The Church of St. Leonard, Clent, Worcestershire

Architecturally this church has much to offer, parts being late 12th century, with trumpet-scalloped capitals of the round piers. To ringers it will be honoured as the home tower of the late W. H. Barber, his father and grandfather.

St. Leonard's Church, Clent, Worcs.

THE Domesday Book records that the Manor of Clent in Worcestershire was assessed at "nine hides"— quite a large manor.

St. Leonard's Church stands at the foot of Clent and Walton Hills and although the date of its building is not known it is considered to be around 1150. One, Master Herbert, was the Rector in 1199 and was then involved in litigation with the neighbouring parish of Broome and also with the Nuns of Brewood in Staffordshire. From Master Herbert's time the list of incumbents is complete.

The tower, the Late Norman pillars between the nave and the south aisle and the foundations are all that remain of the original building. The chancel, which has a beautiful barrel roof, is 14th century.

Prior to 1681 there were four bells in the tower and in that year a fifth was added and the old four recast by Henry Bagley, who set up his furnace, etc., in front of the church, near the present lych gate. A sixth bell was added in 1701, but according to records this bell was most unsatisfactory and it was recast in 1718 by Joseph Smith, of Edgbaston. In 1743 the tenor became cracked and was recast by Matthew Bagley in the same year.

By the end of last century the bells were going very badly and in 1902 were retuned and rehung in a cast iron "H"-section frame on steel joists and augmented to eight by Taylors. They were put on ball-bearings in September, 1963. They are a lively little eight with tenor of 11 cwt. 18 lb. in F sharp.

This was the home tower of the late William H. Barber, who moved to Newcastle upon Tyne from Clent around 1904. His grandfather and father rang here, also his brother John. It was also the home tower of the late William Short who, with William H. and John Barber, took part in many peals in the Midlands.

These three took part in the famous 11,111 Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's on Thursday, December 26th, 1901, in 8 hours and 2 minutes. William Short rang the treble and conducted the peal, William H. Barber rang the fifth, Gabriel Lindoff, the composer, rang the sixth and John Barber rang the tenor. It was the composer's first peal of Cinques. Also in that band were the three Pye brothers, James E. Groves, Thomas Reynolds, Charles Dickens, Harry Middleton and Arthur E. Pegler.

The first recorded peal at Clent was 5,040 Minor in seven methods, conducted by William Short, in which John Barber took part. It was rung on Monday, December 23rd, 1889, and 98 peals have been rung upon the bells to

The first recorded length was 2,160 Minor, being 720 each of Oxford T.B., Kent T.B. and Plain Bob, on Monday, October 5th, 1868, in 1 hour and 17 minutes, conducted by William H. Barber's grandfather, who rang the B. C. A.

many ringers on the road to achievement through the medium of his fortnightly "quar-ters." And so the time came when Albert was invited to ring the treble to Grandsire Doubles.
With a cast iron band, I need hardly tell you that the quarter was successful and Albert, though pretty well tired out, was elated, even if he didn't ring again at the practice which on the following Sunday the band at the eight-bell tower were sitting around after a touch of Triples when Albert beckoned to the tower captain. "Tom," he said, "I was 15 when I left ringing because they were not interested in me, and now, at my age, I've rung a quarter!" "And how old are you now, then?" said Tom. "Seventy-eight," replied the old man, "and I'll bet there aren't many ringers who have given it up for over 60 years and then come back and rung a quarter peal! It just shows you are never too old."

I suppose that, as in all good fables, it should close with the usual stock phrase "and they all lived happily ever after," but on this occasion I can go one better. This is a perfectly true story and Albert is very much on our tower's books today as a performing member. It is true to say that peals and quarter peals all look the same in print, but it is very nice occasionally to go behind the headlines to report one man's Everest, especially when its achievement is marked by that happiest of compingtions, namely one man's will to succeed achievement is marked by that happiest of combinations, namely one man's will to succeed and the encouragement of the local ringers to see that he does.

COUNTRYMAN.

A RINGERS' STORY

HIDANDUNDS

ONCE upon a time there lived a young man of 15 who aspired to become a ringer. But the band were good and they did not have much time for learners, and consequently Albert, for he is our hero, lost his keenness and left the tower.

The years rolled by and Albert grew up, married and worked at his trade as the driver of a steam engine, watched admiringly by the small lads of the villages around, for in those days they were a common sight on the roads.

Two world wars came and left their mark. and the time came when a nearby tower lost several ringers at the same time and the tower captain started looking out for recruits. It also happened that the band between this and the neighbouring six-bell tower was strong and it was not unusual to find members of each tower helping each other out both on practice nights and on Sundays.

And so it was that one evening Albert was introduced to the tower. Much older now, and a little hard of hearing, but with a desire to take up again the hobby which he had pursued for a time all those years ago. It wasn't easy, and it involved many hours of endeavour and patience, but the consideration and encouragement of both tower captains, who had known him all their lives, was rewarded when he slowly mastered rounds on six and then on eight respectively.

There followed an even longer period when Albert struggled with hunting the treble; it wasn't easy, but in due course he managed this as well.

The six-bell tower was noted for its many quarter peals in which ringers rang their "firsts," more often than not in a humble Doubles method, and the tower captain, although he would not admit it, had started

DISTURBED BY BELLS

"The Times" has had an interesting series of letters under the heading "Disturbed by

Mr. Ronald Warson, of Blackheath, if the ringing of church bells constitutes public or private nuisance. He writes: "Like many other people, I have to be an early riser on week-days and therefore hope to achieve an extra hour's rest on a Sunday morning. Unfortunately in my area church bells peal before eight o'clock for several minutes. The purpose of this exercise across pointless works. eight o'clock for several minutes. The purpose of this exercise seems pointless—surely the faithful (whose right to attend religious services I will defend to the death) possess alarm clocks. Alternatively, may I recommend the very efficient 'alarm call' service provided by the G.P.O.?"

An answer comes from Finland from Mr. A. F. T. Lurcock, reader in English at Abo Akademi. He writes: "It seems strange that formal legal defence should be necessary for bell ringing which Dorothy Sayers calls 'the one loud noise made to the glory of God. The real answer to Mr. Warson is very simple, whatever the legal position may be. Church bells are rung not only to call the faithful (who no doubt set their alarm clocks for half-asst seven) but also to remind others. As all An answer comes from Finland from Mr. past seven) but also to remind others. As an act of Christian witness, the bells no doubt embarrass some people because, like the Word of God, they do not 'call the righteous but sinners to repent.'"

Mr. P. R. K. Prescott. Islington.—" Although constantly ringing bells may constitute both a private and public nuisance, parish churches are privileged in this respect. Soltau v. De Held (1851). However, Mr. Warson might yet have a cause of action if the ringing is quite unreasonable, because the above authority, being an obiter dictum, is not hinding on the courts. On the whole, though, I recommend earplugs as being cheaper and more certain than litigation."

