HERBERT LANGDON, LONDON

OLDER members of the Exercise will be saddened by the news of the passing of Herbert Langdon on April 6th. He had been ailing for over three years and although severely handicapped by his own and his wife's illness, he doggedly carried on his business as a shipping agent from his home at Tooting. Towards the end he was unable to lie down in bed, and had to sleep in a chair because of the choking effects of severe catarrh. A few days earlier he had been removed to hospital but he died suddenly soon after his admission.

One by one these giants of the past are gradually slipping away from us, and we are all the poorer for their loss. Bert Langdon was one of the most colourful personalities the Exercise has ever known and his ringing career was remarkable. Born on September 2nd, 1881, in London, the son of a well-known London ringer, Bert was the youngest of three ringing brothers. Thomas, the eldest, and William each achieved considerable distinction in ringing, but Bert, who had been taught to ring by William, very soon outstripped them both.

His first experience of change ringing took place at Chelsea and Fulham, and later he migrated to St. Margaret's, Westminster, where he became conductor. In 1900 he became a College Youth, and in February of that year first rang at St. Paul's Cathedral. Evidently the Guild ringers of that day were impressed by his first effort, and he was appointed at once as a substitute ringer and served as such for ten years.

In 1910 he was elected to full membership of the St. Paul's Cathedral Guild, and in all rang continuously at St. Paul's for 58 years. He succeeded W. T. Cockerill as conductor in 1938. During his career he associated with such great ringers as Matt Wood, James Petitt, W. T. Cockerill, W. Prime, Sam Joyce, H. Springall, Ted Horrex, C. Burden, T. Benney, W. Tanner, A. B. Peck, Bob Newton, J. Oxborrow, J. W. Golding, Challis Winney, G. N. Price, the Pasmore brothers and many others, with all of whom he rang many peals. His first peal was rung at St. George's, Camberwell, in 1899. It was Holt's Original, conducted by that wonderful stalwart, still with us, George E. Symonds, who also conducted his next three. His fifth peal was Stedman Caters, at Beddington, conducted by Harry Barton, who had taken a great liking to this promising youngster.

Bert never kept a record of his peal performances, but research by Len Stilwell and Edwin Jennings discloses that his total was in the region of 550, of which he conducted 238. His conducting of Thurstans' four-part was masterly and one could not but conclude that he was completely conversant with the "tune" from start to finish. He would conduct from any bell; indeed it was in the field of Stedman that he most distinguished himself.

The 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton in 1922 was his longest length, and he declared that throughout that remarkable performance he never had to correct any fault or mistake—he just called the bobs and singles!—and all that after starting in early morning after no breakfast. Bert also conducted the unfortunate long length of 12,675 Stedman Cinques, composed by Harry Miles, which afterwards was found to be false. He was extremely proud to have conducted Carter's odd bob one-part of Stedman Triples and to have taken part in the performance when this peal was rung on handbells strictly silent. He was closely associated with George N. Price in many remarkable achievements on both tower- and handbells.

He was an honorary member of the Westminster Abbey band, having been connected with it since the time the bells were augmented to eight.

As is customary with Westminster Abbey ringers, his body was received there at 5.45 p.m. on April 12th, and a short service was held in St. George's Chapel. The body remained there until 8.30 the following morning, when it was taken to Streatham for cremation.

During the last seven or eight years he did no ringing, but he maintained a lively interest in all that was going on in the field of ringing, and now we have lost another valuable link with those wonderful men of the past. We shall miss him, but we shall never forget him, and his sterling character, his ringing ability and his fairness will always be remembered by all who knew him.

To his widow, the whole Exercise will send out its heartfelt sympathy, and she may find some consolation in feeling that her sorrow is shared by his countless friends, not only in London, but also in all parts of the country.

JAFUS.

FUNERAL OF MR. HERBERT LANGDON

On a cold, bright April evening, a knot of ringers gathered outside the cloisters of Westminster Abbey, to take part in a service that has grown sadly familiar. Within four years Alfred Peck, Horace Belcher, Richard Deal, and now Herbert Langdon, had all been carried here to lay overnight in the chapel of St. George. Together with St. Paul's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey ringers there were old friends who had travelled to London for the service, Arthur Davis, Bill Hibbert and Frank Smallwood. Smallwood.

It was seven years ago that he had slipped quietly out of ringing circles, but one still recalled him clearly; sharp, bright eyes, stooping shoulders, bowler hat tilting forward, and the small battered attache case that he carried everywhere.

Among many notable contemporaries he had Among many notable contemporaries he had been outstanding, both as a ringer and a personality. He was a remarkable conductor of Stedman, and achieved many fine performances in this method. His services to London ringing will probably remain unequalled: forty years at Westminster Abbey, and nearly sixty years at St. Michael's, Cornhill, and St. Paul's Cathedral, where he was conductor for twenty years.

