A MATTER OF TEMPERAMENT

DECENTLY we have seen a few spots of bother appearing in the correspondence columns of 'The Ringing World.' One ringer was called temperamental, perhaps with very good reason, but there have always been temperamental ringers. Let us quote a few examples. As far back as 1733 William Laughton wrote about 'Snarling Criticks' in his account of the Rambling Ringers' Club. Laughton was being taken to task for disloyalty to the College Youths. Mr. Ernest Morris, in his book, 'History and Art,' humorously says: 'We have these critics today (1931).' Another prominent ringer of the 1730's was Benjamin Annable. He is described by Mr. J. A. Trollope as domineering, ambitious of leadership, and possessed of a sharp tongue. Still, the things he did stamp him as a great ringer, and his name persists to this day in the Minor method Annable's London Surprise.

In 1899 we had the two greatest exponents of changeringing the Exercise has ever known, viz.: Mr. W. Pye and Mr. J. W. Washbrook. Mr. Pye had called a 15,072 of Double Norwich on April 3rd at Erith in Kent, and in May the Oxford Guild announced their intention of beating this with Mr. Washbrook conducting. Mr. Pye journeyed to Kidlington to hear the ringing, and when the figures were published later he declared that some courses were never rung. This was tantamount to saying that the peal was a fake, and a long and bitter correspondence began in the 'Bell News.' Neither side would give way, but eventually the Oxford Guild said they would recognise the peal and the correspondence stopped. These two men met each other for the first time in Ireland several years later. Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, recording this some years later, 'We were a bit uneasy as such bitter words had been used, but when the two men were introduced they smiled and shook hands.' Mr. Goldsmith added, 'which is as it should be.'

Our last example was the most temperamental of all—the Rev. H. Law James. A skilled ringer, conductor, composer, and a master of theory, he was an eccentric but lovable character. There must be many ringers who will remember him. One of the big 'clangers' he dropped was when Cambridge Maximus was being taken up and practised. He declared that there was no reason why a Cambridge Minor ringer should not ring Cambridge Maximus. He was promptly told by one well-known ringer to take two Cambridge Minor bands into a 12-bell tower and try it. Needless to say, he never did.

Most ringers have heard of Arthur Knights as a composer, but in his younger days he was also interested in method construction. Arthur had got what he thought was a good new method, so he sent it to H. Law James for his opinion. The reply was: 'Your method is like a pig with one ear.' A. K. laughed as much as anyone over this unusual reply. Law James suffered a setback at the C.C. meeting in 1912 held in Manchester. One of his pet theories was that Stedman as rung was wrong and that the quick six was the bob. He held forth at length and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson supported him. The late Sam Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, eventually got up and proposed that 'we ring Stedman as our fathers rang it.' This was seconded, and on being put to the meeting was carried by an overwhelming majority.

In conclusion, let us be fair in our criticism of others, and keep personalities out. One of the finest things about the Ringing Exercise is its good fellowship: let us keep it so.

Eye, Suffolk, church bells are awaiting removal by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have been given the job of overhauling them and recasting the Miles Graye tenor which has a 'hair' crack in the crown. The bells fund, organised by Supt. Claude Rush, now stands at £1,354. Of this £722 has been realised from the sale of 132 tons of salvage, mostly paper. The salvage drive ends on May 5th—the end of its second year. Then, after a few weeks, Mr. Rush will retire from the Police Force and take up residence at 31, Foxgrove Lane, Felixstowe, Suffolk.

Bishop Latimer's bells, Birmingham, will be dedicated by the Bishop of Aston on Monday, April 20th, at 7.30 p.m.

Seventeen-year-old Gordon Brown, who rang the second to a peal at Offenham, Worcs, struck his first blow in six of the methods. The way he rang impressed the band and was proof of how good a ringer he will one day become.

A welcome visitor to the annual meeting of the Middlesex County Association at Kingsbury on Saturday was Mr. A. J. Pitman, who came specially to hear a tape-recording of his peal of Scientific Triples.

The Bedfordshire Association have a new general secretary in Mr. J. M. Stephens, 33, Poplar Close, Leighton Buzzard. The Association at its annual meeting on Easter Monday decided to raise subscriptions to 1s, 6d, for members under 16 and 3s, for those over 16.

The band who rang the peal of Bob Major at Heavitree, Devon, would like to associate with it the name of Mr. Arthur Mitchell who, but for influenza, would have been a member of the band. He is the father of Harry Mitchell, for whose wedding the peal was rung. Both are members of the Heavitree band.

Mr. Harry Shire, in honour of whose 75th birthday a quarter peal was rung at Tewin, Herts, learnt to ring 61 years ago at Ilminster, where his father was tower captain. He has been associated with towers in Somerset and South Wales, and served for four years as assistant tower captain at St. Mary's, Rickmansworth. He is now a regular member of the Tewin band.