Mr. Scott Hill-Read. Chantry Place. Marden. Kent.—" The late J. A. Spender, when he lived in this house, which is immediately opposite the 12th century church that possesses a full ring of bells, was disturbed on one occasion when writing his leader for the old 'Westminster Gazette.' Accordingly he sent his butler over one sunny week-day afternoon with the promise that if the ringers would stop and go to a neighbouring village he would pay the cost of a bus and give them a gratuity into the bargain. Strange as it may appear in the light of social relations today, these dedicated campanologists agreed." Mr. Scott Hill-Read, Chantry Place. Marden.

THE PLEASURE OF BELLS

From the "Western Gazette". Yeovil, of September 13th, we cull the following editorial, "The Sound of Bells", which we feel all ringers will appreciate. Such publicity is most helpful to the Exercise.

For how much longer will the ringing of church bells continue to be one of the traditional sounds of the countryside?

Already many towers from which bells once rang out are now silent, because there is no one to ring them or because the ring, or tower which houses it, is no longer safe and there are insufficient funds to pay for the repairs.

But the ringing of the church bells is also receiving increased attention from some of those who campaign for noise abatement. So far the question of whether the ringing of church bells constitutes a public or private nuisance has never been tested in the courts, although the Noise Abatement Act of 1960 appears to afford church bells no special privi-

While those who live in close proximity to a church tower may from time to time have good cause for complaint, it is to be hoped that good sense and a spirit of compromise may prevail without recourse to law, thus preseiving a sound which still gives pleasure to so many, whether they be churchgoers or not.

MARSTON RINGERS' WEDDING

On September 7th Noel Deam, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Deam, of 71, Oxford Road, Marston, and Avril Walton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton, of 3, Rippington Drive, Marston, were married at the Church of St. Nicholas, Marston, Oxford, The Vicar, the Rev. Paul N. Rimmer. officiated

After the ceremony Avril and Noel were greeted by handbell ringing. While photographs were taken a quarter peal was rung on the five bells by members of the St. Nicholas' Society.

The wedding reception was held at the picturesque Victoria Arms, which is situated on the east bank of the Cherwell at Marston Ferry, and the honeymoon was spent in Jersey.

Noel was recently elected captain of Marston ringers and has been a ringer there for 13 years. In addition, he is a member of the choir and a cross-bearer. Avril has been ringing here for four years and is a Tawny Owl.

CHANCELLOR RULES IN FAVOUR OF RECORDED BELLS

AFTER hearing evidence at a Consistory Court, the Chancellor of the Diocese of Bath and Wells (the Worshipful W. S. Wigglesworth) granted the churchwardens and parishioners of Christ Church, Clevedon, permission to play the recorded sound of church bells from the church tower. from the church tower

The court was informed that it would have cost the parishioners an estimated £6,000 to strengthen the tower and install a ring of bells. Now they would be able to enjoy a perfect reproduction for less than £100.

The Vicar (the Rev Michael Rees) said that apart from financial reasons, they made the application because many people had complained that the church's two bells produced single mournful notes which were more in keeping with a death knell than a joyous message of welcome.

"Our contention," explained the Vicar, "is that to install actual bells to provide a ring would be a vanity, a misuse of a large sum of money and a cause of offence when it is known that the same effect can be obtained at a fraction of the cost."

The Dean of Wells, the Very Rev. I. D.
Edwards, chairman of the Diocesan Advisory Committee, spoke against the proposal, Whilst his committee considered the scheme to be a bogus falsehood."

The Dean said it could be argued that the noise of the recorded bells were in the same category as the sound made by ice-cream peddlers. He told the court of the sound of the bells of Westminster Abbey heard coming from a small country church in Hampshire. There was a danger, he said, of the equipment being used for the wrong purpose at some time in the future. If the pretence wascarried to its extremity, the church choir and even the preacher could be replaced by recording equipment.

In his summing-up the Chancellor said that after hearing the wealth of support for the recorded bells, he did not consider the dangers of falsehood were so great as to deny the purpose. In an interview with the "North Somerset Mercury" the Rev. Roger Fry, a former secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, said: "I would rather have a good recording properly reproduced than the dismal tolling of a single bell.

"In my view the cost of installing a modern ring of bells can put a great burden on a church council. Apart from that we have to ask ourselves if this expenditure is morally justified, having regard to the need of the Church overseas and the need to provide churches on new housing estates"

A SUMMER OF BELLS

By ANN GARDNER, of Washington Cathedral, U.S.A.

THE summer is over now. And what a summer it was! I had been planning for summer it was! I had been planning for it for over two years and dreaming of it even before that. To go to England, where the nearest tower is not 500 miles away, where you can ring open whenever you like, where there are people who know Yorkshire and Bristol and London in their sleep—in short, where all the dreams of a frustrated American vincer come true. ringer come true.

I came to England, and I began to learn an atmosphere and a ritual. What I knew at home was taking the two elevators (or lifts) to the ringing chamber, a palatial room with armchairs, desk and carpet, with the temperature averaging about 95 degrees in the summer: knew our purple sallies and our well-behaved bells.

In England, there was first the spiral stair-case, generally dark and without sufficient clearance for the head, up which I crept or crawled to the ringing chamber. Here the Ringing Master would welcome me. I found Ringing Master would welcome me. I found that nobody made too much fuss about the fact that I was from Washington; the main fact was that I was a ringer. I was asked what I could ring (and it was taken for granted that I could in fact do so) and always offered a chance to ring, no matter how exalted the ringers.

My friend, Ellen Hinterman, who had never touched a bell rope before coming to England, touched a bell rope before coming to England, was also always given a chance, and rang rounds and call changes all over England, with helping hands always ready and advice by the bucketful. So I would grab a blue and white or red, white and blue sally and launch into the unknown, for I was learning to cope with heavy unwieldy hells and with light bells. the unknown, for I was learning to cope with heavy, unwieldy bells, and with light hells that it was impossible to set, and with bells that, as the local ringers casually remarked, "went oddly." After the heautiful bells at home, some of them seemed to go very oddly indeed, just at first, and I raised a crop of blisters before I learned to adjust myself,

After the ringing, as inevitable a part of the ritual as the spiral staircase came the pub, an ritual as the spiral staircase came the pub, an institution unknown to America, and one which I would heartily recommend to it. Here I learned to play shove-ha'penny and skittles and harvested a crop of shocked expressions every time I ordered a lemon and lime. The fact is that I don't like the taste of beer, but this is obviously against the spirit of the Exercise, so I put away several shandles before I left. At the pub I heard political discussions (from which the main point to be gleaned that nobody in the entire length and breadth of the British Isles is fond of Mr. Wilson) and professional shop ("When you've got them into Handstroke Home"). I also learned a standard reaction when I mengot them into Handstroke Home "I lands learned a standard reaction when I mentioned well-known ringers in another part of the country. "Oh. old So-and-so!" (A knowing laugh.) "Well, he'll give you a time, he will." (The ringers exchange meaningful glances.) "The old villain! Don't believe a word he says." lieve a word he says.

lieve a word he says."