The coffin was carried in, and the procession formed and moved off slowly, the ringers following two by two, round the cloisters and along the nave to the small chapel. Here the funeral service was said, and, at the end, a course of Stedman Triples was rung on handbells by Frank Smallwood. Harold Pitstow, Philip Chalk and Michael Chilcott.

Then we left him, in the quiet Abbey, and Then we left him, in the quiet Abbey, and went out into the evening, with our memories of a man who we were glad to have known.

OLDEST BELLRINGER RETIRES

OLDEST BELLRINGER RETIRES

MR. WILLIAM OSWALD TALBOT (86), of Sunset Rise, Meanwood, believed to be the oldest bellringer in Leeds, and the longestserving ringer at St. Michael's Church, Headingley, has retired because of failing health. For 64 years, twice every Sunday, he has climbed the 56 steps to the belfry to ring one of the eight bells.

"The finest bells in Leeds," he says. "Better than the Parish Church. The smallest weighs 5 cwt., the biggest over a ton. I have rung them all in my time."

Since he moved to Meanwood 13 years ago,
Mr. Talbot has travelled to St. Michael's by motor-cycle. He has rarely missed a service, except for sickness and holidays, since he first joined the team at St. Michael's in 1901.

"I first started ringing," he told the "Yorkshire Evening Post," "when I was 13 in my native Worcestershire. "I came to Leeds in 1900 as a commercial traveller."

In 1901 St. Michael's had a fine team of ringers, and new members were always ready to join. Today it is a different story.

"You can't train a ringer in 25 minutes," said Mr. Talbot. "Young people today won't give their time to master the art. We now depend mostly on visitors to Leeds. Students at the University who have rung church bells at home help us quite a lot."

"Not everybody loves the bellringers," says
Mr. Talbot. "They sound nice a long way off but close at hand they can be disturbing."

When the bells of St. Michael's go on too long, people phone the Vicar to see if he can have them stopped.

"Quite understandable," says Mr. Talbot.

"For instance, if you are trying to get a baby to sleep when the bells start, it is bound to make you angry."

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS-No. 21

PETER JOHN JOYCE The Guildford Diocesan Guild

WITH the dedication of the Guildford Cathedral bells so near it seems appropriate to have yet another of the Guildford Guild's youngsters contributing to this series. Peter John Joyce was born on September 21st, 1945, at Farnborough, Hants, where his father had been a ringer for over 20 years and where his mother also learned to ring. Peter was educated at the Church School of St. Peter and Farnborough Grammar School. Hard work at these two schools won for him ten "O" levels and four "A." His reward for this excellent achievement was a place at Southampton University, where he a place at Southampton University, where he reading mathematics.

Peter was 13 when he started to ring and was taught by his father and Mr. R. H. Mills, the vice-captain of St. Peter's, Farnborough. Although at that time all towers in the district were fully manned and the bells were being rung regularly, opportunities for peals and advanced ringing were few and far between. This situation changed considerably some two years ago due to the invasion to the district by the well-known Kippin family and other skilled and enthusiastic ringers. During the last two years Peter has enjoyed taking part in many peals and quarter peals at Farnborough. The most notable was a peal of 14 Spliced Surprise Minor rung on November 10th, 1964, and conducted by Chris Kippin. The peal, the last before augmentation to eight, is believed to be the greatest number of Spliced Surprise Minor methods rung there, and, in fact, in the south of England. The peal fulfilled one of Peter's ringing ambitions—to take part in a peal with his father, who last took part in a peal 15 years ago. peal 15 years ago.

Peter's first peal was on March 5th, 1961, at Frensham, when he rang the second to four Minor methods conducted by Mr. Tom Page. During the last two years his total has increased rapidly and is now nearing 45. and includes the following:

From his early ringing days Peter has been one of the most regular Sunday service ringers at Farnborough and is greatly missed now that he has gone to Southampton. Of the 40 successful quarter peals rung at Farnborough he has taken part in the majority and conducted many, and hopes to ring his first peal as conductor in the near future.

Like most ringers he has a story to tell in connection with his ringing activities. It happened on a ringing tour in Herefordshre, when he and another unfortunate had a disagreement with a certain landlady, who turned them out of the house on a cold and very dark night to fend for themselves. Fortunately they were taken in at the local inn for the remainder of the week, and all ended well except that they had to pay a second bill for lodgings, as they had already paid the not too friendly landlady in advance.

Peter is interested in handbell ringing and in addition to methods has taken part in tune ringing at Christmas time for various charities. Congratulations to you, Peter, for a fine record, and to the Guildford Guild who are doing such a good job among the youngsters.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The meeting of the Mansfield District on March 27th was held at Warsop and, as always, a very pleasant day was had by all. Most disappointing though to the local company, and particularly the ladies, was the poor turn-up for tea. Anyone who has attended previous meetings at Warsop will know just what preparations had been made. In view of this it was decided that meeting notices will in future appear twice.

The District chairman presided at the business meeting, where Mr. R. Hardy was accepted as a new ringing member. During the service which followed, the Rev. J. G. P. Habgood extended a cordial welcome to all. Interesting and varied ringing took place during the afternoon and evening in a freshly decorated ringing chamber which is a credit to the efforts of the Warsop ringers. A pleasure, too, on this occasion, was the presence of "Jafus" throughout the whole proceedings.

