HEART OF OAK

THE name of Bragg is far from unknown in the Midlands, and in ringing circles it is familiar to all who have visited the tower of St. Alphege's Church, Solihull. As far back as the '80's (and possibly the '70's) the Braggs were intimately connected with the bells and belfry of the pretty Warwickshire village, and the intimacy has been prolonged unto the third and fourth generation.

Records of the old days towards the end of the 19th century are meagre, and little remains from which to reconstruct the times when John Bragg (senior) and his fellows rang on the old eight with its crazy frame and heavy-going bells. Those were the days of Mumford, James Holliday, the last of the Beadles, Charles Fairfield and, of course, some of the Braggs; but what they rang and how they rang it are matters on which we can pronounce very little. Legends and stories there are, of course, of their activities; of their ringing, for which they were paid; of their practices, which must have been very curious affairs; and of their social gatherings, which were, if nothing else, at least hearty. Among these doings there is recorded the story of how the band met for practice, but having waited in vain for Master Mumford, left the tower, fastening upon the belfry door the following light-hearted comment:—

Brother Mumford, this is no joke—
We'll meet you in 'The Royal Oak.'

The end of the evening is, unfortunately, not recorded.

In 1891, when the ringing band was reconstructed by that great enthusiast Geoffrey Martineau, the Braggs of the next generation were to the fore: John, Stanley, Roland, Archer, Samuel, George, to be reinforced and followed in after years by the third generation in Harry and Charles, an inextricable tangle of uncles, brothers, cousins, sons, nephews, second cousins—almost as many relationships as may be found in the Table of Affinities. And as sure as one Bragg dropped out so surely another arose to take his place.

All have proved to be able ringers and loyal servants of their belfry, and none among them has a greater claim to the affection and gratitude of the Church of St. Alphege than John Bragg, now 80 years of age, ringer for more than 60 years, tower-keeper over a great period in this century, a fine ringer of a heavy bell and a meticulous instructor of beginners.

John has always been known as 'J' because his father was John too, and the confusion that arose in referring to them was due not only to the similarity of their names but also to the unqualified excellence of their work. For both have been notable as great craftsmen, cunning workers in wood, and particularly in oak, the sturdy symbol of the lovely land of Arden, among whose lanes and hedgerows so many Braggs have lived, and moved, and had their being. To 'J' Bragg the manipulation of this magnificent timber and the shaping of it into inspired forms has been the skilled work of a long lifetime, a labour of love learned from his father, a devotion that has enriched many of the noble houses of Warwickshire.

And in the Parish Church of St. Alphege his work stands at every turn, in altar, pew and door, so that in this lovely House of God it might be said of John Bragg, as it was said of Wren: 'Si monumentum requiris, circumspice.' In this work will be found no flaw, no grudging turn of the hand, nothing to mar the perfection of the offering.

The 80th birthday was, by special request, celebrated in simple fashion with a visit to Packwood Church to ring on the newly-rehung six. Here among all the loveliness of the elms and sturdy oaks of Arden we rang Grandsire and Plain Bob, while the bright evening faded to the luminous afterglow of sunset, and the great chimneys of Packwood Hall grew black above the shining moat. Then, as darkness fell, on to The Punch Bowl for rest, refreshment and reminiscence, and the quiet chance to express thanks to our veteran for his long and unselfish service.

Long may this old Heart of Oak thrive to glorify God in the crafts of his workshop and in the loving care of his bells.

CLUTTON, SOMERSET

It was rather overcast on May 3rd when Clutton ringers and friends set off on their outing (four ringers had already travelled 15 to 20 miles by car). The first tower was Redmarley D'Abitot, a good-going six, recently rehung, where we received a cordial welcome from the Rector and one of the local ringers. A short run then took us to Ledbury, a delightful ring of eight (if only we could have struck them better). The long draught slowed up the ringing, but a course of Bob Major was creditable. The weather, by this time, was glorious, and some of the party enjoyed a sandwich lunch sitting on the grass. A scenic ride, via Tewkesbury, delighted the non-ringers of the party particularly, and took us to Toddington. The Vicar kindly showed the party the most interesting parts of his lovely church before ringing commenced. One noteworthy effort was a course of Kent T.B. Minor rung by five ladies with one (imported) gentleman to ring the tenor. The church stands in a private estate and, set in its surroundings, looked wonderful on the day of our visit.

The gentleman with the largest pile of Ordnance Survey maps directed the driver to Bourton-on-the-Water. On arrival we found that a visiting party earlier in the day had broken the stay on the second (tut, tut!). As it was, we rang six. Ringing included a course of London and concluded with a very good fall.

Our last tower was Malmesbury Abbey, where Mr. H. Blacker, a former Clutton ringer, welcomed us. We very much enjoyed these bells and were particularly congratulated on our rise in peal.

Thanks are accorded to all incumbents and local ringers, and especially to Mr. C. S. Bennett, our organiser.

OUTINGSCORSTON, SOMERSET

On May 10th the ringers of All Saints', Corston, Bath, accompanied by the Rector and friends from other towers, visited North Devon for their annual outing. A start was made soon after 8 a.m. by three cars, followed shortly after by a fourth, plus a family wagon. At Swimbridge the party were met by the Vicar, and the pleasant six were soon raised in peal. Those not ringing were able to admire the church, with its magnificent screen and unusual font.

A move was then made to Landkey, where a sandwich lunch was taken, augmented by liquid refreshment from the Ring of Bells close to the church and situated in a very pleasant locality. After 45 minutes on the bells the party left for Tawstock. A somewhat tortuous route led to the ringing chamber, but the lovely eight bells gave satisfaction to all. The next tower was Bishop's Tawton, where the party were met by the local tower captain (Mr. H. C. Lock), who led the rise in peal and conducted a touch of call-changes, '60 on thirds.'

The last ring of the day was at Chittlehampton, where the party were joined by the Vicar (Rev. J. H. B. Andrews), who was able to enjoy a well-struck course of Cambridge Major. The party were loath to leave this very handy eight, but the return journey was eventually accomplished with the usual pause for sustenance en route. Thanks are due to the incumbents concerned for the use of the bells and to the various tower masters for their very kind welcome.

