THE RIGHT ATTITUDE

By T. A. BEVIS

SOMEONE once said, 'A clergyman rings the changes in oral fashion; but the ringer has the loudest voice. This evangelistic merit is shared by the man who talks to an assembly and by the man who pulls a rope, both reminding those without and within the Church of their obedience to God. An incumbent voicing exhortations from a pulpit and bells ringing high above the aisles ought to be equally representative of harmony and well-being within the Church. It is to be expected that a majority of bellringing teams are on cordial terms with the clergy, yet it is a disturbing fact that there are instances where the two mediums of communication are poles apart.

Clergymen, of course, are able to influence their flock not merely with reasoning, but with appropriate deeds. Bells are partly traditional. Cold at heart they are nevertheless possessed with a mystical, vibratant appeal, able at distances to apply a finger to the conscience, to move to tears, to gladden hearts and to promote a sudden surge of memories. We are all aware how the spirit itself is affected by the music of bells. Of all the many arteries in the life of the Church the bell is the pacemaker and the voice of them all.

Recently a number of clergymen were confidentially invited to give their general feelings concerning Sunday service bellringing activities.

One, a Canon, wrote that the public on the whole liked the bells, but he felt that ringers should be part of Church life, not a group of people who use the tower for their own craft.

Another incumbent stated that the bells are appreciated on Sundays and tolerated on weekdays. He is pleased to have ringers of the right type and anxious that the bells be rung. Concluding, the Rector wrote: 'Recently I closed the tower for some weeks as it was obviously being used on weekdays for amusement and bells were rarely heard on Sundays. This policy had a good effect. Those who now ring—though less experienced—are all regular worshippers . . . 'It distresses me,' wrote another, 'to see one or two ringers leave the church just before the service begins. But I prefer to turn a blind eye to this. Young people are not easily recruited. One of our ringers is a sidesman and serves on the P.C.C., but the others show no interest in the church's commitments or its social activities.

A Vicar wrote that he was unfortunate in having only one bell '. . . but my father had a battle of wits over the departure of ringers before service time. reasoning with them, but to no avail. Finally he had the exterior turret entrance bricked up hoping that the proper and expected manner. Alas, it had the reverse The bells were silent for many years. It was a great lesson to him.

'The old office of blessing bells gives us the best conception of the ideal to set before ringers,' quoted one gentleman, who added that the Reformation brought about a complete change of purpose for the bell. its intimate appeal. It was no longer a member of the ordinary family who came to rely upon it as we rely upon our clocks. Indeed the belfry by and by ceased to become part of the church. Practice night became club It has been known for some ringers of long ago to invite their friends into the ringing chamber and indulge in smoking and drinking.

'That sort of thing does not happen now,' wrote the Vicar, 'but I do feel that a lot of ringers tend to be stand-offish . . . unwilling to enter more fully into the life of the Church.'

'Of course, few people appreciate that a great many ringers attend church on Sundays for a period of between two and four hours, depending on whether they stay at The greater part of their service to God is all services. carried out an hour before a service begins,' explained a Rector, who wrote that he preferred them to stay, yet he considered that attending one service and ringing for another is fair enough.

A happier note is sounded by the clergyman who feels that ringers are 'polite, orderly, pleasant, fairly regular churchgoers (some very regular). They enjoy a pleasant, entertaining craft. Life would be less interesting without them and their craft.'

Other questionnaires contained similar expressions, the chief complaint it would seem being the tendency of some ringers to 'ring and run away.' Whether this practice is right or wrong according to the circumstances, is one But it should be remembered that a ringer leaving church while the singing of the first hymn is in progress can very easily leave a bad impression with church officers and congregations; an impression which may well tarnish the well-meaning intentions of the rest of the team. It is really a matter of the conscience which is often ruled by extenuating circumstances.

Generally the clergy are happy to let ringers pursue their craft without too much interference—a term loosely Yet often this attitude, this apparent lack of interest, is misinterpreted by ringers as indifferent.

The old refrain still remains: 'The parson is more concerned with his choir!' That attitude is the first step towards converting a tower into a fortress. Without the valued influence of a sympathetic clergyman, the belfry is the only organisation which can be almost completely isolated from Church life and still survive

THE WORLD'S COLDEST RING OF BELLS

RING OF BELLS

PINGERS in general seem particularly prone to claiming records of various types. We read regularly in these columns of record peals, of quickest peals, of peals rung on the highest eight, and the like. Christ Church, Calgary, Canada, has not yet entered these contests, but we feel we can definitely establish claim to having (at times) the coldest ring of bells in the world. On a recent Sunday morning, when we were ringing for morning service, the thermometer stood at 24° F., or 56° F. of frost (—36° C.). At temperatures like this, the bells are virtually unringable, the grease in the bearings having become so thick. On these occasions all we can manage are very ill-struck rounds. The writer found that 5 minutes on a 3½ cwt. treble to be far more exhausting than much longer spells in a bell of ten times the size.

On December 20th last it was most unfortunate that we should be afflicted by this sub-zero weather, since before morning service on that day, the Rector, Archdeacon G. H. Dowker, dedicated a bronze plaque in the church listing the bells. This was unveiled by His Honour Judge F. R. Tavender, cantain on that day, the Rector, Archdeacon G. H. Dowker, dedicated a bronze plaque in the church listing the bells. This was unveiled by His Honour Judge E. R. Tavender, captain of the ringers, We had a full complement of ringers present but the bells themselves did not co-operate, and it was not the most joyful sound that was emitted from the tower. It was suggested that we should claim that we had been firing the bells to mark the occasion, but we did not think we should deceive anyone for very long.