Ringing in general was of a good standard at the practice meeting of the Central District at Wilby on March 20th. Ringers came from Lowestoft, Kessingland, Thetford, Diss. Ipswich and surrounding villages.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION Biggleswade District

When the Biggleswade District met at Arlesey on April 10th, many people were surprised to find the bells going better than they expected—probably due to a very recent oiling.

The Vicar, the Rev. E. B. Edgell, conducted a short but interesting service after which the 33 ringers present adjourned to St. Peter's Hall for an enjoyable tea prepared by the

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. L. M. Bywaters announced final arrangements for the district outing on May 15th and the possibility of holding a car treasure hunt on the afternoon of May 8th, preceding the evening meeting at Henlow, was discussed. Members were also reminded about the A.G.M. to be held at Bromham on May 1st. The ringing throughout the evening was, as in the afternoon, of a reasonably good standard and covered a wide range of methods.

doubt the most faithful ringer any church of bellringing association could wish for, her passing is deeply grieved by many friends.

During the 1914-18 war, when there were few men available for bell ringing, Mr. Sidney Dawson taught Miss Foulk to ring and she proved an apt pupil. A founder member of the Derby Diocesan Association, she had also been a long serving member of the Midland Counties Association and the Ladies' Guild. #### MR. FRANK C. W. KNIGHT ANOTHER APPRECIATION

I would like to add my tribute to the late Frank C. W. Knight, so admirably expressed by P. N. B. and W. H. V. It was with great regret I read of his death, as I had known him since 1945. Before he went into hospital for his serious operation in January, I had a sad letter from him, in which it was obvious he knew his end was near. He asked to be remembered to his ringing friends and sent good wishes.

As has already been mentioned, Frank was As has already been mentioned, Frank was a born enthusiast and a good organiser. He was never happier than when teaching beginners and ringing peals in the simpler methods. He was a very good tenor ringer and amongst those he had "turned in" to peals were Mancroft, Norwich, as well as ringing Southwark Cathedral "behind." But for his ill health from 1958 until his death, there is no doubt he would have taken part in many more good peals on the heavy end. The Exercise will be the poorer without him, and I mourn his death.

GETTING AN ESSEX FIVE TO RING

By J. E. Eyre

(Master of Ringers, St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney)

ON Sunday, April 4th, the ancient ring of five bells at Navestock, in Essex, rang out for the first time for many years. This was the result of no small amount of work on the part of the young band from St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney.

Mavestock, with two Miles Graye bells, two dating from c. 1450 and one "M. and S." 1860 is listed by Dove as unringable, and is also a "virgin" tower, not having a peal to its name. With the exception of the treble, the bells are very heavy going (tenor 10 cwt.). There is a long rope draught and due to a loose clapper the second bell strikes mute unless ringing "wrong-side."

The sound of the bells is pleasing, though unusual. Although the tenor is G as Dove states, the bells are certainly not in the major key of G and the variety of workmanship casting the bells can be noticed in the dif-fering tones of each. As near as can be determined they seem to be in the key of F, with the third bell being B flat.

There is still a great deal to be done to the bells and work will continue after Easter. The Roll of Honour of those who have put in many hours of hard work on the bells with little visible effect on their appearance is as follows: John Baker. Jeff Eyre, Colin Harris, Murray Henderson, Robert Hill, George Lambeth, Brian Meek, Megan Owen, Allan and Grahame Todd Grahame Todd.

The Rector of Navestock, the Rev. Norman Motley (who is also Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill) to show his appreciation invited the young band to ring for Evensong at Navestock and have tea with the villagers after-

The invitation was readily accepted and in addition to ringing for the service, at which the Archdeacon of Southend preached, the St. John-of-Jerusalem Handbell Choir gave a rendering of two well-known hymns, which was greatly appreciated.

Thanks go particularly to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Adams (Mr. Adams was at one time a ringer at Epping Upland) for supplying the tea and transporting the ringers to the station.

SCHOOL SOCIETY TRAVEL BY AMBULANCE

An account of an outing by members of the King's School Society of Ringers at Worcester, written by a boy who learned to ring in January of this year.]

ON February 25th twelve members of the King's School Society of Crange Ringers, Worcester, and two masters set out from Edgar Tower on an outing to three towers in the county—Earls Croome, Ripple and Strensham. A retired ambulance, affectionately know as the "School Bus," provided the transport.