Never go to a meeting unless advertised in 'The Ringing World.' If this advice had been followed there would not have been disappointed ringers at Wonersh last Saturday. The meeting appeared in the Guild fixture card, but not in 'The Ringing World.'

With the ringing of a quarter peal on Easter Day at Godshill, Isle of Wight, the late C. H. Denness was remembered. He was one of the band who opened the bells when augmented to six in 1887. He assumed the captaincy of the tower from his father-in-law. His son is the present captain. A daughter and a grandson are also ringers in the tower.

The Chester Diocesan Guild are submitting a motion to the Central Council at Southport as follows: 'That in any record attempt the bells shall be clearly audible outside the tower or other building in which they are contained and that during such an attempt neither food nor drink shall be partaken of by any member of the band.'

The band who rang in the peal at Leicester Cathedral on April 6th, as a farewell to the Rev. E. N. Devenport (Succentor), wish to associate the names of Peter J. Staniforth and Dick Grant with the peal. Peter was taken ill on the day of the peal and Dick kindly stood down. A good peal of Yorkshire Royal was rung and all were pleased to see Dick Prime ringing again after his illness.

YEAR OF PROGRESS REVIEWED

DESPITE inclement weather, a large company of ringers assembled at Bath on Easter Monday for the 69th annual general meeting of the Association. Preceded by a touch of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, the service was held at the Church of SS. Michael and Paul and was conducted by the Rev. E. J. Rowe, chairman of the Bath Branch. A most appropriate address was given by A most appropriate address was given by the Rev. H. F. Warren, Master of the Association.

Following the service, members adjourned to the Red House Cafe, where, after luncheon had been taken, the business meeting followed. Opening with prayer, the Master asked for silence to be kept while those who had been called to greater service during the past year were remembered. Apologies for absence were received from the Lord Bishop of Bath and Wells. the Bishop of Taunton, the Archdeacon of Bath, the Rev. A. D. H. Allan, Messrs. J. T. Dyke, R. O. Fry and D. G. Yeo.
The Master said that, due to an indisposition, he regretted that he had not visited all the Branches. The newest addition to the administration of the Association was the introduction of a Standing Committee, which had already proved invaluable in the compiling of the Sunday service survey.

The survey showed many bright spots and many towers where help is needed. He challenged members to give their full support to the work of the Association and so prove wrong the comment which was recently made by a misguided cleric to the effect that ringing was a dying art.

'RINGING A BELL'
He then paid tribute to the work which Mr.
J. Sanger had done in producing the ublication, 'Ringing a Bell.' Being of a somewhat different character from any other book in print it was enjoying book in print, it was enjoying a heavy demand by not only members of the Association but by ringers generally. It was an excellent book-let which could be commended to the use of all. In closing, he said how deeply touched he was when, on the occasion of his wedding.

he was when, on the occasion of his wedding, three peals and six quarter peals were rung to mark the happy event. 'This is an honour which I did not deserve but which I value very greatly,' he said.

In his report, the secretary (Mr. D. Hoare) thanked members for their excellent support during his first year of office. The Diocese, he said, had been the scene of much activity during 1958. Sampford Arundel bells had been augmented from five to six, and the fine ring of six at Publow was once more in full ringing order. Another restoration was also ringing order. Another restoration was also contemplated in a parish where the bells had been silent for over 40 years. Broadcasts had taken place featuring certain rings of bells and the all-round standard that had been achieved was very pleasing.

The secretary reminded members of their duty and of the fact that they should keep their ringing in its right perspective, placing churchmanship first. 'By so doing,' he said. 'we shall acquire that team spirit which is so necessary in our service to the church.'

Mr. G. Salmon, the treasurer, reported that, compared with last year, the accounts showed a decrease in the balance of £34, but that this ways entirely due to the purchase of the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church was entirely due to the purchase of the church. a decrease in the balance of £34, but that this was entirely due to the purchase of badges. Although peal booking fees were considerably down, the Branch returns, which were increased greatly on 1957, helped to swell the income. Certain changes had been made affecting the investments and these included the conversion of the 2 per cent. Defence Bonds into the 5 per cent, issue and the reinvestment of the National Savings Certificates. The Bell Fund had benefited by these collections but no grant had benefited by three collections but no grant

PAROCHIAL CHURCH COUNCILS' SUPPORT

Mr. Salmon said that the committee had forwarded a circular letter to all Parochial Church Councils suggesting an increase of affiliation fees to a more realistic level so that the Association could do something of a more definite nature so far as instruction and more definite nature so far as instruction and more substantial grants were concerned. The response had so far been excellent and as a result many towers had allied themselves to the Association although they had never previously been affiliated. This meant that the Association would at least be able to make a start in the large task with which it is faced. The meeting then passed on the report of the peal secretary, Mr. H. J. Sanger, who said that the peal total was considerably lower this year, 58 in all having been rung. However, the standard had been well maintained and the highlights were two peals of Bristol by diocesan bands and the first peal of Spliced Surprise Major ever rung by a resident band. Surprise Major ever rung by a resident band. The Cheshire men had also rung the first peal of London Surprise Royal for the Association at Wells Cathedral. Remarking that 1958 had only produced two resw conductors. had only produced two new conductors, Mr. Sanger said that the Association was very short of prospective leaders and he commended conducting to the younger members as a very interesting and useful occupation.

