Building a Church with a Ring of Ten Bells

By CANON A. S. ROBERTS

WHEN in 1927 a sum of £7,000 was sent to Bishop Frere with an anonymous note of four words "For Carbis Bay Church" the diocesan plan was to erect a modern building of that period, but the local congregation, which had been worshipping in a wooden mission church since 1913, would not accept the plan and demanded a "Cornish church." Plans were prepared by Mr. R. F. Wheatly, of Messrs. Cowell, Drewett and Wheatly, of Truro, but as the money available was not sufficient it was decided to leave four bays of the nave and the tower unfinished. Again it was suggested that the tower should be dispensed with, but once more the local people stood firm because (to quote from the minutes) "it must look like a church." Building then went ahead and the unfinished church was dedicated on May 9th, 1929, and the bell which had hung on an outside wall of the mission church was placed in the tower; it weighs $\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. and its only adornment is a broad arrow.

In 1940 the Rev. A. S. Roberts was licensed to the Conventional District which had been formed out of the parish of Lelant but which still possessed no house and no endowment. During the war years remarkable help was given with a parsonage house bequeathed and some £10,000 raised for endowment—both necessary before the district could become a separate parish. Plans, too, were laid for a ring of eight bells with a tenor of 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. which the tower then would accommodate on one level. The scheme was eagerly taken up and the ring, installed by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., was dedicated on October 12th, 1946, at a service attended by some 250 ringers from all parts. This was one of the first rings to be opened after the war, and the cost—£1,200! In 1948 the parish was formed and the Priest-in-charge was instituted as the first Vicar.

After all this a breathing space was necessary, but in 1957 an offer of a gift of £500 to start a tower completion fund was accepted as a fresh challenge. But the days were different; the cost of Cornish granite, of which the church is built, seemed prohibitive; the spirit of adventure, however, still prevailed. An old mine building was secured as a gift, demolished and brought to the church site—some one thousand tons of granite for £350! The architect, Mr. K. E. Rundle, of Messrs. Cowell, Drewett and Wheatly, who had worked as a young man on some of the original plans for the church, was at school with the Vicar so a happy co-operation ensued. In order to save the considerable expense of louvre openings with mullions and arched heads in cut granite the risk was taken of building the walls solid with the bareness broken on the west and south sides by the clock faces and on the east with a white granite cross, and to construct a lantern on the tower roof concealed by the battlements. This lantern is capped with a large perspex glass dome whereby the bell chamber is flooded with light. At the same time the gift of two trebles by the Barron Bell Trust to mark the completion of the tower was one not only to the parish but to the Diocese of Truro and to Cornwall, for it provided the only ring of ten outside the Cathedral. The finished tower and additional bells were dedicated on All Saints' Eve, 1959.

Carbis Bay is a residential part of the borough of St. Ives and much building has been done and still is going ahead, but the finished tower is an example of how the sound of the bells can be subdued in the vicinity of the church and yet heard well at a distance. The bells are rung regularly for service and practice and are always available to visitors. To date forty-nine peals have been rung; viz.: on ten, 11, on eight, 31, on the front six, 6, on the back six, 1. There are only two lighter tens in the country, at Grundisburgh and Loughborough Bell Foundry.

After the completion of the tower the Church Council was inspired to go forward to finish the nave by adding the necessary four bays. In all it has meant raising over £20,000 and many have been generous and the list of donors is a long one. Faith has been rewarded for the great day of rejoicing came on June 5th last when this remarkable modern English Gothic building in Cornish granite was consecrated by the Bishop of Truro (the Rt. Rev. J. M. Key, D.D.) and this may well be the last church ever to be built on such lines.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

The Ilchester Branch of the B. and W. Association held two very successful events during February. On the first Saturday they held the monthly practice meeting at Martock. A large number of ringers crowded the ringing chamber to capacity, and the usual standard methods, with rounds and call-changes, were rung on the pleasant, musical 25 cwt. eight. The Branch Ringing Master, Mr. Gordon Rendell, was in charge, and the Branch is grateful to the Rev. J. M. Cartwright and Mr. Albert Dyer for their courtesy in granting permission to use the bells.

Again on Tuesday, 11th, the Branch held its annual social evening, this year at the Devonshire Arms, Long Sutton. An excellent buffet supper for approximately 45 ringers and friends was provided. This was followed by an interesting evening which included draws and competitions for many prizes, rounded off by an exciting and somewhat hilarious skittle match for the "Gordon Rendell Trophy", with prizes for the winning team, highest individual scores and booby prizes for the team with the lowest score. Teams competing were Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Chiselborough, Odcombe, Yeovil, Somerton and Montacute, and after Chiselborough had held the lead for some time Montacute just managed to score higher and thus return the trophy to its donor's tower. It was very gratifying to see a large number of young people taking part, in particular the contingents from Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Chiselborough and West Coker.

At the end of the evening the prizes were presented by the Rev. A. T. Budgett, of Somerton. In addition to the trophy given by the Ringing Master, prizes were donated by the chairman, the Rev. C. J. B. Marshall, vice-chairmen T. J. Setter, Gilbert Rendell and Wintry conditions were braved by 70 ringers from 21 towers for the striking competition of the Ashford District, held at Great Chart on February 15th. Seven towers competed, the judges being Messrs. A. Luck and Colin Tester, who were stationed in the "Pest House".

The competition was followed by a service conducted by the Rector, the Rev. E. Gordon, with Miss Anne Barber as organist. Tea was served in the Village Hall, where the meeting was held. The collection, amounting to £3 11s. 3d., went to the John Willis memorial bell in D sharp which is now hanging at Newchurch. This bell will be dedicated by the Archbishop of Canterbury on May 4th.

Mr. Colin Tester reported on the ringing and placed the teams in the following order: 1 Charing, 2 Folkstone, 3 Lympne. Other teams participating were Ashford, Cheriton, Mersham and Wye. Framed certificates were presented to the winners by the Rector.

W. E. Turner, assistant Ringing Master Mr. Paul Field and hon. secretary Mrs. M. M. Leggett.

Before the supper a quarter peal of Grand-sire Doubles, 1,260 changes, was rung on the Long Sutton bells by officials past and present of the Ilchester Branch, namely W. E. Turner 1, Gilbert W. Rendell 2, T. J. Setter 3, P. Field (cond.) 4, R. J. Fox 5 and the Rev. C. J. B. Marshall 6.

THE SEVEN DAY LIBEL ACTION OVER BIG BEN

STAINBANK v. BECKETT

By "CHESHIRE DELIGHT"

THIS case was a libel action brought by the owner of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry against Sir Edmund Beckett, Q.C., and arose out of letters written by the defendant to "The Times" towards the end of 1878 during a correspondence in that paper about the casting of Big Ben.

The trial, which lasted seven days, started on June 27th, 1881. Lawyers do not like to rush these matters, and even after two-and-a-half years it is probable that in each solicitor's office engaged it would be found at 5 p.m. the previous evening that at least one document had not been copied often enough. There would of course be a load of documents by this time, and copies would be required of all of them for each of the counsel engaged, the judge and the other side. In those days, of course, the typewriter had not arrived, and everything was copied by hand.

The first Big Ben had been cast by Warners and later condemned, and a contract entered into with the firm of Mears. The defendant designed the new bell and it was to be made to the approval of the defendant and the Rev. W. Taylor. The bell was cast on April 18th, 1858. It had an indent on its surface which by order of the Government officials was filled up. Soon after it developed a crack upon the side of the soundbow opposite to that struck by the hammer, at the point where the two currents of vibration attained their greatest force. The hammer used, with which the firm had nothing to do, was one of 7 cwt., and it was the opinion of some experts that the too great weight of the hammer was the cause of the crack. However, the 7 cwt. hammer was removed and one of 4 cwt. substituted, and the latter had then been in use for more than 20 years. On the discovery of the crack the defendant was attacked in the newspapers, and defended himself through the same medium. The strictures then passed by the defendant upon the founders of the bell led to the bringing of an action of libel (another action, not this) against him by the Messrs. Mears. The defendant justified, but afterwards withdrew his plea of justification, and the case was withdrawn from the jury upon the terms of the defendant retracting all charges made by him against Mr. Mears and paying all costs incurred.

After the first action an inquiry was instituted into the state of the bell, and not only was the hammer reduced in weight but the bell was swung round so that the crack should not be opposite the hammer.

