PETERBOROUGH GUILD SUMMER FESTIVAL

*'Who rings a bell let him look well
To hands and head and heart;
The hands for strength,
The head for wit,
The heart for worship's part.'*

THIS inscription from an Oxfordshire peal board was used by Canon Elliot Wigg, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, as a text for his sermon at the Peterborough Diocesan Guild Festival Service at St. Mary's Church, Easton Neston, on September 1st. The little church, standing in a wooded setting by the side of Nicholas Hawks-Moon's magnificent Easton Neston House, was filled for the occasion by members from most parts of the diocese and beyond, the visitors including such notables as Mr. and Mrs. Peter Border, Mr. A. W. Coles, Mr. Pat Cannon, Mr. Robin Leale and his fiancée, and Mrs. Fermor-Hesketh, widow of the Hon. John Fermor-Hesketh, who was instrumental in bringing about the complete restoration of Easton Neston Church recently. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. F. Hales and Canon Turner (Guild president), and the lesson was read by Mr. Patrick Chapman, Master of the Guild.

Before the service, many of the members were privileged to meet the Lord Lieutenant of Northamptonshire, Earl Spencer, and the Countess, who had come to see the restoration work with which Lord Spencer had been concerned as a member of the Diocesan Advisory Board.

A short but very beautiful ride through the estate was necessary to reach the somewhat unusual venue for tea—the Pavilion of Towcester Racecourse. The racecourse is in Easton Neston Park, by the side of the ancient Watling Street, and must surely be among the most beautifully-situated in the country. A very nice tea had been arranged by the local ringers and their wives, and was most enjoyable.

In recent years it had become customary to transact any urgent business at the Summer Festival, but at the request of the Guild Committee this practice has been dropped. Consequently there was no more than a hearty welcome to our visitors and members from Canon Turner and the usual and very sincere vote of thanks to all concerned proposed by Mr. Stanley Earl. Unfortunately, the beautiful weather meant that many members of the more rural branches were unable to attend because of their work in connection with the harvest, and one particularly missed was the genial Towcester Branch secretary, Mr. W. A.

Yates, who had done so much towards the arranging of the Festival.

Ten towers were available for ringing during the day, and there was ringing to suit every taste, from rounds to Spliced Surprise.

THE RINGING WEEK

A RINGING week is decidedly other. There are 52 weeks in the year, and 51 of them belong to another world: up with the alarm, off to the office, lunch at a table with knife and fork, lights out at 11, a bit of Grandsire on Sundays with the treble mostly hovering around thirds place, and a monthly Saturday afternoon meeting.

When it is otherwise it is up with a hangover half way through breakfast, an hour late for the peal attempt, search for anything at all to eat at 3 p.m. on early closing day, bed at 2 a.m., prancing conductors changing the method whenever the treble leads, and a ringing meeting seven days—and nights—long. Presumably the rest of the world does still pursue the even tenor of its ways during this fifty-second week; one is just conscious of the baker's van on its rounds as one hurtles down the country lanes in search of villages with unlikely names; newspapers are still to be found somewhere; the Lone Ranger still rides across the screen; England still plod on to 300 for two wickets; the Proms still reverberate around the Albert Hall.

Presumably. This 51-week world has shrunk to a microcosm, swallowed in the timeless ecstasy of the angel roof of Little Greatly, swallowed in a pint of beer, swallowed in the total absorption of the business man, two teachers and a housewife stretched on the floor at midnight at an eternal game of Monopoly, swallowed in the changeless, but ever-changing beauty of the English landscape, swallowed in the pure joy of random living. Only when it is so other could a charming young lady of 14 months take her breakfast in the solemn C. P. Snow (is the adjective Snovian?) atmosphere of the dining hall of an Oxford college, or could an eminent cleric be found crammed in a cupboard in the pitch dark playing 'sardines,' or could the sense of time become so blurred that ten ringers can be found in the saloon of a pub at mid-day drinking coffee? There are two ringing worlds: one is 51 weeks long, the other is seven days.

As the car slips from the scene on the seventh, and the speedometer needle subsides from its frantic schedule chasing 65 to a more habitual 50, the world of the 51 gathers all round again with a sense of utter physical exhaustion. 'Three weeks,' somebody said last night, 'three weeks they have for their ringing tour each year.' No, I don't believe it; 49 weeks are not long enough for recuperation.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD IN LANCASHIRE

HALF of what the Guild does is not interesting—the other half is not printable. and 'Every sentence must end with "and then we adjourned to the local hostelry" These were the last-minute instructions given to me just before we left our 'home' for the week at Alston Hall, the Preston Adult Education Centre, which we had shared with a group of potters.

I am writing on the assumption that a brief outline of our activities will be of interest to some readers, and the fact that 'we adjourned to the local hostelry' at regular intervals may be taken as read.

The non-ringing activities included Corporate Communion and the annual meeting, at which a new set of rules for the Guild was adopted after minor alterations.

Notable amongst the towers visited was Liverpool Cathedral—a unique ring of bells and a unique experience ringing them, our only other 12-bell ringing being at St. Nicholas', Liverpool. Ten-bell towers included Wigan, St. Andrew's, Leyland, and Preston; eights: Whalley, St. Peter's, Burnley, Clitheroe, Ormskirk, Higher Walton, Bamber Bridge, Kirkham, Accrington, Todmorden Unitarian, Bacup, Newchurch-in-Rossendale, Hornby and Giggleswick; sixes: Ribchester, Aughton, St. James', Leyland, Kirkby Lonsdale and Bentham; fives (by courtesy of B. D. Threlfall): Downham and Leck. At St. Peter's, Burnley, we found the tower locked and the key could not be found, but entry was effected by the more agile and determined members scaling two builders' ladders (much to the consternation of the builders), entering the tower by the window and removing the lock from the door to let in the rest of us. At Bamber Bridge one bell proved 'unringable' owing to the addition of a piece of bird-wire to its mechanism.

BACK-SLANG

Methods rung ranged from standard methods to Spliced Surprise, London Royal and a course of egdirbmaC Surprise Minor and Major (anyone wishing for further details of this method should contact nedleif.H.J.).