He was pleased that he now had in his possession details of all peals which had been rung between 1890 and 1904 and would in due course have the records up to date.

Mr. R. H. Gardiner, the tower advisory expert, then told members of the work which he had carried out during the past year. He had received one inquiry from outside the diocese concerning the installing of a synthetic bell-recording apparatus. He had referred the matter to the committee, who without any hesitation recommended that one or two bells would probably cost no more than the recording apparatus, would cost virtually nothing in maintenance, possibly have a clearer sound and, what was more important, would call people to worship in a sincere manner as was intended.

The adoption of these four reports was then proposed by Mr. E. Naylor and seconded by Mr. V. Roberts and carried with acclama-

The general secretary then read a brief sumary of the Sunday service survey. It was in two parts. The first, which consisted of factual information and comments relevant to the diocese, had already been forwarded to the Central Council. Part II. constituted the proposed future policy of the Association and laid out in detail plans for the introduction of organised courses of instruction. Coupled with this was the suggestion that the Association. this was the suggestion that the Association should have certain persons available, who, uopn request, would be prepared to speak at youth clubs and similar functions.

SELECTION OF INSTRUCTORS

It seemed quite evident by the survey that, generally, capable bands of ringers exist in towers where a competent person is in charge.

towers where a competent person is in charge.

Commenting on the proposed arrangements for introducing organised instruction on an Association level, the secretary said that rather than appeal for instructors, the committee than appeal for instructors, the committee would be advised to invite persons whom they considered suitable. So many times in the past men had set themselves up as instructors without the necessary qualifications and the result of this had been that ringing had deteriorated to a deplorable level in one or two areas.

After several points had been clarified, Mr. M. White proposed the adoption of the survey in both parts. This was seconded by Mr. E. Naylor and carried unanimously. The Master then told the meeting that Mr. Fry wished to resign from his position as Central Council representative. He therefore asked for a nomination to fill the post for one year. The name of Mr. D. Hoare was proposed by Mr. H. J. Sanger, seconded by Mr. S. G. Coles, and carried unanimously. The meeting elected the following officers: Messrs. R. A. Gardiner and W. A. Osborn, advisory experts; Mr. H. J. Sanger, peal secretary; Mr. G. Salmon. treasurer; Mr. D. Hoare, secretary; and the Rev. H. F. Warren, Master.

Under 'Any other business,' Mr. Woodburn proposed that the Association should in the future deviate from their past policy of holding the annual general meeting in only six Branches. He felt that all the Branches should be visited in alphabetical order. After discussion, Mr. H. J. Sanger seconded the proposition, which was then carried.

Mr. Woodburn then proposed that the annual grant of £20 be made to help cover the Central Council representatives' expenses. Mr. E. J. Chivers seconded and the motion was

He wondered if, in view of the fact that they

Mr. H. J. Sanger then proposed, and Mr. D. Hoare seconded, that a slight amendment be made to the printed form of Admission Service for Ringers, as this was technically incorrect. This was carried.

To conclude the meeting, the Rev. N. E. Mitchell, chairman of the Frome Branch, proposed votes of thanks to the Rev. E. H. G. Sergent (Rector of St. Michael's), the organist, the Rev. E. J. ### THE SHARESHILL DISPUTE Society Upholds Vicar's Action

In regard to the controversy arising between the Vicar of St. Mary's, Shareshill, and his ringers, we are informed that a meeting between the Vicar (Rev. E. R. Roe), three officials of the Society of Change Ringers for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, and the entire bell-ringing team has resulted in the Society upholding the Vicar's decision to disband the ringers

Mr. Fred Bennett (secretary of the Society), of Pattingham, near Wolverhampton, said that after hearing both sides of the story the Society decided that the Vicar had not been unreasonable in asking the ringers to attend church services, and had treated them fairly before making his decision.

'He did not ask much of the ringers. All he asked was that they should attend a proposition.

The fifth annual outing of the Manchester

The fifth annual outing of the Manchester Young Ringers took place on Easter Monday, when 35 members set off by coach to visit Yorkshire. Some of the founder members no longer fit the description 'young,' but the average age was still only 21 years 8 months. The first stop was at St. Marie's R.C. Church, Sheffield (8, 25 cwt.), where these humming bells were rung to standard methods and Bristol. At Sheffield Cathedral (12, 40 cwt.), Cambridge on the back eight and Stedman Cinques were most successful on the day's most Cinques were most successful on the day's most awkward bells.

