet I must add my own personal recollections of the few times I was privileged to meet this great man. One was at Manchester Town Hall, when I rang the third to a grand peal of Stedman Caters—on the original ten—which he composed and called. He rang the eighth, and in the band was the late Harry Chapman, Sam Wood, of Ashton, Cldr. Trippier (on the tenor), the brothers Page, Benjamin A. Knights and Washbrook's son, J. W. (jun.), with our old friend Dick Deal on the ninth. In my 'History and Art of Change Ringing,' p. 544, I give a brief account and a photo of Washbrook.

After King's Norton (Leics) bells had been patched up and made ringable by a Mr. Rimington, of Manchester, this gentleman got Washbrook, Chapman and Trippier to come down and try for a peal. At the first attempt in February, 1921, after a quarter peal my bell, the second, cast wheel, set and refused to come off! Another try was made in March the same year, but after two hours Washbrook (on seventh) gave up on account of the bad 'go.' I remember his calling the bobs (Stedman) at the very last possible moment, and on Willson (who was in the attempt) telling him about it, he said he purposely did this to keep everyone 'on their toes' ready to make it or miss it! However, after a lapse of some years and further repairs to the bells we did get a peal. This was due to the energy and enthusiasm of Albert Coppock, of Nottingham, who resuscitated the old Society of the Sherwood Youths, and he was determined to commemorate the 150th anniversary of their first peal on these bells in 1776. Thus on December 4th, 1926, at King's Norton, Leics, five Nottingham and three Leicester men rang a fine peal of Stedman. Since that time a few others have been rung here.

Albert Coppock came of a ringing family, being a great grandson of James Coppock, one of the band who used to ring with the famous W. Doubleday Crofts, of the Sherwood Youths. When he had revived the old Society, Mr. Coppock visited and rang peals at places where the original Society had rung. He died in March, 1937, and had rung in well over 100 peals.

BRASS BANDS BEFORE RINGING

Dear Sir,—May I, through your columns, offer apologies to any ringers who were unable to ring at Winchcombe on September 28th, owing to the brass band contest? The meeting at Winchcombe had been arranged some three months ago, and the Vicar himself was not aware of the contest until he returned from holiday shortly before the meeting, by which time it was too late to alter the venue.—Yours faithfully,

MARY BLISS (Hon. Sec.),
Cheltenham Branch,
Gloucester and Bristol Association.

A FAIR SNATCH?

Dear Sir,—A few weeks ago some tower-grabbing acquaintances of mine visited a small country church to 'snatch' the tower. As they were raising the five bells one failed to sound as apparently the clapper was lashed for a learner. The way up to the bells looked extremely unsafe owing to a rotten floor, so they carried on ringing five bells but only sounding four. I should be very interested to hear the views of the Tower-snatchers' Union as to whether this constitutes a fair snatch.—Yours sincerely,

BRIAN BUSWELL.

Nottingham.

NYLON BELL ROPES?

Sir,—In reply to your correspondent, Mr. R. F. Baker, nylon is strong, hardwearing and damp-proof but, unfortunately a marked characteristic is its extreme elasticity which, of course, makes it entirely unsuitable for bell ropes.—Yours faithfully,

A. W. BRYANT,
Managing Director,

A DAY IN 'HORTON LAND'

On August 22nd a black Morris, complete with its 'G.B.' plate, could have been seen speeding towards the foreign wastes of South Derbyshire, the driver and the four young ringers inside looking for a change of scenery and some fresh towers.

Ringing began at Newhall: here we were introduced to Union, a method which haunted our driver, who therefore rang and 'brought it round' at every possible opportunity. It was also 'brought round' at Ticknall, when No. 4 eventually abandoned Double Oxford: but at Castle Donington we changed to Reverse St. Bartholomew. We are grateful to the tower captains of both Ticknall and Castle Donington for not only meeting us but also ringing with us.