In number we were not as strong as in most recent years, and in peal-ringing we certainly did not excel, not one peal standing to our credit. A peal of London Royal at Ashton-under-Lyne was lost after an hour's rather ragged ringing on Saturday, on Monday a peal of Spliced was lost at Oswaldtwistle, on Wednesday a peal of Yorkshire at Walton-le-Dale was brought to a somewhat controversial halt, and on Thursday evening, despite the reluctance of some of the band to embark on peal-ringing so late in the day, we were all sorry to lose the peal of Grandsire Caters at Blackburn after over two hours' quite good ringing. Attempts to ring Stedman 'in hand' met with no more success, although a quarter of Stedman Caters was safely brought round.

However, lost peals did not seem to dampen anyone's spirits and, to use a standard phrase, 'a good time was had by all.' For this we owe our sincere thanks to Roger Leigh for arranging our excellent accommodation and ringing programme, and to the Principal of Alston Hall and the local ringers and incumbents, many of whom were able to meet us in person, for their hospitality.

For a true picture of the Guild Week add to the activities recounted above excellent company and conversation (the latter falling often into the 'unprintable' half of the activities). We trust that we shall see all those present and 'absent friends' too next year, when we plan to visit Cornwall.

WEDDING OF MISS CYNTHIA BIBBY

The wedding took place at Frodsham Parish Church, Cheshire, on July 23rd, of Miss Cynthia Bibby, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bibby, of Frodsham, and Mr. Robert James Warrilow, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Warrilow, of Stafford. The bride is a member of the well-known Frodsham ringing family, and was a member of the church choir and a Sunday school teacher until her job as a needlework teacher brought her to the Stafford neighbourhood. The bridegroom is on the staff of Barclays Bank in Stafford, and is a well-known Stafford ringer.

The Vicar of Frodsham, Rev. G. H. L. Green, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. G. White. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a full-length gown of white figured satin. She was attended by her friend Miss Kay Standing as chief bridesmaid, her nieces, the Misses Barbara and Deborah Daniels, and the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Linda Jones. Mr. David W. Friend was best man.

Afterwards, a reception for 86 guests was held at the Mersey View Pavilion. The destination of the honeymoon was not disclosed. Later in the afternoon a peal of Cambridge Major was rung at Frodsham by a band of ringing friends.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

The September quarterly meeting of the St. David's Diocesan Guild was held at St. Teilo's Church, Llandilo, on September 8th. The six bells were rung during the afternoon by members of the Guild and visitors from Somerset, Gloucester and Essex, as well as friends from the neighbouring diocese of Swansea and Brecon.

Canon T. Hughes, the Vicar of Llandilo, conducted the service, and afterwards the ringers were entertained to an excellent tea, provided by local people.

The business meeting was followed by further ringing. A feature of the ringing chamber is the enormous clock pendulum which swings to and fro in the centre of the room in a case of wire mesh. Many ringers were seen trying to 'dodge' with this large portion of clock-work in an effort to see the ringer opposite them!

Ringing to suit all tastes, ranging from rounds to London, continued until the bells were rung down at 8.30.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD IN NORTH WALES

AS the four-day tour in Yorkshire last year was such a success, Manchester University Guild decided to make a tour on similar lines this year, and the area chosen was North Wales. Nine of us left the University Union on the morning of Friday, June 15th, and travelled to Buckley, where we were joined by our president, Derek Ogden, and his wife Joyce.

The tour made a good start on this excellent eight, the best ringing being a touch of Stedman. After a fish-and-chip lunch (nothing is too good for us) in Flint, we rang on the light eight (tenor 7 cwt.) at St. Mary's, Flint. Being unused to such light bells, we did not acquit ourselves perhaps as well as we ought to have done, and our attempt to ring a course of Yorkshire was not helped by Jim, who insisted on ringing Cambridge. St. Thomas', Rhyl (8. tenor 17 cwt.), was a complete contrast, and we proved our adaptability by ringing various methods competently. We enjoyed the pleasant six at Abergele, and ringing ranged from Plain Bob to Killamarsh and London. The night was spent at Colwyn Bay, where we were met by three more members, who had been taking exams during the day.

Next morning we got off to a rather bad start at Llandudno, but even so managed to bring round one or two good touches. As the weather was fine we had a picnic lunch at Great Orme Head, where we were soon mobbed by hordes of hungry gulls and jackdaws who, having posed for photographs, proceeded to take a good part of our food. Lunch over, we went to Llandudno Bay, where the annual cricket match—North v. South—was played. After a rousing victory for the South, we proceeded to Llandegai, a nice-toned but noisy six. The third here twice slipped wheel, but we nevertheless did good ringing in six methods. On the eight at Glenadda (tenor 13 cwt.) we undoubtedly did some of the best 8-bell ringing of the tour, and the tower captain, Dr. Donald Marshall, joined us in a course of Dr. Spliced Surprise Major, which made a fitting end to the day's ringing. We stayed the night at Bettws-y-Coed, in beautiful Snowdonia.

On Sunday we were not due at our first tower until 3 p.m., and en route we found time to visit Swallow Falls and to take a leisurely lunch on a hillside overlooking the road. At Ruabon we marked Trinity Sunday in the best possible way by ringing an excellent course of Trinity Sunday Treble Bob Minor. For evening service we rang at Wrexham, a superb ten, on which our best ringing was a course of Cambridge Major. Our lack of practice on ten bells was shown by our barely competent efforts at Stedman and Grandsire Caters, but the local band proved very understanding and co-operative.

Monday, our last day, proved hectic, and also produced very good and very bad ringing. We started at Chirk (6) with some reasonable Beverley and Surfleet. Some good 3- and 4-Spliced Surprise Minor was rung at St. Martin's, a six recently cast by Taylors. At Ellesmere and Whitchurch we probably did the worst ringing of the tour: the fault lay certainly with us—both were comparatively heavy eights, but by this time we were beginning to feel the strain of rushing round the countryside. The tour finished on the light eight at Tarporeley. At the local hostelry afterwards we discussed the tour, and came to the conclusion that it had been more of a success than last year's tour of Yorkshire.