This event marked the climax to what had proved to be a most active year in this tower. Our visitors' book shows that we were favoured with more visitors in 1964 than in all the previous years put together since the book

Our visitors book shows that we were favoured with more visitors in 1964 than in all the previous years put together since the book was started. This influx was started on Easter Sunday by Bill Court of Liverpool, who was on a year's sabbatical leave at the University of Saskatoon. Bill's visit enabled us to score what was believed to be the first quarter peal on the bells. Also during the summer we were joined at various times by Miss Lynne Holmes of London. Miss Susan Jackson of Vancouver, and also Miss Jennifer Murphy of Melbourne. Australia, We were very sorry to miss another young lady from London, who was here during August at a time when there was no ringing. If only we had known she was around we should have been delighted to have laid on something. Our final visitor of the year was Jeff White of Vancouver, who was here early in December. The year also saw a party of eight ringers from Vancouver in our tower.

The band here now numbers 10 regular attenders, plus two learners (twin sisters from Sydney, Australia). We are now making good headway unravelling the mysteries of Plain Bob, and are hoping for yet more visitors during 1965 to assist us in this task.

We have big plans for 1965. In particular a Ringing Festival, dare we call it a North American Ringing Festival, over May 22nd—23rd week-end. Would anybody interested please get in touch with the undersigned?—J. M. Simpson, 921, 18th Avenue, S.W. Calgary, Alta., Canada.

LAUNTON HANDBELL RINGERS

The Launton handbell ringers have had their usual pre-Christmas quota of engagements, with recitals almost every night for the past three weeks. Our photograph shows them playing carols in the Church of the American Air Force Base at Heyford, where a recital of traditional and popular carols, mediaval and foreign carols, and traditional Christmas hymns was much appreciated by a crowded congregation. Some of the carols were sung to the accompaniment of the bells.

Seventy-six bells dating from circa 1680 to the present day were used in the recital, and a tape recording of it was flown to America the following day and played the same evening to an American audience.

Enthusiasm and Grit get Bells Ringing Again

THE six bells at St. Margaret's, Norton Subcourse. Norfolk, were rededicated on December 12th at an impressive service attended by a congregation of 200, including over 60 ringers from Norfolk, Suffolk, Wisbech (Cambs), Spalding (Lines) and London.

The bells have been quarter turned, retuned and hung in a steel frame, with completely new fittings, the contract having been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co, who have made a first class job. Building work included a strengthening concrete ring beam for the frame to rest on and a new floor under the bells. The ringers themselves decorated and replastered a section of the ringing chamber.

Under the leadership of Mr. Godfrey Wal-pole, Ringing Master, the ringers have been intensively raising money for the work since 1958. Funds have been raised in all sorts of ways: bingo sessions produced £211: col-lecting waste paper £127: handbell ringing £154. The estimated cost was £1,170, but another £300 is required to meet additional expenditure.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Alan Glendining. Rector of the Raveningham Group, and the lessons were read by Mr. Nolan Golden, president of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and Mr. James Forder. Diocesan Association, and Mr. James Forder, a ringer of Norton, the second. The dedication of the bells was performed by the Rural Dean, the Rev. K. M. Lewis, and the opening rounds were rung by the local company—Messrs, A. I. Walpole T. J. W. Forder 2. B. Barber 3, N. P. J. Cossey 4, G. G. Walpole 5, A. E. Long 6. Two ringers' hymns were included in the service, and also the ringers' collect.

After rededicating the bells, the Rural Dean dedicated two gifts to the church—a visitors' book for the use of ringers given by Mr. Norman P. J. Cossey, and an oak table for the book presented by Mr. David Fenn. who rang at Norton for half a century before

A DEDICATED HOBBY
In his address, the Rural Dean said ringers undertook a great work in the name of God and he exhorted them ever to regard it as such. Ringing might be a hobby, but it went beyond all that, for it was a dedicated hobby. Indeed, those taking part were ever seeking to prove and reach out for perfection.

In a reference to the two old bells, cast in 1620 and 1622 by William Brend, of Norwich, the Rural Dean said when these were cast men were nearer to God than today. Much of the work then was done to the glory of God. He hoped that the sound of Norton bells would not only call men to worship, as in the days gone by, but call them back to God.

After the service the bells were rung and tea served by the Mothers' Union. In a speech Mr. Albert Walpole referred to the £127 raised by the ringers by the sale of waste paper and said they were going to continue the drive to help to find the money still needed. For four years Mr. Douglas Lanham had been going round the district with his barrow collecting paper, and in appreciation Mr. Walpole presented him with vouchers for £7 for the purchase of premium bonds. Thanks were also accorded to Mr. L. Grice, of Raveningham, for giving new ladders for the tower.

The popular Friday night practices have now been resumed. Sunday ringing is from 6 to 6.30 p.m., when all visitors are most welcome.

A TOUCH OF OLD ENGLAND AND ITS CHURCH

PLUCKLEY, 1552-1964

By Nicholas J. Davies

'I'HROUGHOUT many parts of our countryside the adventurous traveller may often side the adventurous traveller may often come across quiet corners of long lost old England, and well may he delight if he roams among the wooded Kentish country between Ashford and Maidstone. He will be especially lucky if he happens to visit the little village of Pluckley—lucky because unless he has a good map he stands little chance of finding it (there are precious few signposts); and equally lucky because he will be rewarded by a charming place with a fascinating history, that has happily avoided the hands of modernisers and developers.

Lying as it does near an ancient Saxon Lying as it does near an ancient Saxon track, a mere six miles from the busy centre of Ashford, the parish is well endowed with steep, wooded approaches, attractive paths and twisty lanes. The view of the 13th century lichen-covered church, snugly embowered among oaks, a few old houses and an inn. contrasting with the lush greens and browns of the rich countryside, provides one of those increasingly rare sights to satisfy of those increasingly rare sights to satisfy the aesthetic mind.