PUTNEY

Putney ringers rang at seven towers in three counties on their annual outing on May 10th. An early start was made and the fine octave at Boyne Hill was going by 9.15 a.m. The next ringing was on the pleasant six at the fine Perpendicular church of Ewelme, Oxfordshire. At Iffley we were given a great welcome by the Vicar and the whole band. We then went into Oxford, and after ringing at St. Giles' partook of a much-needed tea. The next stop was Cuddesdon, and our coach only just managed to negotiate the narrow lanes. From here we passed on to Great Milton.

Our last call was to the 'Church on the Hill' at West Wycombe, Bucks. After a wild scramble up the precipitous hill, during which a lady member of the party lost her shoe, the now very exhausted band reached the church. Strength soon returned, however, and ringing was almost forgotten in the ascent to the golden ball which surmounts the church tower. A. C.

PRESTBURY, GLOS

The first outing of the season was to visit Parkend, on the invitation of the Vicar, the Rev. G. R. H. Smith. The six at Awre and eight at Lydney were rung on the outward journey, and after enjoying an excellent tea in the Vicarage at Parkend, the eight tubular bells were put to good use. A course of Grandsire Doubles was brought home on the back six. This is an unusual early-Victorian church, cruciform in shape, and the parish is the centre for some of the best country in the Forest of Dean. We had to tear ourselves away to return by way of Hewelsfield and Alvington, both with five bells, on which a variety of methods were rung. Alvington bells were only just ringable.

On Ascension Day the bells of Slough Parish Church were rung for the 9.30 a.m. Sung Eucharist service by an all-school band from the Slough and Eton C.E. Secondary Modern School for the school's service. No less than 13 present pupils and two members of the staff can handle a bell. In the afternoon Linda Kew (13) followed this up by ringing her first peal, the fourth to Bob Major, at Maidenhead. The headmaster has asked that the scholars concerned ring handbell tunes at the school speech day on June 12th.

Mr. J. Ridyard informs us that the open day for ringing at Liverpool Cathedral will be June 21st instead of November as in previous years.

With the peal of Cinques at Reading (see page 310) Mr. Philip Mehew has completed the cycle of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

Mr. F. Neville Pailing, who rang the treble to a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Loughborough Bell Foundry campanile (see page 295), informs us that he is only 13 years of age. Congratulations, Neville; you must have looked 14 in our correspondent's eyes.

There was a disturbance during the peal at Offenham, Wores, on April 26th, in which three young ringers were attempting their first peal. A lady opened the door of the ringing chamber and looked inside. The youngsters behaved like more experienced ringers and continued through to score a successful peal.

Writing from the Department of Physiology, Melbourne University, Mr. Peter G. Richards informs us that by the end of the year, when he has grabbed most of the Australian towers, he hopes to continue his journey back to England. Taught to ring at Tunstall, Kent, and a member of the Kent County Association, he has, as yet, rung all his peals outside the British Isles. His first peal was rung at Hamilton Cathedral, New Zealand, on December 11th, 1954.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

The peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Cranleigh on May 17th is believed to be the first peal rung there for over 35 years. The peal was in the same method, but there are only three of the band left who took part in it. They are Cecil Charman, Leslie Warner and Ernest Warner. It was also the first peal since the recasting of the bells and, of course, the first for the Guildford Diocesan Guild rung at Cranleigh. Six of the band were local ringers, and it was the first peal for Joan Beeson and Donald Kirk, the new hon. secretary of the Guildford District.

'Art Sixth girls will never make ringers—they cannot count.' Comment of a Science Sixth recruit in a Surrey tower.

Messrs. Alan J. Frost, Philip Mehew, Kenneth R. Dunstan and Derek P. Jones rang three peals on May 10th, at Langleybury, Rickmansworth and Watford.

Honoured in our quarter peal column this week is Prof. John Evans, former principal of the Memorial College, Brecon, who preached in a broadcast service on May 18th in the Welsh Home Service. His 100th birthday was on May 12th.

Mr. Brian G. Warwick has 'circled' the Loughborough Bell Foundry campanile ten times, which is certainly a first on a 10-bell tower if not in any other tower. The number of times he has rung each bell is treble 11, second 13, third 11, fourth 13, fifth 10, sixth 13, seventh 10, eighth 10, ninth 10, tenor 15.

Visiting West Mersea, Essex (5, tenor 5½ cwt.), Mr. Victor Sheppard writes: Wheel on treble only; all woodwork decayed and most fittings missing. Old frame in poor condition. All bells inscribed: 'Thomas Gardiner fecit, Sudbury 1717.' Treble has a large hole 3 inches long and 1 inch deep on the outside—a casting defect. Quite unringable.

THE HALLOWING OF ALL SAINTS', MAIDSTONE, BELLS

FOR several years past the Kent County Association were concerned by the poor state of All Saints', Maidstone, bells, and quite a fair amount of quiet work and persuasion took place, until early in 1957 the Mayor of Maidstone (Ald. F. Leslie Wallis) launched an appeal for £3,500 to have the ten bells recast and rehung. This target was passed in the short time of six weeks. The necessary faculty being obtained, the bells were removed in September and the old frame dismantled from the bell loft by the bell-founders, Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. Also removed were 40 dustbins of pigeon guano, many derelict pigeons and the accumulation of several years' dust.

The bells having been despatched to Loughborough for recasting, the tower was prepared to receive the new iron frame. As reported in the 'R.W.', a party of Maidstone District ringers visited the foundry in February to inspect the new bells and fittings. March saw the bells returned to Maidstone together with their new frame, and the task of installing in the tower began. This was completed in time for a short dedication service on Easter Saturday, which enabled the bells to ring for Easter Day.

The full dedication took place on May 10th. The service was conducted by the Bishop of Maidstone (Rt. Rev. S. W. Betts). In attendance also were the Vicar (Canon Frank Bennett), the Mayor of Maidstone (Ald. S. J. Lyle) and members of the Corporation. The service was attended by a large congregation of ringers and parishioners.

The Bishop in his address said the blessing of bells dated back by custom to the 8th century, by a sprinkling of water in those days. Today they were blessed in the name of God. When the bells rang out they proclaimed that the whole of life belonged to God, and when they called one to worship they did not call one from the main duties of life, to escape from normal problems, but called to share in something that was essential in life, God's love. Love was the only weapon the Church had in the offensive against evil.

The choir followed the Bishop's address with Henry Purcell's 'The Bells Anthem.' Immediately following, the Bishop was conducted to the belfry, together with the Vicar and Ald. Wallis, where the captain of the tower (Mr. L. Mannering) asked that the bells be blessed. The end of the blessing was a signal for the bells to peal out in rounds, followed by a well-struck touch of Stedman Caters. It was a truly lovely sound as the Bishop, Mayor and Corporation, Vicar and company retired to the Old Palace for tea. As reported in the 'R.W.' of May 10th, a peal has been composed by Mr. Louis Head and will be attempted in the near future for the first on the bells.