On arrival at Earls Croome one or two enthusiasts proceeded to thump out a tune on the chimes, but our leader, Mr. P. Cattermole, soon stepped in and removed the hammers. After a few pulls in the rise our leader exclaimed: "No, they're not off," and after performing damped simple harmory oscillations on the end of his rope, went and fiddled with the ropes a bit more, after which the bells were raised without hitch. A touch of Stedman Doubles preceded call changes rung by beginners like myself. I found some difficulty in getting used to the bells as they are a light ring on ball-bearings, a sharp contrast to the 16 cwt. six at St. Swithun's, where I am learning to ring. After this the experts showed how to ring Bob Minor. The back I am learning to ring. After this the experts showed how to ring Bob Minor. Having embussed we proceeded to Ripple. The bells here are vintage Rudhall and of excellent tone. With the help of Mr. Charles Haylings, the churchwarden, the bells were rung up and a touch of Kent Treble Bob rung. Later Stedman and Grandsire were rung and a truly superb lower in peal rounded off a good session. After ringing, our leader insisted that we should inspect the transitional arcade and the 12 misericord seats in the

At Hanley Castle we muffled the bells as a token of respect to Sir Ronald Lechmere, who had died recently. Because of the half-muffling no Minor was rung. Call changes were successfully rung while our leader wandered round the church and on his return five bells were lowered in peal. Having collected the one muffle which was ours we descended

The outing was great fun and I am thoroughly glad that I took up ringing—even if I don't know why I did.

20 MILES TO RING ROUNDS ON 10 BELLS or CHERTSEY'S GOOD TURN

Dear Sir,—You stated in "Belfry Gossip" (page 248) that my question was effectively answered by ten ringers from the Chertsey District who obliged the Rector of St. Nicolas', District who obliged the Rector of St. Nicolas', Guildford, by ringing for one morning service.

I assume from "The Ringing World" the band rang 30 minutes of enjoyable rounds!

As the bells of St. Nicolas' are silent week after week, may I suggest the Chertsey District send a band to ring 30 minutes of rounds for the 8 a.m. service every Sunday, say for the next 12 months. I will then agree that the question I posed at the annual general meeting (several others remained unanswered) has been effectively answered.

In the meantime I remain of the opinion that, say, six of the Guild's "top brass" will not more than once travel 20 miles (plus) to ring rounds for 30 minutes with four ringers capable of only rounds—not even on Guildford Cathedral's new ring of ten.—Yours sin-

WHAT ABOUT IT, WALES?

Dear Sir,—From time to time we see some peculiar footnotes to peals in 'The Ringing World," but the one attached to the peal of Stedman Triples at Bridgend on March 13th must surely take the biscuit. Are we really supposed to believe that the peal was actually arranged to celebrate Wales' victory over Ireland at Rugby football?

If it was, the band must have some wild ideas on the correct use of church bells. A peal attempt for Saturday enjoyment after a Rugby match, yes, but for the reason stated, oh dear no. Mr. Edwards.

As for the comments on the subject in "Belfry Gossip," if we must read that warped sort of humour. sir, I suggest you start a new column headed "Belfry Rubbish"!—Yours sincerely,

ADVICE TO EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

Dear Sir,-What is Mr. Gummer's authority for his proposition that we should pay one shilling for "The Ringing World"? Why not two shillings or even five shillings? haps he wanted to be nice and agree with Mr. Woolley that the journal should cost more.

Nevertheless all this twittering about price increases and charities should be a clarion call to the Editorial Committee that all is not call to the Editorial Committee that all is not well with Messrs. Woolley and Gummer. Although it is difficult to estimate how far their views are echoed by ringers elsewhere, there is a growing tendency towards the view that "The Ringing World" must be made to stand on its own financial feet.

The leading article "And Some Were Ditched" told how last year "The Ringing World" made a profit because it accepted voluntary peal booking fees. Presumably the recent price increase ensures that the journal will make a profit without the aid of pecuniary contributions from readers—or does it? The article stated that "The increase of one penny in the selling price enables the committee to meet with confidence the addition of five per cent. in production costs that became operative this year." tive this year . . .

Does this mean that the price increase re-presents the five per cent, increase in pro-duction costs, in which case the "little ex-tras" are still needed for there to be a profit on the journal or does the increase ensure that the journal will stand alone without the "charitable" support of its readers? We are not told whether the present price not only covers production costs but also ensures that there will be a comfortable profit margin next

On balance, it is highly probable that the "little extras" will still be needed, and this state of affairs is, as our two learned writers point out, not very satisfactory. There is no doubt that the present system of frequent and nadequate price increases plus reliance on voluntary contributions is far too haphazard and unbusinesslike and while it continues we shall hear of "The Ringing World's" struggle for survival accompanied by nattering letters from disgruntled readers.

The inevitable retort to all this will be that The inevitable retort to all this will be that the Editorial Committee is being kind to its readers by endeavouring to keep prices down and by preventing the introduction of a peal booking fee. This is a doubtful argument. Why should a few faithful volunteers be burdened with the upkeep of "The Ringing World's" profit margin? This is exploitation by those who do not contribute to the "Gratefully Acknowledged" column and is grossly unfair. grossly unfair.