We should like to thank John Soanes and Nancy Robins for arranging the tour and generally looking after us, and to express our sincere thanks to incumbents and tower captains who welcomed us.

SWANSEA & BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

Thirty-five ringers journeyed to St. Matthew's Church, Duffryn, Neath, on September 1st, for the quarterly meeting of the Southern District. The fine, warm day added to the pleasures of ringing.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Grenfill Rees), who in his address spoke about the history of the church, which was known as Howell Gwynn's Church and had a strong link with Brecon Cathedral. Tea was provided in the school room, a little distance from the church, but the walk created an appetite for the good things provided by the ladies.

With the Vicar in the chair, the business was expeditiously dealt with. After apologies, an invitation from Miss Way to visit Sketty for the December meeting was accepted. Four new members were elected, and a reminder was given by the hon. secretary of the meeting at New Radnor on November 3rd.

The visitors were welcomed by Mr. Trevor Roderick, and a comprehensive vote of thanks—to the ladies for the splendid tea, the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, and the organist—was proposed by Mr. D. J. Lewis.

Ringing continued until 8.30 p.m., and varied from rounds to Surprise methods.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Northern District was held at Walton-on-Thames on September 1st. Ringing was under the direction of the District Master and the service was conducted by the Vicar, himself a ringer. The two churchwardens of Walton-on-Thames and their wives were entertained to tea, and their presence and their interest in the Association was very much appreciated.

After a brief business meeting the company adjourned to the towers of Walton-on-Thames and Hersham, where ringing continued at an 'above average' standard of striking in methods up to Spliced Surprise.

JOINT MEETING AT GREASLEY

Forty ringers and friends attended a joint meeting of the Mansfield District of the Southwell Diocesan Guild and the Society of Sherwood Youths at Greasley on August 4th, the towers represented including Nottingham, Warsop, Hathern (Leics), Kingston, Blackwell, Sheffield, Mansfield, Shepshed (Leics), Worksop, Chesterfield, Bolsover, London University, Thrybergh and the local company.

A wide variety of methods was included in the ringing before the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. C. W. A. Pegler. This was followed by an excellent tea, served by local ladies.

The Vicar presided at the short business meeting, and in a few words of welcome said how glad he was to have the opportunity of meeting everyone again. Mrs. F. C. Burke, of Hucknall, was elected a ringing member, and the next meeting of the Mansfield District will be held at Edwinstowe on September 22nd.

An appeal on behalf of the memorial window to the late Mr. Ernest Morris from St. Margaret's, Leicester, was received, and it was decided to devote the next Bell Fund collection to the appeal. Members are also invited to make personal donations, and these should be received by the hon. secretary before the end of September. The customary votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar, and the ladies for tea. Evening ringing reached Yorkshire Surprise Major.

THE LADIES' GUILD

The newly-formed Devon Branch held an enjoyable quarterly meeting at Torre, Torquay, which overlooks Torbay, on September 8th. Twenty-six ringers and friends attended in bright sunshine, and the ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge.

The service was conducted by the Rev. P. R. Rose (curate), who also kindly acted as organist, and some of the ringers formed the choir. A good tea was provided in the Church Hall. While the business meeting was being held the gentlemen adjourned to ring on the lovely eight at Upton, where we shortly joined them.

Y. C. P.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

When the members and friends of the Sheffield and District Society met at Bolsterstone on September 1st, the eight bells were rung half-muffled as a token of respect for Mr. J. R. Brearley, who died on August 25th, and who had been a regular ringer at Bolsterstone for many years. After tea, the company stood in silence to his memory.

At the business meeting, plans were discussed for ringing at the time of the enthronement of the new Bishop of Sheffield, but unfortunately the Bishop has fallen ill, and arrangements have been postponed until further notice.

Ringing preceded Evensong, which was attended by the company, and afterwards a touch of Double Norwich C.B. Major (Mr. Brearley's favourite method) was specially included, and a good course of Yorkshire rung.

A. M. T.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Ringers from Ilfracombe, Combe Martin, Stratton, and visitors from Exeter, Paignton and Oxford took part in a meeting of the North Devon Branch at Westleigh on September 8th. Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob.

A service was conducted by the Vicar of Westleigh (the Rev. J. Shephard-Walwyn), and tea was served by members of the Parochial Church Council. Over £4 was given to the Bell Restoration Fund.

NATIONAL STRIKING COMPETITION

Dear Sir,—I am afraid Mr. Cook is wasting his time in trying to organise a national striking competition, because there are so very few people interested.

I tried to organise a similar contest, but on a smaller scale last year ('R.W.' 24-11-61, page 785), and only had one reply.

I hate dampening anyone's spirits, but facts must be faced, and I think I am correct in saying that I am not the first person to meet with failure.—Yours, etc.,

Letters to the Editor

ALPHABET BELLS

Dear Sir.—I was interested to read Mr. Grenter's letter in 'The Ringing World,' concerning an 'Alphabet bell' at Street, Somerset. Whilst not being able to give an approximate date of this bell, I should like to state that during the early sixteen hundreds there were many bells of this type cast, at least in Northamptonshire. Many were by the founder Hugh Watts, who was born about 1582.

The following list is of some Northants bells bearing the alphabet or parts of it in Gothic or Roman capitals:

Little Addington and Braybrooke,	1610.
Whiston,	1611.
Ecton and Marston Trussel,	1612.
Woodford Halse (4 alph. bells),	1613.
Grendon,	1618.
Norton,	1640.

Many other 'Alphabet bells' in the county are undated.

These details are taken from Thomas North's book 'The Church Bells of Northamptonshire,' 1878.

Mr. Grenter states that the only inscription is the alphabet. He does not say whether any crest appears or ornamental marks between the letters. These marks, if any, could be the clue. North gives many illustrations of crests, marks, etc., with details of founders, which would help date the bell. Of course, one difficulty still remains owing to the fact that many early founders used letters, etc., handed down from generation to generation.

Perhaps Mr. Grenter would be interested in the following paragraph taken from North's 'Northamptonshire' on 'Alphabet Bells.'

