SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING

THE Committee appointed at Dublin to conduct the review of Sunday service bands and ringing have got through the difficult preliminaries and, as will be seen from this issue of 'The Ringing World,' have circulated to the territorial Associations the 21 questions on which they require information. The task now devolves upon the Associations and through them on to the Districts. Because of the importance we attach to this inquiry we print in this issue the full correspondence that is in the hands of each territorial secretary. This must be disseminated as quickly as possible and each tower must be ready and willing to co-operate to the fullest extent.

The Committee in their letter state: 'We are anxious that surveys should be factual and that no attempt be made to make the state of Sunday service ringing appear either better or worse than it really is.' The most difficult of questions to answer, and one which the Committee regard as very important, is 'Number of towers where ringing is completely satisfactory, i.e., properly ringing most of the bells twice each Sunday.' To come under this heading as 'completely satisfactory,' some would regard one of the four Standard Methods in Triples or Major and Doubles and Minor with cover bells as unsatisfactory on eight bells. Examination of our quarter peal columns—it can be taken most of these performances are by Sunday service bands—reveals the prevalence of the introduction of cover bells. Then again it is assumed that towers ringing call changes would be regarded as unsatisfactory, but here again if the ringing is rhythmic it would be regarded in the eyes of the Church as meeting the requirements of the congregation as a call to worship. These are questions which Associations will have to decide for themselves and it is possible that the Committee will give them some guidance.

Fortunately there are many towers in each Association's area where no difficulties will arise in answering this question, but their number will be more than trebled by borderline towers who will have a difficulty. The bells might be manned to 100 per cent., but the ringing could not be regarded as fulfilling the desires of the Exercise. Probably the definition would be nearer to satisfaction if the number of ringers regularly attending who were able to ring a method on a working bell were equal to the number of ropes. Reports of Guilds and Associations with lists of members attached give no guide to proficiency. In many Associations membership is swelled by admitting people as soon as they can ring rounds competently. Another difficulty is the desultory Sunday service ringer; on paper a band looks highly proficient with its quota of experienced ringers, but when the test of attendance is applied it will be found that probationers are endeavouring to fill the gaps.

What should be the role of probationers in Sunday service ringing? As soon as a probationer has reached the stage when he or she can ring rounds tolerably there should be an opportunity to take some minor part in the Sunday service ringing. In half an hour's ringing for service five minutes should be allocated to probationers, and not merely tolling the five minutes bell. It is essential not only for maintaining interest but for instilling as soon as possible a sense of vocation. While we ring bells for pleasure, there is behind it the sense of responsibility and duty and in many ringers' minds an act of worship.

The tower we feel sorry for is the highly proficient one with no probationers. That tower's period of usefulness to the Church is limited. Where there is young life and enthusiasm, even if the ringing to-day does not come under the heading of 'satisfactory,' there is hope for the future. Enthusiasm, if properly led, and we would add with a sense of churchmanship prevailing in the tower, will enable a tower in two or three years to fulfil its proper obligations. The Yorkshire survey places first in the factors which have contributed to success—church membership, and if this is kept constantly to the fore in recruitment and among members of the Exercise, then we are progressing along the right path. While there are ringers who proudly display their lists of hundreds of towers they have visited, Sunday should not be spent in touring the countryside 'grabbing' here and there, except on holiday. The obligation for 48 to 50 weeks of the year is the home tower. Then ringing is approaching what is desired by the Church—the bells being rung to the glory of God.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Lewisham District

Owing to the incidence of holidays, the allure of a fine ring of ten bells in a magnificent church attracted only 20 ringers to St. George's, Beckenham, on July 26th, for the Lewisham District's quarterly meeting. Ringing during the afternoon and evening was directed by Mr. A. S. Richards (Ringing Master).

The service, full Evensong, held in the church, was conducted by the Rector (Rev. T. C. Hammond). The organist added greatly to the tone of a very pleasant office.

After tea, the business meeting was held in the Church Hall, Mr. A. S. Richards presiding. Two ringers were elected practising members of the Association.

St. Luke's, Bromley Common, was chosen for the annual District meeting, to be held on October 25th, and the date of the combined meeting with the Surrey Association confirmed—October 11th, at St. Alfege's, Greenwich.

Information was given of the dedication of a new church at Nottingham: one of the few (perhaps the only) post-war constructions with provision of facilities for the possible installation of a ring of eight bells, at some future date.

Votes of thanks to the Rector, the organist, and to Mrs. Rawlings for arranging the meeting, and an appreciation of the presence of Mr. J. Bennett, of Grundisburgh, concluded the business.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION Eastern District

In spite of the unaccountable absence of a 'notice of meeting' in the columns of 'The Ringing World,' the meeting at Great Hormead on August 16th was quite a success. Advertisement within the District brought a total of 18 ringers representing 12 towers. These were not all able to be present before tea, however, and only a few were able to enjoy the service conducted by the Vicar, who gave a very interesting and unusual address based upon bells and their history.

It was a pity there were no more present to enjoy the fine tea which the local ladies are so expert at providing.

From the ringing viewpoint the numbers present were quite adequate for the small ringing chamber, and everybody was catered for by Grandsire, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, Treble Bob and Cambridge. The local band were given as much opportunity as possible to gain practice with more experienced change-ringers—an opportunity which very rarely comes their way, as their calling permits no regular summer practice and the weather and isolated position discourage visitors during the winter.

Ringing continued until shortly after 8 p.m., when the meeting was adjourned and translated to 'another place.'

T. J. S.

ASFORDBY, LEICESTERSHIRE.—On Aug. 21st, 1.260 Plain Bob Minor: Miss C. Wheeler 1. Mrs. D. Day (first 'inside') 2. H. T. Bonshor 3. J. Day 4. R. H. Cook 5. J. H. Cook (cond.) 6. A compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Manton, of Melton Mowbray, on the birth of a son (Stephen Richard). Also a wedding anniversary compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Day.

