NEXT YEAR'S 'RINGING WORLD'

Council an extraordinary meeting of the Standing Committee was held in London a fortnight ago. It had been called to consider facts and figures about the finances of 'The Ringing World' and to decide what action was necessary.

The facts were indisputable. Five years ago a rise of twopence in the price led to a working profit—that is, ignoring donations and interest—of over £800. By 1958 this figure had dropped to £101. An increase of 12½ per cent. in printing costs, remembering that in 1958 the printing bill was over £4,000, means that in a full year another £500 must be found from somewhere. Not only this, but there is general agreement that an increase in the salaries of the staff of the paper cannot longer be delayed; as one member with considerable experience in the world of business wrote recently, if they were to go to-morrow the Exercise would be lucky to replace them at twice the present cost. True the circulation is now as high as it has ever been, but the increase in the past twelve months of 170 copies weekly, welcome and pleasing though it is, cannot bridge the gap.

There are doubtless readers of 'The Ringing World' to whom the thought has occurred that the answer does not lie in increasing the price. Could not the Council subsidise the paper, for example? What about the Clement Glenn bequest? Why cannot the £3,000 pounds invested be made Superficially attractive though some or all these ideas may seem, in reality they would present at best only a short-term solution. The Council's income, for instance, comes only from subscriptions amounting to some £75 a year and from any profits on the sale of publications, and last year the total surplus was under £6. The Clement Glenn fund, capital and interest combined, would do little more than meet next year's extra costs. The investments, if realised, would admittedly tide over the next three or four years, but while the use of reserves to meet a 'oncefor-all' requirement would be justifiable, to allow their gradual erosion in the knowledge that when they are exhausted the situation at the end would be no better than at the start cannot be regarded as prudent finance.

Nevertheless it was only after considerable heart-searching that the Standing Committee agreed that from the issue of January 1st, 1960, the price of the paper must be increased to eightpence. Charges of advertisements will be advanced by about 12½ per cent., but notices will not be affected. The annual postal subscription will be thirty-five shillings, against twenty-eight shillings at present. This is something less than the full increase and is in effect a return to the arrangement in force before postal charges went up a year or so ago, whereby subscription copies were sent post free. It has, however, been decided to make the same concession as on the previous occasion the price was increased, that those whose postal subscriptions (quarterly, half-yearly or annual) are received before the end of 1959 will pay the existing rate—a worth-while saving.

Behind the committee's decision was the hope that with the increased revenue the paper will again be able to stand on its own feet. In the past five years readers have subscribed nearly £1,000 to its funds. Only recently the Oxford Diocesan Guild sent a donation of £20, while not long ago the Devon Guild announced a levy on all peals rung under its auspices, the proceeds to be given to 'The Ringing World.' It is hard to find words adequately to express the thanks of those closely concerned with the running of the paper to all who have helped in this way. And yet, to one at least, it has become increasingly distasteful that the paper should appear to be imposing on the goodwill of the few. Had the Council at Southport decided in its wisdom, rightly or wrongly, to make a charge for the insertion of peal reports, this would have fallen on by far the majority of readers, but, as everyone knows, the burden at present is selective only.

The purpose of this article, however, is to deal solely with finance and not to discuss such questions as whether the general content of the paper meets the wishes of the majority of readers, or whether there is a large potential readership for whom it does not cater. These and allied matters were indeed touched on at some length in the course of the Standing Committee's deliberations and revealed a considerable divergence of opinion. One change will in any case be made. The recent installation of new machinery at the Woodbridge Press makes it possible to utilise an inch to an inch and a half of paper which at present has to be trimmed off. This may not seem much, but in fact it represents the equivalent of an additional 78 pages of reading matter in the course of a year.

Whatever criticisms may be made of the decision which has been taken—and inevitably there will be some—the committee are confident that the 'hard core' of readers, the real enthusiasts on whom depends the well-being of the Exercise as we know it to-day, will accept the increased price—not without the odd grumble, maybe—but in the knowledge that without it, and remembering that a further review of printers' wages is coming up in two years' time, the journal—their journal—could keep going only by using up its slender reserves, which amount to something like nine months' printing costs, unless some entirely new (and therefore unpredictable) source of income were to be

Mrs. F. I. Hairs exercised her right as the only woman member now alive of the Ancient Society of College Youths to attend the 322nd anniversary dinner on November 7th. The only lady present, she enjoyed to the full the excellent dinner and the witty speeches, and participated in handbell ringing at the close of the official programme. BELFRY GOSSIP

After the peal at Stoke-on-Tern on October 31st the band were entertained to an excellent tea by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, which was very much appreciated.

Watch scrap merchants' yards for old bells! Mr. P. Amos tells us that he has thus accumulated an octave and two different fives at a total cost of under £2.

Now demobilised from the Army, Mr. Alan Buswell, of Havant, writes that he has spent many an enjoyable hour at meetings, which was only made possible through the advertisements in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. Herbert Barlow, now 82, of St. Mary's band, Oldham, recently underwent an operation in Oldham Royal Infirmary. His many friends will be glad to know that he is now home again fully recovered.

The late Mr. E. Roger Martin, vice-president of the Lancshire Association, has bequeathed in the will the cure of $100 for the bequeathed in his will the sum of £100 for the provision of bell ropes at Preston Parish Church.

This week we record two first peals out of the ordinary. Robert F. Grisdale's was of London Surprise Major at North Mymms, and 13-year-old Malcolm Foster's was Cambridge Surprise Minor at Warsop. Both performances were on a working bell.

The six Melbourne ringers who travelled 800 miles to score a peal on the light six at Yass, N.S.W., passed through such places as Glenmovan (Ned Kelly's district), Frying Pan Creek, Gundagai, Wagga Wagga and Gumby Gumby. The back five of Yass' bells were cast by Thomas Blews and the treble by Taylor's, Thanks are accorded to Kenneth Minchinton, the driver, and Yass ringers for their hospitality,

Mr. F. T. Jackson is thought to be the first person to 'circle' Bawtry, Yorks, tower to

Mr. Morris' book, 'Tintinnabula,' will encourage the hobby of collecting small bells. One of the largest collections is in the possession of Mr. Wagstaff, of Northill, who in addition to small bells has an octave of bicycle bells.