THE LETTERS

In 1878 a new controversy arose started by a Rev. Mr. Haweis, during which the alleged libels were contained in two letters to "The Times" by the defendant. In "The Times" of October 31st, 1878, the defendant wrote:—

"Though I do not profess to write about dominants and minor thirds, or to guess how a Belgian bellfounder would probably begin to retune this peal, I have no hesitation in saying that no modern Belgian bells which have come over here and been heard in public are superior or equal to the best English ones, though they are superior to such as used to be made by the English firm which had a practical monopoly of the business until about 20 years ago. . . . Of course, I agree with Mr. Haweis about the present condition of Big Ben of Westminster, which is a disgrace to the nation, as it was to its foundry, and as their York bell was still more, and as the clock bells of St. Paul's were to their predecessors, and Tom of Oxford to its maker, which is the worst of all the great ones.

Again, in a letter to "The Times" of November 20th, 1878, the defendant wrote:—

"Bells without number, which, moreover were never cast for it with a properly adapted crown, have been ringing for years and centuries with bolts through their crowns to hold in the clappers when the bells have been turned in the stock, before I now introduce the now common practice (except, I believe, at the oldest and worst of the foundries in England) of having the clapper bolt independent of the bell."

This is the letter as it appears in "Bell News".

The plaintiff alleged that the publication of these statements had seriously damaged him in his business. The defendant admitted having published the letters from which the extracts complained of were taken, but denied they were published of the plaintiff in his trade or business, the plaintiff not having been at the time of the founding of the bell a member of the firm who founded it, viz., Messrs. Charles and George Mears. He further contended that the words complained of, in so far as they referred to the firm of C. and G. Mears and to the casting of the said bell, were fair comments upon a matter of public interest and were true in substance and in fact.

And so we come to June 27th, 1881, in the Lord Justices Court at Westminster, with Mr. Baron Huddleston and a special jury ready to try the case. There was an array of counsel: Mr. Charles Russell, Q.C., M.P., Mr. W. G. Harrison, Q.C., and Mr. Hilbery appeared for the plaintiff and Sir J. Holker, Q.C., M.P., and Mr. Jeune appeared for the defendant, who himself appeared in forensic costume.

Mr. John Mears was the first witness called. He had been manager under his brother, but had not had anything to do with the foundry for many years. He described the casting of Big Ben. The proportions of the metals were according to contract, viz., 22 of copper to 7 of tin. It was then run into ingots and submitted to the defendant. The melting was done in three furnaces by a wood fire, and the molten metal was then run into one reservoir. The metal used had been the best obtainable, and the defendant had said that it was a treasured bell than the old one.

Cross-examined by Sir John Holker, the witness said he never heard of any holes being stopped up. If there were any they would have been noticed when the bell was being hung up.

SECOND DAY

On the assembling of the Court it was intimated that the plaintiff would tender evidence of the construction of Big Ben, of the nature of the cracks and cavities which had been found on examination of its surface, and of the causes of these defects. Sir J. Holker objected to the relevance of this evidence in consideration of the issues appearing upon the pleadings. A protracted discussion ensued, but at length Sir John Holker said that he would not press his objection.

Mr. Edward Thomas Loseby, clock and watch maker, of Leicester, was then called. He had seen Big Ben before the cracks were discovered and closely examined it afterwards. He took casts of the holes and cavities upon the surface, which he then produced. The cracks were discovered by covering the bell with acid: when the bell was struck a stream of air bubbles showed themselves along the line of the cracks. There were three cracks of 6 in., 7½ in. and 18 in. in length respectively. They would not have been noticed but by wetting the bell. The hammer formerly struck exactly opposite the 7½ in. crack. Bells are never of uniform thickness all round; there is a variance of 1/20 inch at least, and in comparison of that variance these small holes or cavities were of no importance.

"One would have liked to see these holes; part of the time they are barely noticeable and at other times the bell sounds as though it was a colander."

1969 BOB MAJOR

Inevitably it has been noticed that it is possible to arrange Date Touches of 1969 Plain Bob Major ("R.W.", page 25). It is not, however, necessary to splice in Original and ring two types of Bob. (C.C. Rules again?) A simple backstroke start with the first change 12346587 and then 21345678 and so on is all that is necessary. A Single is called at the third lead end when the tenor makes 2nds. This puts the tenors right way round and produces the coursing order 42356 and the course end 3254678. Sixteen courses and five extra leads are required to complete the touch and may be added according to taste. It is possible to bring up the plain course again during the touch at the Wrong position but a Before must be called otherwise it is false with the first course. It is also possible to start with a Bob or a Single in which case the first change is 13246587 or 12346587.

Here is a simple example with plenty of roll-ups which seem to satisfy some people.

RINGING & CONDUCTING STANDARD METHODS

By ROBERT B. SMITH

INTRODUCTION

IN the series of articles I wrote in 1966 about Plain Bob I dealt with the influence of this method on other "standard methods". Because the article was directed at the beginner the standard methods were not dealt with in detail. Now, however, I propose to deal with the ringing and conducting of the following methods on tower bells and handbells.

- I Kent Treble Bob
- II Oxford Treble Bob
- III Cambridge Surprise
- IV Grandsire
- V Stedman
- VI Double Norwich
- VII Yorkshire Surprise
- VIII Superlative Surprise
- IX Lincolnshire Surprise
- X Pudsey Surprise
- XI Rutland Surprise
- XII London Surprise
- XIII Bristol Surprise

It will be appreciated that the amount of time and space devoted to each of these methods will be different, but the aim in each case is the same, i.e., to explain to the learner how the method is constructed and can best be committed to memory. Some compositions will be included for each method, not necessarily for their musical qualities but generally for their simplicity.

Many conductors carry "stock" compositions for each of the standard methods in their minds, and the ideal situation is to be able to call a peal in any of the above methods on the requisite number of bells. More difficult compositions may be tackled when one becomes competent at ringing and conducting the methods.

This series of articles is aimed at catering for the needs of the learner who has progressed beyond the stages of ringing plain courses of Plain Bob but has not yet become a ringer of "standard methods".

PART I KENT TREBLE BOB

(a) Ringing the Method

Ringling Kent Treble Bob is the next logical step in change-ringing after mastering Plain Bob. The first lead of Kent Treble Bob Minor is shown below.

Considering first the work of the treble, it will be observed that it commences by dodging 1-2 up with the 2nd bell, before proceeding to 3-4 where it dodges up with the 6th, 246153 then passes to 5-6 where it dodges up with the 3rd. After making 6ths the treble dodges 5-6 down with the 624513 4th, 3-4 down with the 5th and finally 1-2 down with the 2nd before leading full.

There are several ways of remembering what the work of the treble involves, the easiest being to dodge in each "even" pair of places on the way out to the back and dodge in the same places on the way in to the front, i.e., 1-2, 3-4 and 5-6 up, 5-6, 3-4 and 1-2 down.

To the experienced ringer this presents no problem; to the learner making his first attempt it is useful to know who to dodge with! If you know who to dodge with you are much more likely to strike the bell in the right position (the number of people who manage to strike in 13-14 in Maximus when they imagine they are in 11-12 is nobody's business); i.e., it is one thing knowing that you are dodging 5-6 up, but that is not very helpful to the rest of the band if the bell is striking in 3-4 up!

Closer inspection of the figures for the first lead of Kent Treble Bob Minor reveals that on the way out to the back the bells are passed in the same order as the plain course of Plain Bob, i.e., 24653, the dodging being with 2, 6 and 3, i.e., dodge with one bell, pass the next, dodge with the next, etc. On the way back to the lead the bells are passed in the order 46532, again the same order as the plain course of Plain Bob, but from the last lead of the course instead of the first lead. This means that the rule for Plain Bob that one passes the bells in the same order on the way to lead as on the way out to the back does not apply. However, one need only remember to omit the bell that was dodged with in 1-2 up from the sequence and then use the Plain Bob rule modified, i.e., Rule for Ringing Treble to Kent Treble Bob:—

Pass the bells in the same order as for Plain Bob, dodging with every other bell. Returning to lead, pass the bells in the same order but omit the bell which is doing the "slow work" (the bell you dodged 1-2 up with). This rule applies on all numbers.

While the above rule applies on all numbers it becomes increasingly useful on higher numbers of bells, particularly for Maximus ringing.