'Upon several of the ancient and many of the more modern bells in this county, are portions of the Alphabet. It has been suggested that the founders being desirous not to offend by placing ancient precatory or devotional, and therefore often unwelcome, inscriptions upon their bells, and yet being too illiterate to suggest new ones, adopted this plan to escape the difficulty. By it they ornamented their bells with a goodly show of Gothic capitals which could give offence to no one.'

'This may have been the case with the later bells, but the use of the alphabet surely had another origin on the more ancient ones. We find the alphabet, or portions of it, on encaustic tiles on the floors of churches. It appeared on the top of a Norman Font discovered at Severn Stoke, in Warwickshire. In the Pontifical Romanum the Bishop is directed in the dedication of a church to write, in the form of a cross, two alphabets, one in Greek and the other in Latin, first from the East to West, then from North to South. There was clearly some symbolic meaning in the alphabet. Some writers on the subject say the letters represented the beginning and rudiments of sound doctrine, and the simple and pure truths of the Gospel.'

—Yours sincerely,
Byfield, Rugby.

COMPOSITION FALSE

Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to the fact that the peal of Quedgley Surprise Major rung at Lower Beeding, in Sussex, on January 15th, was false. This composition of Harry Poyner's is in fact false to Quedgley. I extend my sincere apologies to the members of the band.—Yours faithfully,

W. LESLIE WELLER

'IN DOMINO' FOUNDRY SHIELD

Dear Sir,—Mr. A. Clayton in his letter (page 556) asks for the modern opinion on which founder used the above shield. So far as I have been able to determine no other later writer has supported E. A. Dowman's suggestion that the shield was used by William Dawe. Modern opinion is still that Tyssen was right in attributing bells bearing this shield to William Culverden. The latter's will is printed in Raven's 'The Church Bells of Cambridgeshire,' Second Edition, page 44ff. It is dated September 29th, 1522, and was proved June 2nd, 1523.

Mr. W. Shepherd in his letter (page 589) says Culverden's bells are very rare; I cannot fully support this as I have a note of 29 which I think still exist and 3 others I know to have been recast or in one case scraped.

For the record the list is:

Essex: Aveley, Margaretting, Tillingham, Wicken Bonant, Takeley, Elsenham; Oxon: Kencote (2); Aberdeenshire: Tough; Co. Durham: Newburn; Suffolk: Stratford St. Mary, Ubbeston, Giffords Hall (by Stoke-by-Nayland); Cambs: Landbeach; Dorset: Steeple; Herts: Furneaux Pelham; Kent: Graveney; Middlesex: Brentford, Hampton Court Palace (2 quarter bells), Greenford; Staffs: Kingstone (2); Hunts: King's Ripton (2); Beds: Campton (2); Surrey: Chobham, Wimbledon. Recast: Matching, Essex (2). Scraped: Boughton Aluph, Kent.

Of these only the Giffords Hall bell does not bear the foundry shield but this may be due to the bell being so small (14 inches diameter). However, the distinctive Culverden capitals do appear on the bells. These are exceptionally large, broad and flat and were not used by earlier founders. The capitals were used in two sizes.

The crosses on the above bells appear to be of only two types; one with four fleur-de-lis arms radiating from a central diamond with a hollow centre, and the other of four fleur-de-lis arranged in a cross. Church Bells of Essex, Plate VII, figs. 5 and 4. They were used by earlier founders, John Sturdy 1440-1458, Kebyll c.1460-1480, and the former by Robert Burford 1392-1418. There is no evidence that the former cross was used by Stephen Norton or William Dawe and, in fact, Robert Burford, though working at the same time as Dawe in London, ran an entirely different and rival business. It is difficult to be precise about the latter cross as the design with four fleur-de-lis was common to a number of different founders.

Dowman is right in saying that Culverden used impressions of coins in his inscriptions, but quite wrong in saying that Stephen Norton did so too. Unfortunately only four of Norton's bells remain: Snaue (Kent), Canterbury Holy Cross (Kent), Chiselborough (Somerset), and Didlington (Norfolk) from Worcester Cathedral. None of these are noted to bear impressions of coins.

The Tough bell, 19 inches diameter, in Aberdeenshire, was one of the five small bells and two bells for daily use hung with five great bells in the tower of King's College, Aberdeen. This college was founded by Bishop Elphinstone in 1494 and he gave some of the bells in his lifetime though three of the great bells were dated 1519, some five years after his death. This clearly fixes the date of the founder using this shield to c.1500, which was in with William Culverden but is 100 years too late for William Dawe.

The Kencote, Oxon, treble bears the name of Robert Weston, mercer, of London. His date would seem to be c.1510, but the evidence is indefinite. Culverden cast three bells for this tower apparently, but the middle one disappeared in the period 1837 to 1868. See F. Sharpe 'The Church Bells of Oxfordshire,' page 182.

If we accept Dowman's suggestion that this shield was used by William Dawe then Stahlschmidt in his 'Church Bells of Kent,' page 25, is wrong in connecting Dawe with the circular medallion bearing 'William ffounder me fecit' and two birds on a tree. I personally consider that Stahlschmidt was quite correct.—Yours sincerely,

RANALD W. M. CLOUSTON.

SINGLE METHOD MINOR PEALS

Dear Sir,—There seems to me to have been during the last few years a campaign of research into ringing records to find what has been overlooked in one-method Minor peals with subsequent action to remedy the oversights.

I am among those who believe that the existence of those gaps reflected much more credit on those who could have filled them but did not, choosing rather to ring seven or more of these methods in one peal. Perhaps this belief is wrong and, perhaps, there is solid achievement in ringing seven 720's in one method and thus steadfastly facing up to and resisting the temptation for familiarity with the method to breed contempt rather than taking the easy way out and changing the method after a 720!

Mr. C. K. Lewis has remarked on more than one occasion that good taste cannot be produced by legislation, and there seemed little likelihood of this remorseless process being halted. I had, therefore, resigned myself to its continuing until all the Minor methods had been disposed of and the need for such performances had disappeared.