My tour began, of course, in London, where Mr. William Theobald welcomed us and took care of us constantly and efficiently. Here we saw the Whitechapel Foundry, Fllen experienced her first tower, and I my first English tower, our first (and second and third.) pubs, my first English quarter peal and a ring at St Paul's, to my great joy and terror—only rounds, but it was all I wanted. After ringing there we went to a pub (of course) and sat downstairs while Mr. Theobald nominated Rick Dirksen to membership of the Ancient Society of College Youths upstairs. Then Ellen and I had our first try at handbell ringing with the experts. We rapidly discovered that what we considered normal speed would send most English ringers to sleep. I found the proper handbell speed very exciting, if exhausting, and resolved to train my handbell band more rigorously (if I could get one—we consist of two people at the moment) when I got home.

OLD BELL MASTER
Our next ringing stop was at Bournemouth, for of course no visit to England would be for of course no visit to England would be complete without seeing our old bell master. Mr. Fred Price, without whom my ringing and all the ringing in Washington would be in very sad shape indeed. Mr. and Mrs. Price and their two sons treated us royally, and we had a comfortable, well-fed and delightful stay. Mr. Price gave Ellen a lesson that brought back memories of the hours of careful training at Washington, when we were all learners ing at Washington, when we were all learners together, and a quarter peal of Stedman Caters was attempted at Poole. It was lost. but I learned a good deal about Stedman, particularly on the merits of course bells. At Bournemouth we tried our hands (and feet) at cricket and football, both invigorating exercises.

After a stay in Cheltenham, where I spent three years of my childhood, and some enjoyable ringing at St. Mary's, Charlton Kings, we went on to Great Bowden, a little town in Leicestershire, where a correspondent of mine. Mr. Edward Martin, had invited me to stay for a week of ringing and relaxation. He had not anticipated a railway "go slow" or a general exodus of ringers on holiday to not general exodus of ringers on holiday, so not all went as planned, but Ellen and I took the opportunity to "go slow" ourselves, wander the countryside, rest and study Q sets and other esoteric phenomena.

We also worked away on handbells and played skittles and dominoes. I learned some of the sorrows as well as the joys of peal ringing: I made my first English peal but lost two more in as many days. Here I joined my first English Guild—the Leicester Diocesan Guild. I met Mr. and Mrs. Peter Staniforth at a dedicatory ring at Stoney Stanton, where, after some moderately disastrous Cambridge, I got through Stedman Caters and Kent Treble. Bob Royal on handbells (at the proper speed!) for the first time, and had practically to be carried to bed afterwards, a complete mental wreck. Mr. Staniforth kindly offered to set up a handbell peal for later in the month.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE
Ellen and I next decided to take to our feet, and learned a good bit about walking on the way to Oxford. We gave up near the end and got a bus, as it was pouring with rain. Indeed it rained almost continuously while we were at Oxford, our only spell of really bad weather, but we didn't let it damp our enthusiasm for viewing colleges or for ringing (at St. Martin's and All Saints' and at Old Marston). Then, just to be fair, we went on to Cambridge (via London-English trains are very odd!), where the weather was glorious, Dr. C. M. P. Johnson, when finally located. took care of us, and we experienced our first tower grab (a rather mixed blessing. I would say), and my first plain course of Yorkshire, the reward of weeks of fervent study. We also went punting and got very warm and happy.

The next stop was back in Leicester for a handbell peal with Mr. Staniforth. The peal, after several false starts, was getting along nicely until the second hour, when I began to be hypnotised by the tenors and to have the definite sensation that I was in the middle of a nightmare and couldn't wake up. I held on till the end. and was very glad indeed for this (to me) rare opportunity, but it was a far more gruelling experience than any tower bell peal I have rung

Leeds came next, under the direction of Father Giles Galley. Here I was lucky enough to get two peals—Stedman Triples (a first for me) and Plain Bob Major—without any major disaster. I also got through my first Bob Maximus, which I found quite a shock and requiring fierce concentration; rang my first Little Bob; and saw my first (and last) York-shire tail-ends, which I thought it wisest to leave to others to manage.

IN SCOTLAND

A quick excursion back to Leicestershire for a peal, which turned into a quarter peal of Double Norwich, marked nearly the end of our ringing travels. From here Ellen and I set out for Scotland (spoken of with a certain amount of scorn by many ringers) with the intention of walking and thinking, not ringing. And walk we did, till our feet ached and our hacks ached and we lived on bread and cheese backs ached, and we lived on bread and cheese and breathed deeply.

And then we came to the very end of all things—London, and Mr. Theobald again, and one last try for a peal. Two other Washington ringers, Martha Windrom and Judy Andrews. were in the attempt as well, so that it seemed were in the attempt as well, so that it seemed that we were nearing home again. The peal was lost, but I am glad we tried for it, at any rate. At last came the last ring of all, at St Botolph's—Stedman, Double Norwich and Yorkshire, in which I got a chance to see if I had learned anything, and found that I actually had. actually had

When I came to England I had rung at one tower, rung one peal, and I knew Plain Bob. Grandsire. Stedman, Kent and Oxford. When I went back home I had rung at 30 towers, rung five peals and knew (or had at least rung) Double Norwich. Cambridge, Yorkshire and Little Bob. And I had learned from those who knew best how to approach a new method, or an unfamiliar tower without terror. method or an unfamiliar tower without terror. None the less I was glad to come home to my own dear Cathedral, my own bells, my own high tower-always hoping to return again.

BRISTOL RINGING FESTIVAL

This year's Bristol Ringing Festival on Octo-This year's Bristol Ringing Festival on October 26th, with 29 towers open, provides something for everyone. For 12-bell ringers there are the fine bells of St. Mary Redcliffe. Eightbell enthusiasts have a choice between the Cathedral, the heavy eight at Long Ashton and various lighter eights such as those at St. Ambrose's and Knowle. For those who care to pit their skill against heavy sixes there will be Westbury and Westerleigh.

All are invited to the social gathering at no admission charge. This is one of the high-lights of this year's ringing calendar, LOVELY countryside, Norman towers and a larger attendance than for many years—if not the largest ever—marked this year's Guild week in Hampshire. We stayed at the superb 18th century Old Alresford Place, once the rectory, now the Winchester Diocesan Retreat House and run by a detachment of Sisters of Bethany. They regarded us in general with indulgent amusement, left the door open trustingly for our laterpicht returns and fed us ingly for our late-night returns, and fed us very well.