Quite obviously when bobs have been called in a touch or a peal the order in which the "working bells" (2, 3, 4, 5 and 6) are met will alter, but if that order can be picked up on the way out to the back, it can be used on the way to the lead. Learners generally find it easier to work out to the back than returning to the lead, so the above rule can be quite useful. Looking further ahead, a good conductor checks every bell he passes and notes that it is the correct one! I cannot over-emphasise the usefulness of transposing coursing orders (dealt with in the series on Plain Bob), both from the point of view of ringing and conducting. It is almost essential for 12-bell ringing.

RINGING AN "INSIDE" BELL

The work of each "inside" bell will first be considered for Kent Treble Bob Minor and then any rules for Minor can be extended to deal with Major, Royal and Maximus.

The work of each "inside" bell can be divided into two main parts, one part of which can be subdivided into two parts; these are:

1. Slow work.
2. Treble Bob work.
 - (a) Including places.
 - (b) Without places.

1. Slow work. The "slow work" in Kent Treble Bob involves dodging with the treble in 1-2 down, followed by leading and making 2nds to each of the working bells before finally dodging 1-2 up with the treble. It will be observed that the dodging in 1-2 with the treble are the only occasions when a working bell dodges in 1-2 throughout the whole of the course. It should also be noted that the order in which one makes 2nds to the other working bells is the same as the coursing order existing at the time; i.e., for the plain course 53246, commencing by making 2nds to one's "after bell" and concluding by making 2nds to one's "course bell" (described in the series on Plain Bob). The latter fact can be used as a guide to the treble returning to the lead, i.e., immediately after one's course bell. The slow work always occupies one lead of the course irrespective of the number of bells being rung.

2 (a) Treble Bob work—including places. If the working bells were always to dodge in 3-4 and 5-6 during the ringing of a course of Kent Treble Bob, certain changes would be repeated (while the treble is dodging on to and off the lead). To avoid this repetition, the bells which would have dodged in 3-4 while the treble is dodging in 1-2 make "Kent places" which involve the same number of rows as a dodge would have done. When making Kent places the bell which would have dodged 3-4 up makes 3rds, 4ths and then moves to dodge 5-6 up. The bell which would have dodged 3-4 down makes 4ths, 3rds and then moves, either to dodge in 1-2 with the treble or to turn its course bell from the lead. Only two bells are affected in any one lead of the method and they are the bells which are in 3rds and 4ths position at the beginning of the lead involved. It will be noticed that these two bells make places at the beginning of the lead and immediately before the lead end.

Some learners have difficulty in making Kent places for one or both of the following reasons:—

(i) The places are made "wrong", i.e., back-stroke and handstroke which is the opposite way to the leading and other place-making so far encountered if Plain Bob is the only previous method rung.

(ii) The "blue line" has been learnt without looking at the figures for the method and it has not been realised that the two blows in 4ths are always struck over the same bell. Learning methods by the "blue line" only is to be deplored—very few people can see the whole picture of all the ropes falling in the correct order, particularly on 12 bells, so how can one expect to find the right bell to strike over? The "blue line" is a useful guide, nothing more!

The work of the two bells involved in place making in a particular lead is as follows:—

3rds place bell: Make Kent places out. Ring treble bob until arriving in 1-2 then omit both dodges in 1-2. Make Kent places out again and become a 5ths place bell at the lead end.

4ths place bell: Rings the reverse of the work done by the 3rd, i.e., make Kent places in, omit both dodges in 1-2 then ring treble bob until arriving in 3-4, where Kent places are rung instead of dodging. Become a 2nds place bell at the lead end.

There are several ways of remembering when to make places "in" or "out", some of which can be applied on all numbers of bells; others apply only on particular numbers. For Minor ringing the following is a very useful guide.

Pass treble 1-2 or 2-3, make Kent places out. Pass treble 4-5 or 5-6, make Kent places in.

The first part of this rule applies on all numbers of bells, but the second part applies on six bells only. The second part can be put in more general terms to apply on all numbers, when it reads as follows:—

Pass treble by dodging up with it at the back or by passing it in the section before the up dodge at the back; make Kent places in.

This modification is not very satisfactory for use on the higher numbers of bells and alternative rules are required. Two such rules are applied

1. Make Kent places in, in the lead after dodging in 3-4 down with the treble, and in the lead after that.

2. If on arriving in 4ths place the treble is still below 4ths and is not about to dodge with you in 3-4, make places.

MRS. AUDREY A. BUTLER

"Like grass which groweth up. In the morning it flourisheth and groweth up: in the evening it is cut down." (Psalm 90.) These words of the psalmist echoed the feelings of her very many ringing friends when they learnt of the death at the early age of 37 years of Mrs. Audrey Butler (née Ewins), of Thatcham, Berks, wife of Mr. William Butler. It was all the more shattering in that three small children, the eldest only ten years of age, had been bereft of a wonderful mother whose influence for good is clearly stamped upon their characters. Although struck down by a long and painful illness, she had borne it with such fortitude and gaiety right to the end that the news of her passing on January 4th came as a great shock to her friends.

At the age of 14, as Miss Audrey Ewins, she felt she would like to emulate her older sister, Iris, who was a ringer at Farnham Royal, near Slough, and she approached Mr. W. Birmingham, of Slough Parish Church, who had just returned from service in World War II and found himself in charge of a tower the band of which had disintegrated. She was thus in May, 1946, the first post-war ringer in Slough. She quickly mastered the rudiments of change-ringing and "struck" well the methods she learned. She rang her first peal at Feltham, Middx, in February, 1948, Plain Bob Major, conducted by her tutor. Just as she was becoming proficient in the standard eight-bell methods her ringing career suffered a setback as, at the age of 18, she left Slough to train as a children's nurse at Queen Mary's Children's Hospital, Carshalton, and this left her little time for ringing.

At this time she had become engaged to Bill Butler, then ringing captain at Clewer, Windsor, Berks. Shortly after completing her training they were married at Farnham Royal in 1953 and settled in Windsor. Audrey's loyalty was such that, despite her husband's attachment to Clewer, a tower close to her home, she continued to cycle regularly three miles every Sunday and practice night to support Slough belfry until the advent of her first child intervened. Bill became Branch secretary of the E. Berks and S. Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at this period and launched "The Ringers' Magazine". After a short sojourn in Old Windsor, Bill and Audrey moved to Thatcham, as his work took him to that area. He very soon found himself joint Ringing Master of the Newbury Branch; thus he and Audrey quickly created a whole new circle of friends in the Kennet Valley as they attended the Branch practices.

At Audrey's funeral on Jan. 9th the Oxford Diocesan Guild was represented by Mr. A. D. Barker (general treasurer) and Mr. J. Baldwin (steward). The Requiem was preceded by some beautiful fully-muffled (tenor open at back-stroke) Stedman Triples. Among the tributes was a half-muffled quarter peal at Slough, where she learned to ring, on the evening of the funeral.

Mrs. Butler had participated in 27 peals, including an all-ladies' peal of Grandsire Triples at Hughenden on Sept. 1st, 1956, as follows: Doubles.—One method 2, four methods 1. Minor.—One method 2, three methods 1. seven methods 2, nine methods 1.

Triples.—Grandsire 6, Plain Bob 1, Oxford Bob 1.

Major.—Pl. Bob 7, Kent T.B. 1, Ashted 1. Caters.—Grandsire 1, "PALUDIAN".

MR. T. R. FLINT

A regular reader of "The Ringing World" since its inception. Mr. Thomas Roland Flint died on January 15th at his home in Warsop, aged 89. He had been unable to walk since 1954, but his interest in ringing and his church continued until the end.

Born in Warsop on April 27th, 1879, he joined the choir in 1887 and learned to ring on the old four bells there in 1894. His ringing progressed rapidly when he went to Nottingham in 1898 and joined the St. Peter's band. He was a member of the famous Wednesday band and was a regular peal ringer.

He returned to Warsop in 1911 and it was through his efforts that the bells of the parish church were recast and rehung in 1913. He remained as captain and chorister until 1926, having trained a capable band of youngsters. His work took him to Hayes, Kent, where he remained until 1932. During this time he rang in numerous towers in the London area, but the number of peals he rang in is not known.