However, Sir, when I thought of full peals of 'all' the Minor methods, I never for one moment envisaged that this would include Little and Alliance methods, since neither type by itself is capable of producing a true 720 on six bells. Alas, I have underestimated the thoroughness of the campaign, for a start appears now to have been made on even this section ('R.W.', page 601).—Yours sincerely,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

MR. WILLIAM FERNLEY

The death of Mr. William Fernley, of Norbury, Cheshire, came as a bit of a surprise to many, even though ill-health had caused him to give up ringing several years ago. A member of the well-known ringing family of Norbury, Cheshire, he commenced his ringing career about 1910, a few years before he and his brother Arthur introduced me to the art.

Like the rest of the Norbury company, he was a keen 6-bell ringer and, encouraged by his father, James Fernley, strove to accomplish multi-method peals, and before the 1914 war rang one in 18 methods.

He served during the First World War as a driver in the R.A.S.C., being in France from 1914 to 1918. Soon after demobilisation, ringing practice started in earnest, and after several failures the first peal after the war at Norbury was one in seven methods, rung on October 23rd, 1920, which incidentally was my first peal. Within five months one in 18 methods was rung. The goal being aimed at was a peal in 35 methods, and this was accomplished on December 4th, 1923. Now I am the only survivor of that band.

When the Norbury octave was installed in 1925, he took to 8-bell ringing with the same keenness that he had tackled the 6-bell, and rang many worthwhile peals with the Cheshire men. I do not know whether he kept a complete record of his peals, but he rang 180 for the Chester Diocesan Guild.

On retiring from ringing he was glad to know that the tradition of Norbury tower was being maintained, and that his niece, Carol, was one of the good youngsters coming along.

His passing almost brings to an end the era of the old 6-bell establishment that had been going since the 1890's, an era that saw many advances made in 6-bell ringing, culminating with spliced peals which, in the early days, were looked upon as stunts.

Before I moved from Hazel Grove, Bill and I travelled many miles for practice; at times we had some funny experiences, and although our pockets were almost empty had plenty to laugh at. His passing brings sorrow to his relatives and friends, but anyone who knew him can honestly say: 'I am glad I knew Bill Fernley.'

MR. T. MOULDEN

With the death on September 3rd of Mr. Thomas Moulden, at the age of 84, a life of faithful service to the church at Stratton St. Margaret has ended. He was people's warden for about 30 years and Ringing Master for 50, relinquishing both posts about three years ago due to failing health and eyesight.

He was instrumental in adding two trebles to the old six in 1931, and his main efforts were to maintain a band to ring them. After the war, at the age of 77, he had to train a completely fresh band—a wonderful achievement at this advanced age.

At the funeral service and interment on September 6th, the local band was represented by Messrs. A. Hatherall and V. Griffin. The Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was represented by Dr. H. Craig, and many representatives of the Parochial Church Council came to pay their last respects.

Remembering his record of service ringing, a quarter peal of Bourne Surprise Minor was rung before morning service on September 9th.

'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

OBITUARY

MR. FRED WHITE

'By the death of Mr. Fred White, at the age of 80, the Appleton Society of Change Ringers has lost one of its oldest and best loved members.

Son of Frederick White, the well known bell hanger, he learned to ring at an early age, and his first peal was rung at Appleton with the bell half-muffled for the death of Queen Victoria.

Fred White rang some 140 peals, 104 of them at Appleton. Although he rang an 'inside' bell he was happier ringing the tenor to Caters, which he always did in faultless style. He rang the tenor bell at Appleton to over one hundred peals while his brother, the late Richard White, rang the ninth. These included the two record peals of Caters, 21,363 Stedman, rung in 12 hours 35 minutes on April 22nd, 1922, and 16,271 Grandsire, rung in 9 hours 20 minutes on December 27th, 1932. He also took part in the 10,043 Grandsire Caters in 1921, which figures in one of the traditional 'Fourth-of-March' songs. At this gathering we shall miss him greatly. It was a delight to hear him sing his customary songs, and join with other members of the White family in the superb tune-playing on the handbells cast by his father.

Except for a period of service in the R.A.S.C. in the First World War, Fred White lived the whole of his life in Appleton, where his modest, unassuming and sincere manner made him greatly loved by all. This was evidenced at his funeral on September 3rd, when Appleton Church was filled to its utmost capacity. All the members of the Appleton Society were there, together with a very large number of the Oxford Diocesan Guild members, including its Deputy Master and general secretary. The North Berkshire Branch secretary was represented by Mr. Michael Bishop. Members of the Oxford Society of Change Ringers, and the Ancient Society of College Youths came to pay a last tribute, and in addition to ringers from local Berkshire towers were many others from Gloucestershire, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire. The Central Council was represented by its president.

Typical of many was the card on a wreath from Sir Basil Blackwell, inscribed 'To "Uncle Fred" in appreciation of much beautiful music from the tower of Appleton Church.'

The bells of the parish church were rung fully muffled before and after the funeral, and, as previously reported, a peal of 5,039 Grandsire Caters was rung half-muffled later in the day.

All his numerous friends extend their sincere sympathy to his widow, four sons and three daughters. May his soul rest in peace.

MR. ALBERT E. SELLERS

By the death on September 6th of Mr. Albert E. Sellers, of Beverley, the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association has lost its vice-president and the Beverley and District Society its founder and president.

Albert was very proud of the positions he held; his friendly nature gained him many friends and he will be much missed at our meetings. It was noted that he was failing during the last few months, but he was very active for his 84 years. The loss of his wife a few years ago was a great blow to him. Of late he had been looked after by his daughter. To her and his family the greatest sympathy is extended. May he rest in peace.

H. S. M.

AN APPRECIATION

Mr. Albert Sellers was one of the prime movers in the formation of the Beverley and District Society in 1946, and was its first secretary for five years, until being elected president in 1951. Despite recent failing health, he attended the monthly meetings whenever possible, and on these occasions his pleasure at being amongst his ringing friends was obvious. He was present as recently as the July meeting at Hutton Cranswick to take the chair at the business meeting, and his death occurred two days before the September meeting at Middleton-on-the-Wolds, when several members paid tribute to his work for the Society and mentioned his particular concern for the welfare of the younger members.