Mr. S. Ponting, of Milford, was nominated as the new secretary of the Guildford District at Cranleigh on November 7th, in succession to Mr. D. G. Kirk, who is going to Ruskington. near Sleaford, Lincs, in the New Year.

Mainly due to the enthusiasm of Miss Margaret Ladd, members of the Kent District of the Ladies' Guild have scored a peal at Marden.
The conductor, Miss D. Colegate, writes that this effort did not need conducting, all that was required was to call the bobs. A previous attempt a few months ago failed.

Mr. Robert F. Grisdale is now a member of the North Mymms, Herts, band, having learned to ring at Keswick, Cumberland. His ringing friends in the North Country will be pleased to learn that he has now rung a peal of London Surprise Major on a working bell. This, moreover, was his first peal, in which he made a very good performance and by it has achieved something of a rare feat.

322nd ANNIVERSARY DINNER OF THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

RECORD ATTENDANCE INCLUDED ONLY LADY MEMBER — PROVOST REINDORP SOLVES NELSON'S LAST WORDS — CORNHILL BELLS — 71 NEW MEMBERS — 'THE RINGING WORLD' HIGHEST SALE — REASONS FOR PRICE INCREASE

A COMPANY of over 200 ringers made the 322nd anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths, held at the Bridge House Restaurant, London Bridge, on November 7th, not only a record attendance but a fitting climax to a memorable year. In the company were three old stalwarts with over 60 years' membership—Messrs. E. Fenn, J. R. Sharman and G. E. Symonds—sitting in company with 'youngsters hardly out of their nappies,' to use a happy phrase of the Provost of Southwark (the Very Rev. G. E. Reindorp).

The customary dignified entry of the Master (Mr. Wilfred Williams), escorted by the senior steward (Mr. J. G. A. Prior) and the junior steward (Mr. M. P. Moreton), gave a touch of pageantry to the proceedings. During the meal the Master took wine with those of 60 and 50 years' membership, the past masters, and finally with those with whom he had rung a peal—which seemed to be at least half the assembly. It was, indeed, a busy evening for the toastmaster, Mr. Cyril Watts.

The toast of 'The Queen' was followed by that of 'The Church,' presented with a Welsh fluency by the Master. He recalled his visit the previous Saturday to Great Yarmouth for the dedication of the new ring of bells, where they all saw what had been accomplished by hard work. He gave the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow's apologies to the company; he would have liked to have been present but was tied to his very large parish.

THE SUNDAY OF THOUSANDS

Last summer, said the Master, was a good example of how thousands of people spend their Sunday, without any thought of the Church. There was a procession of thousands of cars, coaches and trains taking people to the seaside, while very many more spent the morning beneath their cars or touching-up the paintwork. Those people would not think much about the Church unless they were provided with some link which came from the distant ringing of church bells.

He knew many others who looked forward to Sunday, not as a day of worship, but because they would get double pay. There were others who would like to go to church but were afraid of ridicule. A committee had been appointed by the Church Assembly, under the chairmanship of Sir Wilfrid Garrett, to improve the relationship between the Church and the factory. A good example of this relationship was provided by the ringers.

The expected addition to the Royal Family next year was looked forward to with great interest and should bring the people closer to the Church. 'We hope it will be an occasion for rejoicing and that many peals will be rung. There are ringers who might have the opportunity of ringing at some inaccessible towers. This will be one of the occasions when everybody will know why the bells are being rung.'

There seemed to be a good influx of young men entering the Church today, and some of them were good ringers. The Bishop of Southwark had appealed to young clergy to come forward and take jobs in Southwark and Camberwell. It was only by them coming forward that the gap which existed between the Church and the people could be reduced.

MR. WILFRED WILLIAMS, The Master as hundreds who have rung peals with him know him.

'ARMADA' HUGHES

The Provost of Southwark was at his happiest in his reply to the toast with a pointed reference to his old friend 'Armada' Hughes. He went to Portsmouth on Nelson's Day to take part in the proceedings, and some doubt was expressed as to what were Nelson's last words — 'Kismet Hardy' or 'Kiss me, Hardy.' He thought a solution would be found if they looked at the 'Victory's' bell. It provided the answer with 'Kiss me, Hughes.'

When he was in St. Bartholomew's Hospital as a patient with his wife, the Provost spoke of hearing the bells of the new Cathedral (St. Paul's), where the church got its money from a whispering gallery. It was a campanological mystical sound which called back memories. What it was to have a famous name! Only England could produce names like the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The Provost said they at Southwark owed a lot to the ringers when their Bishop was enthroned, when they had more pressmen visit them than at any other ecclesiastical event. His secretary, Benedicta Whistler, when she motored him around the country never failed to point out the churches in which she had rung. On behalf of the Church he thanked the ringers for their services. They were thrilled to know that the College Youths had 70 new members

The toast of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths' was proposed by the Rev. N. Motley, Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill, who in his thanks wondered how some of the ringers found time to eat, as they rang for the 10 o'clock service at St. Paul's, the 11 o'clock at his church and again at St. Paul's in the afternoon.

They might have heard that their 11th bell had sheared its bearing. The City Fathers had not been over generous in meeting the cost. He approached one who said he was quite prepared to start a fund for some nice electronic bells on which they could hear the Bells of Bethlehem, and asked him if he would like it. Apart from the fact that he objected to anything ersatz, he remembered that there was the Ancient Society of College Youths, and if electronic bells were introduced he could not remain Rector of Cornhill. He was still waiting for that City Father's subscription for the new bells.

The hon, secretary (Mr. John E. Chilcott) in his reply expressed the Society's pleasure in having Mr. Motley with them as their guest, as he had been a source of great encouragement to the Society by the energetic way he was getting the bells restored. They looked forward to the time when he had his bells ringing again.