The opinion of three of the listening public was invited, and reports were: 'Very much better sounding'; 'More bearable now'; and 'Very, very nice to hear them again.' Amongst the ringing fraternity the reaction was one of satisfaction and pleasure with such a fine ring.

Thanks are due to all who supported the fund, to Messrs. John Taylor and Co. for their art in casting and tuning, and to the two foundry fitters, namely Mr. A. Fidler and Mr. K. Jones, also Monty and Maurice for a job well done.

The inscriptions from the old bells were reproduced on the new, together with an extra one on the tenor, which now reads as follows:

Rev. James Reeve, Minister
Henry Argles, Thomas Laurence, Churchwardens.

GUILD OF MEDICAL RINGERS

The third annual meeting of the Guild of Medical Ringers took place on May 17th at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Tring (8, 24 cwt.). Ringing, under the direction of the Master (R. E. Price), began soon after 3 and continued until 4.30, when a service of Evensong was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. E. K. Lowdell), who also gave an address.

The business meeting then took place in the belfry. A report on the year's activities by the secretary (D. L. Gullick) was received, and the president (P. T. Spencer-Phillips), who took the chair, was re-elected, as were the other two officers. Two new associate members were elected. Future activities were discussed; a report was given on prospects for the Dorset weekend (July 5th/6th), plans for another peal attempt, and another City meeting in the autumn. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Great Baddow. Finally, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and to the local band for their hospitality.

Among those whom we were particularly pleased to see at the meeting were Dr. Jean Weddell, on leave from her work for children in Korea, and two student members, Messrs. Martin and Thornley, of the Middlesex Hospital.

After the business meeting further ringing went on until 7 o'clock. By then, as we became used to each other and to the bells, the standard reached became better and better, and the culminating 'presidential touch' of Stedman set the seal on the performance. We did not make a success of Surprise, but among more common methods achieved was a course of Double Oxford Bob Major.

At 7.30 a company of 19, including the Vicar and Mrs. Lowdell, sat down to dinner at the King's Head, Ivinghoe. Full justice was done to an excellent meal, and then, before separating—after a most enjoyable meeting—the proceedings were brought to an end in the fashion which is becoming a tradition: that is, by a few touches 'in hand' on this occasion rung in the gathering twilight on the village green.

AN EBBW VALE VETERAN

A very pleasant function took place at Christ Church, Ebbw Vale, Mon, on May 10th, when 33 ringers and friends honoured their oldest member, Mr. J. Jeynes, on his 80th birthday. A supper given by the ringers, was prepared by the ladies of the band. Canon Davies, Vicar of the parish, presided, and proposed a toast to Mr. Jeynes, who then cut a birthday cake which had been made by one of the ladies. Whilst this was taking place, junior members of the band rang 'Happy Birthday' on handbells.

Tributes to his genial personality and steadfastness were paid by the Master of the ringers, deputy, churchwardens and other friends. Mr. Jeynes suitably responded.

Despite his great age, Mr. Jeynes still rings regularly for Sunday services and on practice nights. In the afternoon a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in his honour, Mr. D. J. King, of Chepstow, conducting.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

Nine towers were represented at the Society's meeting at South Kirby on May 10th, but the numbers attending were affected by the meeting clashing with the Yorkshire Association's annual meeting at Pontefract. This the secretary hoped would be avoided next year.

An excellent tea was provided, free of charge, by the ladies, and the Vicar (Rev. M. Lindley) gave a hearty welcome to the Society. He deplored the fact that he had only three ringers at present and asked for someone to teach them. Three new members from South Kirby—Robert Wilson, Trevor Kemp and Allen Brewer—were elected. The next meeting, at Silkstone on June 14th, would be the shield contest, the entries for which close on June 7th. Mr. Noel F. Moxon (president) who presided, thanked the Vicar and churchwardens, those who made local arrangements, and the ladies. Supporting the proposition, Mr. John W. Moxon said he hoped South Kirby would have a team of ringers before long. Good use was made of the bells before and after the meeting.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival

ON Saturday, May 10th, the Chester Guild held its annual festival at Bowdon, when about 100 members and friends were present. At the service in church the Vicar (Canon D. P. Low) preached and the general secretary of the Guild (Rev. J. Kingdon) conducted the service, whilst the Master (Mr. J. W. Clarke) read the lesson.

The Vicar took the parable of the talents as the basis of his remarks, and made the point that the talents were given to be used and that those servants who employed their talents were commended, whereas the one who hid his talent was reprimanded and his talent taken away from him. He suggested that we should use our talents, whatever they might be, in the service of the Church, and gave examples showing how architects, musicians, painters, sculptors, embroiderers and dramatists had all contributed to the beauty of the Church and its services. So could ringers contribute in their own special way. This must not, however, become a substitute for the offering of our own life in the service of God, but that we express the offering of ourselves to God by our talents and hope to be a 'reasonable, holy and living sacrifice unto Him.'

Tea was served in the schools by the local ringers, assisted by those from neighbouring towers, and an excellent meal was enjoyed. The annual meeting followed tea, under the chairmanship of the Master (Mr. J. W. Clarke). Apologies were received from the Rev. A. L. Minns, Mr. A. W. Frost and Mr. L. Boumphrey. It was mentioned that the Rev. A. L. Minns had now taken over a new parish on a housing estate, and that the new church would have a tower to which it was proposed to remove the now derelict six bells from Holy Trinity Church, Chester.

The annual report of the Guild was presented and copies were distributed to the Branch secretaries present.

The report recorded the death of the following members: George Bason (Rostherne), W. Stanley Booth (Daresbury), Albert Crawley (Wistaston), James Fernley (Norbury), Edward Hooper (Lawton), Pamela Hill (Oxton), Herbert Roberts (Dodleston), Noah Smith (Grappenhall) and Clement H. Taylor (Chelford); also the following non-resident members: Ernest T. Allaway, Frank Bennett, C. Henry Harding, Charles H. Page, Ernest C. S. Turner and Walter W. Wolstencroft.