Thirty-one years ago he settled down in Warsop. After the bells of Warsop had been augmented to six he became verger there in 1948 and once more became a regular ringer and chorister in his old church. He took part in a number of peals and ringing competitions previous to his retirement.

On the Sunday following his death, 1,320 Treble Bob Minor (Norwich Surprise and Oxford T.B.) was rung on Warsop bells as a tribute to his life and work by G. Challans 1, F. Cooke 2, B. Richards 3, D. H. Rooke 4, F. Flint 5, H. T. Rooke (cond.) 6. H. T. R.

MR. A. C. SINFIELD

The death occurred of Mr. Andrew Charles Sinfield on February 4th at the age of 65. Andrew lived all his life at Maulden, Bedfordshire, and was a first-class market gardener and stockbreeder. Although he had certain jobs to do on Sundays, both he and the rest of his family were loyal supporters of the Church. At one time the whole family were in the church choir—his parents and his three sisters—and later on his son joined too, making the third generation.

In 1922 he commenced ringing, and from then until 1934 participated in some of the finest striking on six bells it was possible to hear, each man reading from his card and nearly always ringing the same bell. But after a visit from a party of tourists ringing "scientific" interest was aroused, and Andrew, who at that time was the only one of the band owning a car, decided to go out and about to learn the new Art. On one or two evenings each week and on Saturdays he used to fill his car with other ringers and visit towers where change-ringing flourished, sometimes visiting churches 20 miles away after a hard day's work. It was through his efforts that the nucleus of new life in ringing began in what was otherwise a quiet area.

The first peal was one of Bob Minor: this was rung at Maulden on April 22nd, 1936; he himself rang the treble. To illustrate his keenness, he went to Northill to collect two ringers; owing to a second start the peal did not finish until 10.20 p.m., but a delighted Andrew drove once again to Northill. Fifty miles that evening was nothing to him—he had scored a peal. Many of his peals were rung at Maulden; the bells were augmented to eight, and with the valuable help of Stephen Ivlin and Ron Sharp he went on from strength to strength. His last peal was of Lincolnshire S.M., rung at Maulden on August 29th, 1962.

Shortly after this he had a stroke, and in spite of the most devoted attention by all concerned his condition slowly deteriorated and he was never again well enough to work, ring or sing in the choir; but never once was he heard to complain.

The funeral service was held at Maulden on February 11th, the choir and a large congregation (which included about 30 ringers) being present: the lesson was read by Mr. A. E. Rushton, president of the Beds Association. He was laid to rest to the sound of muffled bells in the churchyard on the hill which overlooks the village and the good lands of this fertile part of mid-Bedfordshire.

Deepest sympathy is extended to his wife and son. The church has lost a fine baritone, the tower a staunch ringer, and all of us a genuine and loyal friend. During the evening, as a final farewell, a half-muffled peal was rung by a band made up as far as possible of ringers closely connected with him.

He rang 293 peals, 18 of them being "firsts" for the Beds Association, of which he was a vice-president. He was also a Central Council representative 1946–1953.

MR. JOE MARKS

A well-known Bletchley, Bucks, ringer, Mr. Joseph Marks died on February 5th, aged 74, following a road accident. He was walking at the time and was involved in a collision with a motor-cyclist and pillion passenger, both of whom were injured.

A native of Bletchley, he had his first lesson in ringing at the age of 10, being a pupil of the late Harry Sear. His first peal at the age of 14, was half-muffled as a token of respect to the late King Edward VII. He had rung over 200 peals, including 24 at St. Mary's, Bletchley. A good ringer round the back end, he frequently rang the seventh to Charles W. Roberts on the tenor at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, and at other London towers.

He was elected to the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1933. In recent years he enjoyed his bi-monthly visits to St. Clement Danes' with Mr. Wilfrid Wilson's band and since the inception of "Wilson's Wanderers" outings in 1959 had regularly attended. Joe was very critical of bad striking and had a dry humour with a wealth of anecdotes. A modest man, he will be missed.

After service in the Army in World War I he worked on the railways until 65. Mr. Marks married twice, his first wife dying in 1944. He is survived by his widow, three sons and a daughter.

The funeral service at St. Mary's Church on February 11th was conducted by the Rev. H. Hedley. Among ringing friends present were Messrs. R. Cadamy (Oxford Diocesan Guild), J. Euston (St. Margaret's, Westminster), A. B. Corden, D. J. Meager (Bletchley), G. Edmans (Great Horwood), E. A. Kershaw (Aspley Guise). Cremation followed at Bedford.

The same evening a half-muffled quarter peal of 1,264 Plain Bob Major was rung at St. Mary's Church and a peal of Grandsire Triples (half-muffled) on the Friday evening.

2. (b) Treble Bob work—excluding places.

Inspection of the figures for the 1st lead of Kent T.B. Minor shows that the 5th and 6th bells do the same work as the treble, with the exception that they never dodge in 1-2. The work of these two bells is then quite straightforward and should not require any further explanation. It should be noted at this stage that the extension of Kent Treble Bob to Major, Royal and Maximus results on each respective occasion in the addition of two leads which are exactly the same as those rung by the 5th and the 6th in Minor (with dodging in the extra two places, of course).

THE EFFECTS OF CALLS

Unlike Plain Bob, where a bob affected only three bells irrespective of the number being rung, in Kent Treble Bob the only two bells which are not affected are those going into and coming out of the slow work. The bob is normally made in 4ths place although the bob can be made in 6ths, 8ths and 10ths for Major, Royal and Maximus respectively. Assuming that the 4ths place bob is used, the bell which makes the bob has just completed places out in one lead and commences the next lead by making places in, i.e., the effect is that this bell makes 3rds, four blows in 4ths, 3rds, and becomes the slow bell in the next lead. All the bells above 4ths place would have been plain hunting across the lead end, but are forced to dodge back when 4ths is made. The net effect of this is that each bell above 4ths place does a total of three dodges in the places it happens to be dodging when the bob is called. Each of these bells then repeats the complete lead that it has just rung, because it finished in the same position at the end of the bobbed lead as it did in the lead immediately before the bobbed lead.

Letters to the Editor

WORTHINGTON SURPRISE MAJOR

Following recent correspondence, I am submitting the following composition which is true to the above method:

5,152
23456	M	W	H
46352	—	—	S
53462	—	—	S
2A omitting final S
52346	—	—	(2S)
43526	—	—	S
53624	—	—	2S
64325	—	—	S
2B omitting final S

Omit (2S) in one part.

This composition is true to methods with a wide range of falseness, and is the nearest I know to a "universal" composition. Specifically the falseness groups to which it is true are as follows:—

Groups b, i, l, n, o, p, r, s: A, B, C, E.

The groups in lower-case letters are the usual Hodgson groups (see Wratten's collection for details); the groups in upper-case are the special out-of-course groups whose existence I pointed out in an article to "The Ringing World". These are reproduced for convenience.

A	B	C	E
23465	26534	42536	52463
23546	25643	35246	36425
26453		36254	43562

It is important to exercise special care with these groups because they have no in-course components. The only way in which their presence in a method can be detected is by comparison of changes of opposite kind, i.e., in-course changes with out-of-course changes.

I have checked through most of the methods in the C.C. Collection of Surprise methods with l, n or o falseness, and out of 37 methods the above composition was true to 34. This is particularly useful because compositions for methods with this falseness are very difficult to obtain, and indeed, as in the case of Worthington, sometimes impossible. Of course, some minor adjustments are necessary where the lead end order is different or for methods with 8ths place lead ends.

In addition, this is quite a good composition for many standard methods, having 12 full combination courses. Recently it has been rung to Yorkshire, Lincolnshire, Gainsborough, Rutland and several new methods otherwise unpealable, and it is also true to Watford, Ealing, Uxbridge, Aldenham, Jersey and many others. The principal limitation is that the composition will not run true to methods with London or Superlative falseness (groups d, e, k) but there are already several good general compositions for these groups (see Wratten's collection).—Yours sincerely,

ROGER BALDWIN.

Watford, Herts.

SURPRISE MAJOR COLLECTION

Dear Sir,—With reference to the complete collection of C.P.S. Surprise Major methods which has recently been published, and which is in fact advertised on the back page, there appears to be some confusion as to the notation being used. In producing the collection the main problem was one of space since the collection was fairly large (over 1,300 methods, in fact) and consisted mainly of wrong place methods and essentially non-compact methods as in "Part 2". It was found that the price could be substantially reduced if the place notation was made as compact as possible. The result of this was that the standard notation was used, but with the dots (.) omitted where a double change and a triple change (i.e., two places being made) were adjacent. Then provided it was remembered that standard conditions, e.g., no single changes allowed, or no double changes at the half lead, etc., then, especially as the places were centred in the correct column, reading was particularly easy.