WEDDING

Mr. A. Anthony Jaques — Miss Irene M. Caswell

The wedding took place, at Nantwich Parish Church, on August 16th of Mr. Alan Anthony Jaques, of Westbury-on-Trym, Bristol, and Miss Irene Margaret Caswell, of Nantwich. Both are local ringers.

The bridegroom and the best man, also three guests from Nottingham, took part in the pre-service ringing, and the local ringers rang to welcome the bride to the church.

The service, conducted by the Rector (Rev. E. M. B. Southwell) and accompanied by the organist (Mr. H. G. Kirkham), included the Guild bell-ringers' hymn 'Praise my soul.' The bride, who was dressed in white, was attended by one bridesmaid and two small attendants.

After the service the bells were again rung and 'fired.' The reception was held at The Cheshire Cat. The bride is a former member of the Girl Guides, who formed the guard of honour.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaques spent their honeymoon at Torquay.

Mr. W. A. J. Knight, of Gillingham, who on August 23rd conducted his 100th peal, conducted his first peal (Stedman Triples) at Gillingham on October 16th, 1937. Of the band who rang on that occasion there are only two other survivors—Mr. C. E. J. Norris and Mr.
Francis J. Cheal. Mr. Norris rang in the centenary peal.

BELFRY

St. Mary Cray band was impressed by the masterly way Mr. S. Hardy handled his bell in the ringing for his 81st birthday. 'Many more happy hours' ringing, Steve.'

Bells will be heard prior to the evening service to be broadcast from St. Paul's Church, Bedford, on Sunday, September 14th, at 7.45 p.m. in the Home Service. The captain of ringers is Mr. S. Foskett.

Mr. R. D. Short, of Bridgwater, rang in his 1,000th tower on August 23rd. It was at Great Tew during a half day's outing arranged by Oxfordshire friends. He writes that he is greatly indebted to many friends in various parts of the country with whom he had joined in tours and outings to make this total possible.

Mr. William Shone (82), who has completed
55 years as a ringer at Heswall Parish Church Cheshire, was honoured on August 24th when a peal tablet inscribed by hand and framed in oak recording his long and faithful service was unveiled in the belfry by the Rector, the Rev.
Kenneth Lec. The peal, 5,040 Minor in three methods, was rung by members of the Wirral Branch on May 31st, and was the first to be rung in the tower since the bells were augmented. Paying tribute to Mr. Shone's fine record, the Rector said he regarded his art as one dedicated to the service of God. His example had inspired them to give their best and to feel a sense of duty and responsibility.

GOSSIP

Of the 11 beginners who started ringing at Dereham,
Norfolk, last October, two—
G. Buckle and T. Pett—rang their first peal (Minor in two methods) at Gressenhall on August 13th. Gressenhall was chosen for the first peal on account of tenor weights—10 cwt.
as against the home tower's 23 cwt. We congratulate Mr. G. P. Adams and others at Dereham on good spadework.

The peal of Bristol Surprise rung at Shepton
Mallet by Mr. David Hoare's 'Wednesday band' was the second peal in the method rung by a resident band of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. The other peal was at Taunton in 1935. Four unsuccessful attempts for this peal had been made during the past year.

With his words of congratulation to the band who rang the peal at East Woodhay, Hants, on August 17th, Col. Pearce, a churchwarden, brought a jug of iced lemonade, which was much appreciated. Six ringers who work on his estate ring at East Woodhay, and the Colonel has presented each of them with a badge engraved with the name of the estate. It is doubtful if any other estate in England so recognises its ringers.

Correction.—Mr. Francis R. Lowe writes re peal of Kent and Oxford T.B. Royal, rung at Duffield on August 2nd ('R.W.', page 538), that he rang the second and not the third in this peal, as submitted, and also 'circled the tower' on this bell. The footnote of 'First for all' is also wrong, as he has rung both Major and Royal before in this variation. The last peal of Kent and Oxford Royal he rang was at Derby Cathedral on May 20th, 1950. This, incidentally, corrects a statement on 'treble ten' at the Cathedral, made in a recent 'Leader' by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead.

COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING APPROACH ASSOCIATIONS

To the Editor

Dear Sir,—I enclose a copy of a letter and the enclosure thereto which have just been sent out to general secretaries of territorial Guilds, Associations and Societies whose names appear in the Ringers' Diary. As the work of this Committee is the concern of every tower and ringer in the land, and as much work in a limited time is involved, we shall be grateful if you will kindly publish this correspondence so that members of the various Associations will have time before their next meeting to give thought to the matter. It is hoped that they will then encourage their Associations to undertake the survey requested since we believe that apart from producing reliable statistics, the Associations and their work will benefit from the interest stimulated and the detailed knowledge acquired concerning the state of ringing throughout their area.

It will help if you will also publish the list of territorial Associations which have been circulated since, quite possibly, there may be some that have been inadvertently omitted. If so, I shall be grateful if their secretaries will write to me for details. I should also be pleased to send copies of the correspondence to any other Associations or Societies whose areas do not include towers already covered by the Associations which have been circulated. Non-territorial Associations can help by sending to Mr. Gray lists of comments and suggestions (Nos. 1 to 5).

We are encouraged that work on this survey has already started in two Association areas and another Association has offered wholehearted co-operation.—Yours sincerely,

NORMAN CHADDOCK, Convener,
Central Council Committee on Sunday Service Ringing.

TO 39 TERRITORIAL ASSOCIATIONS

Dear Sir,—In order to assist the above Committee to carry out a survey on Sunday service bands and ringing with a view to helping and acting as a 'clearing house of information' between Associations, Guilds and Societies, we shall be grateful if you will kindly supply the information asked for on the enclosed form, if possible not later than December 31st, 1958. Further copies of this form will be sent to you on request to Mr. Chaddock.