Until as recently as 1928 the names Pluckley and Dering were synonymous in these parts. The Dering family, which claimed descent from Saxon days, held their seat at Pluckley for nearly 900 years, the last 500 of which were at Surrenden, a magnificent, mellowered manor house about a mile from the village. As may be expected, the little church, with its low west tower and shingled spire, owes much of its present beauty to the loving care bestowed on it by countless generations of Derings, and boasts an impressive gallery of family brasses dating from 1405 to 1607. It is thus strange that the early history of the bells of Pluckley lies largely shrouded within the realms of obscurity largely shrouded within the realms of obscurity and conjecture.

The first definite mention of bells is in 1552, when an Inventory of Church Goods records the presence of five bells and a sanctus bell. This seems an unusually large number for a small church, but they may well have been the gift of one of the Derings (e.g., Richard, who in 1475 erected new rood screens and supervised other unspecified work in the church).

JOSEPH HATCH

There is no further definite mention of bell work for three centuries, but it would be reasonable to suppose that major or minor repairs were undertaken during this time. Thus ip 1634 more unspecified church renairs were carried out, some of which may have concerned the bells. In such circumstances the work would almost certainly have been entrusted to Joseph Hatch, the celebrated local bellfounder, whose bells still ring out from nearly 40 Kentish steeples, and who cast rings for the nearby towers of Egerton (1602). Hothfield (1607) Charing (1608) and Boughton Malherbie (1624): Hatch's foundry at Ulcembe was barely five miles west of Pluckley. This was in the days of Sir Edward Dering, a great Man of Kent, but a man of both sides, wanting reform but not quite a Puritan, seeking neace with the King but not quite a Royalist. It was soon after he rebuilt Surrenden that the House of Commons burnt his speeches and sent him to the Tower, where at last after much noverty and suffering, he died craving for the peace that never came, His however, was brought back to the burch that he loved, and he now sleeps in the Dering chapel.

RECAST Late in 1852 it was decided that a com-Late in 1852 it was decided that a complete restoration of the tower should be carried out, and the five bells were sent to the Whitechapel foundry, at that time under the management of C. and G. Mears, where their weights were found to be: Treble 7-0-25, 2nd 8-1-13, 3rd 11-1-2, 4th 13-1-16, Tenor 14-2-3. The tenor was apparently too thin and light for the other bells, and it was decided to recast the whole ring into six. The new ring (tenor 13-3-21 in F) arrived back at the church in June, 1853, where they were rehung in new fittings in the old frame, which was repaired and modified to accommodate the augmented ring. The sum of £145 modate the augmented ring. The sum of £145 for this work was met by subscription and rate, the chief donor being Sir Edward C. Dering, whose name appeared on the new

We have to wait nearly another century before any further work was done to the bells. In the meantime, they had never gained bells. In the meantime, they had never gained the reputation of being an easy ring, and the writer has found no evidence of a regular local band at this period. Indeed, the fact that no peal had been attempted here (whereas nearly all the local towers had been pealed by 1947) reflects the difficult conditions that were present. In 1947 it was again proposed to restore the bells, but the affluent dynasty of the Derings was over and it was a hard task for a small village, still recovering from the ravages of war, to raise money. However, some funds were forthcoming, but only enough to pay for new fittings to the bells and a long-overdue rope guide.

There is no doubt that the go and handling of the bells was improved and a local band was trained, which later joined the K.C.A.C.R. However, it was not long after the institution

However, it was not long after the institution of regular ringing that the old frame, which had probably seen the best part of two or three centuries, began to show signs that it was coming to the end of its useful days: this appeared to be due to insufficient bracing and unsatisfactory anchorage of the frame in

UNMELODIOUS

The writer's first experience of the bells was in 1959, shortly before ringing was stopped. Many ringers will, perhaps, remember the bells as they were then, an unmelodious ground-floor ring, which were too noisy outside, and, with the exception of the 4th, rather too quiet inside the tower. To ring the tenor, one had to climb over a pile of boiler fuel, while the treble ringer was wedged under the belfry staircase. The poor go of the bells, which were hung anti-clockwise, was accentuated by the long rope-draught, and the frightening cacophony of rumblings and groanings from above that accompanied ringing. It was thus remarkable that, under these conditions. Mr. A. Waddington, of Egerton, called a quarter peal of Minor, the only quarter ever recorded on the bells. Expert opinion was again called in, and an examination of the frame while the bells were being rung showed that the movement were being rung showed that the movement was now so great that it was having a battering-ram effect upon the tower walls, which were cracking and crumbling under which were cracking and crumoning under the strain.

Thus once again the bells were silenced and the parish was faced with raising £3.500 for complete restoration of tower and bells. The villagers, under the inspiration and zeal of the then Rector, R v. Mr. Luckhurst, himself a ringer, made a tremendous effort by organising dances, sales and other activities. Gradually the funds increased, and an order was placed with the Whitechapel Foundry, who removed the bells in January of this year.

Meanwhile the tower was strengthened, the interior restored and a new ringing floor erected: the bells came back in October, when they were rehung in a new metal framework by Mr. Harry Parkes. Some of the fittings supplied in 1947 were found suitable for further use, and were accordingly re-employed, at a beneficial saving to the parish.

at a beneficial saving to the parish.

DEDICATION

The day for the rededication was finally fixed for November 12th, and, in the presence of a large congregation of villagers and ringers, this was carried out by Dr. Alfred Rose (ratined Bishop of Dover), the service being conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. L. Pittock. Ringing for the service was carried out by the newly-trained local band, and everyone had an opportunity to sample the bells afterwards.