Having worked out production costs and expected profits necessary to keep the journal in business, the committee responsible should then decide how to achieve these ends in a true entrepreneur-like fashion; either by realistic price increases to readers or by more distribution in the inverse of the state of the stat realistic price increases to readers or by more advertising in the journal or by charging peal and quarter peal ringers for the space they use, or by any other suitable means. The solution to these problems is not as easy as Mr. Gummer would like us to believe; certainly it is not a simple matter of increasing the price to one shilling and leaving it at that. For all he knows, a shilling might not be sufficient, while four shillings for a quarter peal publication might enable "The Ringing World" to shelter one or two larger newspapers under its umbrella. There are many factors to be considered; for example, should the users pay extra cost (if any), or should the readers, or both? How will they react to the increases? Should there be more and varied advertising? These are just a few questions.

The answers lie in the hearts of those who

The answers lie in the hearts of those who read "The Ringing World." Any ringer with sufficient common sense to realise that without the paper the Exercise would disintegrate will be only too pleased to do whatever is necessary for its economic safety and independence. In the meantime the Editorial Committee must be bamboozled, if the vernacular will be excused, into adopting some definite policy; so far it has been content to sit on the fence and throw down random and less than ssensible declarations.—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL R. MEADOWS. Wentworth, Yorks,

Wentworth, Yorks.

Note.—The penny increase was expected to provide for additional labour charges and reasonable advances in postal charges provided income from peals and quarter peals is maintained at the present level. Some Associations, like the Bath and Wells and the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, make a peal levy. If the principle of the payment of 6d. a rope was accepted by Guilds and Associations for peals and quarter peals published, the income would be adequate for normal expenditure. It must not be overlooked that the journal has reserves to meet over a year's production.—Ed.

IN PRE-WAR DAYS

Dear Sir.—The financial state of "The Ringing World" has never been solid. On two occasions before the last war collections were made to help the proprietors to keep the paper going; the late Tom Gofton and Bill Barber took the North; James George and Albert Walker the Midlands; Tom Coles and Bill Pye took London and the South; and on each occasion over £300 was collected.

Now that the paper is run by the Central Council I feel it is time we put it on a paying

The charge for our journal should be at least 1s. per week, and a booking fee should be charged for quarter peals and peals. Quarter peals to be 6d. per ringer, and peals should be charged for at is. per ringer.—Yours faith-fully, E. W. PYE.

Saffron Walden, Essex.

EASTER EVEN

Dear Sir,—No doubt many will respect Mr. Caple's objection to ringing meetings on Easter Even (or Holy Saturday) from the one fact alone that most parishes are far too busy on this day to cope with all the additional arrangements necessary on such occasions. It seems, however, that the ringing of bells need not be discouraged on Easter Even when so much is or has to be done. My "English Churchman's Kalendar" has the following interesting note: interesting note:

"April 17. EASTER EVEN. Evensong is not one of the Easter Day Services, for the general rule that every great festival has its first Evensong is here suspended. The service has a mixed character; the church is decorated, the altars are vested in white, the bells are rung; but the crosses and images are not appeared that the crosses and images are not appeared. unveiled till after Evensong, and incense is not used."—Yours sincerely,

A. S. ROBERTS (Rev.).

PEAL OF OXFORD T.B. MINOR

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the 5,040 T.B. Minor on page 192 of the March 12th issue, by E. C. S. Turner. Could I ask a few questions about it?

(a) Is it possible to use part of this as a quarter peal?

(b) Is it possible to have a 1,260 one-part of Oxford T.B. rather than a 720 and a touch to make up the length?

(c) Is the peal or part of it true to Kent instead of Oxford?

(d) Are there equivalent sorts of compositions in other methods?

(e) All this poses the wider issue—what exactly is allowable in Minor peal ringing and for quarter peals of Minor?—Yours sincerely. ANDREW J. SALISBURY.

Upminster, Essex.

Handbells at Stradbroke, Suffolk, 1914-1919

By Claude Rush

WHERE did the majority of those 60 or so bells go to? I know that an octave of them is in the ringing chamber of All Saints' Parish Church there; it was presented to the church by the widow of a former owner of the bells. But where are all the others?

As a boy from the age of 11, during the Great War and for a time afterwards, I was a member of the band. There were about a drozen of us all boys between the area of the sail the dozen of us, all boys, between the ages of, say, 11 to 19.

The bells belonged to Herbert Bayles, who was our tutor and conductor. He was one of the village's saddlers and also verger for 47 years, which post he took from his father when his father died. This was previously held by his grandfather and so the family had served in this capacity for nearly a century. Herbert was born in 1861 and lived until he was 75. When I first knew him, in 1909, he had a flowing moustache and was of pale complexion and slight build. His time was completely taken up by four activities: (i) work as a verger, steeplekeeper and clockwinder; (ii) harness-making; (iii) delivery of telegrams (no telephone there then) in Stradbroke and some of the parishes adjoining; and (iv) writing out with blue and red pencil in large figures on sheets of cardboard which he hung on an easel, the handbell tunes, and tutoring his team of ringers whose performances I am afraid were never of exceptionally high standard!