It is realised that this will involve much work by those your Association request to prepare the information, but we feel it is well worth while and that some additional interest will be stimulated in helping struggling bands and individuals in their efforts to progress. We also feel that Associations and their work will benefit by their carrying out this survey.

Page 387 of 'The Ringing World,' dated June 13th, 1958, gives some indication of the possible work of the above-named Committee, but without your help, co-operation and suggestions, little can be achieved.

We, therefore, earnestly appeal to your Association to do all in its power to help this Committee in carrying out its task.

Possibly you may be able to combine this survey with some other worthwhile project concerning the work of your Association. Whatever form of survey your Association may decide to undertake must be left in their hands, but the information we request will be of great assistance in estimating the extent of the problem and will indicate possible remedies.

A similar survey recently carried out in Yorkshire yielded valuable information and we enclose a few extracts therefrom which may be of general interest. In this survey the towers were tabulated across the top of the page and questions down the left-hand side, to facilitate the preparation of the summary.

We are anxious that surveys should be factual and that no attempt be made to make the state of Sunday service ringing appear either better or worse than it really is.

Will you kindly bring this request before your Association at their next meeting and let the convener know, in due course, whether they agree to undertake such a survey. Results of surveys, when completed, should be sent to Mr. P. Gray, Orana, Eastmead Lane, Stoke Bishop, Bristol, 9.—Yours sincerely,

PHILIP GRAY, REV. J. SCOTT,
REV. G. THURLOW, FRANK B. LUFKIN,
(Convener) NORMAN CHADDOCK,
17, Herringthorpe Grove, Broom, Rotherham.

FORMS FOR SURVEY

To assist Associations in completing their Survey, 'The Ringing World' is having printed forms similar to that appearing in this issue.

Will secretaries please write, stating numbers required, to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Onslow Street, Guildford.

EXTRACTS FROM REPORT ON SURVEY IN YORKSHIRE

Many ringers and even vicars refer to the clergy's lack of interest.

Only two towers have asked Local Education Authorities to provide an instructor, and in both cases one has been appointed. Few people realise that this is possible provided a regular weekly attendance of about eight can be maintained.

Whilst an improvement calls for a sacrifice by town ringers on behalf of remote country districts, the former may ultimately benefit by an influx of ringers due to movement to towns for work, etc.

There is need for organised effort to create interest in parishes, in Church groups such as youth clubs, Scouts, Guides, etc.

There is a failure to realise that ringers can be a useful group within the Church, and that ringing provides an opportunity to occupy youth club members, etc., and retain them within the fellowship of the Church.

Many clergy realise the value of change-ringing and methods as a means of stimulating interest in a band. For long term success get on to change-ringing as soon as possible, making use of handbells initially.

SUGGESTIONS FOR IMPROVING SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING

Demonstrations and recruiting talks to likely recruits, parish authorities, etc.

Opportunity to receive instruction from proper tutor.

Very many replies strongly pleaded for the above.

Bring visiting teams to help local ringers (many replies).

Recruit from regular churchgoers (a good number of replies).

Clergy the key to the situation. Approach theological colleges. Ordination candidates should be shown how valuable bell-ringing can be.

Evangelisation of ringers.

More opportunity for learners at ringing meetings.

Encourage attendance at ringing meetings.

Get more ringers to attend church.

Basic reassessment of spirit in which we ring. 'Wean the youngsters from Rock-'n'-Roll—it's a crusade that's called for.'

Get Associations to think in terms of bands rather than individuals.

Careful selection of recruits.

Virile leadership.

Missionary work by good ringer/instructor.

Raise a fund for travelling expenses of instructors.

Open practices for less experienced and learners (organised).

Keep bells in better mechanical condition and make belfries pleasant places to be in.

Teach recruits whilst you have a good band.

More publicity (of the proper kind) for the Exercise—church literature, press, television, B.B.C., etc.

Secure the help and co-operation of education authorities.

FACTORS WHICH HAVE CONTRIBUTED TO SUCCESS

1. Church membership, etc.
2. Old faithfuls.
3. Friendship between ringers.
4. Keen and able leader.
5. Team spirit.
6. Keen youth.
7. Help from other ringers.
8. Interest.
9. Patience.
10. Discipline.
11. Cheery, friendly and understanding attitude.
12. Family ringers.
13. Vicar (personal interest).
14. Regularity.
15. Regular practice on fixed practice night.
16. Pay them.
17. Change-ringing.
18. Handbells.
19. Contests.

REASONS MAKING IT DIFFICULT TO RETAIN A FULL TEAM

1. Lack of interest, or apathy.
2. No instructor or leader (33 per cent. cannot get an instructor).
3. Shifts.
4. Counter-attractions—weekend motoring, etc.
5. Youth not interested in church or ringing.
6. Unsuitable tower captain.
7. Ringers not properly recognised.
8. Sunday sport (cricket).
9. Moving population.
10. Too tying.
11. Ringing for pleasure on weekdays only. (A hobby only.)
12. Homework.
13. Ignorance of how interesting ringing can be once a certain stage is reached.
14. Vicar.
15. Poor ringing conditions or bells. (Subsidence in one case.)
16. Slowness at acquiring ropesight.
17. Casual, come-and-go attitude.
18. Travelling distance.
19. Public complaints.
20. Not maintaining sufficient numbers to allow for an occasional Sunday off.

19. No. of towers where position worsened in recent years
20. No. of towers where position improved in recent years
21. No. of towers where help is required

Questions marked * are regarded as very important.

Please attach lists of:—

1. Suggestions for improving Sunday service ringing.
2. Important factors which have contributed to success.
3. Reasons making it difficult to retain full teams.
4. Reasons making it difficult to obtain an instructor and to obtain recruits.
5. (a) Number of meetings held each year.
(b) Average attendance.
(c) Number of meetings specially for learners.
(d) Number of meetings specially for advanced ringing.