The character of the ringing has now been completely changed. Careful retuning has produced an unexpectedly rich tone from the bells (the tenor now weighs 12-3-25), the 'go' is excellent now that new framework has been installed and the rope draught is perfect from is excellent now that new framework has been installed and the rope draught is perfect from the new floor. The bells are quieter and well balanced outside the tower, but the acoustics inside, although good, are marred by the 2nd bell sounding muffled at handstroke. It is hoped, however, that this minor defect will be rectified when the remainder of the work inside the tower is completed.

will be rectified when the remainder of the work inside the tower is completed.

FIRST PEAL

On December 5th six members of the K.C.A. were privileged to attempt the first peal on the bells. Appropriately, the band included Messrs. A. Waddington and C. T. Hillis, both of whom took part in the original quarter peal on the bells, and was conducted by the latter, who is District secretary of the Ashford District of the Association. Seven methods were rung, and: after one or two initial uncertainties in the Cambridge, the band settled down and enjoyed some very good ringing. An amusing diversion was caused when an electrical heater behind the conductor suddenly switched itself on and got extremely hot. Its involuntary action was later attributed to the off peak electricity supply, so future peal bands, please note!

Thus, we come to the end of the past history of Pluckley bells, but the story of Pluckley will continue regardless of time. The bells which summoned countless generations of Derings and villagers will once again summon ringers and non-ringers alike up the straggling hill to this enchanting place, and the church will once again be put on the map.

An Anarchist and His Peals

An Anarchist and His Peals

Dear Sir,—In reply to N, Mallet (page 848) may I say that during the year I have been pleased to witness the rising number of Non-Association peals and have been responsible for three, for reasons I hope to make clear. These peals were rung at Whitsun—one in Essex and two in Cambridgeshire. In the first case there was but one member of the E.A. with us and he alone did not constitute the necessary number to 'vote in the remainder of the band previous to starting for the attempt" (as the usual phrascology has it). In the second case, three of us were members of the Hertford County Association, but did not feel like forking out tanners for the booking fee, and being a long way out of Herts, and ... anyway I don't want to read all my peals twice over. Finally, having already rung two N.-A, peals, we thought of following R. G. Leale's excellent (I.R.A.) precedent and forming a Cambridgeshire Guild or something of the sort; however, we decided to follow our own precedent of the previous day's and make all three N.-A.

When you' come to think of it, we were kind to those Associations who do not levy decided to follow our own precedent of the previous day's and make all three N.-A.

When you' come to think of it, we were kind to those Associations who do not levy a peal fee, since we were not filling up their reports for them, and if they don't, for some reasons, charge a fee who is Norman Mallet to demand they should? I am no enemy of any Guild or Association; on the contrary, at present I pay resident's subs to no less than five and am non-resident life in about a dozen others!

There are many good people in Associations and Guilds doing plenty of splendid work, and there are the others. This summer I wrote to a well known member of the C.C. and a high-up in 'his' Association asking (not very hopefully, I admit) for the use of 'his' bells for a peal attempt. The reply (I suppose I was fortunate to get even this) was in the form of my own letter returned with a line drawn through it and the following inscribed thereon: 'Not a hope—we need the bells rehanging,' and on the reverse, the legend: 'The local band is quite capable of ringing any peal required'—a fact of which I have no doubt, but does his eminence have to be downright ill-mannered? Such behaviour does not dispose one favourably towards either the C.C. or the Association. However, it is lucky I have (still, I hope) many good friends in both who counter these ill-effects.

Here's to 1965 and a record number of N.-A. peals.—Yours, etc..

Long Length Notice

Dear Sir.—I give notice of an attempt to ring 11,520 London Surprise Minor at Cadoxton-juxta-Neath, Glamorgan, on Saturday, January 16th, 1965, commencing at 2 p.m. The peal, if successful, will be credited to the Swansea and Brecon D.G.—Yours faithfully

More about Mickleton

I was interested to see the note on Mickleton (Belfry Gossip, page 852). Mickleton is, in actual fact, listed in the current Gloucester Diocese Handbook, 1964-5, and is in the Rural Deanery of Campden, and so cannot be in the Coventry Diocese. The tower is in the area covered by the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, although, as your correspondent rightly says, affiliated to the Worcestershire and Districts Association. Association.

Both the county and diocesan boundaries in Both the county and diocesan boundaries in this area are very confusing—the Cheltenham Branch extends as far as Clifford Chambers, which is literally on the doorstep of Stratford-on-Avon. Anyone can be forgiven for making a mistake.—Yours faithfully,

E. MARY BLISS.

Rules for Outings

Dear Sir,-As one connected with arranging one-day outings for nearly 30 years. I would like to reply to Mr. Maybrey's excellent letter.

(1.) This is very difficult when some towers are unknown and perhaps 60 miles away; local conditions often play havoc with well planned

I would add 4 and 5:-

(4.) If you arrive late at a tower be sure to leave on time.

(5.) A well planned outing can be spoiled by having more ringers than can be properly catered for. Ringing I mean.

As for a, b, c, d and c, I would like to point out that any ringer who has never heard of the C.C. can write for the use of bells and arrange outings at will; unfortunately however bad the ringing is they probably never wish to visit any tower again.

Next week the Wisbech District of the Ely Association will be arranging its 20th annual outing since the war, and except for augmentations and rehapgings of nearly 150 towers visited, I only remember visiting one tower

On an outing yesterday (Boxing Day), the weather did its best to make us break all the rules, meeting at the first church at the time we should have been leaving. However by shortening our ringing times we rang at all towers arranged.