Lunch was arranged at Doncaster, and afterwards at St. George's, Doncaster (8, 30 cwt.), the really fine bells were not rung ideally, possibly due to the long, exhausting climb.

At All Saints'. Pontefract, we rang at the strange tower between a ruined church and a modern chapel, where we found a very pleasing light eight (tenor 12½ cwt.). The evening meal came next, and was in itself so satisfying and exhausting that even the tower-grabbers had exhausting that even the tower-graubers had not the energy to visit an extra 6-bell tower only two miles off the route, and we finished the day's ringing on the excellent ten (tenor 18 cwt.) at St. Giles'. our thanks are due to all the clergy and ringers for letting us make use of their bells, and to Joan and Alan Ward for once more organising a very successful tour.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WORLD TOUR IMPRESSIONS

Dear Sir,—Some while ago (possibly two years) letters appeared in 'The Ringing World' about the bells of St. John's Cathedral, Hong

During a recent cruise I was able to visit the Cathedral and view these bells, which were cast by Gillett and Johnston and given by the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation and installed as a carillon (or 'chime') of eight—the heaviest is 25 cwt.—to commemorate the coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. It was decided that the tower was not strong enough to carry a ring hung for ringing, a decision with which I think most would agree. They are operated electrically and set in motion by a press button on the ground floor. There a piess a keyboard which is used for hymn tunes, set changes, etc., with cards provided. About a year ago I wrote to the Dean of Hong Kong (Very Rev. F. S. Temple), and in reply I received a warm invitation to come and try the bells and to call on him on arrival. try the bells and to call on him on arrival. The curate (Mr. Foster) met me at the tower and gave every assistance: he is interested in bells and acquainted with the Loughborough foundry and staff. It was a great pleasure to meet both the Dean and Mr. Foster. When the bells are being played it is difficult from the foot of the tower to decide what the changes are and on accending the noise bechanges are, and on ascending the noise becomes almost deafening, and this is also the case near the tower outside: but it could be a plain course of Triples. A practice at the keyboard is the nearest I managed to get to ringing on the Asian continent.

Earlier on, at San Francisco, I visited the Episcopal Cathedral of Grace, where permission was readily given by the bursar, Mr. Lampen. late of Romney, Kent, and the tower keeper, Mr. Mosley, late of Bolton, Lancs, to go up and view the carillon of 44 by Gillett and lohnston. Owing to space openings on all ades of the upper part of the tower, the carillon is (more or less) 'open to the wide,' so that several of the bells can be seen from outade at ground level. All I heard from them ras the quarters and hours struck on the ack, bells ate of Romney, Kent, and the tower keeper, ack bells.

The Cathedral stands on one of the highest pints of San Francisco, and one can imagine e effect of the sound pouring down over the

RINGING AND CLERGY

Dear Sir,-- L am sure ringers generally will be glad to know that a few of our theological colleges are taking an interest in bell-ringing.

Whilst many clergy are quite reasonable about granting permission to ring, many parsons feel shy at entering the ringing chamber and at a disadvantage because their ringers know so much more about the art than they do. How often does one hear the comment passed that the vicar very seldom visits his ringers? Whilst parochial clergy often give a good lead in the various church organisations, the tower is in many cases regarded as a watertight compartment.

One obvious solution to this apparent anomaly would be to include some knowledge of bells and ringing in the curriculum of the theological colleges. This possibility may be further extended at this year's Central Council meeting, and perhaps our regional Associations meeting, and perhaps our regional Associations will take some responsibility. I think, however, the Central Council of Training for the Ministry would sympathetically consider suggestions from the Central Council to put bell-ringing on the syllabus, One thing is certain, that a clergy better informed on bell-ringing matters would prove of immense help for the future prospects in the 'Ringing Isle.'—Yours sincerely,

Elland, Yorks. PAUL BIRKETT.

Dear Sir,-I should like to take Mr. Fry up on one point which has received some consideration lately in the Oxford Diocesan Guild. namely, that the clergy often expect too much from their ringers in attendance at services. For the ringers to be marching out as the choir file in does give a bad impression; but we cannot expect them to make their Communion frequently as well as arriving at least half an hour before the other services on Sunday

The only general rule one can make, I think is that ringers should be treated in this respect like the rest of the laity, and until we have two or three bands in each parish, to ask them to come to every service for which they ring is to have them in church as long as the clergy.—Yours sincerely,

A. S. D. GRAHAM.

Dear Sir,—It has been pointed out to me that my 5,056 Glasgow Surprise Major, published in the 'R.W.'. March 13th, 1959, is internally false. I must therefore withdraw the peal rung to this composition on November 22nd 1958, or Warfold Parks 22nd, 1958, at Warfield, Berks.

I give my sincere apologies to all the band.—Yours faithfully, N. J. DISERENS.

THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES AND RINGING

Dear Sir,—It is encouraging to read of the ringing activity at Salisbury Theological College, referred to by Mr. Roger O. Fry in his letter on page 223 of 'The Ringing World.'

Whilst I do not wish to anticipate the report of the Central Council Committee now in preparation, I may say that the report devotes some space to the need for action along the lines suggested by Mr. Fry. The report will also refer to action we have already taken in contacting Association officials in whose areas theological colleges are situated, and several of these officials have already replied to me promising to co-operate and let us know what progress they have been able to make,-Yours, NORMAN CHADDOCK, Convener, C.C. Committee on Sunday Service Ringing.

SPRING CLEANING AT CHESTERFIELD

Most ringing rooms could do with a good spring clean, and at Chesterfield this was recogby Sam Scattergood and his willing helpers. After several years of activity by the builders who were working to save the famous crooked spire, and whose trapseing through the ringing room had left their unmistakable mark, Sam thought it was time something should be done to clear up the mess; and so it was that one day recently he, together with Elsie Silcock, appeared at the church armed with buckets, etc., and started on a job which took them a published day with Sam and Malcolm Phinns whole day, with Sam and Malcolm Phipps fetching and carrying water up the stairs, and the lady on her knees scrubbing for dear life. A recent visit to this famous tower revealed a most gratifying state of affairs, and the ringing room was found to be spick and span and very comfortable — indeed, a model to be Chesterfield now possesses a very fine ring of ten bells, certainly the best in Derbyshire, and a ringing room equipped with a large set of beautiful handbells.

Whilst the work on the spire was going on Sam was quietly investigating what was under-neath the ugly plaster on the ringing room walls, and began patiently chipping it off. He discovered some ancient arches, and was encouraged to remove all the plaster. The stone-work was all cleaned and pointed, and is a great improvement on the old plaster. It is no wonder that after months of painstaking work many visits were paid to the Ringers' Retreat for refreshments.

Nothing more of interest appears till 1853, when a general restoration took place as indicated by the following:—

John Carter for iron work and new hammers to the clock, W. H. Fowles for wheels and repairing the floors. Jeffries and Price for recasting and other work . . . . . 81 4 0

The bells recast were the treble and fourth, and this means that with Cary's work the whole ring was rehung. According to a document written in 1902, the treble, second, third and sixth bells were again rehung in 1895 by Llewellin and James, of Bristol.

In 1906 the wooden frame in which the bells were hung had got into such a bad state of repair that it was condemned, and in addition to this the second had become cracked. It was therefore decided to rehang the whole ring in a new metal frame and recast the cracked bell. At this time, some friends of the village, the Misses Cox, of Bruton, offered to give two additional bells to increase the ring to eight. The offer was accepted and the work entrusted to Messrs, Llewellin and James. It was completed in 1907 and dedicated by the Lord Bishop of the Diocese.

PEALS ON THE EIGHT BELLS

Whilst there are no records of any peals being rung on the six bells, those on the eight are complete and numbered 21 in all. The first of these was 5,040 Stedman Triples on December 26th, 1907, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson, and from then on peals were rung in a variety of methods, probably the most noteworthy of which was a 5,056 London Surprise Major, rung by a band resident in the diocese and conducted by J. T. Dyke, one of the foremost ringers of our time. The last peal on the eight was of Grandsire Triples, on April 26th, 1948, conducted by the writer.

Although the new frame and 'go' of the bells now left nothing to be desired, it was but few years before it was realised that what had been a reasonable ring of six, although of mixed origin, had by the addition of the new trebles produced a poor octave. In 1928 there was a move to retune all the bells, but nothing came of it, and it was nearly 20 years later before any vigorous effort was made to improve matters. By then, 1947, the tenor needed rehanging and other work was necessary, so the ringers decided that if something could be done in the way of recasting the bells they would make themselves responsible for one of them.

A RING OF TEN

A scheme was put before the Church Council and estimates obtained; it was then agreed to recast the whole ring. The Diocesan Advisory Committee objected to the recasting of the 1530 bell on antiquarian grounds, and a new bell had to be provided to replace it in the ring. The farmers of the parish undertook to do this. John Taylor and Co. were entrusted with the work to include rehanging on ball-bearings. The response to the appeal for funds was remarkable, added to which came the wonderful news that two generous donors had come forward and offered two additional bells to increase the ring to ten. With diocesan approval this offer was accepted and the bells were soon removed to the foundry,

It seemed strange for the next few months to hear no bells pealing for service, but the ringers occupied themselves visiting nearby towers and teaching new recruits on handbells and at the little tower at Maperton, by kind permission of the Rev. W. T. V. Langley, till in February, 1949, the bells were back in the tower with their new companions.