The membership was 706 ringing, 20 life ringing and 16 honorary members from 87 towers. The financial affairs of the Guild were in a satisfactory state and 103 peals were rung for the Guild in 1957. There were 27 first pealers and 30 conductors, six of whom called a peal for the first time. Peals of Bristol Surprise Royal, 18, 22 and 25 methods of Spliced Surprise Major and ten methods of Doubles had been rung for the first time.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPTS

Messrs. W. Allman and A. J. Martin reported on last year's Central Council meeting, and suggested that a discussion be set on foot on this year's agenda. Various topics were discussed and it was decided that if possible some move should be made to condemn the adverse publicity which the long peal attempt at Loughborough had suffered, as it was felt that this had caused considerable damage to the prestige of the Exercise. It was also decided to forward a resolution to the Council for the 1959 meeting requiring that for long peal attempts the bells should be clearly audible both inside and outside the tower, and that in such attempts food and drink be not permitted.

Next year's festival was arranged for May 9th at a suitable place in the Wirral Branch.

The officers of the Guild were re-elected and thanked for their services during the year.

Votes of thanks were accorded Canon Low for his assistance, the incumbents of the towers where ringing had taken place, the wardens, the organist and the choirboys, the local ringers and the ladies, who under the direction of Miss A. Brown had catered so ably.

Ringing was enjoyed at Bowdon, Dunham Massey, Warburton and Rostherne during the afternoon and evening, and every Branch in the Guild, except Northwich and Crewe, was represented at the festival.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

The annual competition of the St. David's Diocesan Guild for the Dr. Prosser Shield was held at the Church of St. Teilo, Llandilo, on May 10th. Although the weather was not very kind, it did not prevent a good gathering attending.

Five bands competed, and Mr. F. Sharpe again acted as adjudicator. After tea in the Cawdor Hall, attended by 74 members, the results were announced as follows: 1st Llanelly, 277 marks, 23 faults; 2nd Llanbadarn Fawr, 272, 28; 3rd Llandilo, 270, 30; 4th Tenby, 249, 51; 5th scratch band 158, 142.

The Vicar (Canon T. Hughes) presented the shield and certificate to the Llanelly band and a certificate to the second band.

As a mark of appreciation for his services to the Guild, Mrs. Lewis, C.C., of Llandilo, presented Mr. Sharpe with a briefcase, suitably inscribed. Mr. Sharpe, although taken a little by surprise, ably replied.

After votes of thanks, proposed by Mr. Chris Hawkins, came the highlight of the evening—a display of requested tunes by the Llaunton handbell ringers. Their wonderful performance was thoroughly enjoyed. The Vicar closed the meeting with prayer, and members returned to the tower to finish the evening.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

THE 73rd annual meeting of the Sussex Association was held at St. Peter's, Brighton, on May 3rd. Ringing at the local towers took place during the afternoon and after the business meeting.

The service was conducted by the Vicar of Brighton (Canon D. H. Booth), who also gave the address. He remarked upon the good singing by so many Sunday singing service ringers, a vocation we hope will always be found amongst us. A collection was taken for church expenses.

At the tea in the Church Hall we were pleased to have with us the Vicar. The meal was arranged by the St. Peter's ladies' organisations, who were warmly thanked by the Master (Mr. R. V. Johnson) for such a fine effort.

The Master presided at the business meeting. An act of remembrance of those ringers who had passed on during the year was observed.

The Master informed the meeting that he had been invited to and attended, on the Association's behalf, the enthronement of the new Bishop of Chichester at the Cathedral.

The minutes of the last A.G.M. were read and signed: the only matter arising was in respect of the display of bells and a model foundry given by Mr. and Mrs. Elphick at the church tent at Bognor in July last, at the Sussex County exhibition. Mr. Blackman proposed a hearty vote of thanks for such an outstanding effort.

The various reports were given and duly accepted. Peals were fewer than last year but still above the average. The divisional levies again caused a great deal of discussion, the interest of £33 gained on the sale of Post Office certificates was used to bring these down to 75 per cent. of the year's income. In the election of officers the only alterations were those of the central fund auditors, Mr. Riddington replacing Mr. Overy, who was warmly thanked for his past services, and the trustees, Mr. S. E. Armstrong replacing Mr. L. Stilwell, who was now hon. peal secretary.

The secretary was instructed to write to the new Bishop of Chichester, to ask him if he would honour the Association by becoming its president.

It was decided to let divisional secretaries hold six signed certificates each to enable easier distributions to be made.

As only one Central Council delegate would be going to Ireland it was decided that he should be given £12 towards his expenses, being the approximate cost of four delegates sent to Chelmsford last year.

Item 13 on the agenda was 'New rules to be formulated and a sub-committee be formed to prepare same'. This created a lively discussion, members feeling that the present rules needed too much understanding and too much time over the past three years had been given to finance. It was advocated that divisional funds should be put into a central fund. A sub-committee was formed, consisting of the following: The Master, treasurer, general secretary, Mr. R. Overy and one representative from each division.

The general secretary (Mr. R. W. R. Percy) pointed out that the 75th anniversary was drawing near and preparations should soon be started if the Association decided to hold same. It was decided that this should be discussed at the next business meeting of each division and their views passed on to the general secretary.

As no news was available regarding the writing up of the Association's peal book, given in memory of the late Oliver Sippetts, Mr. Blackman offered to investigate and to report in due course.

POWER OF CO-OPTION

Dear Sir,—Like the good secretary he is, Mr. E. A. Barnett comes straight back with his references about the co-option powers of 'The Ringing World' Committee of the Central Council. 'Mr. W. W. is mistaken.' How refreshing to read it straight to the point like that. If I am, then of course I apologise to all concerned.

But if you, sir, will allow me to say so (a) I'm not sure that I'm mistaken, and (b) if I am, then I feel that 'The Ringing World' Committee have been given this power unwisely and it would be well for the Council's officers to reconsider the matter.

As regards (a), the decision that the Committee have power to co-opt was made in 1951. This decision ought properly, of course, to be a rule and be incorporated in Rule 11 which relates to the appointment of committees. The handbook published in 1956 does not include it, though the fact, quoted by Mr. Barnett, that the similar power given to the Standing Committee was embodied in the Rules in 1956 proves my point that it is a proper subject for a rule.

If not a rule then the 1951 agreement must be a decision. But it is not included in the section of the handbook containing those decisions. When the report of the Handbook Sub-Committee was presented to the Council at its meeting in 1955 at Bristol, there was also passed on the proposition of Mr. Barnett a resolution rescinding all the previous decisions of the Council and substituting those presented in an appendix at that meeting by the Handbook Sub-Committee. That appendix included the co-option power of the Standing Committee and a brief reference to other committees, but did not include the co-option for 'The Ringing World' Committee.