For the above it will help if you will use similar headings to those used in the enclosed extract from a provisional report on a survey in Yorkshire, adding additional items that may arise. We feel that these lists will be as useful as the figures we ask for.

Any additional observations which might help the Committee will be most welcome.

NOTE.—In cases of difficulty columns A and B can be left blank.

VANCOUVER HONOURS MEMORY OF MR. A. C. LIMPUS

On Sunday, July 13th, a unique event took place in the ringing chamber at The Cathedral of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, Vancouver, British Columbia.

A plaque was unveiled to commemorate the work of Alfred Claude Limpus, who died in 1952. It was solely by his perseverance and hard work, amidst amazing difficulties that dogged him at every turn over a period of some six years, that Vancouver was honoured to have the first ring of bells in all Canada, hung for change ringing.

The story was fully recorded in the pages of 'The Ringing World' on August 18th and August 25th, 1916, by Mr. Limpus. It surely must be the most amazing story to be encountered in the whole history of the 'art,' in the endeavours of one man to arrange to have bells hung 'English style' when a set of seven bells had already travelled some 20,000 miles from France (there was no Panama Canal in those days) and had been hung for ringing in the Continental manner.

The eight bells were hung in their present form in 1909 and the tower remained the only one in Western Canada (where English style ringing is practised) until a second ring arrived, for Christchurch Cathedral, in Victoria, some 27 years later. The first peal to be rung in all Canada, and the only peal so far rung in this tower, took place on Dominion Day, July 1st, 1911, and was officially designated as a 'Coronation Peal' by the late King George V. himself. The peal was of 5,040 changes of Grandsire Triples. Since that time to the present day the tower's ringers have continued to celebrate Royal occasions and to correspond with members of the Royal Family.

The commemorative plaque was made in Gloucestershire, England, out of solid English oak, all the lettering being deeply hand-carved to ensure an everlasting historical record. It was unveiled by the late Mr. Limpus' eldest daughter, who had made a special trip to Vancouver from her home in San Francisco, U.S.A., for the occasion. The Rector of the Cathedral gave a short address, in which he affirmed the support of the church to the ringing of their bells, and expressed how particularly glad he was that the present ringers had thought fit to raise some memorial to the late Mr. Limpus.

The Vancouver Society of Change Ringers were fortunate in having presented to them by the Limpus family a set of handbells that had belonged to Mr. Limpus, and also a much-treasured copy of the specially printed and bound edition of 'History of the Installation of the Bells of Holy Rosary Cathedral, Vancouver, B.C., and the peal rung thereon.' A copy was presented to the Queen Mother, Queen Elizabeth, in 1948, and another rests in the Vancouver City archives.

The transcription on the plaque reads:—

'This records that solely through the inspiration of
ALFRED CLAUDE LIMPUS
1868—1952

The bells in this tower were the first to be hung in Canada for change ringing.

ALLIANCE METHODS

Dear Sir.—Mr. Vernon Taylor will be glad to know that A. G. Driver's papers show Algar-kirk Alliance Minor was published in 'The Ringing World' of January 24th, 1936. He lists 74 'ordinary' and 70 'special' methods, and it is evident that he had done some research into the latter before the 'Very Little' methods with which they splice had been published as Bastow and Kent Little Court, as the former is shown under the name 'Ganny Gunter,' first given to it in 'The Ringing World' of June 24th, 1921. 'I suspect,' Mr. Driver remarked in another book, 'the originator is Rev. E. B. James.'

I expect the Methods Committee have all the above methods but I will confirm this direct with Mr. Felstead.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

THE BRIDGNORTH TENOR

Dear Sir.—The weight of St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth, tenor, 18 cwt. 18 lb., was supplied by Taylors, who rehung these bells about five years ago, and is, therefore, the correct weight.

I gather that this is a Warner bell and it is probable, therefore, that the 'noble lady' never had as great a middle-age spread to shed as Mr. Morris supposes, for Warners were notoriously prone to exaggerate their weights.

St. Nicholas', Liverpool, old tenor, for example, was stated to weigh 39½ cwt., but was found to weigh several hundredweights less, and this was by no means an isolated instance. I am afraid that all Warner's published weights are suspect.

The divergence between their published weights and reality is often so great that one wonders whether Warners weighed the clapper and headstock along with the bell, for there would seem to be nothing to be gained by publishing weights which were palpably false.—Yours truly

R. H. DOVE.

Leeds.

Dear Sir, I was interested to see Mr. Morris' letter respecting the weight of the tenor at St. Leonard's, Bridgnorth, and can confirm that the weight I gave was taken from 'Dove.' I should guess that 18 cwt. 18 lb. is correct, though since the bells run so easily it is possible we were humping 21 cwt. around without knowing it. Perhaps Mr. H. G. Thomas could settle the question?

I can also confirm that I am a 'he' and not a 'her.' (No offence taken, of course!) It seems axiomatic that Ringing Masters are masculine in the same way that bells are feminine, not necessarily because of any superior prowess, but because (in my tower, at any rate) the masculine voice is better heard above the melee when we try Stedman Triples by kicking off with a single.—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL F. HALL.

IN APPRECIATION OF A PEAL

Dear Sir,—A very creditable peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at Hawkley on August 23rd. Several peals have been rung here since the bells were augmented to eight, some of which have provoked severe criticism from an unknown writer, thereby causing considerable disturbance in the minds of my well-known ringing friends.

I had the great joy of listening to this peal from beginning to end, and what a joy it was to hear such beautiful striking throughout the whole peal, not a blow wrong. This is the kind of peal ringing that does great credit to those who took part, and particularly to the Exercise at large, more especially as the peal was rung for the wedding of two local people—Miss Sylvia Scott to Mr. William Penny—who were delighted to hear the bells rung to beautifully. They were more than grateful to all who travelled such great distances to ring one of the best peals that has been rung here. I hope we shall have many more like it.—Yours sincerely,

CHARLES A. POUND.