Sometimes he would be writing out these tunes in his saddler's shop near the church, humming to himself to get the right figures for the notes, with me leaning over watching and listening, when a farmer would come into the shop for some item of harness repairs. As soon as the door-latch was touched he would shoot his pencils and paper under the counter and grab awl, needle and waxed thread with a "Er . . Good morning" to the caller as though bells were furthest from his mind, whereas, I am sure, they were really always foremost. Then, as soon as the caller had gone, out again would come the pencils and paper for a resumption of the tune to be practised the next time the ringers met.

DEATH KNELL

While writing of Herbert Bayles in particular, I ought to mention here that, when ringing the church tenor for a death in the village or some notable person beyond its boundaries, he was most careful that only 12 blows should be struck in the hour. He would get another ringer to help him raise the ton bell; then he would put his watch near the window and every five minutes for an hour he gave one blow. setting her alternately at back and hand with much preparation each time. Then he lowered her. But while waiting he recorded the occurrence with lead pencil on the limewashed wall of the window aperture. As an example his ringing of the death bell for my father was something like this: "Rang the Death Bell for ex-Sergt. Harry Rush for one hour at 5 p.m., 23rd November, 1920."

The wall here was covered with scores of these records. Tollings for Queen Victoria and King Edward VII were among them, fullymuffled in their cases, I believe. He also drew in red, black and blue pencil one or two particularly wonderful sunsets he had witnessed from the ringing chamber while waiting for the time for the next blow. Unfortunately—I think it is very sad—a "clean-up" of the chamber not more than 20 years ago has included the complete obliteration of all those

A "TWO-HANDER"

Now, to return to handbells. Of these 60 bells the largest was a presentation bell with inscription on its waist. It was an E flat bells the largest was a presentation bell with inscription on its waist. It was an E flat and getting on for a foot across its mouth. The clapper ball was large and round, shod with felt where it struck the bell. The bell was a "two-hander," and when not in use it hung on a nail in a beam in the ceiling of Herbert Bayles' living room. If one pushed the clapper on to the bell the boo-oo-om went round and round for half a minute. I cannot remember anything of the inscription, but vicars of Stradbroke then and a few decades earlier were Dr. Tate and Canon Ryle, who later became Bishop of Liverpool, I think, One of those names might be on the bell and so give a clue to establishing where that particular bell is, and perhaps where many of its mates are, today. It would be interesting to hear of them. The smallest bell was about the size of an egg cup. Once I saw Herbert Bayles in Stradbroke Queen's Head drink a tot of whisky from it, then ring it and, gently raising it, say: "Now d'you listen to it!"

As Christmas approached and until well into January, the band went forth, semitones hung on hooks on belts with shoulder straps. We performed at various points in the village we performed at various points in the village roads, in public houses and private ones, too. We walked, cycled or went by horse-drawn vehicle to neighbouring villages, including Hoxne, Horham, Wilby, Worlingworth and Fressingfield, where the Suffolk bell historian, Dr. J. J. Raven, had been rector.

THE REPERTOIRE

We played the well-known carols, some hymns, "John Peel," "The Lincolnshire Poacher," "The Vicar of Bray," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Comin' Through the Rye," "I'll Tak' the High Road" and "Auld Lang Syne"; also, as it was war-time, "Tipperary," "There's a Long, Long Trail," "Pack Up Your Troubles," "K-K-K-katie" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The Bayles family numbered four—father. mother, daughter and son. The first three are dead. The son, also Herbert, now well over 70, I suppose, if still alive, went London way. If he should hear of this article, he could probably say what happened to over 50 of the bells, especially the booming E flat double-hander. I would love to know.

GREAT ADVENTURE IL

Dear Sir,-With just over four months to go Dear Sir,—With just over four months to go before the tour in Australia commences, many things that have been planned now need to be definitely decided upon. The first matter of major importace is to what extent can the provisional programme be fulfilled, and this depends on the number and content of the party. Our friends on the other side of the oceans must know very soon. It is apparent from the present number going on this trip that the programme will have to be somewhat curtailed, and so anyone who is still "thinking it over" must decide without further delay and let me know.

curtailed, and so anyone who is still "thinking it over" must decide without further delay and let me know.

It is planned to be away for four or five weeks from the first week in September. We hope the tour will include New Zealand, and so ringers from this island have a unique opportunity. I am disappointed to the extent that, so far, we shall not be taking a twelvebell band, but I would ask anyone with suitable capabilities to take part in this "tour of a lifetime." Three or four more in the party would even benefit all in expense, as we could enjoy some concession in the travelling fare.

The following are those who will be going: Rev. M. C. C. Melville (King's Lynn), Mr. and Mrs. S. Burton (Leicester), Mr. and Mrs. T. W. White (Guildford), Messrs. A. P. Cannon (Dorking), J. L. Garner-Hayward (Coventry), T. J. Lock (North Mymms), A. G. Mason (Orpington), C. W. Pipe (Grundisburgh), L. Stilwell (Worthing), and W. Williams (London), and Miss A. Horsford (Twickenham). You will see from "The Ringing World" issue dated April 9th that a closing date and other details are expected, so I will make the last day of this month as the closing date for inquiries.

last day of this month as the closing date for inquiries.