It appears, however, that in spite of this simplified layout mistakes in reading are still occurring, and as a guide some examples are given below, together with the correct interpretation.

Appearance	Correct	Incorrect
125634	1256.34	12.3456 or 123456 (a single change)
123458	12.3458	1234.58 (four adjacent places not allowed)
Or at the half lead
123678	1236.78	12.3678 (double change not allowed) 12.36.78 (dots would have been shown, as there is no double change)

It may be added that the collection was typed automatically, and that therefore accidentally transposed figures will not arise. The only accidental omission of a dot is in method No. 370, when 3478 should be read as 34.78.

I would therefore like to draw readers' attention to these points, as if the collection is misread then any resulting peal or even touch or course is liable to be irregular and/or unexpectedly false.—Yours sincerely,

W. J. COOPER BAILEY.

JAMES S. WILDE

Dear Sir,—Mr. J. P. Fidler's interesting article, "Bread Cast on the Waters" does not quite take the Norbury band's connection with James S. Wilde to its conclusion.

The pre-1914 Norbury band rang some 18 Treble Bob methods for the first time, and the first of these, No. 34, page 29 of the Central Council's 1907 Collection of Minor Methods, which had been composed by James S. Wilde, and of which they rang the first 720 on July 1st, 1910, they named Dundedin Delight, after the town to which he had emigrated.

They also published a very warm tribute to him in "The Bell News".—Yours faithfully,

"CHESHIRE DELIGHT."

A MUM'S SYMPATHY

Dear Sir,—How I agree with "A Hard Road Traveller" ("R.W.", Jan. 31st). I am one of those "beginners" of almost two years, struggling with diagrams, etc., in attempts to try and ring a method. As I am no bright young ringer but a "mum" coming up to 50 next year, I find my progress seems slow indeed. My children (four of whom ring) have made better headway than I have. It was because of them that I became interested.

Visits to other towers we all enjoy, be it only an opportunity to ring call-changes or rounds, as we are not yet proficient enough to ring a "touch" of anything. My limit is a plain course of Grandsire "inside". Bobs and singles send me into a flutter and I just flounder through till the next "call".

Whilst on an outing last year, I shall never forget a remark of the Ringing Master for the day to two young ringers (unknown to me) who asked if they might try a plain course of Grandsire. He tersely reminded them that it was an outing and not a practice night. We beginners went along for the pleasure and experience of ringing at towers other than our own. I quite often think that some ringers forget they are in the House of God.

Do we not all aspire to become proficient ringers? Would you suggest that I leave ringing alone, because of wasting the tower captain's time? The weekly practice and ringing on Sunday are my only break from the family and household chores. A few years ago I was suffering from a nervous state of mental depression, but ringing has changed all that. Would one of those "experienced" ringers deny people like me the pleasure and satisfaction of serving in God's House? I know I shall never be a peal ringer, but I understand ringing "is done primarily for the furtherance of God's work"—from the Elementary Handbook.—Yours sincerely,

"A TRYER"

(Name and address supplied.)

DELIGHT MINOR METHODS

Dear Sir,—Two of the single change Delight Minor methods listed by Mr. Bishop on page 82 have been rung to peals and named, as follows:—

—34—16—12—1236—14—1 I.e. 16
Cadoxton

—34—16—12—1236—14—5 I.e. 12
Finchampstead

Details of the peals will be found in "The Ringing World" for January 7th, 1966 (page 12), and February 19th, 1965 (page 141), respectively.

I notice, however, that Mr. Bishop has omitted one method for which I apparently have no name:—

—36—16—12—1236—14—5 I.e. 12 154632

I would be grateful for any information on this method (if indeed it has been rung). Could I also trespass further on your space to ask whether anyone who has any information on James Platt (1786-1858), of Saddleworth, would get in touch with me? Platt was responsible for much original work on Minor, including a 720 of Plain Bob using four different singles and a call at every lead, and a "hobless" 720 of Kent T.B. obtained by making "15 sixth places when the treble dodges before instead of fourth place"; he also probably produced the first true 720s of Spliced T.B. Minor. Unfortunately the figures of only one of his 720s seem to be still extant.—Yours sincerely,

CYRIL A. WRATTEN.

COMPOSITIONS OR ARRANGEMENTS

Dear Sir,—Re Andrew G. Craddock's letter ("R.W.", Jan. 31st, page 83). I agree that some definite distinction should be made between compositions and arrangements, but I disagree with the method Mr. Craddock suggests for bringing this about. I feel that to set up a Central Council committee to consider all compositions/arrangements would not only take up a great amount of time for the committee members but would also cause considerable delay to the publication of new compositions/arrangements. It would be far less time-consuming if a rule could be laid down so that composers/arrangers could themselves classify their peals.

I would like to offer the following suggestion for comment:—

Peals in methods having clear proof scale should be classed as arrangements.

Peals in methods having internal false-ness should be classed as compositions.

Thus, for example, peals of Bristol Surprise Major with tenors together and bobs only be classed as arrangements, but peals in the same method with tenors parted and/or singles be classed as compositions.

I disagree very strongly with the suggestion made in the last paragraph "that arrangements should not be published in 'The Ringing World'". I think that all composers/arrangers should be able to publish their peals in the "R.W." if they so desire. There are so many new ideas being brought into peals, even peals of Bob Major, that I consider it imperative that our conductors, both experienced and not so experienced, are kept up to date with the progress being made.—Yours sincerely,

JEFFREY BRANNAN.

"BLUE PETER"

Dear Sir.—Yes, many were interested to see our "well-loved hero" attempting to be a bell-ringer, evidently some of them a bit more mature than children. Miss Moorby seems to have hit the nail on the head by stating that a formal display of bellringing would not be very enjoyable for small children.

In this day and age surely we should all realise that this is the way television producers work when providing entertainment for their viewers.

The film of John Noakes' attempts to handle a bell was a classical example of a typical children's television "entertainment" and should be looked upon as no more.

Whether the Exercise as a whole wants to regard this as good or bad propaganda remains to be seen. But surely this should be an encouragement to those of us who are engaged in the recruitment and teaching of youngsters, to impress upon them the seriousness and purpose of our art.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID T. G. BATES

DOUBLES—BACK TO THE OLD DAYS

Dear Sir.—Now that the record peal of 113 Doubles methods, rung at Hambledon, Bucks. in 1960 has been surpassed, may we once again ring Doubles variations such as April Day, Northrepps Pleasure, etc., just as we did prior to June, 1962?—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL W. COLEMAN

THE SOCIETY OF RAMBLING RINGERS

The Society's annual reunion was held on February 8th at Lincoln. The weather, which seems to be all part of the occasion, did not let us down, as snow fell heavily the previous day. However, this did not deter the members and ringing was heard at Branston and Waddingborough in the morning and St. Botolph's, Lincoln, St. Peter's, the Cathedral and St. Giles' in the afternoon.

Ringers ranged from rounds and call-changes to a half course of Cambridge Maximus and 6-Spliced Major. The ringers would like to thank all the people who arranged for them to ring and those who greeted them at the respective towers.

The dinner was held at the Queen Hotel, where a good meal was enjoyed. Afterwards the annual meeting was held, with Mr. D. Mottershead presiding, who welcomed all members and friends. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. C. Dalton and Miss L. Wilkinson.

Mr. J. E. Cook stated in the Ringing Master's report that on the last tour the ringing had shown a decided improvement and hoped that further progress would be made this year.

The following were elected to the various offices this year: President, Mr. D. A. Frith; Ringing Master, Mr. R. H. Cook; deputy Ringing Masters, Mr. S. B. Bell and Mr. D. Mottershead; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. B. Mills; peal secretary, Mr. M. Vernon; committee member, Mr. F. Jackson.

Under any other business Mr. J. E. Cook proposed that a member should be selected to write an account of the tour, and Mrs. C. Mills was elected for this purpose. Mr. Cook also gave notice that at the next reunion he will propose that the office of deputy Ringing Master be removed and that the Ringing Master be given authority to nominate a member to deputise on each day of the tour.