Hawkley, Hants.

ECCELSFIELD HANDBELL RINGERS

Dear Sir,—We were very pleased to read the article by Mr. Thomas Ogden in the August 22nd issue of 'The Ringing World.' It gave an added incentive to our struggling band to hear that others were still alive and persisting in the fascinating hobby of tune-ringing on handbells.

Our own team began about 1910 with a set of 49 bells, and entered the appropriate division in contest work, though never quite pulling off a win. In 1926 they raised sufficient funds to purchase a fine set of bells—169 in all five chromatic octaves, with numerous duplicate and triplicate bells. These we still practise and perform with occasionally, though like other teams we have our ups and downs.

Our conductor and founder, Fred Whitham, gave up a short while ago owing to age, leaving us with a very extensive library of his arrangements, overtures, marches, waltzes, etc., of which we are very proud. We would very much like to contact other interested parties and have an interchange of ideas, music, etc., and so try to keep alive, as Mr. Ogden suggests, this art of handbell tune-ringing.—Yours sincerely,

WM. C. GREGORY.

ST. PETER'S, FRIMLEY, SURREY

Dear Sir,—We live and learn! 'The Wallington and Carshalton Times' would have us believe that ringing takes place here every Sunday, but they have been misinformed. In 1930 Taylors cast 10 bells in the diatonic scale and two half-notes for this tower, which is too frail to carry a ring of bells hung for ringing and they were hung 'dead' for chiming purposes by means of a clavier.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone.

HANDBELL MUSIC

Dear Sir,—I was very interested in the letters which have appeared in your columns during the past few weeks re handbell music.

I am over 91 years 'young' and have rung handbells for over 74 years, giving programmes in various places in this area, Theatre Royal, and for different organisations such as church fetes, old folk's homes, Over Sixty clubs and also the Salvation Army hostels.

I have had teams of postmen, telegraph messengers, choir boys and old age pensioners, the last-named to the beginning of this year, when the bells we had were disposed of to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

Several of your correspondents have explained their method of teaching, all of which entails a lot of transposing from numbers, tonic sol-fa, Morse code, etc., to the actual note of each bell. Fifty years ago I devised a plan which avoided all that, with the result that youngsters who did not 'know music' were able to ring any tune after about four lessons.

As the bells are all marked on the handles, A, B, C, C sharp, etc., why call them 1, 2, 3 or 4, or '—', '—', '—', and have to transpose them back? I have a set of sheets for each ringer, the note, rest and each bar of the tune being played being marked. Where the ringer uses four bells the sheet shows in which hand to hold particular bells—two to be rung up and down and two rung sideways.

I have had teams of 4, 5, 6 and 8 ringers and written out sheets for 30 tunes for each of them—690 sheets in all.—Yours sincerely,

ROBERT E. YENDALL.

79, Fenham Hall Drive,
Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

Note.—Mr. Yendall encloses a photograph taken in 1934 of two Post Office handbell bands—that of the 1888 Postal Staff, with the 1934 messengers of which he was the leader. Mr. Yendall was a member of the 1888 band and they were led by the late Mr. J. McDonald.—Ed.

362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS

Dear Sir,—I have recently received a letter from 'The Maximus Syndicate' inviting me, not, as might be imagined, to stand in a 12-bell peal, but to take out a share in their football pool forecasting. The address is in Gosport, Hants—I wonder if some of the local ringers are behind it?

What prompted me to write, however, was a train of thought which led back to a famous ringer of the 19th century who ended his days at Gosport—James Hewitt. Amongst other things he rang the fifth to the only tower-bell peal in America, at Christ Church, Philadelphia, on June 9th, 1850, while touring with Barnum's 'Greatest Show on Earth,' but my particular interest is in an advertisement which appeared in 'The Bell News' in 1892:—

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d. Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. By James Hewitt, 16, Chapel Row, Gosport.

Has any reader a copy of this peal? I have never seen one, nor do I remember hearing anyone mention having done so.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

THE UNIVERSITIES' ASSOCIATION SUMMER TOUR

THIS year's U.A. tour was based on Yeovil and Sherborne from August 8th to 16th. Members began arriving on the Friday, and it became clear from the start that the U.A., which is never the easiest group to keep 'organised', would this time be even more difficult than usual, due to members being quartered in various hotels and guest houses in Yeovil. However, after a meal, all assembled at the first tower of the week, Preston Plunknett, with an easy-going, but very noisy, six.

By Saturday morning several more familiar faces had appeared on the scene, and the tour began in earnest. The first call was East Coker (8), beautifully situated by the 15th century manor, Coker Court. Then through a bewildering maze of lanes to Hardington Mandeville, where the light six were soon tapping merrily. After that came West Coker, a very pleasant eight; and after that—most important—lunch.

CLOCK HAMMER DEFEATS PEAL

Thus fortified, eight members departed to attempt a peal of Yorkshire Major at Ilminster where, sad to relate, after 21 hours' good ringing, an argument developed between the tenor and a clock hammer. The clock hammer won!

The rest of the party visited Evershot. Here is a lovely church with an equally lovely Bilbie six. The stay on the second was missing, and with less than five minutes to go, the tenor rope descended in coils on top of the ex-president of the Central Council! So the front five were lowered in a race against the tenor, but the tenor had the last word!

Then over the hills to Cattistock, where the huge tower dwarfs the 19th century church and the Whitechapel eight are superb. The ringing, however, did not live up to the bells. At this tower we were joined by 'one of our leading bell-founders,' who would surely have been gratified had he heard the cheer (from three ladies!) which followed the cry 'Paul's here!' After tea came Yetminster. Here the heavy six proved a handful with their long draught.