The funeral service was held at Beverley Minster, his home tower, on September 10th, when members were present from as far afield as Filey, Bridlington, Patrington, Goole, York and Market Weighton, in addition to representatives from the local towers. The Society's chaplain, Rev. G. Storer, of Hutton Cranswick, gave an address and spoke of his own personal loss of a great friend, and praised Mr. Sellers' devotion as an example for all to follow. The Minster bells were rung half-muffled in the evening.

One of Albert's oft repeated sayings was 'God has been very good to me.' No one can more fully have deserved His Goodness.

K.

MR. A. R. GLASSCOCK

Mr. A. R. Glasscock who died on September 6th, at the age of 82, had been a member of the Christ Church Society, Southgate, since 1898. He was one of the band who, before and after the First World War, helped to make Southgate well known for its high standard of ringing.

For many years he acted as collector to the Society and when no longer able to ring continued to chime regularly for the 8 a.m. service on Sundays. He was a life member of the Middlesex County Association and Cumberland Youths.

After a service in Christ Church on September 13th, he was cremated at Enfield. Owing to the bells being overhauled no ringing was possible at Southgate, but, by kind permission, the bells of All Hallows', Tottenham, were rung to his memory on the evening of the funeral.

By WILFRID G. WILSON

IN AND OUT OF COURSE — THE NATURE OF THE ROWS

I. INTRODUCTION.

This long-promised article was ready in outline when Mr. A. W. T. Cleaver's helpful and informative series on The Theory of Change Ringing started to appear in 'R.W.' last March. So I have waited until now to complete the article and was careful not to read what Mr. Cleaver wrote about In and Out of Course changes until after it was finished. The fact, therefore, that there are considerable similarities shows the mathematical nature of the problem we have each tried to explain.

There are surprisingly some who consider that this kind of article in the 'R.W.' is a waste of time, but I believe that our journal should reflect all aspects of the Exercise, that technical articles can be of use to beginners and that any repetition which may appear now of what Mr. Cleaver wrote earlier and of what doubtless J. A. Trollope wrote many years ago—may well be useful. But here I would stress to the beginner that the only way to get real benefit out of a technical article is to get pen and paper and work out examples for yourself. Just as at school you had to work out examples of mathematical problems to help you to understand the theory behind them.

To most of us who teach beginners there comes the time when they ask questions. And if you have a really promising pupil, one of the things he will ask will take some such form as 'Why do we have Singles as well as Bobs? Why are there no Singles in Treble Bob? Why can you get 120 changes of Plain Bob Doubles with Bobs only and yet the same changes or rows can only be obtained in the Grandsire method by using two Singles? And so on. The answer given by C. A. W. Troyte nearly a century ago was that 'on all numbers of bells exactly half the changes are of one nature and half of another. What this nature is it is out of my power to explain, but as will be seen by and by it is a fact which must be understood before it is possible to go into the science of composing and proving peals.'

To many of us that very honest answer is still the only one we can give, in the same way that we used to be told that no one knew what electricity was—it could only be explained by learning what it could do. It is a pity to have to mystify a beginner by this sort of answer—hence these notes which will try to explain in simple non-technical language why there are what we call In and Out of Course changes and what their effect is on ringing.

II. THE NATURE OF THE ROWS.

You do not need to be a mathematician, or a ringer, to know that there are odd numbers and even numbers, and you don't need to be told that one big difference between them is that all the even numbers are divisible by 2 and the odd ones are not. A little experiment will show you some of the facts which spring from these two kinds of numbers. If you add two odd numbers together, the answer will always be an even number. If you add two even numbers together the answer will also be even. But if you add odd to even (or even to odd) the answer will be an odd number.

The various rows or changes produced by change-ringing are likewise odd or even. To the purist there is a difference between the terms 'row' and 'change,' but for ordinary purposes and certainly for our purpose now the terms are interchangeable. Change-ringing is a continuous process of transposing the positions of each one of a pair of bells—sometimes dealing with only one pair at a time, sometimes with several pairs at once. And the rows produced by these changes of pairs of bells are odd or even according to whether they have been produced from Rounds by an odd number or an even number of changes of pairs. We regard Rounds as an even row, but it would not matter theoretically if we called it an odd row. If instead of calling these rows 'even and odd' we had used the terms 'plus and minus' or 'positive and negative,' a good deal of the confusion and lack of understanding would have been avoided. But composers and conductors use the terms 'In Course' and 'Out of Course.' Apart from the fact that the meaning of these terms is not immediately obvious, the word 'course' is used in other ways—e.g., as a noun when talking of the course, meaning path, of the bells or the plain course of a method, etc., or as a verb meaning just simply to follow the path of, as in the expression 'to course after or before' another bell, from which we get the name course-bell. There is still another confusing aspect of this, which I will explain later.

The simplest example of the production of odd and even rows (out of course and in course rows) is given by the plain hunt on three bells.

123 Rounds—Even or In Course.

213 Produced by changing 1 pair. Add 1 to an even row and it becomes odd.
231 Produced by changing 1 pair. Add 1 to an odd row and it becomes even.
321 1 pair again. Add 1 to even=odd.
312 1 pair again. Add 1 to odd=even.
132 1 pair again. Add 1 to even=odd.
123 1 pair again. Back to even, where we started.

Just as in a series of numbers from 1 to 6 half of them are odd and half are even, so in the six possible changes on 3 bells half are odd and half are even. And as in any consecutive series of numbers, however long, half of them are of each nature, so on any number of bells half the possible total number of changes are odd and half are even. For our future examples we shall just use the signs + for even and - for odd, but if you prefer to regard these signs as meaning in course and out of course instead of plus and minus, please do.

III. PLAIN BOB.

Now for a better understanding of the effect of this odd and even nature of the rows let us consider some examples, starting with our old friend Plain Bob.