The secretary read apologies from the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow, Messrs. J. T. Dyke, L. Derrick, W. A. Marsh, Richard W. Stannard (aged 90, joined 1890), Harry Miles, F. E. Hansford, W. A. Osborn and Alan R. Mcadonald.

A RECORD YEAR

The past year could be described as a record one. They had that evening a record attendance of over 200 members and friends of the Society; they had made a record number of new members, and in addition the number of peals rung was above average.

Practices had, however, suffered by the curtailment of ringing at Cornhill and in latter months at St. Paul's Cathedral, but the ringing had been of a progressive nature and at the practices the standard had been a high one.

They had a country meeting at Worcester on May 2nd, when they had a very enjoyable day, thanks to the services of Messrs. Cartwright and Hemming, and on July 25th they visited St. Albans, where Mr. Arnold made excellent arrangements.

That year they had made 71 new members, which was almost double the number for last year. They came from 28 counties, and in addition there was Mr. Nelson Sloan, of Christchurch, New Zealand. Mr. Sloan came on a six-months' holiday to this country, and most of his holiday was devoted to ringing, and when he was told he was eligible for election to the College Youths, which was just before he returned to New Zealand, he told him that it was the highlight of his visit.

During the year 23 peals were rung, against 16 last year. There were eight peals of Major including one at Bolsover and the first for the Society of Glasgow Surprise Major; five peals of Stedman Caters (including one at Southwark for the new Bishop), three of Royal (Gloucester Cathedral, Stepney and Prittlewell), five of Stedman Cinques (including Exeter Cathedral) and three of Maximus (including the first of Pudsey for the Society in June, although another peal was rung in July).

In the early part of the year they were offered the original manuscript of Trollope's 'College Youths' by the Guildford Guild. They were very proud to have it, and they looked forward to the time they had a central home for their books. He hoped that someone would write a history of their contemporary members.

LOSSES BY DEATH
At the suggestion of the Master, the company stood while the following, who had died during the year (not all College Youths), were remembered :-

the year (not all College Youths), were remembered:—
John Bass, Bernard J. Swinson, Geoffrey Carter, Herbert W. Knight, John O. Lancaster, Herbert J. Skeet, Harry Knutt, George N. Price, Ernest J. Gladman, Mrs. A. A. Shurcliff, John Fowler, Arthur W. Gravett, George Baker. Alfred H. Pulling, Arthur B. Wiffin, Charles W. Blakey, Percy Fordham, Cecil J. Matthews, William Pelling, Sidney S. Woodburn, Cecil V. Ebberson, Robert S. F. Murphy, William Seldon, Geo. F. Hoad, Ambrose W. Osborne, Thomas Townsend, Henry J. Ranzetta, E. Roger Martin and Charles Brown.

'Visitors and Kindred Societies' was proposed by Mr. J. G. A. Prior, who gave a special welcome to the Provost of Southwark and the Rev. N. Motley. Mr. Motley's bells were at the Whitechapel Foundry, and they had every hope of ringing them again shortly. Southwark, Cornhill and Cripplegate were great names in the Society. Welcoming Mr. Peter Bond, the Master of the Cumberlands, Mr. Prior said he had not been Master long but he thought he could claim to be the longest! Other guests specially mentioned were Mr. Frederick guests specially mentioned were Mr. Frederick Sharpe (president) and Mr. E. A. Barnett (sec-retary), of the Central Council, and also Mr. Edwin A. Lewis. We of the Ancient Society are very proud that the presidents of the Council have for a long time been College Youths, and for almost as many years the secretaries have been Cumberlands.

DESCENDANTS OF MASTER OF 1685

Speaking of 'Kindred Societies,' Mr. Prior mentioned that College Youths were also members of kindred Societies. Of the last 17 Masters no fewer than nine came from outside London. In their company there were two-dozen members from Oxford, He also welcomed Mr. Sam Scattergood, of the Derbyshire Society, who was a direct decembers of Samuel. Society, who was a direct descendant of Samuel Scattergood, who was Master in 1685. He must have known Fabian Stedman, who was Master in 1682. Mr. L. W. Wiffen, of the Essex Association, was the sole surviving member of the band who rang the first peal of Cambridge the band who rang the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ips-wich, and with him was Mr. Charles Sedgley, who with Mr. Wiffen rang in the second peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ipswich. The Rev. E. G. Turner (Rector of St. Giles', Cripplegate) in his reply said that having com-pleted 25 years as Vicar of Cripplegate, his title had now been changed to Rector.

Mr. G. McKay. of the Cumberland and North Westmorland Association, replied for the North Westmorland Association, replied for the Kindred Societies, and said his Association covered a very wide area but only contained 110 ringers and 20 rings of bells

Mr. W. T. Cook was entrusted with the toast of 'The Ringing World,' and said, 'The Ringing World,' or some similar journal, was indispensable to the Exercise. They had had a ringing journal continuously since 1881, and a ringing journal continuously since 1881, and since then there had been an enormous increase in the theory of their art. As they knew, with the recent increase in the cost of printing 'The Ringing World was facing a crisis, and what they had to decide was 'what we who own the paper are going to do about it.' Were they going to let it die through their own apathy? "The Ringing World" was necessary if ringing was to function as it did today.

Mr. E. A. Barnett, who replied, said 'The Ringing World' was born on March 24th, 1911. and in the first issue there was a photograph of a young man of 28 with a splendid head of black hair, who was the then Master of the College Youths—their friend, Mr. Peck, Of course, it was very magnanimous for Mr. Goldsmith to begin with Mr. Peck, as he was an ardent Cumberland.

'ANNOYED SOMEBODY'

What did they want in 'The Ringing World'?
They knew that whatever fresh appeared it annoyed somebody. He welcomed very much a letter from a clergyman, who said they did not want homespun theology but news about ringing. Me did not want a watered-down edition of 'The Church Times.' Some people said the contents were not height enough. Some urged contents were not bright enough. Some urged that it should cater for the Sunday service ringers, and if it did its circulation would go up by leaps and bounds.