MOVE TO SHERBORNE

Sunday morning saw the heavyweight specialists ringing a quarter of Stedman at Sherborne while the remainder rang on the splendid ten at Yeovil—the lantern of the West—from 9 to 10 a.m., and then split up to ring on the heavy six at Montacute and the recently augmented six at Trent, with its flower-decked ringing chamber. In this village one member was able to visit her dream house—and a charming place it was!

In the afternoon, besides packing prior to moving to new headquarters at the Half Moon, Sherborne, the party had, for once, no fixed programme. Some visited Montacute House and 'rubbernecked' in the best American tradition; some lost themselves amid the wonderful Dorset lanes, while some visited West Bay, Bridport, where, Reuter reports, 'Jumbo' Seagar went swimming. What an odd coincidence that there should be notices warning of Portuguese men-of-war! At tea time, youngest non-ringing member, aged 2½, arrived in charge of Daddy, and adopted so many honorary aunts and uncles during the week that she has been very bored with home company since!

Service ringing took place at Bradford Abbas (6), Thornford (6) and Sherborne.

Monday found the party in smiling Somerset, with Queen Camel as the first call. These bells are superb, but the rise in peal was poor and the ringing undistinguished. However, a good 'lower' did much to redeem the situation. Castle Cary came next, a fair eight, and then Evercreech, where Ron Pocklington's tape-recorder captured some Cambridge Royal. Lunch was an impromptu affair, and the boot of one car resembled a kitchen dresser due to the amount of cutting up and buttering in progress.

AT GLASTONBURY

Pilton, clinging to its steep hillside, has a fine six, much improved since rehanging. On the hillside opposite, a straggling single-file, led by the indefatigable Randal Clouston, was observed making an inspection of a noble tithe barn. Then passing the Tor, we reached Glastonbury, where St. John's has a tall, swaying tower, and the good-toned, heavy eight are rough and sadly neglected, while the six in the dignified tower of St. Benedict's are handy and well-kept.

Over the hills then to Somerton, where the fine Warner six hang in an octagonal tower and the chief glory of the church is the 15th century roof. Dinner at the Half Moon was such a leisurely affair that most of the party were unable to visit Crewkerne practice.

Tuesday morning found us at Blandford Forum, with its pleasant eight, and then at Wimborne Minster, where the ninth clapper was still out. (This broke during a visit by the St. Albans Cathedral Society, and is said to be in the tender care of British Railways en route from the foundry!) Ringing was therefore confined to a curious assortment of eights and sixes. At Poole we were caught in a series of downpours, but the bells were a pleasant ten and the ringing quite fair. Then the weather relented, and the party drove to Bere Regis. While some rang, others admired the wonderfully carved and painted nave roof, surely one of the most astonishing to be found anywhere. Next the programme said 'Milton Abbas,' so to Milton Abbas we went—to find one bell! However, we soon found the eight at Milton Abbey, a gracious building set in lovely parkland, and now a school chapel. The noisy, light eight do not do justice to the church. The local practice at Sherborne was visited in the evening.

HONOURS EVEN

South Petherton came first on Wednesday, a huge octagonal central tower, with a deep-toned eight. Here we were joined by E. M. Atkins. Then on to Shepton Beauchamp (8). Here the men attempted to redeem their failure and rang their non-conducted touch of Stedman. Strange that the light should flicker and that so many otherwise healthy onlookers should sneeze when the bobs were due! Then the ladies took up the challenge and, despite desperate (and noisy!) attempts at sabotage by the men, succeeded in ringing a bob course of Bob Major. Honours were even!

After this came the only 12 of the tour—Taunton—where the richly-carved tower sways and the bells are tricky but sound well. From here, eight members left to ring a successful peal of London at Drayton, while the rest visited Creech St. Michael (6), Curry Rivel (8)—a lovely church—and Kingsbury Episcopi (6), with one of Somerset's finest towers.

In the evening, the annual meeting was in a more sober vein than usual. Concern was expressed that so few new faces were being seen on the tour. As Brian Threlfall had stated that he wished to resign as secretary-treasurer, there was considerable discussion as to a successor. Several new members were elected.

RAIN, FOG AND DENSE TRAFFIC

Thursday dawned wet; but undaunted, we reached Winham and enjoyed the lively light eight rung from the chancel steps. Finding Whitchurch Canonicorum was a work of art (at least one well-known conductor being more at home conducting from the 'R.W.' rather than from an O.S. map!), but it was worth seeking out this noble church with its rocking tower, deep-toned eight and saint's shrine. Then on, through mist and heavy traffic to Bridport, while some visited Canon C. C. Cox at Morecombe-lake and others had lunch at West Bay (youngest member seeing the sea for the first time). Ringing followed on the heavy-going eight. On again, through dense hill-fog and even more dense traffic until, leaving the main road, we dropped down a 1-in-5 to Litton Cheney, with a good, light eight. The sun broke through by the time Dorchester was reached, and A. Y.-B.'s Messerschmitt attracted some attention. Seeing the altimeter (!), one passer-by asked where the wings were, and was solemnly informed that they had been left behind! Doubtless they will appear as Mod. No. X.Y.Z. on next year's tour! Dorchester Bob did not progress more than two leads here.

After tea, the party rang at Piddlehinton, with its handy six, and on the way home some stated that they had passed A. Y.-B.'s 'family seat.' This was identified as a coombe near Cerne Abbas—Bramble Bottom (no connection with the giant next door!). That evening, while the rest visited Charlton Horethorne (8), the experts rang a peal of St. Clement's Major 'in hand' in the library of Sherborne Abbey.

A 'Z' IN THE BAG

Friday dawned fine, and Zeals (6) was the first stop. These tuneful bells are spoiled by the dreadful grumbling and shaking up aloft from the worn gudgeons. However, it was a 'Z' in the bag for most of us. Next came Mere, with a fine-toned but heavy-going eight. What a contrast at Hindon! An easy Rudhall six in a plain Victorian church—well situated in relation to places of refreshment! After lunch came Semley (6, 26 cwt.) beside an extensive village green. These noble bells demanded strong men round the back end, but only because of their weight. They went well. The Vicar, who met us, then directed the cars over Semley Common to Shaftesbury where, we were told all three towers were available. However, the party which arrived at St. James' drew a blank, but ringing was enjoyed at both Holy Trinity and St. Peter's, the latter's a very fine six.