The service of dedication took place on March 12th and was performed by the Rt. Rev. W. H. Bradfield, Lord Bishop of the Diocese, before a large congregation which included ringers from many parts of the West Country. They had come to take part in the service and to hear what has since proved to be one of the finest examples of the bell-founders' art to be found in the West. In addition to dedicating the bells, two tablets were dedicated—one a mural recording the general restoration, and the other, cast in bell metal, recording the recasting of the ringers' bell. The inscription on the latter reads:—

The seventh bell in this tower bears the inscription. Recast by ringers of this tower and the West Country. H. J. Sanger, Captain.

All the bells have their original inscriptions reproduced and in addition new ones denoting those responsible for recasting. The new trebles, the gifts of Douglas Bown Martin and Mrs. S. White, are family memorials.

The new inscriptions provide a lasting record

The new inscriptions provide a lasting record of the wholehearted support given to this great work by every section of the community.

NEVER MISSED SERVICE RINGING

Following the dedication a touch of Grandsire Caters was rung by a representative band selected from the visiting ringers. The first peal on the new ring was performed on October 1st, 1949. It was of Grandsire Caters and was conducted by J. T. Dyke. Since then a number of peals have been rung in various methods, and the local band to date has never once missed ringing for both morning and evening services every Sunday, with additional ringing on the great festivals.

evening services every Sunday, with additional ringing on the great festivals.

Looking back over this story of our village bells can but make us realise what a tremendous privilege we have enjoyed. We of this generation of Evercreech folk have by our united efforts raised a ring of bells of which we can be justly proud, as without doubt were those good folk of Evercreech who built the magnificent tower, in which they are hung, 500 years ago.

BURGATE BELLS RING FOR EASTER

At the request of the Rector, the ancient ring of five at St. Mary's Church, Burgate, Suffolk, rang out on Easter Sunday for Evensong. This was the first time for 30 years that these lovely bells have sent out their Eastertide message echoing across the Waveney Valley.

The usual intrepid assortment of ringers set out in 'Sputnik III.' and arrived at Burgate at about 2 o'clock.

The bells were rung, amidst a slow shower of miscellaneous debris, to Plain Bob Doubles, and, just before service, almost perfect rounds were rung for five minutes at about 15 whole pulls per minute. After the service the congregation were rung out and the back four lowered in peal, the treble meriting a solo item.

The return journey was accomplished safely, the party splitting up at Dickleburgh, two of the band to take part in Evensong ringing on the fine new six there.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY

The March meeting of the Society took place at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on March 21st. St. Peter's. Wolverhampton, had been scheduled for this meeting. but when this proved impracticable Mr. B. G. Key and his ringers stepped nobly into the breach with an invitation for the Society to pay another visit to Burton-on-Trent. It was a most enjoyable meeting and attracted an attendance of 106. Most of those present attended the fully-choral Evensong, which was conducted by the Vicar of St Paul's (the Rev. W. Willis Price). In an excellent address Mr. Price reminded his listeners that ringers have obligations to the Church beyond the regular ringing of the bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Key and their helpers had provided a bountiful tea and it speaks wonders for their arrangements when they were able to cater for an additional 25 beyond those who had sent in their names. Altogether 140 sat down to tea, this figure including members of the choir and the churchwardens. Following the meal the company stood in silence for a few moments as a tribute of respect to the memory of Mr. Herbert Knight, formerly of St. Peter's, Wolverhampton.

Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening on the lovely ring of ten (tenor 28 cwt.) at St. Paul's with the Ringing Master (Mr. Clive Smith) in charge. Well done and thank you all at St. Paul's for this very fine meeting.

The next meeting of the Society will be at Hoar Cross on May 9th. F. B.

A 60th ANNIVERSARY AT ERITH

On Easter Monday, April 3rd, 1899. a record length of 15,072 Double Norwich Court Bob Maior was rung at the Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Erith, Kent. in 9 hours and 24 minutes, conducted by William Pye. The record did not stand for very long but was a great achievement, particularly in a belfry with no daylight or fresh air and lit by gas jets.

The ringers were Harry Flanders, George R. Pye. Charles Wilkins. Isaac G. Shade. Edgar Wightman, John H. Cheesman, Ernest Pye and William Pye. Incidentally, the same eight men rang at Erith the following Sunday a peal of London Surprise Major, being the first in the method for six of them, including the brothers Pye. This again was an historic peal, being the first in a method which William Pye was, in later years, to make all his own.

The 60th anniversary of the Double Norwich was commemorated with a peal in the method by Edgar Wightman, a member of the famous Suffolk ringing family, who migrated to Erim and was the composer of the long peal.

The 1959 peal is a happy link with the long peal, as the ringer of the treble, Edwig Barnett, when a lad of 14, heard most of the long peal. Indeed, he was appointed took-out' during the period when his father the late Edwin Barnett sen., and John Garaft the Erith steeplekeeper, went off for the dinner. Of the 1959 band, five had rufpeals with William Pye, including Herbert Audsley, who was in the 7.392 Cambrid Maximus at Bow.