Officially, the week began on the Sunday, but the organiser had invited a select band to join him for a peal attempt the day before at Winchester Cathedral. To our delight, this was successful—again, the first time for some years that the "first day peal" has come round—and we were able to meet the others at Newbury the next day with some pride. After Newbury, we went to Highclere before ringing for service at Old Alresford

MASTERLY SILENT CAMBRIDGE

Monday saw us setting off southwards, starting with Cheriton and going on to Curdridge and Fareham, where we were able to open the double doors of the tower and ring almost in the open air. The "Good Food Guide" came in useful to find a suitable lunch establishment for many of us before we split into two camps for our afternoon ringing. A very high-powered gathering went to Soberton for a peal attempt: the Master, the president (himself an ex-Master) and seven ex-Masters were to attempt silent Cambridge Major. The president, as umpire, folded eight little bits of paper and put them in his cap and lots were drawn for the bells. The system was "bent" a little to avoid the only lady being left with the tenor, but in the event she drew the treble. The president said "Go", and 2 hours and 40 minutes later "Stand", and the peal was rung—despite the monkey faces of some non-pealers pressed against the glass. These legitimately visited Shedfield, the now solitary church at Warnford, and West Meon, where the two parties reunited.

Our longest day was Tuesday, and the large mileage was further bedevilled by heavy traffic. Bournemouth was the objective, and we began by travelling to Fordingbridge through part of the New Forest. From there we went to Ringwood, and here the peal band split off to attempt Stedman Cinques at Christchurch Priory, after a hearty lunch in Ringwood. One to attempt Stedman Cinques at Christchurch Priory, after a hearty lunch in Ringwood. One carload of non-pealers followed their example. This was the day, too, that one of the cars seemed fated—after curing fan-belt trouble before starting, it had a puncture at Fording-bridge and a broken windscreen at Sopley. However, all was mended later and its owner only missed one tower. As St. John's, Bourne-mouth, bells were unfortunately not available, there was time to spare until we met at St. Peter's. A mad rush through the Forest followed, but we were still regrettably half-anhour late at Lyndhurst. Finally we called at Twyford, where Gilbert Thurlow left us to rededicate Overton bells later in the evening. The peal at Christchurch was successful and the two parties rejoined in the local before

DURHAM NEXT YEAR

The business meeting, held on the return of the Overton party, was concerned mainly with peal cards: for the future, it was left to the wishes of each band, with the stipulation that if they decided to have cards they should donate one to the Guild. Future weeks were also discussed: next year's is to be in County Durham (August 23rd-30th, 1969); it is hoped 1970's will be in the Peak area; the next Campanian the Peak area; the next Peak area; the next Campanian the Peak area; the next Peak 1970's will be in the Peak area; the next Cambridge week is to be in 1972, and seven-yearly thereafter, and thus the centenary year week in 1979 will also be in Cambridge. We began Wednesday with Corporate Communion in the house chapel, our three clergy and the president all taking part in the service. The morning's ringing was an easy programme: Ropley, East Meon and Hambledon, Most people had lunch in Portsmouth and a band went off to attempt Rutland at Portsea. They rejoined the rest at Portsmouth Cathedral quickly; unfortunately they were not sucvery data. The non-pealers, making a bob in the programme coursing order, visited St. Mary's, Liss. Hawkley and Petersfield, where they were rejoined once more by the peal band. Four rejoined once more by the peal band. Four of the party, suitably refreshed, were able to assist a damsel in distress here by push-starting her car. She disappeared in a large cloud of blue smoke, only to reappear very shortly as she had been pushed in the wrong direction! After a rather hasty supper, most of the party adjourned to an ad hoc practice at the Cathedral dral

Another long day faced us on Thursday, this time to Salisbury, with a start at Andover. Here it wasn't until the majority had been up and down the terrifying timber staircase sus-pended in mid-air that we found the notice of an appeal-for combating the ravages of woodan appeal—for combating the ravages of wood-worm in this very staircase! St. Thomas', Salisbury, completed the morning, and here the peal band departed to attempt Stedman Triples at Romsey Abbey. They lunched in Romsey—as one member remarked, the first time he had ever had a meal in a Trust House for half-a-crown: but it didn't do any good: a bob was missed after two hours. The rest had their lunch in Salisbury before calling at had their lunch in Salisbury before calling at St. Martin's there and continuing to Sherfield English. Here a three-way split took place: some (not enough, as it turned out) went to the next tower, Bishop's Waltham, some took advantage of a "beer and sandwiches on the lawn" offer by one member's uncle, a local vicar, and the rest went to listen to the peal. All were eventually reunited in Winchester College before returning to Alresford for

TRAFFIC DIFFICULTIES

On Friday we turned south once more and were again in some trouble with the traffic. The morning was spent at Bishopstoke and the small ten at North Stoneham. Here the "peasants' revolt" in the afternoon's peal band gathered force, and a peal of Cambridge Royal was rung at St. Mary's, Southampton, instead of the Double Norwich Caters decreed by the of the Double Norwich Caters decreed by the establishment. After a rather scattered lunch, non-pealers met at Eling before attacking the traffic again to reach Bitterne Park. The journey on to Alverstoke proved more difficult, and we were a little late, but delighted to find J. B. well enough to meet us here. By the time the delightful little village church of Tichborne was reached, again rather late, energies were beginning to flag, and a shorter stay than it merited was made there before returning to

Quite a number had departed by Saturday. Quite a number had departed by Saturday, so a rather depleted band set off northwards, calling at Micheldever, Wonston and Kingsclere before lunch and going on thence via Bramley to the nine at Busingstoke. Here the last peal band of the week left to attempt London at the 8-bell tower down the road, but they were not successful, Most of the rest went on to Preston Candover and to Bent-

This was the end of our formal ringing programme, though it was suggested that any who were left should join in service ringing at New Alresford and the Cathedral on the Sunday. a Quarter Peal - by Sally Luttrell 520 Miles for

IT was a beautifully clear late afternoon over British Columbia when four adventurous ringers from Vancouver took to the air in a rented light plane for a ringing visit to Cal-gary, Alberta. The flying ringers included Miss Margaret Wheat, pilot Jeff White, John Hallett and myself.

The trip took nearly five hours to cover the 520 air miles (a car trip takes 14 hours) over some of B.C.'s spectacular scenery—Okanagan Valley, a stop at Castlegar for fuel, Kootenay Lake and the Rocky Mountains—some towering well above our 9,000 feet altitude; through Crow's Nest Pass and on over foothill country. We were met in Calgary by Miss Judy Midgeley, who graciously opened her home to us and put us up for two nights, arranged sightseeing and generally made the whole week-end a tremendous success.

Saturday evening, after an excellent barbe-cue dinner, ably cooked by Mike Simpson, we drove to Christ Church for a quarter peal of Bob Major Later, back at Judy's home, we listened to the Washington Cathedral recording. Sunday morning we rang again for service.