We were met, too, at Shardlow, another six, and according to 'the records' rang Spiced Doubles(?). Perhaps we did—we rang some somewhere, and it certainly wasn't at Alvaston, where slow and stately obscure relatives of Plain Bob came round one by one.

The best six of the day were undoubtedly Spondon, lovely bells on which we rang ump-teen Grandsire Doubles before going into the city of Derby itself. In Derby we found every tower except St. Luke's, the one we wanted. However, a chimney-like edifice was soon espied, and the organiser warned the carload that one notorious Duffield lady would be there. Sure enough, there was Vivienne—all 42 years of her, and soon she was bashing the seventh for us in Grandsire and Plain Bob. But time pressed and we soon had to leave, having rung in eight new towers, seven of which were in Derbyshire. Vive 'Horton land.'
S. H.

Mr. George Baker with a friend. His many friends will join the Editor in wishing him many happy returns for October 14th, when he will be 90 years of age.

Despite his advancing years Mr. Baker still attends his business daily at Brighton.

Mr. Baker's contribution to the art of change ringing comes under many headings. Ringer, conductor, composer and as a mathematician in the field of extension he has made a worthy contribution to the advancement of the Exercise.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION'S OLDEST MEMBER

On September 7th, Canon A. Rust, the oldest member of the Bedfordshire Association, celebrated his 90th birthday.

The Rev. Albert Rust was educated at King's School, Ely, and Selwyn College, Cambridge. He took up the living at Husborne Crawley upon his marriage to Miss M. Phillips in 1900. The church at the time was in a very bad state of disrepair and decay. In 1910-11, largely through the Canon's efforts, the church was extensively restored, the six bells rehung in an iron frame and the tenor recast.

Although he left Crawley to take up positions elsewhere, he returned to his old church again in 1926. In 1931 two trebles were added to complete the octave, again because of his efforts. He was for some time the president, and also the general secretary of the Bedfordshire Association of Change Ringers. In the late 30's he was made an honorary Canon of St. Albans Abbey.

Both Canon and Mrs. Rust were very keen ringers. He still boasts that though he can no longer ring (he is now very frail) he could still do a long or short splice in a bell rope.

On September 8th an attempt was made for a peal of Grandsire Triples. Before the start the Canon was brought by car to Crawley Church to meet the band and to listen to his beloved bells once again. The attempt was unsuccessful, but the band tried again on September 19th, and this time a very good peal was rung; incidentally, the ringer of the treble was the last person that Canon Rust taught to ring.

Mrs. Rust died about two years ago.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

West Dorset Branch

A touch of London Surprise preceded the Guild Office at the quarterly meeting of the West Dorset Branch, held at South Perrott on September 21st. The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. P. D. Peterkin), who in his address on the life and work of St. Matthew likened him to a ringer, who was a member of a band working together and not an individual ringer. Canon C. C. Cox read the lesson.

The business meeting followed tea at the Coach and Horses Inn. Bridport was selected for the annual meeting on December 7th.

The chairman stated that the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Guild had been well remembered in West Dorset: most towers had rung and a peal had been recorded at Corscombe and a quarter at Lyme—the latter band hoping to try for a peal in the near future.

The secretary was asked to write to Mr. E. F. Brooks, of Beaminster, expressing the regret of the Branch upon his impending departure from the district. 'It is to be remembered,' said Canon Cox, 'that Mr. Brooks was in the early 1930's secretary of our Branch, and that he is an excellent ringer and a good striker, and he did much to further method ringing in the Branch in its early days.' Mr. Barrett said he had been introduced to ringing by Mr. Brooks, and knew the Beaminster tower would suffer greatly by his absence.

Canon Cox concluded the meeting by thanking the Rector for the use of his church and tower, and for his address, and arrangements for tea; and for the helpful presence of the choir and organist. He also welcomed the Rector to the district, and expressed the hope that he would soon be a ringer.