Plain Bob	Nature of Row	Col. A Produced from preceding row by changing	Col. B Produced from rounds by changing
2143	+	2 pairs	2 pairs
2413	—	1 pair	3 pairs
4231	—	2 pairs	5 pairs
4321	+	1 pair	6 pairs
3412	+	2 pairs	8 pairs
3142	—	1 pair	9 pairs
1324	—	2 pairs	11 pairs
1342	+	1 pair	12 pairs

The other two leads of Minimus to produce the possible total of 24 changes are divided into odd and even rows in the same manner. So we have 12 odd and 12 even rows without either bobs or singles. I have shown two columns of explanation. You can use Col. A, which only involves dealing with the way in which each row is produced from its predecessor to find out its nature, or Col. B, which entails adding up the number of changes of pairs from the beginning, but which has the advantage that if your total number of pairs changed is odd or even so likewise is the nature of the row produced.

PLAIN BOB DOUBLES

12345 All the rows throughout the lead are produced by changing 2 pairs of the preceding row (hence the term Doubles). So all the rows are even or in course. But when we get to the lead-end, when seconds place is made, only one pair of bells is changed. So our new lead-end becomes an odd row. This means that all the double changes produced in the next lead are odd or out of course, until the one-pair change at the following lead-end makes the succeeding lead even again. Bobs have the same effect on the nature of the rows as do plain leads:—

Plain lead	Bob lead
13254	13254
13524	12354

Instead of firsts, seconds and fifths at the plain lead we have firsts, fourths and fifths, leaving only one pair to change. The 120 changes possible on 5 bells fall into 12 leads, which consist alternately of even rows and odd rows. So we get the 60 in course rows and the 60 out of course rows with Bobs only. That is the answer to part of one of the questions we posed when we started these notes.

In practice, of course, the bells at a Single in Plain Bob lie still in second, third and fourth positions, which means that in Doubles you would merely repeat a row, so it is a good thing that we can get all the rows by Bobs only.

PLAIN BOB MINOR

	Col. A Changes of pairs from preceding row	Col. B Total number of changes of pairs
123456	—	3
214365	—	2
426153	+	3
462513	+	2
645231	—	3
654321	—	2
563412	+	3
536142	+	2
351624	—	3
315264	—	2
132546	+	3
132564	+	2

I have again shown here both Col. A and Col. B, to try to make clear how we find the nature of each row, but you will see that as our number of bells increases Col. B becomes less easy to use as the numbers get bigger.

The rows in Plain Bob Minor are produced by changing alternately 3 pairs and 2 pairs. Bobs have the same effect so half the changes we produce are even and half are odd. And this is one of the matters which can cause confusion. If half our changes are of each nature it sounds as though we should be able to get all the 720 possible changes with Bobs alone. But a closer look at our example, and a comparison with succeeding leads, will show that our odd and even rows always come in the corresponding positions in the lead. The two rows when the treble is leading are both even. So with Bobs only we shall never get an odd row with the treble leading. The two rows with treble in second place (one on its way up and one on its way down) are both odd, so with bobs only we shall never get an even row with the treble in second place. And so on. So we must find a way of changing the order of the odds and evens to get the other 360 rows of the possible total. The call of Single will do just that.

Plain lead	Bob lead	Single lead
132564 +	123564 +	132564 —

I have shown the plain and bob leads for comparison. You will see that as only one pair of bells changes over at the Single this alters the nature of the lead-end to an out of course row. So long as we continue with plain leads and bob leads only, all our succeeding rows with the treble leading will be odd. Similarly the nature of all the other rows will be the opposite from what they were before the Single. So we can get our missing 360 rows, but to get back to rounds, which is an even row, we shall need to call another Single to produce the necessary change in the nature of the rows. To produce the full 720 changes of the method we shall, therefore, need at least two Singles. We may have more, provided we have an even number of them at the correct intervals.

50 Years Ago

Sept. 13th, 1912.—

A copy of the Gloucester and Bristol annual report has come into our hands, and while the subject may be, perhaps, somewhat ancient history to some of the members, we cannot refrain from reference to one point to which the Rev. C. D. P. Davies draws attention in his official capacity of Master. He remarks, inter alia, in his report upon the good work being done by the ruri-decanal branches, and adds: 'One special task we would most earnestly commend to them, viz., to stir up the members each and all to give up one good day each year to attend the general meeting of the Association. Nothing could be more miserable, wretched and discouraging than the general meeting has been for many years. The misery of these meetings is a grievous loss to the Association in every possible way. The few are left, in matters of business, to settle for the many. The Association presents a sorry picture compared with others even smaller than itself; an opportunity for united worship is lost, and the members themselves lose the pleasure and profit of meeting with each other, entailing a further and most detrimental loss of the feeling of fellowship and brotherhood—one of the main purposes of the Association.'

A Delve Into Doubles

Dear Sir,—I read the reference to SS. Laurence, Mary, Jude, Crispin, Barnabas, Policarp, James and Perpetua Doubles, which appeared in Belfry Gossip of August 31st, with interest. Unfortunately, neither that paragraph nor the report of the peal of St. Laurence rung at Courteenhall ('R.W.', September 7th) gives any indication of what methods are rung with an Antelope single to produce these six-scores. Perhaps Mr. Paul, who conducted the peal, or Mr. Amos could enlighten us?—Yours sincerely,
CYRIL A. WRATTEN
Cheltenham.

THE CRAWFORD CUP CONTEST

The final of the Crawford Cup Contest was held at St. Patrick's Church, Nuthall, on Saturday, Sept. 1st. The judges were Mr. D. Marshall and Mr. D. Carlisle, from the Derby District. The result was as follows: First, Warsop, 24 faults; 2nd, Wollaton, 46½; 3rd, Whatton-in-the-Vale, 85½; and 4th, East Retford, 154. Before the cup was presented by Mr. W. Midwinter, the vice-chairman of the District, the judges passed their comments on the standard of ringing, also how much pleasure they had had in judging a contest for the first time.

Mr. H. Rooke received the cup on behalf of the Warsop ringers, and thanked the Nottingham District for choosing a tower where the bells are a little difficult to strike properly. A vote of thanks to all concerned was proposed by Mr. R. Benfield. S. A.

Gratefully Acknowledged

The Editorial Committee acknowledge with gratitude the following donations towards the cost of producing 'The Ringing World':—

Peals.—Penn 4s., Savernake 2s. 6d., Chestow 5s., Halewood 5s. 6d.