We should have rung at Eye, in Suffolk, for 45 minutes. This was reduced to about 30 minutes On descending the tower the Vicar was waiting at the foot of the stairs and was very disappointed we were leaving so soon. To quote his own words: 'Just when I get some experts to ring my bells you run away as we are enjoying them, and to think of all the bad ringing we have to put up with and can't get rid of them for an hour.'

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all ringers, known and unknown, a happy and prosperous New Year and good hunting.—Yours faithfully,

E. H. MASTIN.

Downham Market.

P.S.—By no means experts, our last touch was three leads of Kent Major at Eye, which sounded very nice, but what impressed the Vicar was the raise and fall in peal.—E. H. M.

Dear Sir,—I read with interest Mr. Maybrey's letter (R.W. Dec. 25th). Recently a party of ringers from Leeds asked at very short notice for permission to ring at Clapham Park. I waited 40 minutes and two ringers appeared. Since then I have not heard a word. I write in the hope that those concerned may see this. I myself organise outings and if people behave in this manner there will soon be no towers open for ringing outings. Other bands of ringers visiting London are always most welcome—and the bells are very good. My address is 152, Brudenell Road, S.W.17.—Yours faithfully.

TONY CLAYTON.

A GREAT BADDOW 'FIRST'

As December 5th, according to the Ringers' Diary, appeared to have nothing to commemorate, it was decided to remedy this and arrange the first ever Great Baddow ringing afternoon.

The party consisted of the local band and ringers who regularly practise at the tower and was split up into four car loads, each to make its own way to the various towers.

Some very good ringing was enjoyed to-gether with some quite unusual compositions to Plain Bob and Grandsire. Tea was a source of some hilarity, the cause of which remained (we hope) blissfully unaware of her contribution.

Towers visited were Felstead, Great Dun-mow, Great Easton, and Thaxted, and thanks are due to the incumbents and ringers.

Great Adventure II

Dear Sir,—The tour to Australia is now programmed so that the air-party will arrive in Perth in the early hours of either Tues., 7th. or Thurs., September 9th, 1965. After a stay for a few days, the next stop would be Adelaide. By the end of the first week the full complement would be in Melbourne. For part of the second week two days would be spent in Hobart Tasmania, and on returning the laide. By the end of the first week the full complement would be in Melbourne. For part of the second week two days would be spent in Hobart. Tasmania, and on returning the tourists would join in a ringing day with the Victorian Branch of the A.N.Z.A.B. After visiting one or two 'local' or 'country' towers the party would proceed to Sydney, arriving mid-way through the third week. A 'hop' to Maryborough and visits to the several towers on this eastern sea-board would fill in the time until Monday. October 4th—apublic holiday in New South Wales—when the visitors may be afforded some 'additional' privileges. Over twenty towers could be visited and a larger number of peals attempted. After all this the party will have the following alternatives for the return journey—call at Melbourne. visit New Zealand, visit Groton. Mass., or home to England direct.

Our friends in Australia are doing everything possible to make the tour a success and they are eagerly awaiting our arrival. But it is regretted the party at the moment is smaller than hoped for and thus there is a shortage of talented, representative section of ringers from Great Britain made up the party. There is, however, an opportunity for everyone and every Society and Guild to take a share in this second Great Adventure.

Tangible appreciation must be shown by the party to its hosts and some memento offered to each tower visited, and this could be burdensome if left entirely to those who will be making the journey. Thus an appeal is made to ringing organisations and individuals to donate something in kind or in cash, to be used in accordance with donors' wishes, if stated. In many cases a few shillings or a few pounds would not be missed and it would mean such a lot to the Adventurers whose outlay will already be quite considerable. Please be as generous as possible, and if forwarded to the undersigned everything received will be acknowledged.—Yours sincerely,

T. J. LOCK.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD North Dorset Branch

The annual meeting of the North Dorset Branch at Gillingham on December 12th was attended by 34 ringers and full use was made of the fine rehung eight before and after the meeting. The Archdeacon of Dorset welcomed the Branch and in his address spoke of the place of bells and ringers in the worship of God. A touch of Plain Bob Minor was rung on handbells during the service.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Chairman, Rev. R. G.

Meetings next year were fixed for Stalbridge, Maiden Bradley. Child Okeford and Sherborne (subject to consents), and it was hoped to arrange a joint meeting with the Ilchester Branch of the Bath and Wells Association, possibly at Thornford, Finally an outing was suggested in the Hampshire direction on the first Saturday in September.

ST. ALBANS DISTRICT DINNER

DECEMBER 5th was a day all in the St. TECEMBER 5th was a day all in the St. Albans District had been looking forward to for some time though for ditterent reasons and with different feelings. The Browns, of wneathampstead, expected their first child. He came on the 6th; congratulations. Some were going for a peal of Stedman Cinques, Hard luck. Most of us were going to the first St. Albans District dinner for some years.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock Miss Christine Rimmer, the dinner organiser, was agitatedly running round the Private Banqueting Room at the Red Lion Hotel, St. Albans, was full to overflowing.

suddenly it was announced with a deafening roar that if the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Hertford County Association of Change Ringers would like to take their seats, dinner would be served. After many ducks and peach melbas had been consumed with the customary ceremonies, Mr. Leslie Coburn, the toastmaster, rose to propose the loyal toast. Those who, not being used to such functions were already wreathed in smoke, should have been covered in confusion but they hid behind their smoke in confusion but they hid behind their smoke

Reg Darvill, an ex-District Ringing Master, proposed the toast of 'The Church. He reminded us that the Church consisted of her members, including ringers, and that we were therefore technically about to drink a toast to ourselves. On the subject of Church unity, he said that no divisions existed between ringers of different denominations. This he felt was due to their common purpose and wondered if the rest of Christendom could take a hint accordingly the rest of Christendom could take a hint accordingly.