Members then returned to the tower for further ringing. Methods during the day included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Doubles and Kent, Cambridge and London Surprise.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Thirty-nine members and friends of the Syston District had an enjoyable half-day's outing in Northamptonshire on September 21st. Ringing took place at Creaton (6), East Haddon (6), and, after an excellent tea at the Red Lion there, at Hazelbeech (8).

A stop on the way home for refreshment enabled good use to be made of the handbells. Many thanks are due to Mr. W. J. Kinchin, the local Branch secretary of the Peterborough Guild, who made the arrangements, and also to Mrs. E. F. Payne for 'mopping up' operations at Syston.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

South-East Branch

The autumn meeting took place at Calstock on September 28th. About 70 members were present, representing the towers of Liskeard, Landulph, Linkinhorne, St. Ive, Lezant, Menheniot, South-Petherwin, Callington and Calstock.

Ringling commenced at 2.30 with most of the hands ringing before the service, which was conducted by the Rector of Calstock (the Rev. P. S. Gagg). The lesson was read by the Rev. E. M. Thomas, of Menheniot, and Mrs. Baker was the organist. Tea was served in St. Andrew's Hall by the wives of the Calstock ringers under the direction of Mrs. P. S. Gagg. Mr. H. J. Clark, of Landulph (Assistant Ringing Master and secretary of the Branch) expressed thanks to the Calstock Church helpers.

Ringling was resumed until 7.30, and consisted of rounds, call changes and Grandsire Doubles.

MR. BRIAN G. WARWICK'S 500 PEALS

A pupil of the late Mr. Harold J. Poole, Mr. Brian G. Warwick commenced ringing in 1948 and rang his first peal on November 6th, 1948, and his 500th on August 28th, 1957. In 1953 he was appointed organist and choirmaster at South Wigston, where he also became Ringing Master, and built up a band that has attempted to ring a peal nearly every Wednesday, mostly at the Loughborough Bell Foundry. Mr. Warwick has rung 98 peals at this campanile, including seven times round the circle. In his first 500 peals he has rung 199 with his wife.

Mr. Warwick has been hon. general secretary of the Leicester Diocesan Guild since 1956. His peals have been rung in 108 towers for 21 guilds or associations and with 396 different ringers. His list is appended:—

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Bicester Branch

Due to the effects of 'flu, numbers attending were smaller than usual at the annual meeting of the Bicester Branch, held at Souldern on September 28th. The service was conducted by the Rev. Hugh Benson, Mr. F. Sharpe read the lesson and Mr. R. Bourton was the organist. A first-class ringers' tea was provided free by Mrs. Bayliss, Mrs. Burgess and Mrs. West, who were thanked for their hospitality.

Officers elected at the business meeting were the Rev. H. J. B. Elkerton, president; the Rev. Hugh Benson and Mr. F. Sharpe, vice-presidents; Mr. C. H. Kinch, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. W. Baggett and Mr. E. G. Jones to the Guild committee. The next meeting will be held at Bicester on January 18th.

Good use was made of the bells until 7.30 p.m., methods rung being Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

THE RAVING RINGERS INAUGURATED

Eight young ringers, with an average age of 18, selected this title for their inaugural trip into Herefordshire during the third week in August, and they assure Manchester University that the term 'raving' was purely coincidental. The party was made up of four from Gloucester and others from the Reading area and Slough. Travelling was by means of an ancient Morris, driven by Howard Oglesby, and an old Ford van in charge of Don Cose. Two members, unable to secure places in or round either vehicle had to take cycles, their stout-hearted efforts being much appreciated. Gloucester was the assembling point on Saturday, August 17th.

Ringling on the first day was confined to Hampton Bishop, where with the aid of a former ringer of this tower on holiday, a course of Cambridge was rung. After tea in Hereford, camp was set up for the week at Shobdon, near Leominster, on a site belonging to the parents of an Eardisland ringer, some 600 yds. from the nearest road and in a wood beside a small lake.