There is a further section of the handbook headed 'Active committees—an account of their work.' In the account of the Standing Committee the power to co-opt is mentioned. In the case of none of the other committees is such mention made, though 'The Ringing World' Committee account refers to the new committee of 1951.

With regard to (b) above, I know that it is not uncommon for an authority to give its committees a power to co-opt members. But this power, if given, must be limited to protect the interests of the Council and its members. In the case of the Standing Committee such a limitation (to two members) has been made, although as that committee includes the officers of the Council, there would be no likelihood of the committee going off the rails. But there is no such limitation in the 1951 decision, so that between the triennial elections it would be possible for the committee to change its personnel and policy to an undesirable extent. The ordinary Council back-bencher has very little say in the actions of the Council and its committees except in voting for the membership of the committees, and if vacancies are filled by co-option he is deprived of that chance.

May I suggest that the Council's officers give serious consideration to these matters if the points I have made in (a) above are held not to be valid.—Yours faithfully,

WILFRID G. WILSON.

Dear Sir,—The composition of Stedman Triples, viz.: Carter's Odd Bob One-part, is (probably owing to my bad writing) wrongly printed. The calling from the 4th course should read DBCDDCA, and then as printed. The calling of A should read 2, 6, 10, 12, 14.—Sincerely yours,

ST. ANNE'S PARISH CHURCH BELLS

Dear Sir,—I would like to correct a statement in the article '130 Miles in Lancashire' which appeared in the issue of May 16th, to the effect that St. Anne's Parish Church bells were cast only two years ago.

These bells were cast in 1890 by John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and were dedicated on September 18th, 1890. They were rehung two years ago on ball-bearings, also by John Taylor, and reopened on Easter Sunday, 1956.

The bells were named after the Clifton family who were benefactors of the church. These are as follows:—

Treble: Frances Victoria and Charles Caryl Clifton, 3 cwt. 3 qr. 11 lb.

2: Harry Arthur Clifton, 4 cwt. 18 lb.

3: Constance Gertrude Cecily Clifton, 4 cwt. 3 qr. 20 lb.

4: Cuthbert Clifton, 5 cwt. 3 qr. 18 lb.

5: Madeline Edith Clifton, 6 cwt. 3 qr.

6: John Talbot Clifton, 8 cwt. 3 qr.

7: The Lady Eleanor Cecily Clifton, 11 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lb.

Tenor: 'In Memoriam' Thomas Henry and John Talbot Clifton, 16 cwt. 1 qr. 10 lb.—Yours sincerely,

HARRY R. PRESTON, Hon. Sec.,
St. Anne's Parish Church Belfry.

SPLICING FOR CONVENIENCE — By N. F. Moxon

THERE must be many occasions at ringing meetings when a few ringers wish to try a method but cannot raise the necessary number who are able to ring it. For instance, if a touch of Kent Minor is desired four ringers may readily step forward, and although a treble man is usually available the other inside performer cannot be found, so the touch is abandoned. A solution to this, alas all too frequent occurrence, is to find a ringer who is familiar with Oxford and ask him to take the fourth rope; other inside bells could be used but usually most people are at home on the fourth.

Commence ringing and call Oxford continuing until the 4th lead when a lead of Kent is interposed; at this point the fourth bell dodges the treble in 3-4, the work being identical in Kent and Oxford and although the other bells are ringing Kent he carries on with Oxford. If a lead of Kent is also inserted at the 9th lead, rounds will come up after 240 changes, a useful touch for a meeting. Should an extent be desired, a bob must be called when 3 and 4 are together at the front, making three bobs in all.

A touch of Woodbine is often welcome, being a change from the inevitable Kent and Oxford, and is a method usually scorned although it forms the basis of no less than 26 standard methods. If again we are one short for a touch of Woodbine, put an Oxford ringer on the fourth and begin to ring the latter method; change to Woodbine during the 1st lead and continue with this method for the 2nd lead; as the fourth bell will be coming in and going out of the slow during this period he will not be affected by the change. If two leads of Woodbine are also inserted at the 6th and 7th leads a 240 will result. Three bobs, called when 3 and 4 are together, will produce 720 changes.

Snowdrop is an easy method, much neglected, and if our four ringers are determined to ring it they must again recruit the long-suffering 'Oxford' lad on the fourth; in this touch Snowdrop is called off, instructing the fourth to ring Oxford, the latter method being brought in at the 2nd lead. Snowdrop at the 3rd lead then revert to Oxford. If Snowdrop is inserted at leads 1 and 3, 6 and 8, a 240 will result and an extent can be produced by adopting the calling previously given.

Many ringers are familiar with New London, a full-lead method always enjoyable to ring,

'AN UNUSUAL GIFT OF BELLS'

Thus stated the announcer on the B.B.C. television on May 15th in opening the 6.10 p.m. programme. This referred to the collection of tintinnabula recently given to Leicester City Museum by Ernest Morris, and was thought to be so unique and interesting that before being placed on exhibition it should be televised. This was done, and with Mr. Daniel, the curator, Ernest Morris demonstrated some of the more interesting pieces. The collection included a Chinese temple gong, a heavy double-camel bell from Constantinople, a camel bell cut from solid cotton-wood which came from West Africa, a whole series of wagon or latten bells, cast by Robert Wells, of Aldbourne, Wilts (1764-99), as well as pack-horse bells from the same foundry and one by I. Stares of earlier date. Other bells included cow, bullock, sheep, goat, pony and cab-horse bells, as well as those of 'Bristol' glass, and a porcelain one from Meissen, Saxony.

After the television recording Ernest Morris was taken to the studio and gave a broadcast talk on the same subject, which was 'on the air' in Eye Witness at 3 p.m. the following Friday.

Mr. Morris has just completed a MS on 'Tintinnabula,' which he hopes to see published in book form later in the year.

which when connected with Snowdrop produces Nelson Victory, a fine standard method. It is queer that two 'irregular' methods, New London and Snowdrop, when joined together make a regular method! By the way, New London forms the basis of 19 standard methods.

If a New London ringer can be found for the fourth bell, some Nelson's Victory can be attempted. Commence with two leads of this method, then change to three leads of New London, repeat the whole and rounds will come up at 240; three bobs with 3-4 together produce the extent.