The Very Rev. Noel Kennedy, Dean of St. Albans, and the guest of honour, having drunk the toast himself, then replied. He said that he felt that if they were drinking a toast to themselves, he might as well drink one to himself. While they had obviously meant the whole of the Anglican Church they should include everyone—the Pope, the Eastern patriarchs, nonconformists and in fact all who confess and call themselves Christians. The toast was their pledge of loyalty to the Church and to Christ.

RESPECTABLE AND SUITABLE'. The Dean, his duty done, was now able to lean back and light a Churchillian cigar, while listening to Mr. Alf Rushton, president of the Bedfordshire Association. Alf said how respectable and suitable an occupation ringing was for young people compared with such modern occupations as singing to a guitar which did not require the practice and concentration of ringing and yet which was over-rewarded in a pecuniary sense while stimulating those feelings in the hearers which in normal people, at any rate, needed no stimulation. He waxed quite lyrical on the beauties of old church architecture compared with modern office buildings and finally, in raising his glass, wished prosperity on the Hertford County Association and the St. Albans District.

Bill Critchley, the Hertfordshire president, apologised in advance as he said most societies only asked him to speak once and he doubted if theirs would be an exception. He thanked Alf for his good wishes, which he said were much needed in some parts of the Association, though he was happy to be able to report a great improvement in the Watford District rollowing a meeting at Rickmansworth. He said the St. Albans District, on the other hand, were most forward looking, and having listed all their extra-campanological activities, said they more deserved praise than needed good wishes. good wishes.

John Cull, in welcoming the visitors, reminded us that 1964 was the eightieth anniversary of the founding of the Association when had come from as far afield as Great Hallingbury in Essex and without any motor transport either! He apologised for not being able to answer visitors queries as to whether the paper bells decorating the room were Mears' or 'Taylor's.

paper bells decorating the room were Mears' or Taylor's.

The final speaker was Philip Mehew. He alarmed us by saying that when practising his speech he could not cut it down to less than three hours. After trying to define the word visitor with the help of a dictionary he told us the story of Molly McGuinness and so ended the formal part of the evening.

Martyn Jordan began a speech but found that he had brought the wrong card as this one only told him that his chest X-ray had been successful. As a penance he had to organise some of the entertainment which began with a mock hockey match between members and visitors. He then entertained quite brilliantly for a few minutes with jokes, songs and wisecracks. A guessing game followed and the evening was completed by tune ringing on handbells by Malcolm Pettit, Trevor Hawkins and Fred Ellis. Thanks to all concerned for an unqualified success: may we have many more such evenings! J. D. C.

MR. SIDNEY BRIGGS

The death took place, on December 12th, of Mr. Sidney Briggs, a former ringer at kotnernam Parish Church. Although he had not rung for some 12 years, he maintained his interest in ringing.

Born at Braatord 6/ years ago, he soon moved to Rotherham, where for many years he practised as a master painter and for a number of years was in charge of the sign writing and decorating section at the technical college. Kotherham ringers' room has a well known handsome set of peal boards and Sidney himself recorded the more important peat performances covering a period of a century, including the first peal on the new ring of ten in 1925. This was a peal of Grandstre Caters, conqueted by himself, a method whiten he maintained was the best music available on 10 bells.

He was taught to ring, and was greatly influenced by Clem Glenn prior to World War I, in which he served. He was an excellent striker on both tower bells and handbells, and rang a number of peals. On Sunday, December 20th, the Parish Cnurch bells were rung to a quarter peal of 1,277 Grandsire Caters in his memory. May he rest in peace.

MR. WALTER SPARROW

We regret to report the death of Mr. Walter Sparrow on December 17th at Feltham. The funeral was on December 23rd. Walter had had a spell of bad health recently, although he never lost his good spirits. He collapsed and died suddenly, without suffering.

His old friend, Bill Morris (who can remember seeing Wally in a belfry without Bill somewhere around?), who had known him for about 30 years, says Wally started his ringing at Great Finborough and graduated to Stowmarket later. Urged on by his brothers, Tom and Shelley, he became a keen handbell ringer. After moving to London, he was a regular Sunday service ringer, being attached to Heston and Feltham, each for about five years, and from about 1946 until about two years ago to Kingston-on-Thames. His peal record is not available, but he rang a good many for the Middlesex Association, and also for the Guildford and Suffolk Guilds and the Norwich Association ranging from Minor to Royal. His striking was of the best.

Like many of us who learned our ringing in the twenties, Wally travelled many miles on his bicycle in search of ringing.

Always cheerful, his smiling face and twink-Always theerita, his saining the did not ling eyes remain a happy memory for us, his France F. G.

ROTHERHAM'S HANDBELL TRADITION

Once again, handbell ringing featured prominently in Christmas festivities in Rotherham town centre. On Christmas Eve, a team of girls from Kimberworth Secondary School and ringers at the Parish Church joined forces to provide a 2½-hour programme of Christmas Carols on handbells. The ten ringers played 30 bells in four part harmony in the Parish churchyard and appreciative listeners responded by donating £20 to church funds. Over £200 has been raised in recent years in this way, and Christmas handbells have become a tradition in the town. Once again, handbell ringing featured promi-

FARNBOROUGH SIX TO BE AUGMENTED

The illness of Mr. Sidney Joyce has necessitated two postponements of the dedication of the augmentation to eight of the six bells at St. Mary's, Farnborough, Hants. The ceremony is now fixed for Evensong on February 14th. All ringers are welcome but they must notify in advance. The church, which holds over 500 people, is always full at both morning and evening services.

The two bells which weigh 14 and 14 cwt.