TREBLE MAY BE GOING!

But all good things must come to an end, and we reached the last tower of the week, Gillingham. The eight went not too well, and Beatrice Boyle, normally a very competent treble ringer, had difficulty in pulling off. Her successor in the next touch cautiously stated: 'Treble may be going,' and was encouraged by a spontaneous chorus of 'He-e-eave!' from the back-end!

Then back to the Half Moon for that most admirable institution, the social evening. The party was divided into two teams—'Conductors' (?), under the captaincy of Peter Border, and 'Belfrymen,' under Chris Johnson. Like two flocks of sheep, we paraded—to the skittle alley, for what turned out to be the most hilarious social evening of all time. The 'Conductors' (?) were well and truly trounced by the 'Belfrymen' with some incredible scoring by Jumbo. Whenever he hurled his guided missiles, the more prudent took cover!

Saturday morning saw the departure of the peal band. They scored a peal of Belgrave at Martock, while the rest made their various ways home, one carload still having the energy to snatch two towers en route!

The whole party are most grateful to all the incumbents of the 40-odd churches, to the ringers who met us, and last, but not least, to John Gilbert, who did the organising, kept everyone happy and himself managed to remain cheerful throughout. J. D.

RICHMOND, SURREY.—On August 7th, at the Parish Church, 1,280 Cambridge Surprise Major: R. Goodman 1, J. D. Rock 2, Dr. D. J. Neal Smith 3, Gillian Neal Smith 4, F. R. Scott 5, D. A. S. Hawkins 6, W. T. Cook 7, R. G. Leale (cond.) 8. First of Surprise for 1 and 3; believed to be the first quarter of Surprise on the bells. Run for the centenary of the Church of St. Matthias, Richmond, prior to Evensong on the centenary day.

J. MARTIN THORLEY'S YORKSHIRE PEAL WEEK

THE third peal week arranged by the writer proved to be the most successful so far, with ten peals being rung out of a total of 12 attempts.

On Saturday, August 9th, a peal of Minor in three methods was rung on the back six at Otley, and this meant that the regular 'backenders' were already blistered when the tour proper began on the following Monday. A peal of Major had been arranged, but we met one short, and there was no shortage of volunteers to stand down, the weather being sultry and a full week of Minor ringing just round the corner.

Monday saw two peals successfully accomplished—seven methods at Holbeck and eight methods at Calverley. We were thankful that the Calverley peal had been arranged on the first day—those new Yorkshire ends proved to be a strain on the fingers.

On Tuesday morning we rang a peal in seven methods on the delightful little six at Chapel Allerton and the writer noted with some trepidation that all those who had shown a desire either to conduct or to ring the tenor had been satisfied, and there were still four more days to go! At Batley, in the afternoon, we recorded our only tower-bell failure of the week—all the band were fast asleep and a bob was missed towards the end of the second extent. Kent appears to be a rather unfortunate method for the conductor of this attempt, who is well known in Yorkshire for calling a false peal of it. In the evening three of us attended the practice at Pudsey and enjoyed some very good Major.

PROGRAMME REARRANGED

We met at Pontefract on Wednesday morning and the peal in ten methods was probably the best of the week. Unfortunately Ted Bradley was far from well; he rang the treble, but this proved to be his last appearance of the week, and it meant a drastic rearrangement of the programme. The attempts at Horbury and Snaith were cancelled and handbell attempts were put in to keep up the week's number. At Padmar, after supper, three of us attempted Bob Minor. The striking was really first-class, but just after half way an extra single was made by the 'Kent conductor,' and the bells ran round two courses short of the extent.

However, on Thursday morning we deemed this loss and a good peal was rung in the front bedroom, away from the shouts of the Misses Thorley. In the afternoon the first peal was rung on the bells of Kirk Deighton. This was in nine methods and we must make special mention of Paddy, who had three diagrams propped up above the kitchen sink during the morning's housework. The intrepid three who had gone to Pudsey on Tuesday night and rung handbells for an hour on Wednesday night, completed their 'hat-trick' by attending the practice at Leeds Parish Church on Thursday night.

Friday morning was an anxious time. The three from Horsforth had to finish the journey to Carlton by taxi, and Eric Critchley's scooter refused to start, leaving him stranded in Scawthorpe. The local verger, Mr. Graves, kindly offered to stand in with us and a very enjoyable peal of Bob Minor was rung. The tenor man, whose invariable remark before a peal of Minor is, 'Now don't race them,' turned in both his first-ever tenor and the fastest time of the week. Horsforth was reached in time for two of the intrepid three plus the writer's wife to join in the Guiseley practice while the writer kept on putting his daughters to bed.

A handbell peal in three methods was rung on Saturday morning and in the afternoon we rang six methods at Woodlesford. This peal was undoubtedly the least satisfactory of the week, but then we were tired and our standard had been high. J. M. T.

OBITUARY

MR. WILLIAM J. PAICE

On August 26th Mr. William J. Paice was laid to rest in the churchyard of St. Paul's, Wokingham, within the sound of the bells that he loved and under the shadow of its spire. The service, which was taken by the Ven. H. T. Shaw (chairman of the Sonning Deanery Branch), was quiet and simple, just as he would have loved. The only people who were present were his own family and relations and close ringing friends.

Before the service the bells were rung half-muffled by members of the following towers: St. Paul's and All Saints', Wokingham, Sandhurst and Finchampstead—the four towers with which he had the closest ties. After the interment handbells were rung at the graveside as a last tribute by W. J. Parker (Sandhurst), Miss M. R. Cross (O.D.G.), K. Begrie (Finchampstead) and E. Langley (All Saints', Wokingham).