There being no other business the meeting was brought to a close and the rest of the evening was spent in the usual manner.

DATE TOUCHES NO INTEREST

Dear Sir.—Re Mr. P. W. Gay's date touch of Bob Major ("R.W.", Feb. 14th). I would like to point out that in its present form it contravenes C.C. regulations, as two types of bob are used.

Incidentally, I hope that this is not the beginning of a spate of publications of date touch compositions, such as we had last year. To my mind, these compositions are of no interest to the Exercise at large. To the minority that have the time to waste on such gimmicks, compositions can be produced by anyone with even a slight knowledge of figures and using the standard calls.—Yours faithfully,

ROGER CANE.

WELLINGBOROUGH TRAINING SCHEME

Dear Sir.—May I be allowed to commend the Wellingborough Branch's training scheme, outlined on page 126 of your issue of February 14th?

This seems to me to be one of the most effective ways of assisting a struggling tower or getting a silent ring going again for services, assuming help offered is acceptable.

There is plenty of scope for this and other efforts to establish regular service ringing at towers where this is not possible at present due to lack of ringers.—Yours sincerely,

NORMAN CHADDOCK

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

South-West Branch

The annual meeting of the South-West Branch was held at Tavistock, a call-change stronghold, but on the day of the meeting as well as call-changes, Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Major and Kent Major were rung. As a fitting finale, a good touch of Stedman Triples immediately preceded the service.

Dr. R. W. Stevenson, the Vicar, led a most impressive service and preached a thought-provoking sermon. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells, an appropriate interlude for a ringers' service.

The business meeting followed tea in the Church Hall. About 30 members attended and welcomed some 40 guests. This was a more eventful meeting than most for a constitutional amendment was accepted and radical changes were made in the election of Branch officers. The rule formerly limiting terms of office to three years was abolished. Consequently R. A. Southwood was re-elected secretary/treasurer, D. R. Bould Ringing Master and G. E. Mudge chairman. Eight new members were elected, most of whom are learners at Emmanuel; its tower has a fine record of uninterrupted service. Paul Perkin was awarded his Guild certificate by W. Lavers, a vice-president. Few ringers take part in their first peal, as Paul has done, before receiving a Guild certificate.

Finally it was decided to seek permission to hold the spring meeting at Cornwood on April 12th and the autumn meeting at Peteravy on November 8th. It was on November 8th, 1919, that the South-West Branch of the Guild held its first meeting, at Peteravy. This would therefore be a most appropriate tower at which to hold the 50th anniversary celebrations. It is proposed to bring these to a close with a jubilee dinner.

Ringers in the evening took place in the Guild tower of nearby Whitchurch, which has a recently-rehung six. J. I. S.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the St. Albans District was held on the 15th at Radlett. During the afternoon and evening all the Minor methods in the Diary were rung. The service, taken by the Curate, Rev. A. Talbot-Ponsonby, himself a ringer, was followed by a good tea in the Church Hall.

At the meeting the new members elected were Gillian Lunn, Diana Kingham and Alison Stephens, and Debbie Hodge was transferred from probationary to full membership. Special methods for meetings during the year are to be: for 6-bell meetings all the Minor methods in the Diary, and for 8-bell meetings Double Norwich, Stedman, St. Clement's and Cambridge. The donations from the V.B.F. towards the restoration funds at Harpenden and Wheathampstead were increased to £50. It was suggested that the V.B.F. should be brought to the attention of local P.C.C.s.

The secretary asked for annual subscriptions which are now due, and also for any relevant information or photographs to help in modernising the booklet "The History of Ringing in Hertfordshire". Evening ringing on tower- and handbells continued until 8.30 p.m.

Next special practice, South Mymms, March 6th. K. S. H.

'Flu Hits Alton Handbell Festival

Saturday, January 18th, saw six teams of handbell ringers and about 150 people converge on the Assembly Rooms at Alton, Hampshire, for the "Ring out the Bells" concert organised by the Congregational Church Boys' Brigade. This was the second concert to be held at Alton, and judging by the response from ringers and the public the event will become annual, by demand. Mr. Chapman, the Church Pastor, with the efficiency and cleverness of a powerful impresario, suffered disappointment when teams from Shinfeld, Cobham, Hartley Wintney, Toc H and Mortimer West End W.I. had to withdraw because of illness. This underlines the problems faced by handbell teams and the specialised talents of their ringers.

With no spotlights or footlights the stage was inadequately lit. Ringers' subtle movements and facial expressions were sadly missed by the audience, and the green baize covered table separated the teams from real contact with the people in the hall. The Alton Boys' Brigade even had some boys so short that they almost rang under the table. All the teams but Liss rang behind the table. Liss, who lost a clapper in Brahms' "Cradle Song", also missed the prize for novelty ringing to Shrivenham, who rang four-in-hand plus one between knees.

The bands came from a wide area and this fact broadened the presentation and ringing experience of all the teams present. In general the presentation of all the teams was fair, that of the Alton boys under their leader R. Betsworth, of the Selborne ringers, and of the Eastbourne team especially.

The away teams went in first—Ashted (Sussex), Eastbourne (Sussex) and Shrivenham (Berkshire). Ashted's fine set of Mears' bells finely played by three ladies and five gentlemen began the concert in good style. The clever damping of the bells in "My Grandfather's Clock" and the change of tempo that the music calls for were well rehearsed. The team's difficulty in establishing the elusive Handel timing in the "Largo" was made up for by the dexterity with which Handel's "Gavotte" was played. Tony Skilton, the Ashted leader, directed the playing and produced a rousing "Cwm Rhondda".

The school-aged ringers from St. Mary's, Eastbourne, neatly dressed in white shirts with dark ties, played some old favourites including Stephen Foster's "Beautiful Dreamer" and the "Pavane" from Peter Warlock's Suite of Dances. Their playing, conducted by H. Reynolds, was carefully timed, but a trifle slow in "All through the night". The bells were quickly struck with well-managed bass harmony. The youngest members of this band, twin boys aged 11, were eagerly sought by the B.B.C.

The ring of Petit and Fritson's bells (of Aarle-Rixtel, Netherlands, 18 F) belonging to the St. Andrew's, Shrivenham, ringers, possessed magical harmonies so different from English bells. The team of three men playing four-in-hand delighted the audience with pleasant arrangements of well-known music—"Edelweiss" and the theme from "The Sound of Music". The latter piece lacked the melodic continuity necessary to be successful on the handbells.

To fill the remaining time in the first half of the concert the Alton boys rapidly formed up and played "Polly put the kettle on" and "Moringtown Ride".

Selborne, after the interval, under their new leader, Mr. R. Betsworth, came on and rang that glorious old handbell favourite "Gentle Zittello", of which they made good work. This team, formed in 1911, with their three chromatic octaves of Taylor's bells (which I am told are to be overhauled in about 18 months' time) ring with the precision and accuracy always noted in old established bands. Since last year their tunes have taken on new meaning and a new life.

Liss, after a couple of false starts, rang the round "Come Follow", the bells joining in one after another—a pretty effect which was tried again in "Three Blind Mice". This band, comprising three mini-skirted girls, two boys and three men, played the hymn tune "St. Denio" and "Come landlord fill the flowing bowl". Last year the band had played melodies only, but this year, with new notation, harmony was included, although the melody bells could have been struck harder. Brahms' "Cradle Song", attempted four-in-hand by just two of their ringers, was interrupted by a lost clapper.

The Alton Boys' Brigade team appeared last, ringing in the Selborne style. The boys always give a polished performance and this was no exception. Alton finished this most excellent concert by ringing "Auld Lang Syne" with the audience singing with them.

This, the second "Ring out the Bells" concert, was a success and raised £27 for the Church Rebuilding Fund. Mr. W. Chapman, the organiser, deserves thanks for such a worthwhile venture. B. S. GAMBRILL.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Bryan Jones, of Pinxton, Notts, has persuaded people to sponsor Judy, his dog, in the sponsored walk for the Derby Cathedral appeal organised by the Derby Guild.

Resident members of the Kent County Association rang a peal of Spliced Surprise Major silent and non-conducted at Tonbridge on January 19th.

The ringers in the peal at Wrenbury, Cheshire, on January 25th, would like to associate it with Mr. Alec King, late tower captain, now retired from ringing and living in Nantwich.