The two bells, which weigh 1½ and 1½ cwt., were cast on Oct, 23rd by Messrs, Mears and Stainbank. The Shell-B.P. Film Unit happened to be at the foundry that day and took a film of the event, and a special illustrated article is promised for the next issue of their House Journal.

House Journal,

The bells were delivered to the church complete with headstocks on Nov. 9th and dedication was planned for the following Sunday. Unfortunately Mr. Joyce was taken ill on the day the bells were delivered and was in hospital for over two weeks and underwent two operations. A new date was suggested—January 3rd, but as Mr. Joyce was still sick the ceremony was again postponed. At the dedication the bells will be in a small frame which Mr. Joyce is making, and which will allow them to be struck at the altar. A ringers' hymn, composed by the Rector

A ringers' hymn, composed by the Rector (Canon F. B. Hutchinson) will be sung at the service. The total cost is approximately £450; it would have been £40 more but for the fact that Mr. Joyce is taking leave for the hanging period, and assisting.

The treble bell is given by Mr. H. Holman and his family, in grateful thanks for the life of his father, and the second commemorates the silver wedding anniversary of the Rector and Mrs. Hutchinson and is their gift.

Other donations include Mr. D. M. Webster £210, Faraborough ringers £25, Mrs. I. M. Ratcliffe, in memory of her father, Mr. T. Joyce, for many years Rector's warden, £25, Anon. £20. The Church Guild has given a set of eight new ropes costing about £35.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Chesterfield District

Over 25 members and friends from some 10 towers braved the downpour to attend the District's annual meeting held at Bolsover on December 12th. After a short ring in the afternoon on the pleasant 14 cwt, octave, the company adjourned to the nearby Church Hall where the wives and friends of the local company had prepared an excellent tea.

In his opening remarks as Chairman, Mr. D. Cooper (tower captain, Bolsover) apologised on behalf of the Vicar, who had pulled a muscle in his leg.

The District secretary (Mr. M. Phipps), in his report on the year's activities, welcomed the continued good attendances at meetings held during 1964 and paid tribute to the wives and friends of the local companies who had provided such excellent meals.

Congratulations were extended to Old Whit-tington, Dronfield and Bolsover towers for doing so well in both the District's heat and the final of the Association's striking com-

North (North Wingfield), Linda Shaw (Bolsover) and Rosemary Mather (Staveley), Members were urged to obtain their tickets without delay for the annual dinner to be held at the Odeon, Chesterfield, on February 20th. Following the votes of thanks, the meeting ended with a selection of Christmas carols on handbells rung by the local company. The Rev. J. W. L. Newton (Curate) afterwards conducted a short service in the church. Further ringing was enjoyed until 9 p.m.

BELFRY GOSSIP

South Cerney, Gloucestershire, put on a novelty this Christmas by members of the choir ringing a quarter peal for the Carol Service.

The 1.000th copy of 'The Sound of Bells,' by Edgar C. Shepherd was sold on Christmas Eve. Congratulations to the author and all concerned.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the Clowne (Chesterfield) ringers and their families at their annual dinner on December 19th. Through 'The Ringing World' they desire to express many thanks to Mrs. Stanton, and the organiser.

Guildford ringers send their congratula-tions to Stephen R. Munday, the son of Mr-Frederick A. Munday, who was at one time conductor at Holy Trinity, Guildford. Stephen's mother was for a time assistant to the Editor of this journal.

What is the origin of Mewslade—that gives its name to Mewslade Court Bob Minor? The first in the method on tower bells was rung at Limpsfield Chart on December 19th, conducted by Christopher F. Mew. Was the suffix a compliment to a well known Kent ringer?

Ringing for Bradfield Secondary Modern School's carol service in St. Nicholas' Church, Bradfield, was provided by a member of the staff, three scholars, the school secretary's husband and a father of one of the pupils.

Surprise Royal Band in Six Bell Tower

Tower

The six-bell tower at Farnborough can now claim to have the most advanced band in the Guildford Diocese. The ringers have a Surprise Royal band from their own members, and in 1964 rang all the Surprise Minor methods and many of the Double Surprise Minor methods. Apart from numerous quarters, they rang a peal of 14 Surprise Minor methods, believed to be the most rung to a peal in the South of England by a resident Sunday service band. (Sunday service ringing is a condition of membership.) The tower has several promising learners and they are given plenty of practice. The bells are to be augmented to eight and the new bells dedicated at Evensong on February 14th. We are asked to state that the first peal attempt on the eight will be by a Farnborough band, and all attempts for 1965 are already booked.

First Peal at 73

It was a case of age and youth intermingled with a difference of 60 years between them in the first pealers in a peal conducted by Mr. Crawford T. Hillis at Willesborough on December 19th. At the last minute 73-year-old Mr. Cecil Sharp kindly stood in to ring his first peal—the tenor to three Doubles methods. On the treble was James C. Hillis and on the second Philip R. Staples, who are both 13. Many listeners, both ringers and non-ringers, remarked on the excellence of the striking.

50 For Hereford Guild

Peals are not plentiful in the Hereford Diocesan Guild, although when Mr. Harry Poyner and his wife were resident it had many successes. This week we congratulate one of the country ringers, Mr. C. William ('Bill') Nutt on ringing his 50th for the Guild These are spread over about 40 years. The failures are quite considerable, and so are the first pealers. Bill has called a number of Doubles peals. He has also rung peals for the Worcestershire and Districts Association.

Carollers Ditched

Wentworth (Yorks) handbell ringers raised £11 14s., in aid of Christian Aid and the Church's belfry fund, by carolling around the village. There was no lack of adventure. A handcart, used to carry the two card tables, bells and 'two drivers,' upturned into a ditch. This followed the drinking of sherry and cider, providing a moral—'Don't drink, drive and ring!' Fortunately it was not serious as no lives, bells or tables were lost.