CONTEST RINGING IN NORTH OF ENGLAND

By NOEL F. MOXON

Looking at the prize-ringing days in retrospect. one may be somewhat bewildered by the outlook of the organisers, the ringers and the general public. Dealing with the organisers who staged the contest and therefore had to collect money from generous residents in the town or village, it is difficult to imagine what they gained from the affair as there was apparently no entrance fee paid by the competitors and they received no gate money from the listeners, so monetary gain was not possible. Of the ringers taking part, many would lose two days' work, for contests were not always held at holiday times, and also incur travelling and subsistence expenses, so even a team collecting £5 to £8 would not result in 100 per cent. profit.

The people who lived around the church where the ringing was taking place must have been long-suffering to be able to bear the sound from early morning until after midnight, often on successive days, but our newspapers carry no word of complaint. Probably the only non-ringers to derive any tangible benefit from the contest were the innkeepers who dispensed food and drink to the participants and their friends.

A PLAINTIVE PROTEST

However, one plaintive protest is handed down from 1848 when the Rev. Alfred Gatty, in his book 'The Bell,' writes of his experiences at a contest at Ecclesfield. 'Reader, has it ever been thy lot to be within close earshot of a ringing match, at which 8 or 10 sets of ringers contended for a silver cup or a purse of gold. We were awoke at day break one fine summer's morning by a steady course of Plain Bobs . . . . We rose early determined to combine an enbyment of what we ascertained was a ringing match with our usual study avocations; but we found that we were not as steady as usual at our work and as time went on we became less . we resolved to ride far away into the be early evening in the hope that the match would be over but before the Church was in light, the peal came. . . . Night came; but bocks, bars and shutters did not exclude the found; bed curtains could not shut it out. No appe arose from inquirey, for the Darfield and the Silkstone sets had still to ring. . . Peace came at last but will it be credited that daylight had scarcely broken in the east, before the ingers were again at their task.

Taking stock of the contesting teams, some vell-known towers are still operating, with lkstone and Liversedge reaching farthest back to the last century and others with 100 years service to good striking still 'going strong.' few have fallen by the wayside; one we beet. Holmfirth, with 150 years of good ringlog—a grand record. This tower until ten lears ago was manned by a team of elderly men who, it is said, ate sparingly at the Sunday tea table and would afterwards ring a Perfect 60% or 504 of Oxford. Alas, in a short ime, all but one were carried away, leaving no teplacements. Recently a team of young ladies are learning to 'man' this fine ring of bells.

The all-conquering Dewsbury team have faded away; Darton, once a tower noted for peal ringing and prize ringing, is silent, as is Darfield, worried by coal mining subsidence.

Barnsley ringers have for many years kept aloof from contest ringing but came back into the picture last year when they won the Hoylandswaine Cup. The finest record must go to the Wath-on-Dearne band, who combined multiminor method ringing with prize ringing, and even in pre-war days were still a power in both spheres but now have withdrawn from the lists.

LADIES COMPETING
We have heard little in recent years of the Batley band who scored many wins in the prewar era, but last year they made a sensational entry into the Halifax Cup with a team consisting of five girls and Mr. David Atkins, the tower captain. How the old prize ringers would have stared to see a bevy of young ladies approaching the tower to do battle for a purse of gold.

Batley Carr, once the home of a fine ringing team, is now reduced to the unhappy state of 'chiming only.' Earlsheaton and Almondbury have lapsed into obscurity, temporary we hope. Kirkheaton and Kirkburton, although ringing regularly, have not competed for many years, A few towers are loath to enter competition ringing on the grounds that they would be outclassed by the skilled teams, and some years ago a system of handicapping was suggested but rejected on the grounds that it would not improve the striking of the weaker teams.

Year by year the contests continue to be held and we look forward to sunny days, when small groups of ringers congregate around the church listening with critical ear to the striking, some as unofficial judges noting faults in a small book, others with butterflies fluttering in young stomachs as their turn draws near, for the test of trying each bell 'three whole pulls' still causes the stoutest heart to quail.

If you are drawn last you ascend the tower with desperation, mindful of the fact that earlier in the afternoon the champions have rung an impeccable '720' and that the have rung an impeccable '720' and that the judge, locked away in an upper room at the Vicarage, will be reserving his most critical judgment for your performance.

In conclusion we must admit that one quality our forefathers possessed was keenness and in spite of the bitterness which occasionally crept into the prize ringing, we must not too hastily condemn them, and out of the subterfuge and chicanery of the last of the subterfuge and chicanery of the last century there has emerged the contest ringing of to-day, during which we have made and maintained true friendship with many ringers.

I am very grateful to all my friends who have sent me details of contests, of which I have now nearly 60 up to the beginning of this century, and I shall be pleased to hear of any others which may be known to readers of this journal.