Preparations were made for the return journey and, amid threatening thunder clouds and showers, we took off at 3.30 p.m. Our pilot flew us expertly under and around the thunder clouds and shortly we reached lovely sunny weather over the mountains again. We put down at Castlegar again for fuel in searing valley temperature of 98°.

ALR EXCITEMENT

At last we were on the final leg of our trip, but clouds ahead put a damper on our carefree spirits. As they thickened the atmosphere inside our little Cessna 172 changed to worried concern. Our pilot decided we must follow the main highway pass through 8,000-ft. mountains. We continued, carefully following the twisting highway towards Hope, a town at the head of the Fraser Valley. Alas, the highway disappeared under cloud. Our pilot quickly reversed our course and climbed out of the narrowing valley. We landed at an emergency airstrip adjacent to the highway. The ground felt pretty good at that moment. felt pretty good at that moment.

As it was darkening we found overnight ac-commodation at a nearby motel. Unfortu-nately, due to an electrical power failure, we were provided with candles, which added to the novelties of this trip.

the novelties of this trip.

Next morning presented another problem—the field at which we landed was very short, and after some discussion Jeff decided it was unwise to carry four people out of this airstrip. It turned out he was absolutely right as Margaret and I sadly watched the airplane take off without us—and clear some trees by a very few feet!

As we had 2½ hours to bus time, we thought As we had 2½ hours to bus time, we thought we'd try "thumbing", and to our surprise we were on our way within a few minutes by car to Vancouver. The boys' next attempt through the pass was unsuccessful and they returned to Princeton Airport for fuel. Later in the day the weather improved and they were able to get through to Vancouver—two hours after we had returned!

I believe our flight to Calgary may have started a new trend. The Calgary ringers are already talking of attempting the same thing next year. Don't let our experiences coming home dampen your enthusiasm in the slightest—it was exciting and we'd to it again, tomorrow!

WANTS RECORDINGS FOR CHESTER CATHEDRAL

Sir,—I have given much thought to this matter and have come to the conclusion that an entirely new approach should be considered to the proposed new ring at Chester Cathedral.

The sketches that have been published in your paper seem to me to show a building quite out of place in the precincts of the Cathedral. The question of noise will certainly meet with very considerable opposition.

Now what I suggest will, I have no doubt, fairly "put the cat among the pigeons"—but I hope you will all consider my proposal carefully, and quietly.

l suggest that a really good modern system of recorded bells be installed in the tower itself. The loudness of the sound broadcast could be easily controlled. One could have loud amplification for festivals or civic sions, but the volume could be reduced for the more personal everyday services, which really only need to be heard in the immediate pre-cincts of the Cathedral.

Now let us consider what recordings should

There are seven Branches of the Chester Diocesan Guild and these represent about 88 towers, most of which have fine rings. Surely it would stimulate ringing in the diocese if the ringers in these towers could say: "Our bells will be heard ringing from the tower of our Cathedral next week!

The methods rung would not be of very great importance so long as the striking was good and the bells were rung by members of the Guild, if possible by the local band.

Please think this over very carefully, not forgetting the financial side.

Any money not needed for the new installa-tion could be held in reserve to help in restor-ing bells in those towers which are in need of help.—Yours sincerely.

FRENCH FOUNDRIES

Dear Sir,-I was interested to see Mr. Armitage's letter, requesting information on rings abroad. While on holiday recently I was able to go to the Fonderie Paccard at Annecy in the French Alps. Their casting and tuning methods appeared to be similar to English methods-technical terms in a foreign language are not easy to understand even when one is armed with a dictionary. They concentrated mainly on carillons and swinging bells. They were very proud of "la Sayoyarde" in Sacre Cœur (about 20 tons) and of the carillons they Cœur (about 20 tons) and of the carillons they had made for the States—we were treated to a recording of one of the latter. The guide also said when demonstrating simple hanging that there were places in the "Midi" where bells were rung full circle, as in England, but I was not able to find out any details as to the location or nature of such rings. I would presume that there are at least three bells in these towers, as there are no advantages, to a these towers, as there are no advantages, to a continental ear at any rate, of any lesser num-ber rung full circle.

Unless the foundries are able to provide any information—there is another one somewhere in Normandy—the only way of finding these places would seem to be by trial and error.— Yours sincerely, RICHARD UNDERWOOD

LIMERICK CATHEDRAL'S 800th ANNIVERSARY

Dear Sir,-My wife and I have just returned home from seven very happy days in Ireland. Some pleasant hours were spent in Dublin and Bray with Peter Brown, Charles Reede, Fred Dukes and others from Dublin.

The highlight of our visit was when, in company with Mr. J. Bluff, of Stamford, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers, of London, we, together with some hundred-odd Irish ringers, took part in the two-day celebrations at Limerick tor the 800th anniversary of St. Mary's Cathedral.

On behalf of the English representatives of this great and memorable gathering, I would like through "The Ringing World" to express our sincere thanks to the Dean of St Mary's Cathedral and members of the St. Mary's Cathedral and members of the St. Mary's Cathedral Society of Change Ringers, Limerick. for the very warm welcome and kind hospitality which they extended to us. I would also like to congratulate all those who were responsible for the excellent arrangements, both ringing and socially, thus making our visit such a happy one.—Yours sincerely.

DOVE'S "GUIDE" QUERIES

Dear Sir,—Again I think that thanks and congratulations are due to Ronald Dove for producing the excellent fourth edition of the Guide.

In comparing this with my self-amended copy of the third edition I find very few dis-crepancies, but as I realise that my own amending might very well be "up the creek" would be grateful if someone could verify the following points:-

(1) Eaton Socon is, I believe, in Bedford-shire (as in third edition), but is over the border, in Huntingdonshire, in the fourth

(2) Manuden, Essex. Isn't this a ring of six, of 5, as printed?

(3) Newton, Old, Suffolk. Are these really unringable? I seem to recollect that a band rang on them recently.

(4) Tenby. Pembroke. Is there not a ring of six in the town in addition to the eight which is listed?—Yours sincerely.

RINGERS' PARSIMONY

Dear Sir, - Your correspondent, Mr. Paul Oxtoby, is to be congratulated upon his expertise in manipulating his red herrings. Whether or not the prices I quoted agree with his is quite immaterial since they do not make us any the less parsimonious or more generous.

They were given to me by a local newsagent and I had no reason to doubt their veracity. Comparison of our journal with others is certainly not ludicrous. Such a sentiment must be in the mind, and 30,000 ringers is under. rather than over. Church statistics give the number as in excess of 40,000. Doubtless, if your correspondent replies, this will provide him with yet another red herring, but it will not make us any less parsimonious or more

So far as reader proportions are concerned. since other pursuits have more than one journal apiece, it is very doubtful if Mr. Oxtoby can support his assumptions with facts and figures, but even if he could it would not make us any less parsimonious or more generous and he does not appear to have grasped the fact that the theme of the article was our undeniable parsimony, or lack of generosity parsimony, or lack of generosity.