Reconstruction at Riverside Church, New York

The Riverside Church belfry, New York, will be closed to visitors because of construction work involving girders and columns from after January 10th until February 20th. The carillon will be silent. From January 12th to January 31st Mr. James R. Lawson, the carillonneur, will play 12 concerts at the Bok Singing Tower carillon, at the Mountain 1.ake Sanctuary, Florida, During the reconstruction, tuning tests will be made on the upper 58 bells of the Riverside carillon by Arthur L. Bigelow, bell master, Princeton University.

Christmas Day Bells

A delightful tribute to the Christmas Day bells broadcast comes from R. H. Mansell, of bells broadcast comes from R. H. Mansell, of Handsworth, Birmingham, who writes: 'I have no doubt that this year's Christmas bells were the best I have ever heard. Absolutely perfect striking from start to finish.

'What I would like to see and hear—and I think a good many more bellringers would—is Liverpool Cathedral bells from the massive tower overlooking the Mersey incorporated in Christmas bells, if this is at all possible for next year. Again expressing my delight and praise to the Christmas bellringers.

Coming Back to the Fold

By ringing in the peal at Hornchurch on Christmas Eve, long absences from peal ringing were broken by John Stephenson—an interval of 12 years—and intervals of 11 years by Sid Penfold and Colin Wright. Their many friends will be pleased to know they all gave excellent performances and hope that such an interval from peal ringing will not reoccur.

Six Towers on Christmas Day

Ringers from Cam in Gloucestershire had a busy time over Christmas. As well as assisting at Dutsley and Coaley for the midnight services on Christmas Eve, they were aroused at 6.30 a.m. Christmas Day and transported to three more local towers in succession to assist the bands with service ringing, and finally returned to Cam to complete the morning's ringing. Thus of the 13 towers of the Wotton-under Edge Branch they helped to 'salute the happy morn' in six of them.

We Smirk

Renewing his subscription, Mr. S. E. Denby, of Mansfield, writes: 'Compared with other periodicals that come into my home. "The Motor," daily and Sunday papers which are 75 per cent advertising matter, I maintain "The Ringing World" is well worth 1s. a copy. It is absolutely full of reading matter.' A smirk from the Editor. from the Editor.

25 Years a Minister

Miss Ann M. Smith, 16-year-old daughter of the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, president of the Lancashire Association, had the pleasure of ringing in a complimentary quarter peal to commemorate her father's 25 years in the ministry. It was rung at Darley Dale, where he is Rector. Ann has rung in three quarter peals, all of them being Stedman Triples. Lancashire ringers will join in the congratulations from Derbyshire.

Canadian Bell Inscriptions

The following verses are inscribed on two bells at Christ Church, Elbow Park, Calgary, written by Mrs. Murry Hunter, a parishioner:

Bell No. 3.-In this foothill city

I peal my notes abroad.
That man may learn by listening.
To love this House of God.

Bell No 5.—Here the prairies touch the mountains,
Here the Bow and Elbow meet.
For such beauty, Lord, we thank Thee,
Sung in bell notes clear and sweet.

Mr. E. Boumphrey Leaves Glasgow

At a meeting of the St. Mary's Cathedral (Glasgow) Society of Change Ringers on December 22nd the resignation was accepted with regret of Mr. E. Boumphrey, from the office of captain, caused by his retirement from business and return to England. Mr. Boumphrey joined the Society in 1938 and has held the office of captain since 1953. On behalf of the members, the Very Rev. Provost Laming presented Mr. Boumphrey with a card signed by all the members and a bell-ringers' car badge. Mr. T. Winderam was then unanimously elected captain.

A Cathedral Completed

A Cathedral Completed
On December 20th, a thanksgiving service was held for the completion of the extensions of Salisbury Cathedral, Southern Rhodesia. The 10 bells were rung to rounds and call changes before and after the service. Although a Mashonaland Diocesan family gathering, the twin diocese of Matabeleland was represented by ringers from Que Que. The bell tower and hanging of the bells was completed in 1962. Now the nave has been completed and the Cathedral roofed throughout with copper. Owing to the absence of several ringers, peal ringing was restricted to the first peal on the front six of these excellent ten from Whitechapel. The tower and bells are a fine piece of work, but the clock is a matter of concern.

A Derby Association

The more advanced method peal ringers in the Derby Diocesan Association have had the ambition for several years to ring a peal in the four standard Surprise methods with all resident members. Many attempts have failed. On December 12th this ambition was achieved and the band wish to thank and congratulate Gordon A. Halls, who, at short notice, had to learn and conduct the peal. This he did with competence and the achievement was one of which all the participants could feel proud both for accuracy of method ringing and for striking.

Veterans Honoured

In their Boxing Day quarter, Nailsea ringers paid a tribute to two veterans—Mr. E. J. Baker, a former captain of the tower who now resides at Congresbury, on reaching 70 years as a ringer, and Mr. H. Knight, who has completed 60 years as a member of the Bath and Wells Association. The quarter was also a silver wedding anniversary to an esteemed member of the tower—Mrs. D. Strong

Delia of Vancouver

Among our New Year greetings for English ringers is one from Vancouver ringers sent by Miss Delia Barkworth, of 1480, Nelson Ave.. West Vancouver. She tells of their ringers travelling 1,400 miles in one weekend to ring at Calgary. She adds that their thanks go to Pat and Mike Simpson for making both week-ends (Calgary also came to Westminster Abbey, Mission City and Vancouver in return) such a 'bash.' She hopes that any ringers passing through Vancouver will ring with them.