Kingston and Wragby can be spliced easily in the same manner; the fourth bell persists in ringing Kingston which has Oxford groundwork, whilst the other bells provide the Wragby or Woodbine variation. The touch begins with Kingston, changing to Wragby for the 2nd and 4th, 7th and 9th lead-ends. The same bob calling produces the extents. The other methods in the same group, i.e., London Scholars, Sandal and Capel, will yield to the same treatment.

Great assistance can be obtained for this fascinating diversion by referring to J. Segar's 'Four-way Table of Minor Methods,' an excellent publication which can be improved by writing the ground methods Oxford, New London, Kent, Woodbine, etc., above the top line.

Here are the figures for two of the above touches:—

MODIFICATION OF HALF-LEAD SYSTEM OF EXTRACTING FALSE COURSE HEADS

By H. CHANT

ATTENTION has recently been focused on the subject of F.C.H.'s by Mr. J. Segar, who pointed out that all literature on this subject, apart from his own, is now out of print. To those who use the half-lead system and to those who may want to learn about it, this article may be of use. It contains one or two slight innovations which, I think, simplify certain parts of the procedure and save time and thought (both valuable commodities!).

Mr. E. A. Barnett has raised no objection to my quoting his procedure as set out in Corrigan's, and has made several valuable suggestions as to clarifying the text in regard to the location of F.C.H.'s, suggestions of which I have gladly availed myself.

Take two pieces of cardboard and cut them into circles of, say, 4 in. and 6 in. diameter respectively, the smaller (A) and the larger (B) being secured, after being marked out, with a paper clip, or similar device, passing through the centres. This clip should be a loose fit so as to allow the two scales to be freely rotated.

Divide each card into seven equal sectors and into these sectors place the figures as follows:

Smaller (A Scale): 8 6 4 2 3 5 7, in a clockwise direction. Connect the pairs of figures 7-8, 5-6, 3-4 by arrows drawn across the surface.

Larger (B Scale): 1 2 3 4 5, also in a clockwise direction. Fill the two blank spaces with prominent black spots. The figures and spots must be placed on the outer edge so as to be visible after assembly.

When complete the chart appears as follows and is ready for use:—

WHAT FALSE COURSE HEADS ARE

A course head is an abbreviated row which signifies a complete course. E.g., 23456 = the course beginning 12345678 (plain course). A False Course Head represents a course which if rung in the same composition as that which includes the plain course will contain certain rows which are identical with rows contained in the plain course.

Further, any two courses which bear the same relationship to each other, as do the plain course and its false course, will therefore mutually repeat certain rows. E.g., if course 23456 is false with course 32546 then courses 42356 and 24536 will also be false with each other.

It is therefore necessary that any composer, arranger, rearranger or what you will, should be able to discover not only what these F.C.H.'s are for any given method, but whereabouts in the two courses concerned the falseness (i.e., the repetition of rows) will occur.

METHOD OF EXTRACTING FALSE COURSE HEADS

There are many systems of extracting F.C.H.'s, but probably one that is second to none is the procedure of Mr. E. A. Barnett's in Corrigan's book. Here are sections (1), (2) and (3):—

(1) Write out half a lead of the method, and mark off the in-course (+) and out-of-course (−) rows.

(2) See whether each section is symmetrical, i.e., that places, if any, made between the first and second rows are matched by similar places between the third and fourth rows of the section. If so, consider only rows with the treble in the odd place, but in an asymmetrical section rows with treble in the even place must also be proved.

(3) Examine the rows to be proved to see if any pairs of bells coursing one another in the p.c. (2-3, 3-5, 5-7, 7-8, 8-6, 6-4, 4-2) occur in the bottom row beneath a coursing pair in the top row. If the two rows are of the same nature, both pairs must be the same way round; if they are of opposite nature the pairs must be in reverse order. If none are found, the section has a clean proof. E.g.,

CAMBRIDGE—3-4 up

2 6 1 4 3 8 5 7 +

6 2 1 4 8 7 3 5 +

Rows with two examples

5 7 7 8

3 5 5 7

both in the same order.

LINDUM—5-6 up

6 4 2 8 1 5 3 7 +

4 8 6 2 1 5 3 7 −

Rows with one example

in opposite order. Top pair may always be regarded as in correct order and the lower pair as reversed.

The procedure to extract the F.C.H. by means of the 'chart' is as follows: Take the +ve pair (Cambridge) first.

1. (1) Place the paired figures 5-7 on Scale A opposite the two dots on Scale B and read off the numbers on Scale B opposite the numbers of the bells on Scale A as they occur in the remainder of the row—ignoring the treble. (So long as the order is kept the same in this and the next operation, it does not matter what the order is. Best, however, I think to maintain some system, so shall we, say, read the figures from the rows in descending order, i.e., 83462.) This gives the row 15324.

(2) Repeat this procedure with 3-5 against the dots and read 12453.

(3) Place 7-8 against the dots and this time read off the bells on Scale A against the rows 15324 and 12453 on Scale B which have just been obtained by (1) and (2). This gives 65243 whence the F.C.H. 32546 is obtained in the usual manner.

[Look at the bottom row and say to yourself 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 in that order, writing as you do so the bell in the top row appearing above each figure.—E.A.B.]

To find the second F.C.H. which occurs from these two pairs it is necessary to make use of the arrows on Scale A, employing figures obtained at the opposite ends of the arrows in all cases. Procedure:—

II. (1) As 5 is arrowed to 6 and 7 to 8, place 6-8 against the dots and read off on the arrowed scale the figures on Scale B, 51342.

(2) The arrowed Scale A gives 4-6 in place of 3-5, so place these numbers against the dots and read off 54213 on the arrowed scale.

(3) As (3) above. (F.C.H. 46253.)

In the case of methods such as Lindum where, as is more usual, one row is +ve and the other −ve, the first row must be read off on the ordinary procedure I and the second arrowed II; then (3) will give the F.C.H.

To extract the second F.C.H. read the first row arrowed II and the second ordinary I. Proceed as (3).

The extraction of F.C.H.'s can be achieved in a few seconds, without any awkward transpositions, once stage 3 of Corrigan's (Mr. E. A. Barnett's) procedure has been reached.

LOCATION OF FALSENESS

Full information is given in Mr. E. A. Barnett's procedure, but it may be noted that falseness can be located quite simply by using the coursing circle (Scale A on the chart) and by observing the pivot bell at the first half-lead of the method.