We know that ringers are from all ranges of income as also are pigeon fanciers, dog fanciers, gardeners and all the others who Mr. Oxtoby mentions, and we also know that some ringers prefer to have their beer, but at the same time they endeavour to get a sight of someone else's copy of "The Ringing World" in order to have the best of both worlds. Summing up, Mr. Oxtoby's letter adds nothing beneficial to the subject matter of the article, which, I repeat, is our undeniable parsimony. It is like a B.B.C. weather bulletin, which uses around 250 words where two would be sufficient. Your readers can no doubt supply these two words for themselves. No prizes are offered for correct guesses.—Yours faithfully

40-SPLICED AT LIVERPOOL

Dear Sir,—Here we go again—40-spliced at Liverpool. Again, of course, we all admire the performance; but when we come down to it, what are we admiring?—a few words on the printed page. (Oh, boy! if it proves to be a hoax.)

We do not expect an orchestra to perform in private; rehearse, yes, but not perform.
(Do not tell me it is because they are paid.) They want to share their music, and the world is better for it.

is better for it.

Come, peal ringers, move into the '60's—soon the '70's—advertise your peals; give the 90 per cent. non-pealers the chance to hear good, especially historic, bell music. We know all peals begin with attempts and will not mind when one folds up.—Yours faithfully.

WHERE HELP IS NEEDED

WHERE HELP IS NEEDED

Dear Sir,—May I, through your columns, appeal to ringers in the Amersham—High Wycombe area of Buckinghamshire. The pleasant six at Little Missenden are in danger of being silent due to a sudden loss of ringers.

The band, which is mainly a very young one, would greatly appreciate some help from rather more experienced ringers. Progress is at a standstill as numbers are rapidly decreasing. We practise on Monday evenings and one or two extra people would be most welcome.

LONG LENGTHS AND RECORD LENGTHS

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to trouble your columns again, but should be glad if you would kindly allow me to follow up my letter of August 23rd relating to long lengths, for it is obvious from your correspondence that there is much that is obscure in the motives of the Records Committee and much that is difficult for the ordinary person to follow,

To me, and probably to a great many more. the longest length rung in any method is in-deed the longest length (provided, of course, that it is true and truly rung), and as such it should be recorded. To most of us the difference between a "longest length" and a "progressive longest length" may seem a use-

Your footnote to my letter evidently intended to make clear the selection of the number 6.720 as the point at which to begin to recognise record performances. I fear that the statement ". so 30 courses (of Surprise Major) is the obvious number from which to start official records' does nothing to answer the point. I were trying to make the point. the point I was trying to make.

Let me beg your indulgence to pose three questions

(1) A band rings a peal of 6.496 of Surprise Major in a method that has up till then had no peal rung but the usual 5.000-odd. All the conditions required by the Council have been complied with. Is this a record peal or is it not? Common sense says that it is.

(2) A band rings a peal of 6.137 of Surfleet Treble Bob Caters, again complying with the conditions laid down by the Council. Is this a record peal or is it not? Again we surely must say that it is.

(3) A band rings 6,000 of Carter's Doubles (no mean feat, by the way, especially rung double-handed). The intention and the proposed six-scores are publicly announced before the peal. Is this a record peal or is it not?

It may be that performances such as the above are unlikely, but that consideration should not affect the argument. If we are to legislate then the legislation must be clear and must cover all foreseeable contingencies.

I would not wish to try to detract from the work of the members of the Records Committee or to doubt their sincerity. Such work is laborious and exacting and we should be grateful for their willingness to tackle the diffitasks that confront them. It may wondered, perhaps, if we are not requiring them to attempt the impossible, and if we, as Council members, are not demanding that they should put into effect legislation that is not defined clearly enough to be operative.— Yours sincerely,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

Warminster, Wilts.

ONLY SILLY TO US

Dear Sir,-Members of our fraternity occasionally get asked silly questions. A lady once asked me: "What are these peal tablets: do you swallow one before you ring?" I suppose she thought it aided concentration. Another, "Who is the Rev. Canterbury Pleasure; is he the Vicar?"

Chatting to a friend one day about Thur-ans' Four-Part, an uncouth fellow nearby marked: "You've talked about his fore part, remarked: what about his aft part?

Oh dear, excuse me, I'll dry up before I get kicked out.—Yours. etc.,

YORICK.

Limerick's 800th Anniversary Celebrations

THE 800th anniversary of the founding of St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick, occurred earlier this year. Last month the Irish earlier this year. Last month the Irish Government issued a commemorative stamp in two denominations—5d. and 10d. During the week-end of September 7th and 8th a ringers' festival was held, which drew bellringers from King's Lynn, Isleworth and Stamford in the U.K., and from Belfast, Carrickfergus, Cork, Doneraile, Drogheda, Dublin, Holywood and

The bells of Mount St. Alphonsus' (10) and the Cathedral (8) were available for the use of the visitors throughout Saturday and Sunday, when various methods from plain hunting up to Cambridge Surprise Major and Grandsire Caters were rung.

The Dean of Limerick (the Very Rev. M. J Talbot) opened the Deanery for a garden party on Saturday afternoon and provided tea. Handbells were rung on the lawn. Later in the evening a supper and social evening was held in the Villiers School at which over 100 ringers and others attended. The entertainment took the form of songs by choirs and soloists.

The president of the Irish Association, who presided at the supper, expressed his delight at being able to be present and thanked the Dean for his kind words of welcome to the visitors.

LEAVING FOR DUBLIN

A sad note of the evening and yet one of pleasure was the presentation of a Lyre coffee table to the very popular Cyril and Ann Galbraith on their departure to Dublin. Cyril, taken by complete surprise, was literally dumb-founded, nevertheless he managed to say that he took up bellringing in 1938 and that Ann was also a ringer in the tower. The attraction resulted in his finding a wife through bellresulted in his finding a wire through beli-ringing. They now have six children, three of whom are ringers. One is an accomplished 15-year-old conductor of quarter peals. Cyril expressed heartfelt thanks to his friends who subscribed to the presentation.

Sunday was devoted to service ringing and some open ringing at both towers during the afternoon until 4.40 p.m. when the ringers' service was held in the Cathedral. It was conducted by the Dean and Canon J. S. Frazer. Dean's Vicar. The lessons were read by Mr. Harry Ellis, Ringing Master, St. Mary's Cathedral and he M. Breithers. dral, and by Mr. Harold Rogers, of Isleworth Some of the musical ringers present swelled the choir and were presented with the Bell Anthem by Purcell to sing at sight. Mr. F. EUROPEAN BELLS

Dear Sir,-Rivoli Veronese, the village which is the subject of the inquiry made by G. D. Armitage, is in the Province of Veneto between the towns of Trient and Verona.