For Sunday morning ringling at Eardisland Mr. Leslie Evans kindly gave the party the ropes. A colossal blackberry and apple stew boiled over on the primus at lunchtime but fortified the company for ringling at Eye, where the Vicar and Mr. T. G. Cook, with several local ringers, gave a cordial welcome. Sunday evening provided the first tower in Wales—Presteign, and after some good Major on this superb octave, the party stayed for service.

Of Monday's programme, towers included the noisy six at Clunbury: Stokesay, with the church adjoining the Castle: Stanton Lacy, where Miss Jean Hutton led us up an outside stairway and rang with us in a touch of Cambridge: Ludlow, with its 137 steps to the ringing chamber, where 30 minutes' ringling was enjoyed on this majestic Rudhall octave.

Tuesday was spent in the Bromyard area, and thanks are extended to Mr. Cooper and Mr. R. L. Price for their help at Bromyard. The day's ringling ended when we joined Mr. J. F. Fox and his abie band in a practice at Kimbolton. Not included in the ringling programme was when the road near Pencombe took a sharp dislike to the Morris, resulting in bruised craniums and the smashing of eggs in a paper bag on Noel's lap.

IN WALES

Wednesday was Wales day. High in the Radnorshire hills the light six at Llanfihangel-Rhydeithon were set going after a welcome by the Rev. T. Jones. At New Radnor John Cobb rang his first course of Cambridge, and at Old Radnor the bells were a good unspoilt Rudhall ring cast in 1724. Here the ground floor ringing chamber appears to have no windows or lighting, and ringling is accomplished with the door open. The inside has never been rendered or decorated: it is simply rock and mortar. At Kington we ascended with Mr. Owens an outside stair to ring a tough-going six. Mrs. Chandler met us at Lyonshall, another unspoilt Rudhall six.

Some skilful driving through country lanes brought us in time to Sutton (St. Nicholas'). On Thursday the peaceful serenity was shattered when Don twice caught his rope under a form, and another one collapsed under Roger. Withington's magnificent six were a joy to ring and voted the best of the tour. Weston Beggard was difficult to find as the church is buried deep in the hop fields. Stoke Edith has a unique church with no windows in the north side and no chancel. After tea at Hereford, came Tarrington and Lugwardine, where the support of local ringers was greatly appreciated.

Torrential rain on Friday morning—the first of the week—made us glad to get on the road in dry vehicles. Dilwyn, King's Pyon, Marden, Wellington (where there is a thriving local band), Holmer and All Saints', Hereford (for a combined practice), were visited.

The first tower on Saturday was Clifford, where our ringling on the eight was a great improvement on previous occasions. The day and the tour's official ringling ended at Leominster, where ringers from surrounding districts had gathered for a combined practice on the ten. On returning to Shobdon, a post-mortem was held in the local hostelry before we trekked to the camp in foul weather. Two members preferred to spend a dry but uncomfortable and cold night in the car. Perhaps it was as well, because their bed spaces were like rivers next morning, our drainage channels being no success.

Five of the party rang on the 12 at Cirencester on the journey home. In our thanks to incumbents and local ringers mention must be made of our host, John Coates, of Eardisland and Reading University. P. T. H. followed in Pat Cannon's footsteps by turning in every tenor of the tour; and of the 319 bells that were set swinging, we were glad to record not one broken rope. Thank you, Herefordshire. If every visiting ringer receives the welcome we did, none will ever have cause to feel anything but at home.

EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD

Traffic congestion prevented the East Grinstead Guild's 1957 outing from going according to plan. There was trouble at Horsham, where the coach was on a restricted road, and a policeman filled two pages of his notebook before letting the coach proceed. Thus we were late at Ockley and also at Shere, where an excellent course of Superlative was rung.