Other complaints were that there were too many peals, and professional peal ringers went about the country ringing for their own pleasure. 'I think I can speak in a slightly detached fashion having rung a tremendous number of peals in a short time until compelled to give up. Personally, I read the doings of other peal ringers, and I am quite certain that 95 per cent. of those who buy "The Ringing World" do. It seems to me that in certain quarters there is a very strong Puritan streak."

CIRCULATION HIGHEST

It is a fact that the circulation of the journal is higher than it has ever been-a circulation of 5,700 a week. As Mr. Cook said, the paper faces a crisis because of the increase of 12½ per cent. in printing costs. 1 will tell you the Standing Committee met this afternoon and considered the general situation of the paper. They considered three alternative ways in which they might increase the revenue of the paper, and very reluctantly decided that it would be necessary from the first issue next year to increase the price.

'We took the view if the price is increased, the increase should be one that would provide the therease should be one that would provide a surplus as far as could be reasonably fore-seen, because we know that in 1961 there will be another review of printers' wages and also of costs. The view was taken that it was no good putting a penny on the paper and coming back in a couple of years and saying it has been very tight.

'From the first issue in January the price will be 8d. We know that it will not be popular. There will be letters in "The Ringing world." but do remember we are not putting world." but do remember we are not putting money into shareholders' pockets. The only thing "The Ringing World" Committee and the Standing Committee are concerned with is trying to ensure as far as possible that. "The Ringing World" shall continue to appear and that the Editor and his staff, inadequately paid as they are, should receive a slight increase to recompense them. I think the Exercise generally will not object to that extra cost.

The concluding toast, which was drunk in silence, was 'The Fragrant Memory of the Masters of 300, 200 and 100 years ago.' Mr.

A. A. Hughes, who submitted the toast, said that the Master of 1659 was John Tendring, a famous composer of his time; they had no record of the Master of 1759, but in 1859 it was Matthew A. Wood, of Bethnal Green. Quite a number of ringers knew him, and he (Mr. Hughes) called his last peal in 1912. He was a great man, a first-class ringer and a steadfast character. steadfast character

LETTERS TO

RINGING TOURS

Dear Sir,-I sympathise with Mr. Dowse in his protest about the cutting of copy sent for publication; it really is a waste of time. An account of a 10-day tour which I submitted earlier this year appeared as a few lines in Belfry Gossip, so those whose reports are cut to half a page can take what comfort they like from that !

The key to the success of any paper lies in its presentation of news, and people who take the trouble to send in reports, as Mr. Dowse says, work hard and take a great deal of time and trouble to produce first class material. This is almost invariably pruned drastically, and what is left is ironed out to a general level of mediocrity from which all humour and amusing incidents are erased.

The ordinary reader isn't interested in the rather banal reports which so often run: 'We visited followed by a string of towers and the number of bells in each. This is merely a factual record which we can read in 'Dove.' If an account isn't 'live' then it isn't worth printing, as any newspaper editor will soon confirm.

The sort of person who sends reports is invariably a 'Ringing World' supporter, and would hazard a guess, very often a financial supporter into the bargain. If his reports are to receive such cavalier treatment, then the Editor loses another contributor and a bit of goodwill as well.

We read 'The Ringing World' for enter-tainment as well as for news and higher mathematics, so please remember that un-imaginative cutting of reports is not only the surest way to a further falling off in interest, but, what is far more serious, a falling off in circulation, which no one wishes to see. — Yours faithfully,

JOHN BRAIN.

Note.—Those who submit week's ringing Note.—Those who submit week's ringing tours should remember that consideration has first to be given to the general reader. They want to know whose tour. Who is Bill and Monica? In selecting tours for publication preference is given to the regular weeks of permanent or semi-permanent bodies. The printers' strike meant a deficit of 84 pages of reading matter. Had this not occurred there would have been fewer grouses.—Ed

OUR PAGES AND THEIR APPEAL

Dear Sir,—One receives his or her 'Ringing World' each week to read some very interesting literature.

We open up our copy at the first page and usually find a very interesting article by a well-known ringer. We then read, I hope well-known ringer. We then read, I hope with interest, the peals and quarter peals that have been published, and belfry gossip. After I have read so far, I usually turn to read the notices of meetings and then accounts of peal tours and outings, etc. Last of all, and by no means least, we turn to letters to the Editor, and what do we read? One person begrudges the space allocated to him compared with the amount of space allocated to someone else. Another person then reports that he heard part of a peal—published in The Ringing World —and comments that he would not have given it room in the peals would not have given it room in the peals column had he been the Editor.

Let us face all facts. We in general are not interested in how much space is allocated to accounts of outings and tours, or to whether a peal should have been published or not. These are both a matter of judgment for the Editor and the latter by the conductor. If a conductor thinks that the striking of a peal is good enough for publication, then let that be the end of it. If the striking is bad, then it is up to the con-ductor to ask for better striking or to stand the hells.

Let us not read any more of these 'bicker-ing' letters and have the space devoted to more interesting literature, such as ringers giving information on bells and others wanting to know if there are any more bells in the country cast by So and So.—Yours faithfully. St. Mary's, Oldham. ALAN WARD. 'HUDIBRAS' AND THE EXTREME

Dear Sir,—I was very interested to read the leading article in 'The Ringing World of October 30th giving account of a conversation between Mr. Chant and 'Professor Dodge.' It is with great trepidation that I set pen to paper to express any views on a subject that has been studied by such a learned Professor.

Ten years ago I joined a five-bell tower, just south of Grantham, called Great Ponton. just south of Grantham. called Great Ponton. and there we used to ring a method, or rather a variation, which we called 'Hudibras,' This method was the same as what is commonly known as April Day (i.e., Plain Bob Doubles with a Grandsire single instead of a bob). The only difference between the two methods was that whereas, naturally, Plain Bob had the normal start. Hudibras had a Grandsire-type start. In other words, the 120 starts off assuming that a call has just been made.