Taking the road from Trient, and after 383 miles (19 miles from Verona) he will find the village. It stands on a prominence and is clearly distinguished on the left.

The village's only claim to fame, apart from being one with English-type bells, is that it was twice stormed by the French, in 1796 and 1797.-Yours faithfully, B. S. GAMBRILL. Liss, Hampshire.

Miss Beryl E. Cawser recalls passing through Rivoli in a coach and noting that the bells were in the "up" position.

Mr. John David. of Peterborough, defines the position of Rivoli as about 12 miles northwest of Verona and about four miles from the Lake of Garda. (Murray's "Handbook for Travellers in Northern Italy.")

CANON THURLOW'S MESSAGE

A message from the president of the Central Council (Canon A G. G. Thurlow) was presented to the congregation. This stated:

sented to the congregation. This stated:
"We thank God for the ministry of the Cathedral during 800 years. This long period has seen many changes, times of trouble and of joy," in Ireland as elsewhere. The presence of the Lord Jesus Christ amongst us is unchanging. He continues to set before us the ideal of a world united under God our Father." He continues to rely on men and women, boys and girls, to live by this ideal. He looks to us to proclaim it, by the spirit of peace we show amongst each other, by our personal humility, and by our desire to serve one another as feilow members of the worldwide and agelong Christian family.

"Our celebration inspires people to look back with thanksgiving, over a long period of achievement, to thank God for those who in ages past brought the Faith to Ireland, and for those who have brought it from Ireland to England and other lands. The ancient Irish handbells, in their glorious shrines, vividity remind us of the value placed on the call to worship in early times.

"This is also a time for looking around with thanksgiving and for looking ahead with hope. The Church, and the bells which proclaim its The Church, and the bells which proclaim its message, have spread over lands undreamed of when Limerick Cathedral was begun. As you ring in celebration this year, you can feel kinship with fellow ringers in America, Canada, Australia and New Zealand and in Africa as well as in Britain. We who live outside Ireland look to you to continue to maintain your great ringing traditions and to see to it that each year others are initiated into the art. Be sure you never allow the living art to be replaced by any form of electronic or other sub-stitute. Christ looks for people's living ser-vice. Let Him not look in vain, in Limerick or anywhere else."

The Dean of Cork (the Very Rev. T. Johnson, M.A.) preached the sermon. The Dean is also a bellringer and gave some good advice to the ringers on serving God and attendance at worship after calling the parishioners to prayer.

After the second lesson a course of Grandsire Triples on handhells was rung by Mrs. J. Jeffery 1-2, J. Lindsay 3-4, J. T. Dunwoody 5-6, and Mrs. J. Lindsay 7-8.

Prior to the Benediction the Dean of Limerick read the charge to all ringers:

"Go ye forth into the land: wheresoever ye shall ring let the music of your bells proclaim the Gospel to all people. Sound your rounds and changes unto the Glory of your rounds and changes unto the Glory of the Lord and not unto men. Know ye that at all times ye exercise your art only in the service of God."

The festival concluded with tea in Villiers School at which the Dean of Limerick wel-comed the visitors, thanked the ladies for arranging the tea, and supper on the previous on behalf of the visitors Mr. F. E. Dukes proposed and Mr. J. T. Dunwoody seconded a hearty vote of thanks to the Dean of Limerick. Mr. Harry Ellis and his ringers, the authorities of both towers for the use of bells and omnibus thanks to all who had anything to do with making the festival weekend such a glad and happy occasion.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

THE half-yearly meeting of the North Wales Association was held at Beaumaris, Anglesey, on September 7th. Despite the long distance some members had to travel, the meeting was well attended with representatives from eight towers being present. The visitors included Mr. Ronald Dove, Canon E. S. Roberts (Carbis Bay), Professor Marshall, of Bangor University, and ringers from Nottingham and Cheshire. Also present were the Association president (Rev. E. L. Cooke) and Mrs. Cooke.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon J. E. Ramage, and the lesson read by Canon E. S. Roberts, In a short but interesting address the Vicar welcomed the members and gave some historical facts about the bells and the church. The church was erected in the Beaumaris Castle and town were founded by Edward I in 1295. A feature of the service was the fine singing, led by eight members of the local ladies' choir.

Following the service 60 members and friends were entertained to an excellent tea in the Church Hall, prepared by the local ladies.

At the business meeting the president called on the members to stand in silence as a tribute to two founder members—the late Mr. J. Albert Hughes, of Bangor, and Mr. Owen Evans, of Abergele.

Evans, of Abergele.
Following the success of one-day schools held at Llangollen and Portmadoc, it was decided to arrange a similar course at Bangor. Mr. G. H. Randles proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and to the ladies for the tea, and to the organist and choir.
Some very good touches of Grandsire. Stedman, Plain Bob, etc., were rung at St. David's, Bangor, and the local tower, under the direction of the Ringing Master, Mr. F. R. Evans.

The peal rung at Eastnor, Herefordshire, on September 13th, is believed to be the first ever on the bells by a local band. It enabled the tenor man to ring his first peal at first attempt and the tower captain (Mr. R. J. Bullock) to ring his first away from the tenor: another ringer rang her first "inside". The ringing was of a high standard throughout, and these three ringers in particular are to be congratulated on their performances.

AN APOLOGY

An unfortunate and much regretted mistake occurred in the issue of September 20th concerning the passing of the late Mr. James Taylor, of Healey, Lancs. Four lines from the article written by "A Pilgrim" were inadvertently transposed in place of the last four lines of the obituary notice. The report should conclude: "His dedication to his home tower was a fine example to all ringers. A quarter peal was rung half-muffled at Healey in his memory on September 3rd, the day of his funeral."

The Editor, who was away on holiday that week, and the printers express to relatives and friends of the deceased gentleman their deep regrets for the pain and sorrow inadvertently caused.

OBITUARY

EVELYN HALL

Early this month the soul of Evelyn Hall passed to eternal rest. For over 40 years she was a faithful and devoted member of the band at All Saints' Church, Leamington. Almost without fail she was in her place twice every Sunday promptly. Ever cheerful and helpful, we shall miss her presence very much.

On September 16th the ringers met and with the bells half-muffled rang 720 of Bob Minor (her favourite method) on the front six and touches of Grandsire Triples. This enabled all the band to pay their last tribute to her memory

She was also for many years a member of Coventry Diocesan Guild of Ringers.