Many anecdotes have been handed down from the prize-ringing days, one from an old Cawthorne ringer, who gives his father's story of a contest at Penistone when the Cawthorne team rang so well that even the church organist marvelled at the music which poured from the belfry but, alas, a team from the Huddersfield district was awarded the first prize. Cawthorne ringers were angry at the apparent duplicity and even more infuriated when they later heard of the Penistone ringers each receiving a suit-length!

A tale is told of a contest at Bradfield. where it was arranged between the judge and a certain team that when it was their turn to ring a man was to go down to the Town Gate shouting 'Hot chestnuts ten a penny,' so that the judge would know who were ringing and mark accordingly

OBITUARY

MR. CHARLES WILLIAM BELL

The West Country has lost an outstanding personality by the death of Mr. Charles William Bell, of Bath, who died on March 29th, one month short of his 93rd birthday, at the home of his elder son, Mr. Joseph Bell, 2, Homelands, School Lane, Batheaston.

For about 30 years he was tower master of St. Saviour's Church, Larkhall, Bath, and on November 15th, 1924, with a practice band and one additional, conducted a peal of Bob Major, the first and only peal of Major rung on the bells to date. He also arranged for the peal the first and only pear of major rung on the bells to date. He also arranged for the peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Colerne. Wilts, on July 25th, 1927, when Mr. Warren Sturgis, first assistant Master, Groton College, Mass. U.S.A., and his son, rang their first peal, being Parker's One-part of Grandsire Triples, and conducted by Mr. Arthur Prince. It was only through Mr. Bell's magnificent effort in keeping the seventh going that this peal was obtained

In the early period of his career as a ringer, and with the encouragement of the late Mr. Henry Brown, of Bath, he at times took a day off, and would walk to Bristol to meet the Bristol ringers on festival days when all church bells were rung. Mr. Bell was a Bath Abbey ringer for many years.

On the evening of April 1st the body was received into Batheaston Church by the Rector (Rev. R. A. Evans), who took the funeral service the following day.

It is interesting to recall that Mr. Bell was the grandson of a famous Bath ringer, Mr. Joseph Bell, who rang in a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. James' Church, Bath, on Oct. 2nd, 1833. It was the grandson's privilege to conduct a peal in the same church, but it was not until after the peal that he discovered details of his grandfather's feat.]

MR. F. M. BLUNDEN

Friday, April 3rd, marked the passing of another stalwart of Sunday service ringing in West Sussex, when Mr. 'Freddie' Blunden died at the age of 63.

Until he retired two years ago, Mr. Blunden had faithfully served as tower master at St. Mary's Church, Storrington, for 36 years and, with Mr. 'Bill' Curtis, whom we laid to rest just over a year ago, was instrumental in maintaining a good regular service band of ringers over that whole period. Their splendid work is now being carried on by Miss J. Horton and Miss G. S. Smith.

Mr. Blunden was buried on April 8th, when the bells were rung half-muffled for the funeral service and later that evening to a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles by the local band. R. G. B.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting

A record number of 120 members attended the 66th annual meeting at Llandaff on Easter Monday. An encouraging feature was the predominance of young people, who kept the bells going in various methods until 4 o'clock. The Dean (the Very Rev. Eryl Thomas) conducted the service. After the service the visitors were invited to the hall, where the Bishop of Llandaff (the Rt. Rev. Glyn Simon) was waiting to receive them.

After partaking of tea the Bishop gave a short address of welcome and encouragement. Mr. D. J. Lewis proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies who had provided and served the tea.

The Dean presided at the business meeting which followed. Apologies for absence were read from the Rev. S. J. Richards. Mr. N. James (the local leader) and Mr. L. Malings. The company stood in silence for two members—Mr. E. Phillips and Mr. F. Gordon—who had recently passed away.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mr. T. Roderick presented the balance sheet, which showed a credit balance of £6 19s. 4d., but pointed out that there would have been a debit if officers had claimed their full expenses. The balance sheet was accepted.

The secretary read the report he had sent to the Central Council Committee for the survey of Sunday service ringing. He then reported that 33 peals had been rung during 1958, which was above the average number.

1958. which was above the average number.
Mr. G. I. Lewis, of Cadoxton. Neath, was elected Master for the ensuing year. The hon. secretary and auditors were re-elected.

Mr. D. King reported on the restoration of Chepstow bells; it is hoped the bells will be ready for Whitsun. Mrs. D. J. King reported good progress at Caldicot and Usk, and Mr. Hoffman on the young band at Whitchurch. It was proposed to hold the next annual meeting at All Saints', Newport.

Twelve new members were elected. The secretary read a circular letter from the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow regarding ringing lectures and instruction at the Theological College. Llandaff.

Mr. J. Lovett moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Dcan for all that he had done to make it such a pleasant meeting.