Jim Pipe is leaving here before the main party, calling at places in the U.S.A., then to Japan, Hong Kong, Manilla, Singapore and Perth. After the tour to return via Djakarta, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta and Delhi. He wonders if others would be interested in this. Mr. and Mrs. Burton are going by sea.

I might add that my recent invitation to any society or individual to forward a contribution towards the "extra" expenses, and as a gesture of goodwill, has received a steady response, but I have no doubt many of the generous kind have yet to send their gift in one form or another.—Yours faithfully,

T. J. LOCK.

P.S.—Mr. Philip M. Gray, who will soon be returning from a business trip to Australia, writes that everybody out there is looking forward to our visit very much and it is the main topic of conversation with all the ringers he has met.—T. J. L.

Mrs. Hazenden (of Guildford) had an opera-tion in the Royal Surrey County Hospital, Guildford, on April 13th, and is very seriously

The choir at All Hallows' Church, South Cerney, Glos, have rung their first quarter of Cambridge Surprise Minor. We expect with six pairs of musical ears it was a most worthy performance.

In the memorial peal to the Rev. E. H. Grimston at Arundel on February 27th (see page 252), the ringer of the sixth was David D. Smith and not as published. Our correspondent sends his apologies to David.

Highelere, Hants, latest quarter pea er is Peter Furness, who has recently earned the right to be called a teenager. The band con-gratulate him on his performance at East woodhay.

Mr. T. R. Flint, of Worksop, who adds to Mr. Edgar Shepherd's "Nottingham Memories" in our issue of April 9th, also rang at All Saints' Church where Joe Woolley was captain. On leaving Nottingham he went to Warsop and, among his pupils was Mr. H. T. Rooke.

For the quarter peal of Grandsire Caters rung at Solihull for Evensong on April 4th it was an unexpected pleasure to welcome Mr. Jack Pryor, Brian J. Woodruffe and Penelope J. Welch from South Wales, who arrived just before ringing commenced. We thank W. Leeson, V. W. Rigg and G. E. Fearn for so kindly standing down.

A thoughtful act by Mrs. Carew Cox, widow of Canon C. Carew Cox, was to ask us to forward the outstanding numbers of the late Canon's subscription to an old age pensioner who could not now afford our journal. We were most happy to oblige and are forwarding them weekly to a Chichester resident. We have a number of pensioners in similar circum-stances on our list.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM SOUTH WALES

The Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association is on the crest of a wave. The annual report for 1964 reveals that never before has the Association rung 50 peals in a year, and they are all on tower bells. While Swansea and Brecon beat them in actual numbers, with about a century of handbell peals, the list is a creditable one with three of Cinques, two Royal, seven Caters and 12 Major. There were also some individual honours with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. King ringing their 150th together and David his 50th for the Association. Mr. D. G. Clift reached his century and Mr. T. M. Roderick his 175th. Leading conductor and peal ringer was Mr. N. W. H. Simon, son of the President, who is now sharing his peal activities with Bristol University. with Bristol University.

Mr. Jack Pryor, the hon, secretary, makes a point about the progress of young ringers, stating: "The general standard of ringing continues to improve and it is pleasing to note the increasing number of young ringers now ringing some of the more advanced methods. The popularity of the practices where these methods are rung indicates the keenness of the members to improve their standards; some travel many miles to these practices." many miles to these practices."

The decision of the College Youths to visit Newport, Cardiff and Llandaff for their annual provincial meeting was in honour of their Master, Mr. Jack Phillips, who in 1931 was Master of the Association. In his letter of thanks for the welcome, Jack stated: "It was a highlight of my life to return again to my happy hunting ground of bell ringing." At the end of Mr. Phillips' year of office a good peal was rung at Newton Nottage, where he made his first attempt at change ringing by handling the tenor behind Grandsire Doubles.

Another first during the year was the ordina-

Another first during the year was the ordination in St. Woolos' Cathedral of Mr. R. C. Lucas. In the memory of the Rev. I. J. Richards, the hon. treasurer, he is the first official of the Association to be ordained.

HEREFORD CATHEDRAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

Since the Hereford Cathedral School Society was restarted two years ago, great progress has been made by its members. The peal of has been made by its members. The peal of Minor at Peterchurch on April 6th is another step forward in the progress of the Society, which began with a quarter peal of Plain Bob Doubles in July, 1963 and a peal of Doubles the following December. Many of the Society's ringers make Hereford Cathedral their regular tower, and it is in no small part due to the tireless efforts of Messrs. G. T. Cousins and A. T. Wingate that members of the Society have been able to progress so far, seven members of the Society having between them a sum total of 44 peals.

The Society is also in contact with the ringers at King's School, Worcester, having met last autumn at Ledbury for an afternoon's ringing It is to be hoped that members of the Society while not forgetting their duties to the Hereford Guild and their own towers may long continue to ring together as a united school band.