On Saturday we were joined at breakfast by Roger and Mary, who had got up at 5 a.m. to drive over from Harrow, and we set off in four cars for Burghill (a pleasant light eight), where we were particularly impressed by the beautifully-kept churchyard. Here we were joined by Keith, who had had a breakfast appointment in Liverpool. The next tower was at Lugwardine (another nice eight), where we were made very welcome and invited back to ring for service on Sunday morning. lection of towers.

After lunch we made our way to Leominster, where we rang on the fine ten in the 1,300-year-old priory church. Here we managed a fair course of Cambridge Royal. We then hurried on to Eardisland, afraid of being late for the first time during the day, and enjoyed a welcome rest in the churchyard and some handbells before ringing on the beautiful eight. We rang a near-perfect course of Superlative and an excellent touch of Double Norwich, and wished we could have stayed longer. At and an excellent touch of Double Norwich, and wished we could have stayed longer. At Staunton-on-Arrow we enjoyed the very light six (tenor 6 cwt.) and at Presteigne (a pleasant-sounding eight) we were fascinated by the inscription on the tombstone of Mary Morgan who—no, I won't spoil it; go and read it your-alf-corned days.

scription on the tomostone of Many who—no, I won't spoil it; go and read it your-self some day.

And so back to Hereford, where we climbed wearily up the thousands of steps to ring on the 33 cwt, ring of ten. We found these bells rather tricky but an experience not to be missed, although Cambridge Royal wouldn't go. We met the two non-ringing wives who had been shopping and sightseeing, and Mike who had been fishing, but as he hadn't caught enough to feed us all the party split into two for dinner, some going Chinese, others steak, meeting again afterwards for drinks and walks before returning to the hotel.

On Sunday we ended a most successful weekend by ringing for service at Lugwardine, after which we split up and went our separate ways, everyone saying: "Let's do it again next year". Once again we would like to thank all the incumbents and those who made us feel so welcome everywhere. C. F. H. D. and M. E. S.

ST. DAVID'S GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the St. David's Diocesan Guild was held at St. Florence on September 7th, with members from Burry Port, Cardigan, Carmarthen, Llanbadarn Fawr, Llandeilo, Llanelli, Pembroke. St. Florence and Tenty attending.

Llandeilo, Llanelli, Pembroke. St. Florence and Tenby attending.

The service was conducted by the Master of the Guild, Rev. R. W. Thomas, who is the Rector of St. Florence. This was followed by an excellent tea served by local ladies, who were warmly thanked by Mr. W. Gwyn Thomas, of Tenby.

At the business meeting a welcome was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Morris, of Lyme Regis, who were on holiday in the district. Mr. Morris is a brother of the late Mr. Ernest Morris, whose name is so well known to all bellringers.

It was proposed that the Guild becomes a "Friend of St. David's Cathedral". Three new probationary members and eight life ringing members were elected. After the meeting ringing was resumed until 9 p.m. B. M. R.

"FESTIVAL OF BELLS" AT WARMINSTER

Evensong at the Church of St. Denys, Warminster, on September 8th, took the form of a "Festival of Bells." The Vicar, the Rev. A. T. Johnson, told the large congregation that 1. Johnson, told the large congregation that this had been arranged in order to assist the recognition of the work of the bellringers of the Minster tower. The lessons were read by members of the ringing band, and after the third Collect a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells.

The bellringers' hymn, "Unchanging God, Who livest," was accompanied on handbells by Mr. N. G. Knee, Miss M. Wynne, Mrs. D. Hutchins and Mr. E. Norris, and the address was given by Mr. Norman Pearson, of Haslemere, who is himself a ringer and who formerly belonged to the Minster company. In his address Mr. Pearson introduced the congregation to some features of bellringing and showed them the handbells used by ringers. Enlarging upon a passage from I Corinthians. 12. "There are varieties of gifts but the same spirit" (which formed part of the second lesson), the speaker embhasised the peculiar offering the ringers made to the worship of the Church, and stressed the remarkable bonds of fellowship brought about by the devotion of ringers to their art. of ringers to their art

MARSTON BIGOTT FIND A LUXURY RINGING CHAMBER

Ringers and friends from Marston Bigott.

Ringers and friends from Matston Bigott, Somerset, visited Portsmouth for their outing on September 7th. The light six at SS. Mary and St. Nicholas. Wilton, Wilts, were the first bells and reasonable striking was achieved.

After lunch at Portsmouth, St. Mary's. Portsea, was visited. It was rewarding for climbing the 73 steps, as in a most luxurious ringing chamber comfort was the key-word and the bells an easy-going eight. The ladies were rejoined on the beach and after tea and a visit to gift shops, we embarked on the homeward journey, which was via Southampton. A wisit to gift shops we emharked on the nomeward journey, which was via Southampton. A stop was made at the pretty Church of St. Peter, Britford, with its beautiful floral decorations. Liquid refreshments followed at the nearest hostelry, and among joyful chords and discords we wended our way homewards, artistic street but happy. riving tired but happy

EAST GRINSTEAD'S "STOOLBALL" MEETING

MEETING

A stoolball match between Sussex and Kent was the main attraction at the East Grinstead and District Guild's meeting on September 17th at Hever. Each side was allowed to bat for three-quarters of an hour. Sussex scored 80 for seven and Kent were all out for 46. Members noticed that a College Youth had run out the chairman, himself a Cumberland. For those without picnic teas, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, parents of the local captain, provided tea without charge, but suggested a collection be taken for the Guild's rope fund. Mrs. J. Osbon acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Large. A new member was elected and Mr. C. A. Bassett asked for names for the outing to Winchester Cathedral. The November 9th meeting will be at Redhill. The votes of thanks were followed by Evensong, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. Collins, and further ringing.

AUGMENTATION NEAR TAUNTON

The parish of St. Bartholomew, Lynn-Somerset, which at present has five bells—a hadly cracked tenor of 17 cwt and four others which are out of tune—has embarked on a restoration and augmentation scheme.

The tender of Messrs, Mears and Stainbark

The tender of Messrs. Mears and Stainbark has been accepted to recast the tenor, tune the four and provide a sixth bell. This will cost over £1.000, and over the past two years £700 has been collected for this purpose. It is hoped that the work can be completed before the Patronal Festival on August 24th, 1969.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the North Dorset Branch was held at Compton Abbas on September 14th. The service was conducted by the chairman, the Rev R. G. Chaffey Moore, who, as Rector of Compton Abbas, welcomed the Branch to St. Mary's Church in this its centenary year. The lesson was read by the Master of the Guild, the Rev. R. N. Longridge, and the collection was given to the church Centenary Appeal Fund. Ladies of the parish provided an excellent tea in the Village Hall to which 30 ringers did full justice. At the business meeting the chairman wel-

LATE NEWS FLOOD DELAY

The floods at Guildford, during which the machine room of our printers was flooded, resulted in some of the copies of last week's issue arriving late at the Post Office and possibly a day's delay to subscribers.

This unavoidable delay is regretted.