The Professor and Mr. Chant then went on to discuss a type of call used in doubles called 'Extream. In Great Ponton belfry there is a chart quoting 42 different extents of Grandsire Doubles, and in 32 of these extents, apart from the usual bobs, singles and plain leads, I seem to remember that a very plain leads, I seem to remember that a very large proportion of the lead ends were marked to be called 'E,' which, I was told, meant 'Extream.' (I was told that it was spelt 'Extreme.') I made several inquiries to find out exactly what was meant by this, but out exactly what was meant by this, but was never very successful. One person said that it was iust another type of call like a bob or single, another said that it was a call by means of which a conductor could put another bell into the plain hunting instead of the treble, and a third thought it had the effect of altering the work of the bells between the lead ends. Unfortunately none of my informants are now alive so I cannot question them further on this point.

Like Messrs. Chant and Dodge. I do not think that I could be classified as an 'Old Doubles Ringer.' having only been ringing less than 15 years, so I hope that I shall not be accused of teaching my grandmothers (and fathers) to suck eggs.—Yours, etc.,

ST. RUMON OF ROMANSLEIGH

Dear Sir.—The writer of the report of the S.F.E. outing in Devon at Whitsun, in 'The Ringing World' of July 10th-17th, asked for the origin of St. Rumon of Romansleigh.

I have been inquiring into the history of this local saint and find that he is identical with St. Ruan of Ruan Moi.

with St. Ruan of Ruan Maj. and Min. also Polruan. in Cornwall.

I am indebted to the Rev. R. L. P. Milburn for the following information: 'He seems to have been one of a rather numerous band of Irish hermits who came to Cornwall and to Brittany, where he is also honoured and thought to be a Bishop of Quimper.

LETTERS—Continued COVEHITHE CHURCH, SUFFOLK

Sir, — The most interesting account by U. W. W. of ringers at Covehithe, Suffolk, certainly brought back many memories of visits made during the summers of 1935, 1936 visits made during the summers of 1935, 1936 and 1937, and also answered a question which has puzzled me for over 20 years—why this unique place, with its one church built inside another, has not been the venue of outings and peal attempts. Although I would not care to do so to-day, I can recall more than one scramble up the crazy ladders in the tower in company with other teenage youths.

In those days the bells were chimed 'on the swing' by members of the church, under the supervision of the then Rector, the Rev. L. W. Wingfield (I think that was his name), and very well they did it. Ringing, even then, was done on only very rare occasions on account of the isolation of the place and then, as I recall by arrangement with the bands far as I recall, by arrangement with the bands at Pakefield and/or Wrentham. The tower was not thought unsafe at the time.

An interesting and well-illustrated booklet, History and Antiquities of Covehithe, by John Browne. M.A., used to be available for 6d, at Wrentham Post Office. From internal evidence, this was originally written between 1872 and 1881, my copy being published by Powell and Co., of Lowestoft. The following few facts may be of interest:—

There is no church mentioned in Domesday, but in 1301 a vicar was nominated by Wangford Priory, and this monastery and Wangford Priory, and this monastery and its superior at Thetford were probably patrons of the living. The book gives a list of vicars from 1301 to 1710 and it is generally thought that the ruined church was the work of William Yarmouth, Vicar 1459—1494, a man of wealth. This building was 'defaced' by Dowsing, the Parliamentary Commissioner, and after the Civil War, in 1672, was partly demolished to provide material for the small church erected inside the nave, which was more appropriate to the needs and size of the place than the old building, which was 163ft. place than the old building, which was 163ft. long and 63ft. 9in. wide and renowned for its stained glass before Dowsing got there.

The bells are very interesting; the treble is an ancient blank bell: 2 and 3 being inscribed: A. B. Anno Domini 1616 and 1626 respectively; 4 and 5 are apparently mediæval, the inscriptions reading: (4) 'Petrus ad eterne ducat nos pascua vite,' (5) 'Sum Rosa pulsata mundi Maria Vocata.' Both bear shields and crosses, probably products of the Norwich foundry. The weight would be about 14-16 cwt be about 14-16 cwt.

Perhaps one of your more erudite readers could say whether the 'one church in another' is unique or not.—Yours sincerely,

W. E. BOX.

Freemasons At Liverpool

The dozen Masonic brethren who assembled at St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, on October 31st were unable to start for a peal of Stedman Cinques as, owing to a wedding service, time would not allow for its completion. They had the pleasure of ringing two excellent quarters on these fine bells, which left everyone quite satisfied. It is understood that this is the first time two quarters have been rung on the bells in one day.

By previous arrangements, a repast with the curate (the Rev. Ian Campbell) and Ringing Master (Mr. Lester Gray) was enjoyed at the local Masonic Hall and brought to a close a really happy day. Among toasts honoured were 'The Ringing Fraternity' and 'Absent

Friends.

THE DEVON GUILD AND TOURS

Dear Sir,—In view of the correspondence which has taken place, I feel that, as general secretary of the Devon Guild, I should like to make it clear that we are very pleased to welcome to Devon visiting ringers, whether individually or in parties. It must be remembered that we change ringers number less than 20 per cent. of the ringers in Devon and that practising the art of change ringing is consequently very difficult. We therefore look forward to the summer, when ringers on holiday make their way to our belfries and give us a helping hand. We also like to hear our bells rung well by a band of experts such as that which rang the 11 peals last month. Our peal fees almost cover the cost of publication in our annual report and make of publication in our annual report and make a contribution to 'The Ringing World' funds. Unfortunately I was not able to welcome the peal party as I had no previous knowledge of their visit, but the monks at Buckfast of their visit, but the monks at Buckfast Abbey have told me how much they appreciated the ringing. It is, however, regretted that the peal at Wolborough was rung on a Sunday, as this disturbance of the Sunday quiet has caused trouble at one of the few call change towers in Devon, where peal ringing by residents has been welcomed in the past. In this connection I would like to endorse Mr. Norman Mallett's suggestions in last week's 'Ringing World' and express the hope that in arranging future tours one of the officers of the Guild would be contacted.

—Yours sincerely.

Yours sincerely.