The Hillingdon supper, held on St. Valentine's Day at the Golden Lion, attracted an attendance of 84, including many of the Middlesex Association officers. The president, Rev. G. W. Taylor, Rector of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, was one of the speakers.

Mr. William Gorringe, of Hawkhurst, Kent, invited a band of College Youths, mainly from the Tonbridge District, to ring a peal of Stedman Triples at Hawkhurst on February 15th. After the peal Mr. and Mrs. Gorringe kindly entertained the band to a much-appreciated meal.

St. John's, Perry Barr, held a reception on February 1st to launch an appeal for the restoration of the fabric, organ and the bells.

The Editor received his customary Valentine on February 14th—this time from East Anglia. He thanks the unknown donor.

Mr. Frank R. Morton has now "circled the tower" of St. Mary's, Wistaston, Cheshire, seven times, when he rang in a peal of Minor on January 17th.

Mr. H. Rumens, of Salisbury, writes with reference to Mr. Newman's letter (page 102) that there were four brothers Pye—William, Ernest, Robert and Alfred, with whom he rang in a peal of Kent T.B. Royal in 1920.

The article "Solihull's Notable Ringing Tradition", by Edgar C. Shepherd, that appeared on page 139, had previously been published in "The Solihull News". The paper's co-operation is appreciated.

Mr. Walter Ayre was taken to hospital on February 14th as he was unable to walk or lift anything. He is in Rutherford Ward, St. Paul's Hospital, Hemel Hempstead, and would welcome letters. The latest report we received was that he was slowly progressing.

LINCOLN GUILD

The meeting of the West Lindsey Branch at Epworth on February 15th was surprisingly well attended, for the belfry is extremely cold on the best of days. Over 30 enjoyed the ringing from 2.30 till 9 p.m.

The business meeting after the service and tea agreed that Janet Bull be transferred to honorary life membership now that she has moved from the area. The meeting was informed that Kirtton Lindsey bells would be dedicated by the Archdeacon of Stow on March 11th at 7.15 p.m. The bells have just been rehung by Taylors.

Next Branch meeting, Kirtton Lindsey, May 17th; special methods, 1st Treble Bob group. R. B. T.

A PEMBROKESHIRE TOUR

At 9 a.m. on January 25th a fleet of cars loaded with 18 ringers from the University College of Wales Society left Aberystwyth for Pembrokeshire. First stop was Cardigan, almost a second home tower to the Aberystwyth ringers, being only 38 miles away. Here Arthur Walters and Joe Morgan joined us and we rang Cambridge Minor.

Then into Pembrokeshire over the Prescelly Mountains, where the playful farmers delight to drive trailer-hauling tractors across the paths of speeding cars, and to Pembroke itself. At Pembroke Philip Rogers joined us, and the highlight was a touch of Stedman Triples.

Devious routes were found to St. Florence, where heavy rain had saturated the ringing chamber and the ropes were very slippery. A touch of Spliced Single Oxford and Bob Minor was rung, devised by the secretary in a fit of inspiration brought on by a Pembroke Mars bar. Tenby tower was the final one: Kent Major was managed but Cambridge Major wasn't.

Stage II of the tour, a Chinese meal in Carmarthen, was tackled more competently than Stage I, and members drifted away dependently as their plates emptied. Our thanks to incumbents and the tower captains who met us. M. H. T.

BELLRINGERS PLEASE NOTE

"Bellringing is sometimes called campanology."

Sometimes there is a stay which stops the bell from swinging right over. Experienced ringers don't need this stay as they know how hard to pull the rope."

A short while ago I was asked if I could show about 30 schoolchildren up the tower at St. Mary's, Brixham, Devon, and tell them a bit about bells and ringing. Our captain was in full agreement with the idea and the effort proved well worth while, as the children were to write about this at school, and the above is only one of many "bits and pieces" pinned up on the schoolroom walls. Another child wrote: "We went up a lot of steps to a place where the ringers ring the bells and there were long ropes with green stuff on them. Then we went up to see the bells and it was all very interesting." As well as these short essays there were also graphs and sketches and even poems about bells and ringers, and I give full marks to the children for their work.

This might appear trivial to some, but to me nobody knows what a kick I got out of this, especially when I was invited to see the "pin-ups" at the school. "PLAIN BOB"

CORRECTIONS & AMENDMENTS

In the peal of Rutland at Meldreth, Cambs, on December 21st, the number of changes was 5,088 and not as submitted.

The peal of Plain Bob Minor rung at Chenies on November 16th is duplicated on pages 973/68 and 12/69.

SIXTY YEARS A RINGER

Congratulations to Mr. E. Austin Head, of Lucas Lane, Beaumont, Clacton, Essex, who has been ringing for more than 60 years.

It was in Suffolk where Mr. Head started in 1908, and about 1910 he joined the then Norfolk and Norwich Diocesan Association which embraced Suffolk. Before World War I he had rung nine peals, which included two of Doubles at Rumburgh and three each of Minor at Wissett and Chediston, conducted by the late T. Lambert, of Halesworth. In the other peal he rang the tenor to Stedman Triples at Southwold, conducted by the late Harry Barton.

After serving in the Forces, Mr. Head made his home at Fressingfield, where he took part in several peals with the Ritches brothers. On moving to Mendham he joined the Redenhall band, and it was his privilege to take part in many peals conducted by that well-known ringer E. Whiten, of Pulham St. Mary.

During the last two years he has not been too well and his ringing has been limited. He now makes his home alternately with his two sons. Mr. Head is proud of the fact that he has taken "The Ringing World" since its first issue.

IF RUFFLED, WE APOLOGISE

We were in error in describing the annual dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths as "probably the biggest ringing social function of today". From the Ancient Society of College Youths we learn unofficially that the statement was "grossly misleading". We freely admit that the annual dinners of the Ancient Society of College Youths have larger attendances—273 in 1968 and 237 in 1967. In using the word "social" we intended to imply a gathering attended by both sexes. There is only one lady permitted by right as a member to attend the College Youths' dinner and no member can bring his wife with him to join in the happy and convivial proceedings. With the Cumberlands there is no sex barrier either in membership or husbands accompanying their wives who are members. If feelings in the Ancient Society are ruffled we apologise, because it is freely acknowledged that among non-territorial Associations they are pre-eminent as regards membership, and their reunion dinners are memorable occasions despite the lack of the special sociability engendered by the fair sex.

LANCASHIRE VETERAN IN NORTH WALES

Among our veteran ringers of today is Mr. A. Burton, now living at 55b, Rhos Promenade, Rhos-on-Sea Colwyn Bay, Denbighshire. For over 57 years he was a ringer at St. Paul's, Walkden (Bolton Branch). He joined the Lancashire Association in 1911 and was elected a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1926.

Mr. Burton has rung 43 peals and 23 quarter peals. His last six quarter peals have been with the Holy Trinity band, Llandudno, for the North Wales Association.

MR. JOHN R. MAYNE.

who at the age of 35 rang his 1,000th peal.
For details see page 140.

MID-DEVON

The "Old Crocks"—sorry, "Senior Citizens" met recently on a Wednesday afternoon at Buckfast Abbey.

With the help of some younger blood from Plymouth, together with our friends from the Abbey, a very good practice was held. The ringing on the middle eight included call-changes, Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob Triples and Bob Major—not forgetting a course of Kent Minor for a "first timer".

After the practice we were entertained to tea at the Abbey. Thank you, kind sirs.

It is hoped to have these practices every alternate Wednesday afternoon—watch the "R.W." if you are interested.

"PLAIN BOB."

THE BRIDLE PATH

By John Holloway

There it runs!—across the woodland.
Bathed in light from sunset glow;
"Bridle Path to Fairy Hollow";
Where we stood, so long ago.

Stood and listened to the church bells
Pealing o'er the countryside.
Hoping we would soon be hearing
Wedding bells—at Eastertide.

Stood and kissed!—Oh! how I loved her.
And she softly said to me.
"We will tread Life's Path together";
But, alas! 'twas not to be.

"Bridal Path"—the cruel words mock me;
Oh! that it should happen so!
Down that path to Fairy Hollow,
Sad at heart, alone, I go.