With the passing of William Paice the Oxford Guild has lost not only one of its most loyal members, and one who was prepared to criticise its policy if he deemed it necessary, but also a shining example of loyal and devoted churchmanship which will always remain with those whom he influenced in their earlier years. For him, ringing was not merely a hobby, it was a service willingly given throughout more than 50 years to his Church, and in it he found the expression of his religion.

Although always willing to stand in a peal attempt if asked or to try new methods if required, he was before everything a Sunday service ringer, and it was to the improvement of this that everything that he did was aimed. It is of such as William J. Paice that it is written in Ecclesiasticus: 'Without these cannot a city be inhabited: and they shall not dwell where they will nor go up and down: They shall not be sought for in public counsel nor sit in the high congregation: they shall not sit on the judge's seat . . . But they will maintain the state of the world, and all their desire is in the work of their craft.' M. R. C.

NINETEEN TEAMS IN SOUTH DEVON CONTEST

Those whose privilege it is to know the Dartmoor village of Widdecombe-in-the-Moor and its lovely setting can picture the scene when, on a recent Saturday in August (one of the few fine days) 19 of the best call-change teams drawn from all over South Devon met to compete for the East Portsmouth Silver Challenge Bowl on the bells of St. Pancras, the 'Cathedral of the Moor.' The church workers seized the opportunity to stage a fete in aid of the church restoration fund, which still needs about £3,000 before the goal is reached.

The customary service in church, conducted by the Vicar, was prelude to the ringing. It attracted a capacity sitting and standing congregation. The celebrated 'Dartmoor-ologist,' Eric Hemmery, almost turned the small, but tuneful, organ inside out in brilliant accompaniment to make itself heard against the singing.

As winners last autumn at West Alvington, Widdecombe tower was host to the present event, and at the conclusion of the service the team captains gathered at the lych gate to draw. The redoubtable Bill Miners and his tower secretary, Les Edworthy, got things moving and the first team, Kingskerswell, went in to ring at just after three o'clock. As the bells were heard to 'come back' at the conclusion of each peal of the usual 'sixty-on-thirds,' so the next team would be up waiting at the door of the ringing chamber. Such well-known names in the South Devon 'ringing world' as Bickington, East Portsmouth, Plymstock, West Alvington, Yealmpton and Upton (Torquay) were among the teams present. Babbacombe was also a welcome newcomer to the event.

More than one team lost marks with a 'lazy' tenor and at least two teams lost valuable marks by having the treble speak—one by as much as six times!—after the bells had been brought down. Cornwood, the last team to ring, 'came down' at shortly before nine o'clock, and the big tree outside the church gate was the setting for the last act—the results and the presentation of the trophy and certificates—by the light of a 'Tilly' lamp. The judges, Messrs. H. J. Brewer, T. G. Daw and R. M. Elliott—created no little surprise when Upton (Torquay), with 33½ faults, were proclaimed winners and were awarded the challenge bowl and first certificate, followed by Plymstock and Yealmpton for second and third places respectively. Woodbury (Exmouth) ringers looked in during the early evening, en route from Chagford on an outing, and, having some spare seats in their coach, enabled Babbacombe team to accompany them to have a ring on the light eight (tenor 7 cwt.) at Buckland-in-the-Moor.

In winning the challenge bowl, Upton ringers become host to the event next year, and now exercising their minds is the question as how best to win over the shopkeepers and others, living in the immediate neighbourhood 'under' their tower in the main street, to the idea of hearing Upton bells rung in competition for about six hours, on and off, of a Saturday afternoon and evening!!

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

For this corner of Wilts August 16th was one of the few fine days of this summer, when the Marlborough Branch met at Mildenhall. The Rev. E. G. Courtman conducted the Guild service, and for the lesson and the theme of address took the story of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego.

Fourteen people were expected for tea, but this number swelled to a large extent. Everyone was in good spirits, and what started as a rationed tea, reminiscent of bygone days, turned out to be an excellent meal through the prodigious efforts of the Rector and Mrs. Courtman and helpers.

Mr. G. Newman (Branch chairman) voiced everyone's appreciation of the noble work done by Mr. Courtman in getting the ancient church of Mildenhall back in good repair, together with six splendid bells. A balance of £250 was still needed. The ringers were the guests of the Mildenhall reception committee, and they reciprocated with a collection for the bell and restoration fund which amounted to £2 12s.

Besides Branch members, ringers were present from Carbis Bay, Coventry, St. Albans, Swindon, Steeple Ashton, Melksham, Chippenham, Bristol, Oxford and London. T. A. P.

OUTING

SWINDON AND DISTRICT

Early on August 23rd, 14 ringers from Swindon and District left Swindon by train for a ringing tour of London districts. They were met at Paddington Station by two friends, and together they made their way to St. Bartholomew's, in Smithfield. After ringing on the light anti-clockwise five, the ringers moved on to the heavy eight of St. James', Clerkenwell, where they were joined by more friends. All of the remaining towers were in Middlesex, the next being St. Mary's, Holloway, after which there should have been a break for lunch, but because of a wedding, St. Anne's, Tottenham, had to be visited before schedule. After some good ringing the ravenous ringers had lunch in a nearby restaurant.

St. Michael's, Wood Green, was next on the list, and there, during a break in ringing, Mr. W. B. Kynaston was presented with a birthday card from the rest of the party, who sang a rousing version of 'Happy Birthday'. St. Mary's, Finchley, and St. Mary's, Willesden, completed the programme. A few of the party returned home directly after ringing but most of them went to the West End, where they had tea and talked about the day's ringing, which ranged from call-changes to London Surprise. After tea the party walked around and saw the lights of London before returning to Paddington, where they said goodbye to Mr. B. Blaydon who organised the tour, and thanked him for a very enjoyable day.