A. F. BAILEY.

DEDICATION

Carbis Bay's Completed Tower And New Bells

THE dedication of the completed tower, two new trebles to make a ring of ten, an additional clock face, and new curtains for both the High and and Lady Chapel Altars, took place on Saturday, October 31st, All Saints' Eve. and was performed by the Archdeacon of Cornwall, the Ven. F. Boreham. The Archdeacon, in his sermon, described the dedication service as a 'joyful and happy occasion,' and said that the beautiful tower dominated the whole area and invited everyone to worship and praise God.

RINGING COMPETITION FOLLOWS REDEDICATION AT KIMPTON

THE RINGING WORLD

THE first Hertfordshire ringing competition was held at Kimpton following the service of rededication of the bells by the Bishop of Bedford on October 31st.

of Bedford on October 31st.

A new tower screen in memory of the late Charles Hancock, Vicar of Kimpton from 1952 to 1958, was also dedicated at the service. Mr. Hancock was keenly interested in the bells and himself learned to ring at Kimpton. It was during his incumbency that a restoration fund was opened for the bells and in four and a half years the local ringers raised £590 for the fund. The work, which included retuning and rehanging in ball bearings, was completed in October by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The beautiful memorial screen, which incorporates a new ringing screen, which incorporates a new ringing floor, was designed by a member of the church and built by Mr. D. Price, a member church and built by Mr. D. Price, a member of the local band.

The dedication rounds during the service were rung by a local band, which included 78-year-old tower captain Mr. John Wells, who has been associated with the church as choirboy and ringer since the age of 16.

After the service a short touch of Kent Minor was rung by a band including the president of the Herts County Association, Mr. G. W. Debenham, and Messrs. W. Ayre and A.P. Cannon.

Mr. J. G. Cull, in introducing the judges.

Mr. W. Ayre and Mr. A. P. Cannon, said that he did not think he could say anything about these two well-known gentlemen which the meeting did not already know, except to give an assurance that they had not been visited by any ringers with refreshments during the course of the afternoon!

A tape recording was then played of Kimpton bells rung to Cambridge Minor, before restoration.

IMPORTANCE OF TIGHT ROPE

Mr. Ayre, in commenting on the competition, said that most marks were lost due to bad leads. He emphasised the need for keeping a tight rope and also said that it was not good policy to put the least experienced member of the band on the treble.

Mr. Cannon, after supporting these re-marks, said that he had last visited Kimpton 20 years ago and on that occasion had cycled 20 years ago and on that occasion had cycled from Surrey. That day he had travelled in comfort and he had found the afternoon a very pleasant change from peal ringing.

Mr. Ayre, in giving the results, said that these did not really matter so much as the fact that the competition was an incentive to attain good striking, which was the main criterion in any ringing.

The teams who entered, methods rung and The teams who entered. methods rung and marking were then given as follows: North Mymms (Cambridge) 78 faults. Baldock 'A' (Cambridge) 82. The Kimpton Cup (of solid silver), which had been given by the Kimpton Guild of Change Ringers, was then presented to Mr. T. J. Lock. of North Mymms, who said helt sure that everyone who had entered for felt sure that everyone who had entered for the competition had benefited by the practice necessary for such an event.

All the ringing during the afternoon had been recorded and part of the winning team's touch was then plaved back. Compared with the recording made before restoration the improvement in tone effected by the retuning was most marked.

A short discussion on the future of the competition brought whole-hearted support that it should continue and a small committee was formed to organise the event in 1960.

Following a vote of thanks to all concerned in making the arrangements for the day the meeting adjourned to the local British Legion Club. Here the Kimpton ringers had laid on a barrel of beer, which proved to be too small, and other refreshments. Good use small, and other refreshments. Good use was made of the handbells during the evening and teams were able to hear their afternoon's ringing played back over the tape recorder, some perhaps were a little surprised at the number of faults.

So ended. all too soon, a very memorable and enjoyable day.

Our thanks to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for doing such a good job on the bells.

SCHOOL CHILDREN EXPERIMENT AT HONITON, DEVON

Youth is very prominent in many of our belfries today. In Honiton, Devon, as young men were not coming forward, children were recruited for the belfry, and the experiment has been very successful. The six in our accompanying illustration. kindly supplied by the 'Western Times and Gazette. range in age from 12 to 14 years, and they have been trained by Mr. W. Webb, the captain of Honiton Parish Church ringers, and Mr. Hodge, a member.

The children now ring regularly for Sunday services, taking their turn with their seniors. They are Janet Real, Sandra Webb. Peter Fursey, Bernard and Marcus Harvey and Peter Real. Janet and Sandra have received certificates of proficiency from the Devon Guild of Ringers.

MR. J. HALL, MIDDLESBROUGH, PASSES 60 YEARS AS ACTIVE RINGER

A presentation was made to Mr. J. G. Hall, of Middlesbrough, on October 8th, to mark his retirement from active ringing. Jack Hall graduated from the Bible class at St. Hilda's Church, Middlesbrough, to the belify just before the end of the 19th century, and his active ringing. 19th century, and his active ringing career lasted for over 60 years. Recently, at the age of 79, he decided that he could no longer take an active rate in the Exercise and to much the that he could no longer take an active part in the Exercise, and to mark the very great services rendered by him, the ringers at St. Cuthbert's. Ormesby, presented him with an inscribed copy of 'Tintinnabula.' The presentation was made by Mr. William Ellerington, who spoke of his long association with Jack Hall, going back for more than 40 years

Although starting at St. Hilda's, Middlesbrough, Jack Hall has rung at ractically every tower in the North Riding of Yorkshire, County Durham and Southern Northumberland. A joiner by trade, he worked for some time on Tyneside before World War I during the fitting out of the lirst 'Mauritania.' He and the late lirst 'Mauritania.' He and the late Tom Metcalfe for a long time assisted the band at Ormesby, regularly walking the four or so miles from Middlesbrough on Sundays. Since the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association was re-formed in 1951, Jack Hall has been one of the vice-presidents, and amongst those at the president of Merchantian were the president (Mr. presentation were the president (Mr. T. M. Cox), the treasurer (Mrs. Laura Warrior) and the secretary (Mr. P. W. B. Semmens).

A bouquet of flowers was sent to Mrs. Hall as a token of appreciation for the many hours she had spent at home while her husband was away ringing.