MR. BRIAN G. WARWICK

Popular secretary of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, Mr. Brian G. Warwick, wants to relinquish his office in 1966 and accordingly in the Inquish his office in 1966 and accordingly in the Guild's annual report asks for a volunteer to come forward and take over his work. The reason is that more of his time is being taken up with musical activities since accepting the position of organist and choirmaster at the Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Knighton, a church with a high musical tradition.

This has also meant that Brian ceases to be a Sunday service ringer as Knighton has only one bell. As our quarter peal columns have revealed he has been associated with St. Thomas', South Wigston, since 1953. Five years ago he started a band of ringers from scratch and they quickly reached the stage of attempting a quarter peal every Sunday evening and have rung all local peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Their farewell peal to Brian was Plain Bob Major.

ALL FOR A BIRTHDAY

Hartest, a picturesque Suffolk village, originally had a ring of five bells cast by Darbie in 1661. In 1953 Taylor's recast the cracked second bell and rehung the ring in a steel frame with an empty pit for a future treble. Thus they remained till Arthur W. Rolfe gave the greater part of the money towards the new treble, inscribed: "Arthur Rolfe gave me. 1963."

And so it was fitting that a peal should be attempted there to mark his 78th birthday (April 15th). "Just for fancy" he wanted a band of ladies to do him the honour on April 10th. Unfortunately flu prevented Mrs. Mills from ringing and Don Mills kindly rang in her place.

The peal in six minor methods however, The peal in six minor methods however, came to grief but a good quarter was rung in 40 minutes. Afterwards Mrs. Vinten entertained the ringers to a much welcome tea which was greatly appreciated. To A. W. R. we offer our congratulations and wish him many years of happy ringing.

A "DAWDLE"

The word Mr. Will Viggers intended to use Ine word Mr. Will Viggers intended to use in his appreciation of the late Mr. Frank C. W. Knight was "dawdle" not "dangle" of ringers. He adds: "Anyone who has seen ringers wandering along from the service to the tea at meetings will recognise the appress of the word." It is regretted that our reading department took a different view of his hand-writing

HANDBELL CALL TO SERVICES

During the absence of the six Whitchurch (Devon) bells, which have been taken to Loughborough for repair and retuning, the bellringers will use handbells to call parishioners to Sunday services, said the Vicar (the Rev. A. R. Gerry) at the annual parochial meeting on April 8th.

ONE OF THE FRIEZLAND SIX

Mr. George Perron, who died recently, was one of the Friezland ringers who took part in making the recording of these bells, an extract from which record is incorporated in Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd's book "The Sound of Edgar C. Shepherd's book "The Sound of Bells." To his memory an attempt was made at Saddleworth on April 4th to ring 1,320 Oxford Treble Bob Minor, fully muffled. Unfortunately this came to grief more than halfway, through the breaking of the third rope.

way, through the breaking of the third rope.

The band consisted of: Jack Smith (Friezland) 1, Jack Hulme (Saddleworth) 2. William Herbert Nield (St. John's, Mossley) 3, Robert Stell (Saddleworth) 4 Arthur Farrand (Friezland) 5, Alfred John Bennett (Friezland) 6 Mr. Joseph Burgess acted as umpire.

NEWSPAPER'S BELLS GIVEN TO CHURCH

Marston Parish Church, Bapchild, Kent, has now installed a ring of five bells, the gift of the "News of the World." The bells had previously hung on the roof of the news-paper's offices in London and were unused.

In the presence of a congregation that filled the church, the Assistant Bishop of Canter-bury, the Rt. Rev. Kenneth C. H. Warner, performed the ceremony of dedication. As-sisting in the service was the Rector, the Rev. Arthur Luman.

PRIORITY BY AMBULANCE

King's School Society, Worcester, went for an outing in a retired ambulance affectionately known as the "School Bus." The vehicle had its advantages as two policemen mistook it for an ambulance on official duty and stopped all traffic to allow it to pass through the rush hour traffic converging on Worcester Bridge.

MEWSLADE COURT BOB MINOR PEAL

The committee of the Surrey Association met on April 7th to consider the objection to the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on Saturday, December 19th. Mr. W. Parrott, the hon. secretary, informs us it was resolved "that the peal of Mewslade Court Bob Minor rung at Limpsfield Chart on December 19th, 1964, be accepted by the Association." The objection, therefore was not upheld. not upheld.

VETERAN LOSES PEAL AT VERY END

With just over a course to go and after three hours of good ringing, a peal of Oxford Major was lost at Bingley, Yorks, on April 4th. Ringing the treble at 82 years of age was Mr. E. H. Simpson, a Bingley ringer. The peal was being attempted to mark his 55th wedding anniversary, also to mark his grand-daughter's 21st birthday and the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Schofield and was specially arranged for a Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Bruce Grainger, curate at Bingley, was one of the unsuccessful ringers. Mr. H. B. Schofield, of Bradford Cathedral, informs us that it is hoped to make another attempt in the near future.