KINGSCLERE CAPTAIN MARRIED

The bells of St. Mary's, Kingsclere, Hants, rang out merrily on February 1st for the wedding of the tower captain, Denby Murduck, and his fellow-ringer at this tower, Miss Sue Richard. A representative band of Andover District members from Andover, Burghclere, Highclere and Woolton Hill rang a quarter peal of 1,344 Plain Bob Major immediately after the wedding, viz.: D. Goss 1, M. Goss 2, P. Furness 3, C. Pack (first on eight) 4, P. Watts 5, J. Wimlet (first Major "inside") 6, T. Tarrant 7, G. Dodd (cond.) 8.

In the evening a peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung on the bells of St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Burghfield. This was the first peal on the bells since Grandsire Doubles was called in 1951. Seventeen-year-old Robert S. Crocker called his first peal of Minor without hesitation on bells that needed ringing. "We wish the couple future happiness in their married life," writes G. K. D.

RINGING TRADITION IN SOMERSET

Family tradition plays an important part in maintaining bellringing at St. Andrew's Church, Banwell, Somerset. Two of the newest and keenest members of the tower are the sisters Virginia (16) and Gaynor Irving (13) and they represent the fourth generation of a family whose members have given more than 100 years' bellringing service.

Great-grandfather Mr. Fred Day was one of the stalwarts who rang towards the end of the last century. Then came his sons—Dennis, now aged 70, and Walter (61)—who both served for more than 40 years until their retirement a few months ago. Walter was captain for 15 years. The family tradition was also maintained by Dennis's son-in-law, John Irving, the father of Virginia and Gaynor.

Another Banwell ringing family are the Rices. Walter Rice is the present captain, and he and his brother, Roy, are grandsons of another ringer, George Richards. A former tower captain, Thomas Cruse, was the brothers' uncle. Among the recruits is Andrew Salter, and his great-grandfather's name appears in the early tower records.

LADIES' GUILD

The annual general meeting of Sussex District was held at Southover, Lewes, on January 6th. Ringing began at 3 p.m. and continued until 5 p.m., when tea was taken.

Following tea, a business meeting was held at 66, Priory Street, Lewes, by kind permission of Mrs. G. Elphick. The meeting was well attended and four new members were elected. With the addition of one new committee member, the existing officers were re-elected en bloc.

If permission is granted, the next meeting will be held on May 31st at Burgess Hill.

Following the meeting, ringing continued until 8 o'clock, during which time a course of Stedman Caters was successfully rung with the help of the gentlemen ringers present. R.F.

Letters—continued

N.E.B. ats. A.V.

Dear Sir.—In reply to Mr. F. Morris ("R.W." of January 31st, page 79), I venture to quote a telling couplet from Alexander Pope's "Epistle to Augustus".

"Authors, like coins, grow dear as they grow old:

It is the rust we value, not the gold."

Yours truly,

S. N. MORTIMORE.

Epsom.

Dear Sir.—I heartily agree with Mr. F. Morris: there is no comparison with the Authorised Version beauty and what T. S. Elliot called the crude, vulgar and pedantic N.E.B.—and his authority is better than mine. I hope N.E.B. quotations never appear again.—Yours, etc.,

W. FRANK STENSON,

Crewe, Cheshire.

SUGGESTIONS FOR NEW PEAL FORMAT

By A. YORK-BRAMBLE

CLARITY

Here is a twofold objective: (a) To find a given peal in the peal pages with ease; and (b) To apprehend on sight the main features of the report. As to (a), not every reader appreciates that to promote this is one of the Editor's hardest jobs. The reports are segregated into groups according to Association or Guild, and these groups are arranged alphabetically by initial of the Association's name. (A note to this effect might follow the list of symbols at the head of the first page of the reports.) To make this arrangement more effective an exchange could be made of the form of type used for the name of the Association, with that of the method rung (similar to Mr. Pipe's example). Then move the name of the Association over to the left, to appear as a thick-type side heading, immediately below the horizontal group-dividing line. As to (b), a preferred arrangement and form of type is discussed under "Application" following.

APPLICATION

The effect of the application of the foregoing proposals may be seen by reference to Mr. Pipe's example on page 63 of the issue of January 24th, which example incorporates some of them. For the full effect, regard the following alterations:

(a) Move the group heading "Bath and Wells Association" over to the left to bring "B" of Bath in line with left edge of column.

(b) Omit "A peal of" and move "5040 Double Norwich" over to the left in place of it.

(c) Bring "C.B. Major" up on to that line to follow it.

(d) Delete the two lines above and below the eight names.

(e) Move names as far as possible to the left and bell numbers as far as possible to the right.

(f) Insert (Cp.Cn.) after last name and on that line and insert weight (because over 1 ton) just before "Tenor". If not enough space then enter below "Tenor" in brackets.

As to clarity of layout, the type sizes and "heaviness", as in Mr. Pipe's example, seem adequate.

TRADITIONAL LAYOUT

It is submitted that the only ultimate apparent difference introduced is a narrower setting with single instead of double columns of ringers' names. In fact, the irreducible minimum seems to have been reached. The saving of space on one page alone would enable the inclusion of several more peals per page, while the saving on the total of peal pages would effect a considerable lessening, annually, of costs.

SPACE COMPARISON

An interesting comparison of space occupied by the three forms indicated in this article is got by deriving the area in each case, in units with a common denominator, the numerator being the comparator. Thus:—

Original "R.W." report of the peal (page 9)	Mr. Pipe's version page 63)	Proposed version
126 units	117 units	99 units

Those ringers really interested in this whole problem might care to take pencil and paper and, as an exercise, apply the proposals to other peals as reported.

NOTE.—The method suggested would give 18 peals on a page of three columns against 14 at present. On February 20th we had 161 peals over after this issue.—Ed.

Mr. Richard Speed, in his front page article (January 3rd), carries one's mind back over the years to another occasion when attention was once again focused on the format of "The Ringing World" in general, and that of peal performance reports in particular. One of the several recommendations one made at that time was that of transferring peal and quarter peal performance reports to the back of the journal which, as seen, was taken up. They became, in effect, part of what was suggested to be known as the "paid" section, which section was to be inclusive of all notices, advertisements and similar paid matter. The tie-up with this subject is the economics of space-cost with special reference to that of peal performance reports, meaning the possibility of careful "pruning" while retaining traditional characteristics. It may be of some interest, and perhaps utility, to those considering this problem to restate the proposals, some of which have been recently "written in".

In deriving what may be considered as an improved format, three prime factors may be examined: brevity (both in material and time of typesetting), clarity and traditional layout.

BREVITY

(a) The present form occupies a width equal to one-and-a-half columns of the normal three to a page. The improved form can occupy, in width (as Mr. George Pipe suggests), one "standard" column only; and this is possible by adopting other recommendations, as below. The extra "depth", incurred by using one column for the names instead of two, even for the Maximus stage, is only six lines; and, even so, these (up to) six lines cause the whole set-up to "deepen" through a narrower column which, on balance, occupies less space overall. Some figures given below show the truth of this.

(b) The following may be omitted as redundant: "At the Church of", "A Peal of" and the weight of tenor unless 1 ton or over.

(c) The following may be substituted by code symbols: "Conducted by", "Composed by".

(d) The code symbols, entered at the head of the first page of peal reports, should run continuously (as in a paragraph) to save space. Thus:—

Code symbols used in the peal reports:
(Cp) Composed by; (Cn) Conducted by;
(Fp) First peal; (Fs) First in this stage;
(Fm) First in the method; (Fen) First as Conductor; (Mo) In Memoriam.

Other symbols may suggest themselves, for instance (Rf) Rung for, to shorten any permissible footnotes (at the discretion of the Editor), which footnotes could be paid for at the current "R.W." rate of 2d. per word. More than one symbol can be used with one name, e.g., (Cp.Cn.). If the weight of the tenor is to be given it could be entered by weight only, just before the word "Tenor" in the last name line. If that space is already filled it could go (in brackets) just below the word "Tenor". Symbols are entered, appropriately, either just before the ringer's bell number, if of personal application, or below the names list if of general application, for example when indicating a composer not ringing. (E.g., "(Cp.) T. Thurstans", in Stedman Triples.)

There remains the question of the lengthy names list of methods in the multi-method peal. May one suggest that this is a matter to which, at this particular juncture, the Methods Committee might give specific attention (re space limitation) and then advise the Editor accordingly? Again, payment might come into it.