In spite of thick fog and the excitement of election night, a reporter and photographer from the 'Middlesbrough Evening Gazette' attended the presentation, and we are indebted to this newspaper for our illustration.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

'Key trouble' delayed the start of the meeting of the Southern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association at Gainford, Co. Dur-ham, on October 31st. When the key was at last located there was still more delay while the chiming apparatus was adjusted.

There was a good gathering of members with visitors from Tees-side, the North and West Ridings and from Durham University. Methods rung included Plain Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford T.B. combined, Single Oxford and Fortnerd Forward.

The Vicar (Rev. I. Samuels) was away for the afternoon, so there was no service, but he called at the Queen's Head during tea and made his apologies, and visited the tower during the evening, expressing his pleasure at hearing the bells ringing again.

At the business meeting the District vice-president (Mr. F. W. Cooke) congratulated his predecessor. Mr. T. Cooke, on his election as president of the Association. Mr. Eric Thompson. of Heighington, was elected a member, and the next meeting—a joint event with the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association—was fixed for January 16th at Stockton

OBITUARY

MISS S. NOBLE

On Sunday morning, September 27th. Miss S. Noble, a 73-year-old member of the Cumberland and North Westmorland Change Ringers' Association, collapsed in the Church of St. John, Cleator Moor, and passed away in the early hours of the following morning. The Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Batty), whose induction took place three days earlier said at the funeral took place three days earlier, said at the funeral service that no one could wish to die under better circumstances, her last act being the partaking of Holy Communion.

MR. T. OWEN

With deep regret we report the passing away on November 1st of Mr. T. Owen, Newlands, Johnstown, Carmarthen, aged 65, an esteemed member of the St. David's Diocesan Guild. Mr. T. Owen commenced his ringing career with the Llanstephan band, and for the last 14 years was a valuable member of St. Peter's, Carmarthen, band of ringers. Carmarthen, band of ringers.

The sympathy of the Guild is extended to Mrs. T. Owen and only child Mrs. Livesey.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION

The Monmouth Branch quarterly meeting was held at Rumney on October 17th. Many Minor and Doubles methods were rung on these very pleasant bells.

Assisting Canon C. K. Lewis (Vicar of Rumney) at the ringers' service were the Rev. Ivor J. Richards, Rural Dean of Raglan, and Mr. Ron Lucas, lay reader.

n excellent tea was served in the Church Hall by Mrs. Griffen and her helpers, who were warmly thanked by Mr. F. Hannington.

At the business meeting two new members were elected from Caldicot—Miss Enid Evans and Miss Barbara Porter. Progress was reported from Caerleon and Llangibby.

Usk was chosen for the annual Branch meeting. Mention was made of the Branch dinner, to be held on the last Saturday of January at the Tudor Rooms, Newport.

SOME AUTUMN OUTINGS

S.F.E. AUTUMN TOUR, 1959

Thanks to removals, holidays and liberal employers, the Society of Friends of the Exercise (S.F.E.) were able to commence their September week-end with a good peal of Stedman Triples at Littleham, S. Devon (8, 8½ cwt.), on September 25th, conducted by Reg. Hooper.

Meanwhile, the remainder of the party had assembled in East Budleigh. After the usual formality of drinking the founder's health, they were all deposited with kindly villagers for two nights' 'b, and b.' Next morning motor-cycles were left behind, thanks to Harry Luxton and George Ellett, who not only accommodated people but put their cars in the 'transport pool' and went along to join in the ringing.

Eventually, by devious routes, vehicles arrived early at Jacobstowe, and set an unprecedented pattern for the day. 'Whaddever do'ee wanna ring 'ere vor?', was the greeting. Apart from the novelty of a 'J' tower, the bells (5, 6½ cwt.) were well worth ringing and sufficient answer to that question.

Onward then to the beautifully-kept church at Black Torrington, to ring sundry methods on a very fine six (8½ cwt. in F sharp!) and meet the Rev. J. G. M. Scott, who also joined the party at Buckland Filleigh. There the church nestles close to Buckland House (now a preparatory school), and it was necessary to go through the organ to reach a neglected ringing chamber. With a tenor sally that almost touched the floor, this five (7½ cwt.) presented the biggest challenge of the day, Lunch was taken in the New Inn, Shebbear, before the village bells (6, 10 cwt.) were set going. A young band is learning change-ringing under the guidance of John L. Queen, and some of them rang with the visitors. Later, at Petrockstow (6, 10 cwt.), a local call-change ringer was heard to prefer 'Queens' to 'scientific,' which could have been better.

Another outpost of 'scientific' was found at Petersmarland (6, 9 cwt.), where the ringing was better. 'Two smart peals only' were remembered from the 1956 S.F.E. week, over tea in Great Torrington.

Next, the church at Little Torrington was located easily by all except the S. Devon native. The bells there were the heaviest six of the day (12 cwt.)

Before ringing at Iddesleigh (6, 10 cwt.) there was time to halt en route at Merton and listen to the Down St. Mary team ringing a compe-tition 'peal.' This was an enjoyable interlude of good striking.

At the end of the day Broadwood Kelly bells (6, 9\frac{1}{2} cwt.) sounded well before the last Ring o' Bells at Winkleigh was visited for supper. Here and elsewhere the community singing lapsed into something of a 'wild west show.'

Sunday, September 27th, dawned fair and bright to the sound of the usual S.F.E, quarter peal attempt at East Budleigh going its usual way-wrong! For mattins, the party split-15 to Sidbury (8, 164 cwt.) and one to Topsham. Later, three people bathed properly in the sea, and one young man imitated King Canute-his trousers dried quite quickly though.

During the afternoon members met Mr. and Mrs. George Cross at Chardstock (6, 13 cwt.), and rang St. Ambrose T.B. Minor—an irregular method which produced corresponding ringing. Finally, after tea, Chard bells (8, 23 cwt.) were rung to D.N.C.B., London, Spliced Major, etc., before Evensong and the party dispersed.