Half Peal.—Worle 3s.

Quarter Peals.—Kingstone 3s. 6d., Ashted 5s., Burstow 3s. 6d., Higher Walton 3s., Kingston-upon-Hull 3s., Mildenhall 2s. 6d., Childwall 3s. 6d., Esher 1s. 6d., Sunbury-on-Thames 1s. 6d., Bedford 1s. 6d., Stanwell 1s. 6d., Purton 3s., Somerton 3s., Peterborough 4s., Little Wittenham 5s., Lower Basildon 2s., Esher 2s. 6d., Eastchurch 3s., Alderton 2s. 6d., Wimbledon 2s. 6d., Stithians 2s., Goodworth Clatford 3s., Belfast 2s. 6d., Putney 3s., Woodbury 3s. 6d., Wiveliscombe 4s., Walkington 3s., Eastwood 2s. 6d., Hailsham 2s.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

There were only three competitors for the cup contest held at Hoylandswaine, near Sheffield, on September 8th. Mr. Harold Chant was the judge, and his marking was: Cawthorne 143 faults; Wath 15 penalties, 98 faults, rung out; Shelley 155 faults.

Cawthorne were declared the winners and the cup was received by the youngest member of the team, Miss Christine Saville, who had only been ringing for 18 months. Miss Saville acknowledged the great help she had received from the other members of the band.

Mr. Squire Fielding made the presentation, and said the cup once belonged to Hoylandswaine ringers, and he was one of the ringers who helped to get it and now was the only member of that band left. He recalled a number of previous contests.

Mr. Michael King, of Wentworth, proposed the vote of thanks.

Mr. Noel F. Moxon was in the chair at the meeting, when ten towers were represented. Two new members—Messrs. F. Jackson and A. Tewitt (Bawtry)—were elected.

The meeting stood in silence in remembrance of Mr. John R. Brearley, of Bolsterstone, who was a founder member of the Society in 1909, president for several years, and at the time of his death a vice-president.

Next meeting: Bolsterstone, near Sheffield, October 6th, 1962.

ELTHAM, KENT.—On Aug. 26th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original): E. J. Coode 1, R. Clarke 2, Mrs. E. J. Coode 3, P. Rablah (first 'inside') 4, G. Clarke 5, K. Small 6, P. Clarke (first as cond.) 7, F. Hurrell 8.

GOODWORTH CLATFORD, HANTS.—On Sept. 9th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Mrs. F. Gosling 1, M. Goss 2, P. Watts (15) 3, F. Gosling 4, D. Papworth (cond.) 5, R. Vince 6. Rung for Evensong by members of the Burghclere Sunday service band.

September 8th was observed as an open day at Rotherham Parish Church. In the afternoon about 350 people visited the belfry, where the basic principles of change-ringing were explained by charts and models. Those who came in the evening were given an exhibition of change-ringing by the local band, when methods from Plain Bob to Bristol and Stedman Caters were rung. The sum of £14 was donated by visitors to Church Funds. Such enterprise could well be repeated in other towers with suitable belfries.

'Grandsire Caters' (price 1/-) is added to the Central Council's list of publications.

Applications for tickets for the Guildford Guild dinner will close on Monday, September 24th.

The peal week in Yorkshire, arranged by Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton, was very successful with 13 peals from 16 attempts.

We are pleased to welcome as a postal subscriber to 'The Ringing World' Mrs. Eva Garner, carillonneur to St. Mary's R.C. Church, Lowe House, St. Helens, Lancs. Although not a change ringer, she takes a keen interest in our work and all connected with bells.

The Rev. T. C. B. Wilkes, of Street, was instituted and inducted to the living of Yatton on September 10th, by the Bishop of Bath and Wells (Dr. E. B. Henderson) and the Archdeacon of Bath (the Ven. Arthur Hopley). On the following evening a peal of welcome was lost after 1½ hours' good ringing.

Ringling friends all over the country, of Mr. Lester L. Gray, of Wallasey, Cheshire, will join in wishing him all the best on the occasion of his 80th birthday. A quarter peal of Grandsire Cinques was rung at St. Nicholas', Liverpool, on the day of his birthday, to honour the event, and the following day a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Halewood. Lester took part on both occasions and rung extremely well, and his friends look forward to ringing with him for many years yet.

BELFRY GOSSIP

To mark Mr. E. Stitch's 78th birthday there was a peal attempt at Penn on August 4th. Had it been successful it would have been his 200th peal for the Archdeaconry of Stafford Society. Alas, a bob was called too soon, and the attempt came to grief. Success, however, attended the attempt on September 1st by an all-local band, when Miss Annette Frost was the first lady ringer of Penn to ring a peal there. It was also a farewell peal to the conductor.

Mr. W. A. J. Knight writes: By the Central Council rules, each extent of Minor in a peal must contain 720 changes. The extent of Little Bob Minor is 480 changes, which falls short by 240 changes.

At the annual meeting of the Leeds University Campanological Society the following officers were elected for the session 1962-3: President, W. John Couperthwaite; secretary, John A. Hervey; treasurer, Frances Fairbank.

A reader has noted with pleasure that in 'The Radio Times' of September 6th, in announcing the morning service from the Parish Church of St. Bartholomew and All Saints', Wootton Bassett, the name of the tower captain, Ernest Brooks, is published.

As regards peal ringing, Cambridge University Guild's week in Lancashire was not conspicuous. No fewer than six attempts, including one 'in hand,' were lost. Biggest disappointment was Grandsire Caters at Blackburn, lost after two hours' ringing.

More propaganda for our Exercise! An invitation has been received by Albert York-Bramble, principal of the College of Campanology, to lecture on 'Campanology' before a lunch-time club at the Portsmouth Naval Dockyard.

There were rejoicings at St. Mary's Church, Watford, on Saturday, September 8th, when the tower Master, Mr. Raymond G. Smith, was married to Miss Lucy M. Davis. Afterwards a peal of Plain Bob Royal, conducted by G. W. Seaman, was rung in 3 hours 18 minutes.