Take first the Cambridge example, which we discovered has the F.C.H.'s 32546 and 46253 with the paired bells 5 7 +.

If I may quote Mr. Barnett:—
'32546 was found from 5 7 This means 3 5.'

that the p.c.l.h. having the tenors in 5ths and 7ths at the l.h. (top row) is false against the lead of 32546 with tenors in 3rds and 5ths (bottom row) at the l.h.'

Straightforward enough!

Now to find the places where 5 7 — cause falseness, note that 3 is the pivot and substitute the pairs equidistant from it on the opposite side of the coursing circle (Scale A), i.e., for 5 7 read 42, for 35 read 23. Therefore in place of 5 7 in the quotation substitute 4 2 and 46253 in place of 32546.

With Lindum the F.C.H.'s are 53624 and 65432, the paired bells causing falseness 8 6 + with 7 as a pivot.

For the first location keep 8 6 unchanged. For the second pair we note that 4 2 is equidistant from either side of the pivot and therefore remains unchanged. The falseness is therefore located by substituting 8 6 for 5 7 in the quotation with a F.C.H. 53624.

For the second F.C.H. keep the bottom pair unchanged, and note that the pair corresponding to 8 6 with 7 as pivot is 3 5. The substitutions in the quotation are therefore 3 5 for 5 7 and 65432 for 32546.

Although the two F.C.H.'s extracted as above are all that are necessary 'for proof of a peal with tenors together,' for the sake of completeness it may be as well to point out that each of them has a reciprocal. These are found as follows:—

If the F.C.H. was, say, 43652, then—
'A. The original e.g., 43652

B. The course-head by which A must be transposed to produce rounds 63254.'

The second reciprocal is found in a similar manner.

For the location of falseness, in the quotation given in that section note that

'B 32546 is located the converse way—the 3-5 p.c.l.h. is false against the 5-7 l.h. of 32546'; and similarly with the second reciprocal.

(32546 is the reciprocal of 32546.)

THOSE I REMEMBER

By ERNEST MORRIS

MY wife 'Beatie'—feared yet loved by all ringers (see 'R.W.', March 21st, page 189), the only one who could meet the 'Sergeant-Major' on equal terms and tell the late inspector Harold Poole when and where to get off!—had an uncle, George Woodiss, who at one time was well known in Surrey and Middlesex as a very fine ringer who had rung over 100 peals and (I believe) called Holt's Original from every bell. He came to our wedding and I met him a few times but never in a peal. I did, however, with his son, the late Fred Woodiss, also a good ringer. On one occasion we were at Twickenham when Fred came to see cousin 'Beatie,' and incidentally brought along a composition of Grandsire Triples by the Rev. Canon G. H. Ridout, of Johannesburg, who was on a visit to this country after an absence of 20 years in South Africa, and who was looking for someone to call it for him! Fred Woodiss fixed up for this at Benhilton, Surrey, with the old Canon ringing the fourth, and I called the peal, much to the gratification of the old man, who was almost on the verge of collapse at the finish. He was so delighted, however, that he gave us a fine tea, and I believe he had a tablet put up in the tower, though I have never seen it.

'DON'T IT STINK!'

A recent invitation to ring in a peal at Monks Kirby, Warwicks, recalls an amusing episode of some 30 years ago. I was never very clever on a bicycle, but on that occasion, after going well from Leicester through Sharnford, we turned into a very rutty by-road. The late C. Henry Webb was just in front of me, and when turning the corner my back wheel slipped into a deep rut, throwing me aside—my front wheel caught Harry's back wheel, throwing him clean off his cycle. He disappeared completely into a deep ditch of stagnant water covered with fungus, nettles and undergrowth. When he reappeared his first remark was: 'Phew, don't it stink!' He was in a dreadful state, covered with slime and mud, and we spent the next half hour cleaning him down as best we could with tufts of grass, to the accompaniment of salubrious language about cycles, cyclists, and me in particular! However, all's well that ends well—we carried on and rang a good peal of New Cambridge. Harry Webb was an accomplished carver in stone and slate, and many peal tablets all over the country testify to his ability. At one time, with his two sons, he gave many exhibitions of his skill on handbells in tune ringing. He also was a good penman and wrote records in many peal books.

On another occasion at Monks Kirby we rang an excellent peal of London Surprise, which I conducted. After the peal, the late Joc White, of Coventry, who was in it, came to me and said: 'Do you know, Ernest, I thought Fred Dexter was calling the peal [he was on the tenor] till after two hours I noticed you call a bob!'. In that peal the late W. H. J. Hooton took part, also the late H. J. Poole and the late Frank Pervin.

We have lately heard a lot about Hoar Cross and peals at that glorious church with its fine heavy six bells. When I went there they were a different proposition to what they are today—on new frame, ball-bearings, and nice circle of ropes. At that time the ropes fell in a difficult, erratic 'circle'—1, 2, 3 fairly close, the fourth some distance away, with the fifth and sixth on either side of a large clock case. The fifth rope came down about 3 inches from the wall, so as I am blind on the right side, I elected to ring this and call the peal. I never saw the tenor ringer but once during the peal when, in the last 720, I dodged round to see if he was still O.K.! It was rung by that master ringer, Joe T. Dyke, so I knew it would be in its place, which it was throughout.

'WHAT'S TRANSITION?'

After several years' absence—too long!—I recently met that cheery and boisterous ringer of Nuneaton—James F. Clark, jun. Twenty and thirty years ago we rang many peals together, and 'Jim' was always the life and soul of the party. On one occasion at Loughborough Foundry we were ringing Bristol Surprise with F. H. Dexter conducting. For some reason we got in a bit of a fog, and in the excitement Shirley Burton, who was next to Jim, said: 'You do transition'; to which Jim, in his usual racy manner, said out loud: 'What the 'ell's transition?' It made us all laugh except the Sergeant-Major, who raged and stormed—called us a lot of blank school kids, ought to be in a blank asylum, and similar terms. Anyway, he sorted us out and scored the peal. In 1924 I called the extent of Ilkeston Spliced T.B. Major (9,120), and Jim rang the tenor to this clothed in a thick white jumper because he was cold!

In my last article I mentioned E. Harry Stonely and his eccentricities. When the extent of Cambridge Major was first attempted I was chosen as umpire, but it failed after four hours. In the subsequent attempt I was roped in the band, and we rang the 12,896 in 7 hours 35½ minutes. After all this, Harry Stonely wanted to ring a course of Bristol for practice! I cannot repeat (or would it be printable?) what the Sergeant-Major said in answer to this!