Grateful thanks go to those who allowed the S.F.E. to ring their bells and to the local ringers who welcomed them; also to the clerk of the weather and the organisers. We'll be back next year, Devon-here's to the next time.

DAY TOUR IN SOMERSET

On October 24th a small party of ringers from Twerton-on-Avon and friends had an enjoyable day in Central Somerset.

The first tower was Kingsdon, where we were met by the Rev. R. Eglin. The bells are a glorious heavy six (tenor 24 cwt. in D) hung on ball-bearings, and we were sorry to hear from the Rector that the bells were not rung very often now. At Long Sutton Mr. Lewis greeted us, and Mr. E. T. P. Field joined in Stedman Doubles on this lovely ring of five (tenor 171) cwt. in E). There was an abrupt ending to the ringing at Langport (6, tenor 17 cwt. in F) when the slider came out of the second. This was quickly put right by Mr. Locke.

After lunch we visited Othery, with its anticlockwise five (tenor 18 cwt. in E) of good tone, and Lyng, with a ground floor ring of five (17 cwt. in E) which were rehung by Mears and Stainbank four years ago. The Vicar (Rev. A. Ereaut) showed us around the lovely old church.

The light five at Durston provided variety; they are the front five of a ring of eight. 'Dove's Guide' gives the tenor as 13 cwt., but the bell is only 36 inches across, so we thought 8 cwt. was nearer the mark.

The next tower was Thurloxton, where Mr. E. Mills greeted us. The five (tenor 6½ cwt.) were rehung last year by J. Taylor and Co., and are a pleasure to ring. Mr. E. Mills pointed out that the third was cast in 1300. Lastly, Shapwick, where Mr. E. Skinner was waiting for us; the bells are a very good six. The ringing ended with a good fall in peal. A. F. L.

AN OUTING TO MID-KENT

A mixed band of ringers produced some very mixed ringing while visiting Kent on October 3rd. The six bells at Ash-by-Wrotham, the first tower, were found to be rather awkward, but there are hopes that they will be rehung. Reg Sills met the party and joined in some Cambridge at Wrotham, having one of the county's bridge at Wrotham, having one of the county's best octaves. Before lunch, visits were paid to Yalding (6), with its very long sallies, the Bowell eight at Marden, and Headcorn, having a heavy-going ring rung from the gallery. Unfortunately, after lunch, justice was not done to the excellent eight at Frittenden; Benenden will be remembered for a respectable lower in peal—Rolvenden for a fast course of Yorkshire. Tenterden's bells were too heavy for the band and the party were unable to produce anything good except a plain course of Grandsire. of Grandsire.

The evening's programme included Hawkhurst, where a fair course of London was rung; the delightful new Mears six at Kilndown; Goudhurst, a rather odd-struck octave; Hors-monden, where Bristol went well; and Brenchley. The band extend thanks to to make arrangements for the outing.

CLITHEROE, LANCS

Knowing Clitheroe ringers, it was not sur-prising that several guests joined them for their outing on October 24th, and there were ripples of merriment throughout the journey. ringing on two sixes at Silverdale and Milne-thorpe, a slight delay arose over a misunder-standing of the term 'Refreshments to suit all tastes.

At Cartmel's lovely Priory there was a re-union_with Mr. J. Blackburn, and at St. Martin's, Bowness, most methods attempted, including London, were rung. A sandwich lunch was partaken of before proceeding to the enjoyable eight at Ambleside. This was followed by tea, and ringing on the light eight at Hawkshead. where the Vicar joined in the ringing. The vote of thanks to those who contributed to the success of the outing must include one to Mr. A. Capstick.

EWELL, SURREY

The increasing popularity of the Cotswolds as an outing resort will have become evident to readers of 'The Ringing World' this year. readers of 'The Ringing World' this year. The Ewell ringers were therefore in the fashion when they rang at six, 8-bell towers on Septem-

Arriving at Hook Norton 20 minutes early (as is their wont), they were allowed to commence their wolth, they were anower to commence the ringing straight away, thus getting in more than their allotted time on these splendid bells (tenor 20½ cwt.). Mr. H. V. Young, Ringing Master of the Leatherhead District, was there, however, before the party, and his steadying influence was appreciated at this and subsequent towers. The ringers were also pleased to have the company of former Ewell ringers George Hill, from Penn, and John and Marjorie Hill, now attached to Hillingdon.

At Chipping Norton, the highest town in Oxfordshire, the church was being decorated for harvest festival, under the supervision of the Vicar (Rev. R. Jeans). Being a native of Epsom (Christ Church), a happy reunion took place with several amongst the party from that

Mr. Ewins, at Stow-on-the-Wold, kindly showed some of the non-ringing tourists the wonderful views across seven counties from the top of the massive tower, which seemed to emphasise the impression of compact spaciousness characteristic of this area. The bells (tenor

The church at Bourton-on-the-Water though mainly modern, like many of the other buildings in this charming village, goes back into history. The square tower of 1795 has a diamond-shaped clock face and is crowned with a cupola, while at each corner stands a small urn.

Tea was enjoyed at the Devonshire Tea Gardens close by the River Windrush. The time spent in this lovely place soon passed: some went to the flower show; others looked at the model village or the bird garden, the latter being an estate two acres in extent, in which are to be seen not only many rare trees and flowering shrubs as well as flowers in profusion, but also a fine collection of exotic birds with gorgeous plumage. Here are toucans, macaws, cockatoos and lovebirds, lories, gouldians and budgerigars; there are even cranes and penguins.

It was difficult to get the coaches away on time, especially as the party was large, 76 in all, comprising 14 Ewell ringers, 12 other ringers, 32 parishioners and 18 other friends.

Some of the less expert found one or two of the bells at Shipton-under-Wychwood a little less easy to manage than those to which they were more accustomed. In spite of this, good use was made of them and several good touches were brought round under the spire of this large Early-English church.

Within easy walking distance stands one of the most attractive inns in the district, a fine example of the intelligent blending of ancient with modern. The travellers discovered this hostelry with satisfaction, demonstrating in a sober way their ability to take pleasure in in-J. E. B. terests other than ringing.