Arriving at that 'superb' traffic centre, Guildford, two policemen were unable to direct the coach to a parking place, so the driver dropped the ringers at St. Mary's Church and departed we know not where. Mr. F. A. Munday conducted us by the unusual approach to the belfry where, after getting used to peeping under the clock case, some good ringling up to London Minor was enjoyed.

At Shalford we found the local band ringling for a wedding, and appreciated the good striking. On the heavy eight at Godalming a course of Yorkshire was successfully brought round. After an excellent tea at the Old House Café a move was made towards Lower Beeding. This meant passing through Horsham, and the driver seeing a 'No Entry' sign turned right instead of left and got on to the A24 instead of the A281. However, by taking various country lanes Horsham was avoided and the last tower reached half-an-hour late. We arrived at Tunbridge Wells at 10 p.m. One day an outing will go according to plan, but would it be quite as enjoyable?

'PER ARDUA'—THE ADVENTURES OF EGBERT

Egbert had left Little Taterfield feeling that the day had not gone too well for him, and as he proceeded on his journey it occurred to him that the week had not been too good either. He had been involved in several arguments with some of his mates at the depot and had fallen foul of at least one N.C.O. They were a wretched lot, he thought; people who could see little beyond the ends of their noses and given to muddled thinking. He wished he had been posted to a station with a better crowd, but it never occurred to him that the present bunch he was with were probably a very good cross-section of the Services generally, and that he would not be any better off if he had been posted elsewhere. From which it may be inferred that egotism was not unconnected with some of his troubles. He was still feeling rather badly the effects of the drubbing he had taken at the 'Ring of Beef' at Little Taterfield, and decided that he must be more careful another time before getting involved in abstruse discussions with hide-bound dogmatists, as he mentally labelled them. He was, of course, altogether wrong. That was the very last charge that could be made against those two men. They knew their subject and had proved their contentions up to the hilt, but poor Egbert could not take it. They did a lot of research work themselves and were always on the alert for anything fresh that might come to light, in addition to which they were ready to impart their results and conclusions to anyone interested enough to ask. Esotericism found no place with them. It was yet to be borne home to Egbert that so far he did not 'know all about it,' and in that lack a lot of his troubles had their source.

There was, however, more trouble in store for him this night, due to something very different. About five miles out of Little Taterfield he collected a punctured front tyre. As the machine did not possess a repair outfit and he seemed to be miles from anywhere, he decided he would have to walk the rest of the way. Something akin to self-pity now asserted itself, being another of his qualifications on the minus side. This would mean that he could not be back at his station before midnight, which might involve him in further difficulties. It did, and of course the N.C.O. concerned had to be the one with whom Egbert had had a difference of opinion earlier that same week. 'Talk about gremlins,' he growled to himself as he made his way disconsolately to his hut, 'now I am for it again.'

During the week which followed Egbert's mind was occupied with the possibilities of more 'tower-grabbing,' since he was expecting to go on leave by the end of that month. He had already been in touch with two or three possible sources but so far had drawn a blank. He was endeavouring to steer clear of trouble as he did not want anything to prejudice his chances, but he found it very hard going. Someone always seemed to have a 'down' on him these days, but after a week or two he began to feel that his effort had been worth while since things appeared definitely to be running a little more smoothly for him, and he was within measurable distance of getting out of the 'doghouse.'

Thus, when he received word that there was a place for him in a peal-ringing tour, his spirits began to rise. Not that, strangely enough, he particularly wanted a peal-ringing tour. He would far rather have gone on a 'tower-grabbing' jaunt, such as he had enjoyed last year when he had been probably the best ringer and the party, and had had no difficulty in getting his opinions accepted, as well as collecting far more towers than he could reasonably expect to do on the tour at present in prospect. However, it was the best available, and he decided to go. He would be careful not to risk a repetition of what had occurred at Little Taterfield, but this set him thinking, never a bad thing, and he decided to get busy with pencil and paper.