On one occasion we went to Colston Bassett, Notts, and rang a peal of Cambridge. Shirley Burton took F. H. D. in his sidecar with me on the back. Returning home after the peal something went wrong with the works; and there we were, miles from anywhere, pushing the machine up hill and coasting down, but despite all efforts the thing would not go. So we had to leave it at a farmhouse and walk 11 miles to Nottingham to catch the midnight mail train to Leicester. Can words ever describe what the Sergeant-Major said about 'sparking plugs,' 'motor-cycles' and all things connected therewith? We arrived home about 3 a.m. In a recent issue Colin Walker wrote about my Beatie and the fear she puts into all ringers—can one imagine what I got on my arrival home at such an hour! And Mrs. Dexter too had a few 'kind words' to Harry Broughton whom she had routed out to see where F. H. D. was, and then some more to poor old Fred!

SOUTH WIGSTON, LEICS

Accompanied by friends from Leicester, South Wigston ringers had their annual outing on May 3rd. The first tower was the ground-floor ring of six at Brinklow, Warwickshire. Then came the fine-toned bells of Stow-on-the-Wold, with its 27 cwt. tenor. Bourton-on-the-Water bells, after having been recast and rehung by the Loughborough Foundry, are now a delight to ring on. The tenor weighs 14 cwt., and a course of Cambridge did ample justice to the bells. Unfortunately, the visit was marred by the breaking of a stay.

Broadwell, said to be the organiser's tit-bit, is an anti-clockwise five, with the tenor twice as loud as the rest put together and also quite half a tone flat! Next came Chipping Campden with its ring of eight and (by reputation) an unringable tenor. The regular tenor ringer had sense enough to stay downstairs.

Compensations came at Cheltenham, where Grandsire Cinques and Plain Bob Maximus were rung on bells that were a delight to ring, and finally, Stratford-on-Avon, surely the best-toned 10-bell tower in the country, which provided a perfect ending to a pleasant day.

Thanks are accorded incumbents, tower captains and Roger Stratton, the organiser. It is hoped to arrange a similar outing in the autumn—as Cupid was very busy in the back row!

MARCH, CAMBS

Bell-ringers from St. Wendreda's Church, March, together with friends from Peterborough and Whittlesey, held their outing on May 10th, when they rang at churches in Lincolnshire, Leicestershire and Rutland.

The highlight of the day was a visit to Messrs. Taylor's foundry at Loughborough, and the inspection of the various departments proved extremely interesting. Another look-forward-to event was the experience of ringing the campanile bells, which the party considered well worth while.

Churches visited during the day were Edenham (a delightful eight), Silcby (a musical octave and a very fine church), and Whissendine and Empingham, two charming villages, the former church possessing six bells with a long rope-draught, and the latter a good ring of six where the tourists stayed for nearly an hour—and a-half.

Thanks are due to the clergy and tower-keepers for permission to ring their bells; and last but not least, to Messrs. Taylor and Co.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Mr. Frank Oakshott Welcomed

Three other meetings, a ringers' wedding and a bus strike all on the same day in the same area do not help to make a big attendance. The Leatherhead District's welcome home meeting for Mr. Frank Oakshott was held despite the difficulties, and as is usually the case where attendance is small, those who did attend had a thoroughly good time. Ringing from 3 till 4.30 at Christ Church, Epsom, was followed by the Guild's form of service, the lesson being read by the ringing curate. The Vicar had the dual role of taking the service and playing the organ. A special tea awaited the ringers in the Church Hall, at which a company of 21 sat down, the seat of honour being taken by the returned wanderer and local captain, Mr. Frank Oakshott.

After tea the Vicar, on behalf of the Guild and the local band, welcomed Frank back, and his remarks were endorsed by the District Master, Mr. H. V. Young. In his reply, Mr. Oakshott said that he had had a wonderful time in Australia and that the ringers and people out there had been most hospitable. He would always cherish happy memories of the visit. At the short business meeting one new member was elected.

Ringling then continued, including plain hunting, Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge until 8.30 p.m. W. P.

OBITUARY

MR. J. G. MACDOUGAL

Mr. J. G. Macdougall, who died on May 7th at Oldchurch Hospital, Romford, Essex, aged 81 years, was an active ringer at St. Andrew's, Hornchurch, up to the time of his death.

'Mac' literally passed on in harness, for while ringing for Evensong and standing in for a three-course touch of Grandsire Triples he subsequently found himself unable to rise for bellry prayers. It transpired that he had been seized by a stroke. With some difficulty he was got down the tower and removed to hospital, where he was making an excellent recovery, but unfortunately pneumonia set in and this proved fatal.

For 38 years Mac had been a loyal member of the St. Andrew's band, being introduced to the tower by the late Arthur Rolph and taught to ring by John Dale. For many years he was tower secretary. He was especially proud of his connection with the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The funeral service was at St. Andrew's Church on May 12th, followed by cremation at the Corbets Tye Crematorium. There were no flowers by special request, and the bells were rung open, also by special request.

AN APPRECIATION

The last sentence of 'Mac's' obituary notice is synonymous with his character—'open bells by special request'—for Mac was a merry character: jolly, kind and thoughtful, he was most popular wherever he went.

Thirty-eight years of ringing in a tower is a record of which anyone can be proud, and Mac's 38 years are a record of loyalty and devotion.

We shall miss him very much at Hornchurch: the rotund figure striding vigorously up the hill for Evensong, the merry twinkle in his eye, his cheerfulness and sincerity were all too much of a part of the local scene not to be missed.

The last active member of the old Hornchurch band, Mac's passing is the end of another chapter in the history of that grand eight in the 'Church on the Hill.' May the younger band following on find inspiration in his sincerity, service and devotion. F. V. G.

The final section of Mr. Barnett's procedure is worth noting.

'It is possible on occasion to find the f.c.h.s from a given section without performing operations 4-5.' (The alternative in Mr. Barnett's procedure to using the chart.) 'If the alternate changes differ from one another by one pair of bells only, as in all sections of Kent Treble Bob:

'If the bells concerned are a coursing pair, the resulting f.c.h. is always 24365; if they are one removed from a coursing pair, the f.c.h.s will always be 32546 and 46253; if they are two removed from a coursing pair, no falseness will arise.'
